Pet Expo on Saturday

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The first Pet Expo this Saturday at the Idyllwild Community Center site promises a multiplicity of fun and opportunities, not only for humans, but for dogs and cats as well.

"I've been thinking about this for several years. It's a dream," said Janice Murasko, secretary for Idyllwild Animal Rescue Friends.

Several contests and competitions will be held to raise money for ARF. Prizes and awards will be given to all the winners, Murasko said.

"Mr. and Ms. Idyllwild" is a beauty pageant to discover the most beautiful male and female dog or cat to represent the community. A $5 entry fee and a 5-inch-by-7-inch photo are needed by 10:45 the morning of the Expo.

The photos will be displayed all day during the Expo. Between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m., the public may cast a vote for their choice of the town's representatives. Each vote will cost 25 cents and the male and female contestants with the most votes will be recognized and coronated about 5 p.m. Each will receive a trophy and a sash.

Rather than challenging and embarrassing the American Kennel Club's Best in Show competitions, ARF will inaugurate the "Strut Your Mutt" competition with five categories — extra small, small, medium, large and extra large — for dogs.

Murasko emphasized that the strut is for mutts; no AKC recognized purebred dog is eligible. Each dog will

Property values increasing

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Riverside County Assessor's office reports that Idyllwild property values have grown 4.15 percent for the tax year 2013-14. Last year, the Idyllwild area property value increase was only 1 percent following three consecutive years of declines.

Countywide, 2013-14's increase of 3.95 percent is the first year of property growth since 2008-09.

Throughout the unincorporated areas of Riverside County, the total property value growth was 1.5 percent. The Desert Center area enjoyed a 64 percent jump, otherwise a 5 to 6 percent increase was noted in Moreno Valley, Romoland and Temecula.

OUTSIDE IDYLLWILD

By BRUCE WATTS

Two trips to Garner Valley ...

On July 3, I woke at sunrise, quickly dressed and went outside to check out the morning sky. Lots of cottonball puffy clouds filled the southern sky with just enough blue showing through to make for a dramatic golden hour.

I went inside, packed up my gear and headed out to Garner Valley to see what the flowers and butterflies were doing. My plan was to head over to Fobes Ranch Road to photograph some landscapes and then head over to Lake Hemet to see the wildflowers in bloom.

It turned out to be a little cloudier than I thought. The sun remained hidden from view with only an occasional sunray escaping from the dark mass of clouds. I clicked away, nonetheless, and kept my eyes peeled for any unusual wildflowers or butterflies.

As I walked around on the road, I saw what looked like a plant topped with fried eggs. Unfortunately it was pretty far off and behind a barbed-wire fence. On my last trip to Garner Valley, I had an encounter with barbed wire that left a 6-inch gash above my right ankle.

I decided to keep my distance and use the camera's zoom lens to get closer to what I found out later was a prickly poppy, Argemone munita.

After taking about 150 photos, I decided to make my way over to the lake but roadside wildflowers proved to be too tempting so I pulled over to walk up and down the roadside.

I found sand verbena, sapphire woollystar (Eriastrum saphirinum), an unknown species of orange globemallow, California evening primrose, spearleaf mountain dandelion, twiggy wreath plant, small bluish flax flower and summer lupines (Lupinus formosus).

Even though I ended up across the highway from Lake Hemet, I never made it to the lake as my camera battery warning light started to blink. That means I have taken too many photos to edit in one session so I headed home. I need to get a backup battery, or maybe not. My new card can hold nearly 2,000 photos so an extra battery could mean trouble.

On the morning of July 6, with a little less cloud cover than the previous trip, I decided to head out to Lake Hemet. This time it was straight to the lake, do not pass "Go," do not collect 200 photos.

It turned out to be that rare day when conditions are perfect for taking landscapes, flowers, butterflies, furry critters or you name it. This was truly one of those days where you are glad to be alive and outdoors.

Unlike a camera, my brain can record millions of images and the batteries last for decades but it is still nice to have camera images to jog the brain and remember days like this.

On Lake Hemet Road, I stopped once again and walked up and down looking for interesting flower species. I found narrow leaf milkweed (Asclepias fascicularis), southern honeysuckle, low carpet clover (Trifolium spp.), twiggy wreath plants (with paler flowers and purple pollen) and an unidentified fiddleneck-like plant.

Community Spirit Award

The finalists for the 2013 Ernie Maxwell Community Spirit Award are the Animal Rescue Friends of Idyllwild, Mountain Disaster Preparedness and Robert Priefer.

You may vote for anyone of these nominees at the Town Crier office, 54425 North Circle Drive, by Sunday, July 14. Ballots are available at the front desk seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. You may also mail a completed ballot to the Idyllwild Town Crier, P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549.

Previous awardees were the Mountain Communities Fire Safe Council in 2011 and Dawn Sonnier in 2012.

RMRU rescues exhausted hiker

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

On Sunday, June 30, the Riverside County Sheriff's Riverside Mountain Rescue Unit was summoned to help an injured hiker. The RMRU team was lowered into Long Valley about midnight, according to Lee Arnson, RMRU member from Idyllwild.

Teresa Suarez, 60, of Oceanside, had fallen several times trying to get to San Jacinto Peak. Injured and exhausted, she was unable to make it down the mountain.

"She was completely wiped out; 100 percent exhausted," Arnson said.

The RMRU team found Suarez about 3 a.m. Monday. They treated her and stayed with her overnight. Monday morning, the Mt. San Jacinto State Park trail crew and RMRU wheeled her on a litter out of the wilderness to the top of the Palm Springs Tram.

If these cuts go through on September 1, 2013, Idyllwild Pharmacy will be forced to stop serving our patients on Medi-Cal. Why this 10% cut is so threatening is that it comes on top of our total reimbursement. A prescription recently filled for a Medi-Cal patient cost $1304.98, Medi-Cal reimbursed $1340.26, showing a $35.28 profit. Come September, Medi-Cal will take another $134.02 cut from the pharmacy leaving me a gross loss of $98.75. No business can or should sustain these type of losses. What is even more insidious is Medi-Cal will go back 2 years and recoup 10% of the total reimbursements.

20th Jazz in the Pines only weeks away

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The 20th Jazz in the Pines is only five weeks away — Aug. 17 and 18. The program continues to bring new and fresh jazz performers to the Hill as well as reward attendees with ever popular and returning favorites.

For Idyllwild, one of the 2013 entertainers will be local and American Idol finalist Casey Abrams, who performs in the Holmes Amphitheatre at noon Sunday. Abrams, 21, won't be the youngest performer because Marsha Lytle, jazz chair, is bringing back Ray Goren, the phenomenal 13-year-old singer and guitarist, with his band. Goren makes an appearance for the third consecutive year.

While Abrams and Goren invigorate jazz with their youth, Lytle and Artistic Director Bubba Jackson, KKJZ 88.1FM personality, bring several long-time, well-known and recognized Grammy artists to the festival.

On Saturday, the audience hears two-time Grammy-award winning vocalist and pianist Diane Schuur (1:30 p.m.) and the Harvey Mason Chameleon Project (3 p.m.) with Grammy award-nominated percussionist Harvey Mason and featuring multiple Grammy award-nominated pianist and vocalist Patrice Rushen.

The John Daversa Sextet finishes the afternoon on the main stage. While not yet a Grammy nominee, Daversa has won many national jazz awards, including the Herb Alpert and ITG Jazz Soloist competitions.

On Sunday in the Barn, jazz aficionados may listen to the Rob Thorsen Trio featuring Josh White, the second-place winner of the 2012 Thelonious Monk piano competition.

The amazing jazz talent is not limited to a few award winners. This year, jazz vocalists Janis Mann and Denise Donatelli return. While always popular, these favorites are complemented with new additions to the local jazz scene. On Sunday, Jackson introduces Izzy Chait and then Amina

Figarova.

Chait is a jazz vocalist whose professional career began in the 1960s during his stint in the Marines. For the next 25 years his musical career was in abeyance as he developed his antique and auctioneer business. In 2001, he released his first album and now appears throughout Southern California belting out classic jazz standards such as "All Of Me," "Blues In The Night," "All The Way" and Gershwin songs.

The Amina Figarova Sextet brings international jazz to the amphitheatre. Amina, a pianist and composer of many jazz pieces, was born and raised in Baku, Azerbaijan, and her husband, Bart, a flutist, is from Belgium. They treat an audience to jazz's international feel, which they have shared with jazz fans in Newport, New Orleans and New York, where they now reside.

Finishing the afternoon is the Euphoria Brass Band from San Diego. This group is quickly growing Idyllwild roots. It recently appeared at the 2013 Aroma Spring Jazz Fest and participated in last week's Fourth of July Parade.

Many local groups also perform that weekend. Familiar to long-time jazz fest visitors are Rocky Zharp, P.S. Blues Band, Robin Adler, The Chuck Alvarez Band and Change Required.

Besides the tradition of extraordinary jazz, the Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation, who produce Idyllwild in the Pines, established a culinary tradition in recent years — the Friday night Patron's Dinner.

"A Taste of Idyllwild" Cocktail Party, which Idyllwild restaurants host, starts this special evening with a Red Carpet Entrance. The night continues with gourmet food, fine wine and fun, along with music from Idyllwild Arts students and alumni. Jackson hosts the gala and welcomes a special appearance by NBC-4 weatherman and comedian Fritz Coleman.

have the opportunity to strut its stuff around the circle in front of the bandstand. A $10 entry fee will earn a gift. Winners in the five size groups walso will be given a special prize from Mountain Paws.

The five size winners will then compete for Best in Show. The Best in Show winner will earn the right to hang its dog tags on a fire hydrant adorned with a dog food bowl.

The third fundraiser will be a crazy dog tricks contest. Each entrant may have as many do-overs as necessary in order to demonstrate or perform its crazy trick.

For a $5 entry fee, dogs may entertain with whatever trick they can perform. A panel of judges will choose the winner, who will also receive a gift donated by Mountain Paws.

Besides the contests, a petting zoo will be available and mini horses from Garner Valley will be at the Expo. Pony rides, not on the mini-horses, Murasko emphasized, will also be available for children.

Preceding the Pet Expo, Mountain Disaster Preparedness will discuss what to do with your pet in case of an emergency and how to prepare that event. This will begin at 9 a.m. and continue for two hours.

Pets will be available for adoption. Both Living Free and ARF will bring dogs and cats, whom they hope will go home with new owners.

OUT LOUD

Back at it ...

I "retired" from this job and pursued a few other projects.

But nothing called to me as much as the TC where I spent 23-plus years. So when the opportunity to purchase it arose, Jack and I hardly hesitated. All the support we've received touches me and I'm having fun being back.

You know you're back when an Idyllwild Fire commissioner calls up to give you a tongue lashing for running a letter to the editor offending his standards.

You know you're back when rival advertisers want you to police their licensing requirements.

You know you're back when equipment breaks down on deadline.

You know you're back when the printer creates major challenges on a holiday paper's deadline.

We managed to move our office, continue publishing this little paper Idyllwild depends upon and then throw a grand opening that hundreds of you celebrated on the Fourth of July.

So, in honor of Independence Day, I pick up the cause once again of open government and transparency, something so lacking in small towns such as ours. And so the Ralph M. Brown Act was created specifically for local governments.

Our job in the press is to be public watchdogs for government agencies. Our job is not to be cops or therapists. So, if you are a public official and you receive criticism published in this little paper, my job is not to mediate between you and the critic.

Criticism is a mainstay of freedom of the press.

I'm not going to stop doing my job any more than national newspapers did when the Nixons and the Reagans called publishers furious with opinions critical of their behavior.

Our little town needs to hold local government accountable. That won't change. Other things with the TC will. I will keep you informed ...

Tsk, tsk, Norm

EDITOR:

In response to Norm Cassen's letter, "Don't dump on Pine Cove," in the July 4 [issue of the Town Crier], I have to ask the question: What's your beef with Pete Capparelli?

Mr. Cassen has a list of letters singling out Mr. Capparelli. Did he kill your dog or date your wife?

I've known Pete for 20 years and I have to say if there is anyone in town more civic minded than Pete, I've yet to meet them. Pete has been on more boards and headed up more fundraising events than anyone in Idyllwild. He even acted in three plays I directed for the HELP Center. Acting is generous word for what he did.

All of these endeavors, he performed non-gratis. So here is a guy, Norm Cassen, who does little or nothing, criticizing a guy, Pete Capparelli, who has put in hundreds if not thousands of hours of volunteer time for this community and we, who are the beneficiaries of his time and hard work, aren't going to cry "foul"?

I call foul. I call a massive Zeppelin-sized technical foul on Mr. Cassen.

I also call on Mr Cassen to put in more time building our community and less time disparaging those, who for many years, have made the wonderful place it is.

The local paper should not be a forum for personal attacks and slanderous accusations. We have Facebook for that.

There are those who do and those who criticize those who do. Pete Capparelli is a doer and a straight up guy, so Mr Cassen, do us all a favor and take your beef elsewhere. Pete Capparelli always gives 100 percent, even when we don't need it.

Fire district election

EDITOR:

Voters of Idyllwild:
Look at the timeline of the Idyllwild Fire Protection District financial difficulties and figure out for yourselves when the finances became so murky. When did the audits fall into arrears? When did the health care overpayment start? When did the bailout loans from the county start? The same people who are running for commissioner were in charge then.

The lack of audits started on Steve Kunkle's watch, as did the determination of the [Riverside County] Grand Jury "that the local fire department had used intimidation against individuals, violated open meeting rules and was underskilled in medical emergencies."

Rhonda Andrewson was administrative assistant when the 17 months of overpayments to firefighters occurred.

Jeannine Charles-Stigall authorized begging the county for bailout loans since IFPD wouldn't stay within budget. She has been ineffective in developing and enforcing the policies and protocols that could regenerate this department.

Nancy Layton, the most recent financial advisor, didn't catch the overpayments to firefighters. She had a flier at Honey Buns and Joe with prominently displayed logos of several organizations, implying that they are endorsing her.

Many of us have volunteered countless hours with our nonprofits but don't abuse this relationship by assuming they would endorse us for public office. Isn't it deceiving to the voters to use these logos? Doesn't Elections Code Section 18304 (a)(b)(c) call this a punishable misdemeanor? I'm sorry she was so rude to the person who pointed out the problems with this ad, but glad she removed it before she got into trouble.

Layton should have read the Election Codes. If she didn't know about the overpayments and is ignorant of the Election Code, what kind of a commissioner would she be?

Who else can run? Any registered voter in the district is eligible. Write-in candidates can file between July 1 and Aug. 13. They must file a Statement of Economic Interest and a Campaign Disclosure Statement. Call Registrar of Voters Julie Caban at 951-486-7201 or 800-773-8683

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be signed (unless e-mailed) and must be identified with the writer's name, address and weekday phone number.

Exceptions: Anonymous letters will not be accepted. Letters of thanks are not accepted. A special advertising rate is available for thank-you letters. Political letters cost 10 cents per word.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (Becky@towncrier.com).

IFPD needs honest people with the best interests of Idyllwild as their goal. Don't let the foxes run the hen house.

IFPD needs to get its finances in order. The current candidates have proved themselves incapable of this over and over. Men and women of honor who will not get caught up in politics need to step up and run for these offices as write in candidates.

LOLA'S KITCHEN

BY DOLORES SIZER

Just read it ...

I started reading a book about cooking that a close friend gave me for my birthday.

What I have read so far gives me a clue as to what the book will hold. "Cooked," by Michael Pollan, was on the bestseller list, although it contains no recipes. He also authored "The Omnivore's Dilemma" and "Food Rules." Several of his other books also made the bestseller list.

Pollan has a different way of looking at food and as far as I have read, his writing brings memories of my Dad who connected everything — rain, sun, earth, soil and nature — in spirit to his orchard.

Pollan also mentions family dinners of the past. He also writes about the introduction of processed foods into American diets and urges a return to family meals.

Pick up the book, it's great reading.

With that said, less and less time is spent in the family kitchen. I can understand the reasons. For example, in many families today, both parents work. Time to prepare meals from scratch with fresh vegetables and protein is too precious and rarely available.

My childhood memories of family suppers include my siblings and me with glasses of milk, my Dad with his beloved wine and the table always loaded with Mexican food. Oh, how I miss Mama's food.

Now, do I send you to the market to buy Stouffer's lasagna or do I give you a healthy recipe? By the way, have you ever flipped over a box of Stouffer's lasagna. Check out the fat and cholesterol content. Most processed foods are loaded with sugar and salt.

I just subscribed to allrecipes.com magazine. Here is a great recipe from my first magazine. It is yummy.

Baja fish tacos

6 tomatoes, diced
1 small onion, diced
1/2 cup chopped fresh cilantro
2 tbsps canned and diced jalapeno peppers,
or more to taste, juice reserved
1/2 tsp garlic salt
1/2 lime, juiced
3 cups coleslaw mix
3 tbsps ranch dressing
2 cups vegetable oil for frying
1 (9 ounce) box batter mix (such as Shore Lunch)
1 (12 ounce) can or bottle Mexican beer
24 corn tortillas
1 pound cod fillets, cut into 2-inch chunks
2 cups shredded Mexican cheese blend
2 limes, sliced into wedges
1 dash chile-garlic sauce (such as Sriracha; optional)

Mix tomatoes, onion, cilantro, jalapeno peppers, 1 tablespoon juice from jalapeno peppers and garlic salt in a bowl. Squeeze 1/2 a lime over salsa fresca; then cover with plastic wrap and chill while preparing fish.

Toss coleslaw mix in a bowl with ranch dressing and set aside for flavors to blend.

Heat the oil in a deep fryer or large sauce pan to 350 degrees. Stir the batter mix and beer together in a bowl.

Step by step ...

a monthly update of the activities of the San Jacinto Mountain Community Center Board and its committees.

Program and Activities Committee:

8th Annual Skate Park Games, Saturday, July 13, 2013, 2-6 pm.

Professional demos, three age divisions, Skateboard Street, Skateboard 1/2 Pipe, BMX, fun for the whole family. Food, raffles and giveaways. Don't forget your helmets, and elbow and knee pads.

Building Campaign Committee:

$25,000+ in pledges and donations were raised at the kick-off campaign called "I'm Helping ..." build the Idyllwild Community Center, during the playground birthday party. We're on our way to raising $1,000,000 for phase one. We need your help. Contact us at info@idyllwildcommunitycenter.org for a tour of the site. Get involved in the next community build. Donate today.

Trish Tuley and Veda Roubideaux join the BCC. Welcome to two long-time residents who have a prominent history of supporting all that is good about Idyllwild.

SJMCC Board:

Finishing touches for the amphitheater plans are being provided by renowned Idyllwild musician Barnaby Finch in concert with an experienced theater architect to ensure that the amphitheater delivers maximum benefit for both performers and their audiences for music and theater productions. The orientation of the stage has been modified to preserve stately, old-growth pine trees that will circle the stage in a natural arc.

With the Butterfields' decision to donate another 9,000 square feet of land abutting the Verizon property, local building designer Robert Priefer and architect Jim Marsh are finalizing the access, parking and natural park setting along Strawberry Creek from Village Center Drive to the amphitheater and upper Ridgeview entrance.

The positions of the gym and pool have been reversed so there will be an impressive lobby entrance. In their new locations, the terraces overlooking the amphitheater will have a more majestic view of the natural forest landscape.

Local surveyor Lee Arnson is completing new easements and property changes to integrate the Ridgeview and Village Center Drive accesses and parking. The board is grateful for the in-kind contributions of Arnson, Priefer and Finch.

Guided tours of the site may be arranged for your organization or group. Just email chris@idyllwildcommunitycenter.org.

SJMCC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public benefit corporation funded by private donations.

Matter of fact

The dates were incorrect in last week's Lemon Lily Festival program schedule, page 9.

Town Crier regrets the error and has reprinted the program with the corrected dates..

Wrap the corn tortillas together in wet paper towels and set aside.

Dip the cod in the batter mix and fry the coated cod in batches of hot oil until it is cooked through and coating is brown. Four to five minutes seems appropriate. Remove cod with a slotted spoon and drain on paper-towel-lined plate.

Microwave the tortillas on high until warmed, about 1 minute.

Stack two tortillas on a plate. Then top with fish and a sprinkle of Mexican cheese, coleslaw mixture, salsa fresca, and a squeeze from a lime wedge. Drizzle the chile-garlic sauce, if using.

Repeat with remaining ingredients.

Note: I added a sliced avocado to the plate, and finely chopped green onions to the taco. Also, I reduced the amount of heat ingredients. Just a little too spicy. Enjoy.

County closes underground tank case

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Pine Cove underground storage tank project, which the Riverside County Department of Environmental Health has been monitoring since 1994, has officially been closed, according to a June 25 letter from the department to Howard Friedman of Santee.

The site was located at the Pine Cove Market, which Friedman formerly owned. The case was initiated under his ownership.

The letter "confirms the completion of a site investigation and corrective action for the underground storage tanks," wrote Steve Van Stockum, director of Environmental Health.

Friedman's actions complied with the appropriate sections of the state's Health and Safety Code, consequently, "... no further action related to the petroleum release at the site is required."

In May, the seven monitoring wells at the site were closed and removed.

Fire fee begins court journey

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association lawsuit, which attempts to overturn California's State Regulated Area Fire Fee will begin Friday, July 19, in the Sacramento Superior Court.

The initial proceeding is a hearing in response to the state's request that the case be dismissed.

The Jarvis association filed the litigation in October 2012. The suit alleges that the fee, being applied to parcels and structures with State Regulated Areas, is actually a tax. Consequently, its passage requires a two-thirds majority of the state legislature, not a simple majority, which enacted the fee in July 2011. The Jarvis litigation also challenges the fee's implementation, too.

The state's response first challenges the facts and argues that a class action suit cannot be filed.

"... class relief against government defendants is unavailable unless the specific government claims statute permits the filing of class claims. Under AB29X, only 'a person from whom the fire prevention fee is determined to be due' may file a petition for re-determination. The term 'person' does not include a class. Thus, the class allegations and all other class references should be stricken from the ... complaint," wrote California Deputy Attorney General Jacob Berman in an April filing.

The court's ruling will determine whether the case proceeds.

J.P. Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Composting needs volunteers

The Riverside County Waste Management Department is seeking volunteers to work with the Riverside County Backyard Composting Program. Volunteer master composters attend a training course for four Saturdays, and then donate back a minimum of 40 hours to the program.

Volunteers are needed for staffing Saturday morning workshops, classroom presentations and community group presentations. Learn more about recycling organic resources and get to know others with similar interests.

The training class is from 7:30 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Saturdays from Aug. 3 to 24 in Moreno Valley. The department provides books and study materials. Limited seats are available.

For more information and to register for classes, contact Riverside County Waste Management Department at (951) 486-3200 or email Waste-CompRecyc@co.riverside.ca.us.

Steele moving up the FedEx ladder

By JACK CLARK
PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

Brendan Steele improved his position on the FedEx Cup points list and added some insurance to his playing card for next season.

The native Idyllwilder shot a 3-under-par 66-70-72-69 — 277 in The Greenbrier Classic in West Virginia to gain 24 FedEx Cup points, bringing his running total to 429 and moving from 88th position to 85th on the points list. He also added more than $20,000 to his official prize money for the season.

Steele continues to maintain his high-level iron play. Last week he averaged an excellent 29 feet, 2 inches, in proximity to the hole, which is a stat measuring the closeness to the pin of approach shots. In his final round he averaged an outstanding 24 feet, 2 inches in that category.

Sunday, on the 616-yard, par-5 17th hole, Steele slammed a drive of 321 yards to the left fairway, followed with a crushing 288-yard 3-wood to within 7 feet, 2 inches of the hole — then sank that putt for an eagle 3. Wow, wouldn't you have loved to have seen that?

This week Steele plays in the $4.6 million John Deere Classic on the TPC Deere Run course in Silvis, Ill. Not quite as much money at stake this week, but the winner gets the bonus of qualifying for the Open Championship (often referred to in the U.S. as the British Open), which will be played next week at Muirfield in Scotland.

Town Crier Photo Contest!

Deadline for entries: 5 p.m., July 31, 2013

Here's your chance for fame, glory, and a free license plate frame! Enter your best color photographs of the Idyllwild area in the Idyllwild Town Crier's 2014 Wall Calendar Photo Contest. Winning photographs will be published in full color in the new calendar, and winning photographers will get a byline and an Idyllwild license plate frame.

The Rules

Contest is open to everyone. Submit up to ten 8" x 10" glossy color images. If images are digital, they must be submitted on a CD or DVD, be at least 300 dpi when scaled to 8" x 10" and must be accompanied by high-quality glossy color prints for judging. Include your name, address, phone number, e-mail and location on the back of each print (make sure you use a pen that doesn't smear or bleed onto other prints). Also, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope for safe return of your work. New this year: Limit 3 submissions per person.

You can drop off your entries at the Town Crier at 54425 North Circle Drive, or mail to Town Crier Photo Contest, P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549. Sorry, no email submissions.

While the Town Crier will reserve the right to publish the photos and use them in promotional material, photographers will still own the rights to their work. Questions? E-mail: halie@towncrier.com

Brenna metaphorically discusses 'Murdering the Mom'

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Don't expect "Murdering the Mom," Duff Brenna's latest work, to be a criminal confession of matricide, although a browser at one of his book signings asked Brenna's publisher if it was a death row confession.

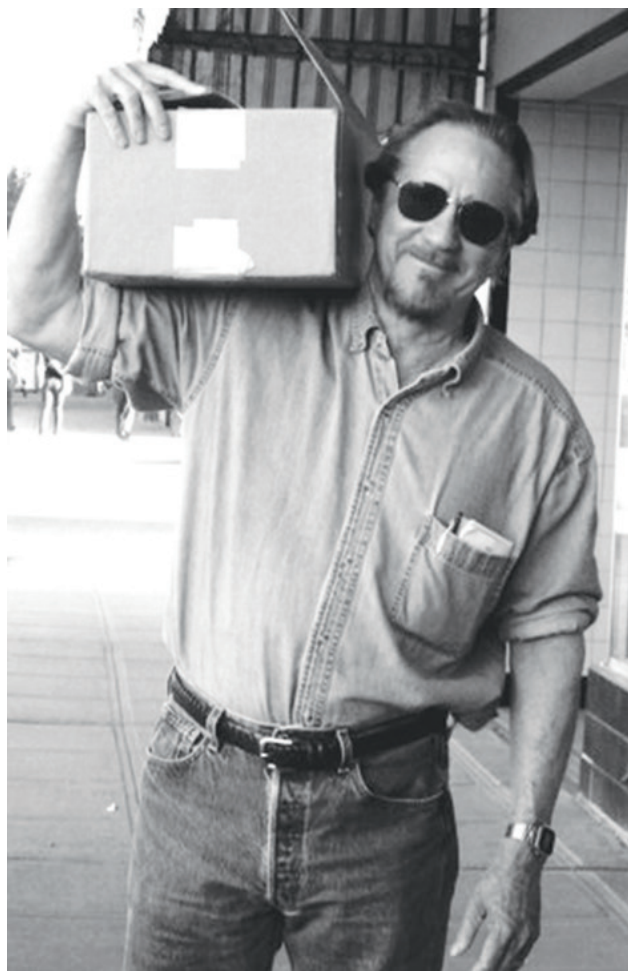

Quite the opposite. Nearly 15 years after his mother's death, Brenna is writing his paean to her. The title derives from her frequent response to his behavior, "You're killing me, Duffy," she would tell him — something most of us have either heard or repeated.

"She influenced my life heavily," Brenna said. "My mother was all energy. She was straightforward and never looked back. She never regretted anything. It's over."

Although they seldom crossed paths for years, he credits her as "... one of the forces in my life." His mother instilled the lessons that developed his ambition to become a writer.

Thus, this book is his attempt to "immortalize her and remember her and how she was in my eyes." Brenna is the next presenter in Eduardo Santiago's Idyllwild Author Series.

Born in Minnesota, he left home at 15 years and took a lot of courage to write that book and he did it beautifully — if unconventionally!"

"Murdering the Mom" requires some effort. Brenna foregoes quotation marks throughout and also shifts his voice from first, to second and even to third person at times. By reading his work out loud, he finds the right bounced between there, Alaska and Colorado before joining the Army. During the three years in the 82nd Airborne, he earned a graduate education degree. Eventually, his hometown high school sent him a diploma. After leaving the military he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees.

Literature — both teaching it and writing — has been his career and spiritual path. Now retired, Brenna lives in Menifee.

He has been to Idyllwild many times. "It's very peaceful and I'd like to live there, but can't afford it." Not only the Hill's environment, but its compatibility with intellectual subjects were attractive to him.

When asked why he chose to invite Brenna to join the series, Santiago was direct. "The book itself, 'Murdering the Mom,' turned me off at first. I did not like the title nor the cover," he wrote in an email, then stressed. "But I'm glad I read it and I'm anxious to meet Duff. It rhythm for his mission.

"Using the various voices, I felt I could mine my own subconscious better," he explained. It's a subconscious that addresses many familiar subjects, including the quality of life near its end. He questions whether he could make a choice to avoid entering the abyss of dementia and long-term hospice care.

"It's always a question about quantity versus quality. What's more important?" he asked. Quality for Brenna is accomplishing something. Writing is how he achieves that goal. Every day he gets up and goes to his computer to write something.

Retired from teaching, he is the editor of an online literature journal — Serving House Journal — focusing on fostering literary arts. In fact, Brenna states, "Art is my religion." Symphonies, poems, sculptures and literature are all spiritual to him.

It's his belief in art that helps him through daily hardships. He describes his style as "neo-naturalism." It's simple and straightforward. There are "no compromises with sentimentality," he explained. His literary influences are Mark Twain, Jack London, Ernest Hemingway and Leo Tolstoy.

Pursuing his art is his mission. He is working on two books, one true story about a woman whose husband killed her. Although he has finished a first draft, it is in abeyance until the man's trial in Orange County begins and ends.

The second is about a couple. The woman is dying and her husband becomes so traumatized he has to leave. The result is a re-birth for both.

Brenna and Eduardo Santiago will discuss "Murdering the Mom" and works from Brenna at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 14, at Café Aroma.

Evans graces summer concert stage

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The always popular Yve Evans returns to Idyllwild next week, Thursday, July 18. She and her group will perform at the Idyllwild Summer Concert Series staged at the Idyllwild Community Center site.

Evans' singing, playing and humor are often seen at Jazz in the Pines and will now be on display for her Idyllwild followers.

When asked what she liked about Idyllwild, Evans first described the "trees, peaceful trees," then chuckled and talked about the people and the friendly town.

"I walk down the street and people know who I am," exclaimed Evans, who has been performing in Idyllwild for 15 years. She added, "I've gotten very familiar with Idyllwild."

Evans sings the blues, gospel and pop. She described her show as, "My private party in a public place. It's like a reunion of a huge family — something for everyone."

She has described her entertainment as "from two of the greatest female performers that ever walked onto a stage — Pearl Bailey and Della Reese."

She clearly embraces her art and her public. In 2006, she was diagnosed with cancer, but has been cancer-free for more than five years, which is one reason she so easily shares her talent with an audience.

Brad Bobo, bassist and composer, Larry Washington, drummer, and Mike Simms, guitar, will accompany her on stage.

All the musicians have great voices, she said. But since she doesn't get to play any notes, they won't be allowed to sing, she explained.

This week, Evans will be at the Mammoth Lakes Jazz Festival. After 50 years of traveling around the world to perform, she says it can be tiresome. But she never tires of it, because "it affords new friends and old friends, a mixed bag of action, which is a great life for me."

"But I can't wait to get on the Hill," she said gleefully. "We're humble and honored to be part of the great summer series."

Marshall Hawkins Seahawk Band will open the evening's music at 6:15 p.m., and Evans follows at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 18.

Judged Artist Member's show and tour

By BETTY BAILEY
CORRESPONDENT

Who will be the Art Alliance of Idyllwild's 2013 Artist of the Year?

That question, and more, will be answered this month at the AAI's Judged Artist Members' Show and Working Artist Gallery Tour, a two-day event taking place the weekend of July 13 and 14.

From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, July 13, enjoy an open exhibition of AAI artists at the Rainbow Inn (54420 S Circle Dr. in Idyllwild). Dozens of member artists will display their work in the categories of photography, abstract art, representational art, mixed media and three-dimensional art.

AAI judged shows allow

member artists to earn points toward AAI's prestigious Jack Williams Artist of the Year Award. Williams was an Idyllwild impressionist oil painter and art teacher.

Last year's winner was photographer Kathy Harmon-Luber. Sculptor Norman Deesing took home the award in 2011.

Be sure to cast your vote for the People's Choice Award, as participating artists decide who will take home the Artists' Choice Award. Then, pick up an Art AAI map and head out to visit member galleries.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., local artists will be hard at work in galleries throughout the town of Idyllwild. It's a great opportunity to observe up close and gain insight from the artists about their methods and motives.

From 6 to 8 p.m., head back to the Rainbow Inn for a festive evening reception, where votes will be counted and winners will be announced. Enjoy a glass of wine and appetizers as awards are given for each of the categories, as well as the Best of Show.

The winner of the three-dimensional category will receive the Frank Vrabel Memorial Award, named for a local artist who was a sculptor, gemologist, poet and author. The winner of the "2013" will also be revealed.

Don't miss the Under $100 sale, in which exquisite

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your zeal for challenges usually works well for you. But this week it's best to avoid jumping into new situations without more information. Vital news emerges by the weekend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Once again, the Bovine's patience pays off as that pesky problem works itself out without taking too much of your valuable time. A new task opens interesting possibilities.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Those suggestions you want to share need to be set aside for a while so you can focus on the job at hand. There'll be time later to put your ideas into a workable format.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Be sure about your sources before you use the information in any decision you reach about your new project. Some of the data might be out of date or misinterpreted.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A sudden challenge might rattle you at first. But pump up that strong Lion's heart with a full measure of courage, and face it with the continuing support of family and friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Watch your expenses this week so you can have a financial cushion to fall back on should things tighten up later this month. Money matters ease by the 31st.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Uncertainty over workplace policy creates anxiety and confusion among your colleagues. Don't be surprised if you're asked, once again, to help work things out.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The workweek keeps you busy tying up loose ends and checking data that needs to be verified. The weekend offers a chance to relax and restore your spent energies.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is not the best time to go to extremes to prove a point. Better to set a sensible goal now and move forward. There'll be time later to take the bolder course.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A step-by-step progression is the better way to move ahead. Taking shortcuts could be risky at this time. Important news arrives on the 31st.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Avoid getting drawn into workplace disputes that should be handled by those directly involved. Instead, spend your energy developing those new ideas.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You still need to be prudent about money matters. But things start to ease by the end of the week. A weekend encounter with an old friend brings welcome news.

BORN THIS WEEK: You handle challenging situations with boldness when necessary and caution when called for.

Public Notices

Legals • Doing Business As

For questions about Public Notices call Dolores at the Town Crier (951) 659-2145 or E-mail: Dolores@towncrier.com

Every day throughout the United States, newspapers publish thousands of public notices about events, conditions or actions that affect countless individuals, families, neighborhoods and businesses. Public notices cover many topics, including business matters, liquor licensing, public auctions and sales, estates, zoning, public meetings, bids to sell goods and services to the government, local government finances and state and local elections. Public notice is a fundamental component of our system of representative democracy, which depends upon the participation of educated, responsible citizens.

works of art can be purchased at bargain basement prices. It's a great place to start your art collection or add some one-of-a-kind pieces to your existing one. The art exhibition and Under $100 sale will continue from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, July 14.

Debbie Howard and Jim Yaple are sponsors of the event.

AAI is a nonprofit, 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to promoting local artists and galleries while enhancing Idyllwild's reputation as one of the 100 Best Art Towns in America. AAI offers an annual series of events including the Art and Treasures Weekend, on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, and the Art Walk and Wine on Oct. 12.

For more information, visit the AAI website at www.artinidyllwild.org or call (877) 439-5278.

CREATURE CORNER

BY MIMI AND HOOTCH

Adopted and ready for their new adventure this week were Teddy Bear and Tyler II, two males from the litter of gray kittens. They went to their new home together, so the brothers will always have each other to play with.

Found: a small female husky-mix. Call ARF to identify at 951-659-1122.

Reunited this week to their very worried owners were

Roxie, the corgi-mix, and Max, the Chihuahua.

Only three kittens are left. Tip-pycanoe and Tutti Frutti are the females and T. Rex is the male. Come in to ARF and get your kitty love. They will be ready for their new adventure into your home at the end of the week. Hurry, because these bundles of fur won't last long. They are all 12 weeks old and properly trained by a very good mama who has been adopted.

Ingredients: a little chocolate Lab, a little black Lab and mix with lots of water and love. You get Bulldozer. A true water lover, this big guy needs room to run and play in the water. He loves all sports, will walk on the leash, and when he finds his perfect owner, you can be sure this guy will stay right by your side.

Good with other dogs, large or small. Not sure about the feline crowd yet. Bulldozer was abandoned near the transfer station, along with the trash. He is looking forward now, and I think he's looking at you.

Bruce, the little male Chihuahua, and Ladybug, the shep/husky-mix, were also found at the dump. They are both young, and anxious for a new home.

Be sure to visit us at the Pet Expo Saturday.

We also have many dogs available on our website in assisted adoption.

ARF has many cats and dogs available for adoption or fostering. Go to www.arfidyllwild.weebly.com and click on Petfinder. All pets are spayed, neutered and current on shots. ARF is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sundays.

Wildfire control campaign

The U.S. Forest Service and other land management agencies have a new fire safety campaign in California. The One Less Spark, One Less Wildfire campaign provides constant reminders during this fire season to reduce the numbers of human-caused vehicle and equipment wildfires throughout the state.

“All the stories we hear about sparks starting wildland fires are true, especially during this hot, dry summer,” said Joe Aragon, U.S. Forest Service Region 5 Interagency Fire Prevention Action Team coordinator. “With the low precipitation winter brought, conditions are ideal for fire starts. We’re here to coordinate with communities, agencies, organizations and schools to heighten awareness and ultimately protect the public from damaging fires in order to create more fire-adapted communities.”

The campaign features posters, bumper stickers, informational cards and public service announcements giving safety messages about equipment such as lawn mowers igniting fires, tow chains sparking fires along roadways, and safe campfires.

Partner agencies include the National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management, Cal Fire, Caltrans, California Department of Fish and Game, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Reclamation and many others.

Fire season in California has technically just begun, and already campfires have been blamed for 45 fires on national forest land. String trimmers, chain saws and mowers have sparked 13 fires. An abandoned campfire started the 1,708 acre Carstens Fire on the Sierra National Forest near Yosemite, costing millions of dollars.

Human-caused fires are avoidable. For more information about fire prevention, visit www.fire.ca.gov.

OUTSIDE IDYLLWILD

By BRUCE WATTS

Two trips to Garner Valley ...

On July 3, I woke at sunrise, quickly dressed and went outside to check out the morning sky. Lots of cottonball puffy clouds filled the southern sky with just enough blue showing through to make for a dramatic golden hour.

I went inside, packed up my gear and headed out to Garner Valley to see what the flowers and butterflies were doing. My plan was to head over to Fobes Ranch Road to photograph some landscapes and then head over to Lake Hemet to see the wildflowers in bloom.

It turned out to be a little cloudier than I thought. The sun remained hidden from view with only an occasional sunray escaping from the dark mass of clouds. I clicked away, nonetheless, and kept my eyes peeled for any unusual wildflowers or butterflies.

As I walked around on the road, I saw what looked like a plant topped with fried eggs. Unfortunately it was pretty far off and behind a barbed-wire fence. On my last trip to Garner Valley, I had an encounter with barbed wire that left a 6-inch gash above my right ankle.

I decided to keep my distance and use the camera's zoom lens to get closer to what I found out later was a prickly poppy, Argemone munita.

After taking about 150 photos, I decided to make my way over to the lake but roadside wildflowers proved to be too tempting so I pulled over to walk up and down the roadside.

I found sand verbena, sapphire woollystar (Eriastrum sapphirinum), an unknown species of orange globemallow, California evening primrose, spearleaf mountain dandelion, twiggy wreath plant, small bluish flax flower and summer lupines (Lupinus formosus).

Even though I ended up across the highway from Lake Hemet, I never made it to the lake as my camera battery warning light started to blink. That means I have taken too many photos to edit in one session so I headed home. I need to get a backup battery, or maybe not. My new card can hold nearly 2,000 photos so an extra battery could mean trouble.

On the morning of July 6, with a little less cloud cover than the previous trip, I decided to head out to Lake Hemet. This time it was straight to the lake, do not pass "Go," do not collect 200 photos.

It turned out to be that rare day when conditions are perfect for taking landscapes, flowers, butterflies, furry critters or you name it. This was truly one of those days where you are glad to be alive and outdoors.

Unlike a camera, my brain can record millions of images and the batteries last for decades but it is still nice to have camera images to jog the brain and remember days like this.

On Lake Hemet Road, I stopped once again and walked up and down looking for interesting flower species. I found narrow leaf milkweed (Asclepias fascicularis), southern honeysuckle, low carpet clover (Trifolium spp.), twiggy wreath plants (with paler flowers and purple pollen) and an unidentified fiddleneck-like plant.

Community Spirit Award

The finalists for the 2013 Ernie Maxwell Community Spirit Award are the Animal Rescue Friends of Idyllwild, Mountain Disaster Preparedness and Robert Priefer.

You may vote for anyone of these nominees at the Town Crier office, 54425 North Circle Drive, by Sunday, July 14. Ballots are available at the front desk seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. You may also mail a completed ballot to the Idyllwild Town Crier, P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549.

Previous awardees were the Mountain Communities Fire Safe Council in 2011 and Dawn Sonnier in 2012.

RMRU rescues exhausted hiker

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

On Sunday, June 30, the Riverside County Sheriff's Riverside Mountain Rescue Unit was summoned to help an injured hiker. The RMRU team was lowered into Long Valley about midnight, according to Lee Arnson, RMRU member from Idyllwild.

Teresa Suarez, 60, of Oceanside, had fallen several times trying to get to San Jacinto Peak. Injured and exhausted, she was unable to make it down the mountain.

"She was completely wiped out; 100 percent exhausted," Arnson said.

The RMRU team found Suarez about 3 a.m. Monday. They treated her and stayed with her overnight. Monday morning, the Mt. San Jacinto State Park trail crew and RMRU wheeled her on a litter out of the wilderness to the top of the Palm Springs Tram.

If Governor Jerry Brown and the California State Legislature does not rescind the 10% cuts in reimbursements to pharmacy and other health care professionals, i.e. medical doctors and dentists, Medi-Cal patients will be denied access to their health care because many health care professionals will no longer accept Medi-Cal. If these cuts go through on September 1, 2013, Idyllwild Pharmacy will be forced to stop serving our patients on Medi-Cal. Why this 10% cut is so threatening is that it comes on top of our total reimbursement. A prescription recently filled for a Medi-Cal patient cost $1304.98, Medi-Cal reimbursed $1340.26, showing a $35.28 profit. Come September, Medi-Cal will take another $134.02 cut from the pharmacy leaving me a gross loss of $98.75. No business can or should sustain these type of losses. What is even more insidious is Medi-Cal will go back 2 years and recoup 10% of the total reimbursements.

20th Jazz in the Pines only weeks away

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The 20th Jazz in the Pines is only five weeks away — Aug. 17 and 18. The program continues to bring new and fresh jazz performers to the Hill as well as reward attendees with ever popular and returning favorites.

For Idyllwild, one of the 2013 entertainers will be local and American Idol finalist Casey Abrams, who performs in the Holmes Amphitheatre at noon Sunday. Abrams, 21, won't be the youngest performer because Marsha Lytle, jazz chair, is bringing back Ray Goren, the phenomenal 13-year-old singer and guitarist, with his band. Goren makes an appearance for the third consecutive year.

While Abrams and Goren invigorate jazz with their youth, Lytle and Artistic Director Bubba Jackson, KKJZ 88.1FM personality, bring several long-time, well-known and recognized Grammy artists to the festival.

On Saturday, the audience hears two-time Grammy-award winning vocalist and pianist Diane Schuur (1:30 p.m.) and the Harvey Mason Chameleon Project (3 p.m.) with Grammy award-nominated percussionist Harvey Mason and featuring multiple Grammy award-nominated pianist and vocalist Patrice Rushen.

The John Daversa Sextet finishes the afternoon on the main stage. While not yet a Grammy nominee, Daversa has won many national jazz awards, including the Herb Alpert and ITG Jazz Soloist competitions.

On Sunday in the Barn, jazz aficionados may listen to the Rob Thorsen Trio featuring Josh White, the second-place winner of the 2012 Thelonious Monk piano competition.

The amazing jazz talent is not limited to a few award winners. This year, jazz vocalists Janis Mann and Denise Donatelli return. While always popular, these favorites are complemented with new additions to the local jazz scene. On Sunday, Jackson introduces Izzy Chait and then Amina

Figarova.

Chait is a jazz vocalist whose professional career began in the 1960s during his stint in the Marines. For the next 25 years his musical career was in abeyance as he developed his antique and auctioneer business. In 2001, he released his first album and now appears throughout Southern California belting out classic jazz standards such as "All Of Me," "Blues In The Night," "All The Way" and Gershwin songs.

The Amina Figarova Sextet brings international jazz to the amphitheatre. Amina, a pianist and composer of many jazz pieces, was born and raised in Baku, Azerbaijan, and her husband, Bart, a flutist, is from Belgium. They treat an audience to jazz's international feel, which they have shared with jazz fans in Newport, New Orleans and New York, where they now reside.

Finishing the afternoon is the Euphoria Brass Band from San Diego. This group is quickly growing Idyllwild roots. It recently appeared at the 2013 Aroma Spring Jazz Fest and participated in last week's Fourth of July Parade.

Many local groups also perform that weekend. Familiar to long-time jazz fest visitors are Rocky Zharph, P.S. Blues Band, Robin Adler, The Chuck Alvarez Band and Change Required.

Besides the tradition of extraordinary jazz, the Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation, who produce Idyllwild in the Pines, established a culinary tradition in recent years — the Friday night Patron's Dinner.

"A Taste of Idyllwild" Cocktail Party, which Idyllwild restaurants host, starts this special evening with a Red Carpet Entrance. The night continues with gourmet food, fine wine and fun, along with music from Idyllwild Arts students and alumni. Jackson hosts the gala and welcomes a special appearance by NBC-4 weatherman and comedian Fritz Coleman.

For those concerned about driving, parking and enjoying the fabulous weekend, the Associates solved that problem, too. Leave the driving to them.

For only $30 per person round trip, the Jazz Trans transport attendees to and from the event with pickups in Palm Springs and Palm Desert. This offer is available on Saturday, Aug. 17, only.

For tickets to Jazz in the Pines, the Patron's Dinner or Jazz Trans, or for more information, visit www.idyllwildjazz.com or call the Hotline at 951-500-4090.

have the opportunity to strut its stuff around the circle in front of the bandstand. A $10 entry fee will earn a gift. Winners in the five size groups also will be given a special prize from Mountain Paws.

The five size winners will then compete for Best in Show. The Best in Show winner will earn the right to hang its dog tags on a fire hydrant adorned with a dog food bowl.

The third fundraiser will be a crazy dog tricks contest. Each entrant may have as many do-overs as necessary in order to demonstrate or perform its crazy trick.

For a $5 entry fee, dogs may entertain with whatever trick they can perform. A panel of judges will choose the winner, who will also receive a gift donated by Mountain Paws.

Besides the contests, a petting zoo will be available and mini horses from Garner Valley will be at the Expo. Pony rides, not on the mini-horses, Murasko emphasized, will also be available for children.

Preceding the Pet Expo, Mountain Disaster Preparedness will discuss what to do with your pet in case of an emergency and how to prepare that event. This will begin at 9 a.m. and continue for two hours.

Pets will be available for adoption. Both Living Free and ARF will bring dogs and cats, whom they hope will go home with new owners.

OUT LOUD

Back at it ...

I "retired" from this job and pursued a few other projects.

But nothing called to me as much as the TC where I spent 23-plus years. So when the opportunity to purchase it arose, Jack and I hardly hesitated. All the support we've received touches me and I'm having fun being back.

You know you're back when an Idyllwild Fire commissioner calls up to give you a tongue lashing for running a letter to the editor offending his standards.

You know you're back when rival advertisers want you to police their licensing requirements.

You know you're back when equipment breaks down on deadline.

You know you're back when the printer creates major challenges on a holiday paper's deadline.

We managed to move our office, continue publishing this little paper Idyllwild depends upon and then throw a grand opening that hundreds of you celebrated on the Fourth of July.

So, in honor of Independence Day, I pick up the cause once again of open government and transparency, something so lacking in small towns such as ours. And so the Ralph M. Brown Act was created specifically for local governments.

Our job in the press is to be public watchdogs for government agencies. Our job is not to be cops or therapists. So, if you are a public official and you receive criticism published in this little paper, my job is not to mediate between you and the critic.

Criticism is a mainstay of freedom of the press.

I'm not going to stop doing my job any more than national newspapers did when the Nixons and the Reagans called publishers furious with opinions critical of their behavior.

Our little town needs to hold local government accountable. That won't change. Other things with the TC will. I will keep you informed ...

Tsk, tsk, Norm

EDITOR:

In response to Norm Cassen's letter, "Don't dump on Pine Cove," in the July 4 [issue of the Town Crier], I have to ask the question: What's your beef with Pete Capparelli?

Mr. Cassen has a list of letters singling out Mr. Capparelli. Did he kill your dog or date your wife?

I've known Pete for 20 years and I have to say if there is anyone in town more civic minded than Pete, I've yet to meet them. Pete has been on more boards and headed up more fundraising events than anyone in Idyllwild. He even acted in three plays I directed for the HELP Center. Acting is generous word for what he did.

All of these endeavors, he performed non-gratis. So here is a guy, Norm Cassen, who does little or nothing, criticizing a guy, Pete Capparelli, who has put in hundreds if not thousands of hours of volunteer time for this community and we, who are the beneficiaries of his time and hard work, aren't going to cry "foul"?

I call foul. I call a massive Zeppelin-sized technical foul on Mr. Cassen.

I also call on Mr Cassen to put in more time building our community and less time disparaging those, who for many years, have made the wonderful place it is.

The local paper should not be a forum for personal attacks and slanderous accusations. We have Facebook for that.

There are those who do and those who criticize those who do. Pete Capparelli is a doer and a straight up guy, so Mr Cassen, do us all a favor and take your beef elsewhere. Pete Capparelli always gives 100 percent, even when we don't need it.

Fire district election

EDITOR:

Voters of Idyllwild: Look at the timeline of the Idyllwild Fire Protection District financial difficulties and figure out for yourselves when the finances became so murky. When did the audits fall into arrears? When did the health care overpayment start? When did the bailout loans from the county start? The same people who are running for commissioner were in charge then.

The lack of audits started on Steve Kunkle's watch, as did the determination of the [Riverside County] Grand Jury "that the local fire department had used intimidation against individuals, violated open meeting rules and was underskilled in medical emergencies."

Rhonda Andrewson was administrative assistant when the 17 months of overpayments to firefighters occurred.

Jeannine Charles-Stigall authorized begging the county for bailout loans since IFPD wouldn't stay within budget. She has been ineffective in developing and enforcing the policies and protocols that could regenerate this department.

Nancy Layton, the most recent financial advisor, didn't catch the overpayments to firefighters. She had a flier at Honey Buns and Joe with prominently displayed logos of several organizations, implying that they are endorsing her.

Many of us have volunteered countless hours with our nonprofits but don't abuse this relationship by assuming they would endorse us for public office. Isn't it deceiving to the voters to use these logos? Doesn't Elections Code Section 18304 (a)(b)(c) call this a punishable misdemeanor? I'm sorry she was so rude to the person who pointed out the problems with this ad, but glad she removed it before she got into trouble.

Layton should have read the Election Codes. If she didn't know about the overpayments and is ignorant of the Election Code, what kind of a commissioner would she be?

Who else can run? Any registered voter in the district is eligible. Write-in candidates can file between July 1 and Aug. 13. They must file a Statement of Economic Interest and a Campaign Disclosure Statement. Call Registrar of Voters Julie Caban at 951-486-7201 or 800-773-8683

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be signed (unless e-mailed) and must be identified with the writer's name, address and weekday phone number.

Exceptions: Anonymous letters will not be accepted. Letters of thanks are not accepted. A special advertising rate is available for thank-you letters. Political letters cost 10 cents per word.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (Becky@towncrier.com).

IFPD needs honest people with the best interests of Idyllwild as their goal. Don't let the foxes run the hen house.

IFPD needs to get its finances in order. The current candidates have proved themselves incapable of this over and over. Men and women of honor who will not get caught up in politics need to step up and run for these offices as write in candidates.

LOLA'S KITCHEN

BY DOLORES SIZER

Just read it ...

I started reading a book about cooking that a close friend gave me for my birthday.

What I have read so far gives me a clue as to what the book will hold. "Cooked," by Michael Pollan, was on the bestseller list, although it contains no recipes. He also authored "The Omnivore's Dilemma" and "Food Rules." Several of his other books also made the bestseller list.

Pollan has a different way of looking at food and as far as I have read, his writing brings memories of my Dad who connected everything — rain, sun, earth, soil and nature — in spirit to his orchard.

Pollan also mentions family dinners of the past. He also writes about the introduction of processed foods into American diets and urges a return to family meals.

Pick up the book, it's great reading.

With that said, less and less time is spent in the family kitchen. I can understand the reasons. For example, in many families today, both parents work. Time to prepare meals from scratch with fresh vegetables and protein is too precious and rarely available.

My childhood memories of family suppers include my siblings and me with glasses of milk, my Dad with his beloved wine and the table always loaded with Mexican food. Oh, how I miss Mama's food.

Now, do I send you to the market to buy Stouffer's lasagna or do I give you a healthy recipe? By the way, have you ever flipped over a box of Stouffer's lasagna. Check out the fat and cholesterol content. Most processed foods are loaded with sugar and salt.

I just subscribed to allrecipes.com magazine. Here is a great recipe from my first magazine. It is yummy.

Baja fish tacos

6 tomatoes, diced
1 small onion, diced
1/2 cup chopped fresh cilantro
2 tbsps canned and diced jalapeno peppers,
or more to taste, juice reserved
1/2 tsp garlic salt
1/2 lime, juiced
3 cups coleslaw mix
3 tbsps ranch dressing
2 cups vegetable oil for frying
1 (9 ounce) box batter mix (such as Shore Lunch)
1 (12 ounce) can or bottle Mexican beer
24 corn tortillas
1 pound cod fillets, cut into 2-inch chunks
2 cups shredded Mexican cheese blend
2 limes, sliced into wedges
1 dash chile-garlic sauce (such as Sriracha; optional)

Mix tomatoes, onion, cilantro, jalapeno peppers, 1 tablespoon juice from jalapeno peppers and garlic salt in a bowl. Squeeze 1/2 a lime over salsa fresca; then cover with plastic wrap and chill while preparing fish.

Toss coleslaw mix in a bowl with ranch dressing and set aside for flavors to blend.

Heat the oil in a deep fryer or large sauce pan to 350 degrees. Stir the batter mix and beer together in a bowl.

Step by step ... a monthly update of the activities of the San Jacinto Mountain Community Center Board and its committees.

Program and Activities Committee:

8th Annual Skate Park Games, Saturday, July 13, 2013, 2-6 pm.

Professional demos, three age divisions, Skateboard Street, Skateboard 1/2 Pipe, BMX, fun for the whole family. Food, raffles and giveaways. Don't forget your helmets, and elbow and knee pads.

Building Campaign Committee:

$25,000+ in pledges and donations were raised at the kick-off campaign called "I'm Helping ..." build the Idyllwild Community Center, during the playground birthday party. We're on our way to raising $1,000,000 for phase one. We need your help. Contact us at info@idyllwildcommunitycenter.org for a tour of the site. Get involved in the next community build. Donate today.

Trish Tuley and Veda Roubideaux join the BCC. Welcome to two long-time residents who have a prominent history of supporting all that is good about Idyllwild.

SJMCC Board:

Finishing touches for the amphitheater plans are being provided by renowned Idyllwild musician Barnaby Finch in concert with an experienced theater architect to ensure that the amphitheater delivers maximum benefit for both performers and their audiences for music and theater productions. The orientation of the stage has been modified to preserve stately, old-growth pine trees that will circle the stage in a natural arc.

With the Butterfields' decision to donate another 9,000 square feet of land abutting the Verizon property, local building designer Robert Priefer and architect Jim Marsh are finalizing the access, parking and natural park setting along Strawberry Creek from Village Center Drive to the amphitheater and upper Ridgeview entrance.

The positions of the gym and pool have been reversed so there will be an impressive lobby entrance. In their new locations, the terraces overlooking the amphitheater will have a more majestic view of the natural forest landscape.

Local surveyor Lee Arnson is completing new easements and property changes to integrate the Ridgeview and Village Center Drive accesses and parking. The board is grateful for the in-kind contributions of Arnson, Priefer and Finch.

Guided tours of the site may be arranged for your organization or group. Just email chris@idyllwildcommunitycenter.org.

SJMCC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public benefit corporation funded by private donations.

Matter of fact

The dates were incorrect in last week's Lemon Lily Festival program schedule, page 9.

Town Crier regrets the error and has reprinted the program with the corrected dates..

Wrap the corn tortillas together in wet paper towels and set aside.

Dip the cod in the batter mix and fry the coated cod in batches of hot oil until it is cooked through and coating is brown. Four to five minutes seems appropriate. Remove cod with a slotted spoon and drain on paper-towel-lined plate.

Microwave the tortillas on high until warmed, about 1 minute.

Stack two tortillas on a plate. Then top with fish and a sprinkle of Mexican cheese, coleslaw mixture, salsa fresca, and a squeeze from a lime wedge. Drizzle the chile-garlic sauce, if using.

Repeat with remaining ingredients.

Note: I added a sliced avocado to the plate, and finely chopped green onions to the taco. Also, I reduced the amount of heat ingredients. Just a little too spicy. Enjoy.

County closes underground tank case

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Pine Cove underground storage tank project, which the Riverside County Department of Environmental Health has been monitoring since 1994, has officially been closed, according to a June 25 letter from the department to Howard Friedman of Santee.

The site was located at the Pine Cove Market, which Friedman formerly owned. The case was initiated under his ownership.

The letter "confirms the completion of a site investigation and corrective action for the underground storage tanks," wrote Steve Van Stockum, director of Environmental Health.

Friedman's actions complied with the appropriate sections of the state's Health and Safety Code, consequently, "... no further action related to the petroleum release at the site is required."

In May, the seven monitoring wells at the site were closed and removed.

Fire fee begins court journey

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association lawsuit, which attempts to overturn California's State Regulated Area Fire Fee will begin Friday, July 19, in the Sacramento Superior Court.

The initial proceeding is a hearing in response to the state's request that the case be dismissed.

The Jarvis association filed the litigation in October 2012. The suit alleges that the fee, being applied to parcels and structures with State Regulated Areas, is actually a tax. Consequently, its passage requires a two-thirds majority of the state legislature, not a simple majority, which enacted the fee in July 2011. The Jarvis litigation also challenges the fee's implementation, too.

The state's response first challenges the facts and argues that a class action suit cannot be filed.

"... class relief against government defendants is unavailable unless the specific government claims statute permits the filing of class claims. Under AB29X, only 'a person from whom the fire prevention fee is determined to be due' may file a petition for re-determination. The term 'person' does not include a class. Thus, the class allegations and all other class references should be stricken from the ... complaint," wrote California Deputy Attorney General Jacob Berman in an April filing.

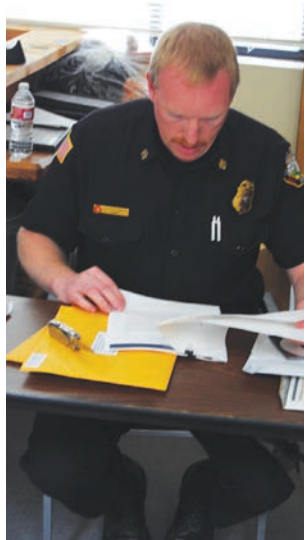

The court's ruling will determine whether the case proceeds.

Composting needs volunteers

The Riverside County Waste Management Department is seeking volunteers to work with the Riverside County Backyard Composting Program. Volunteer master composters attend a training course for four Saturdays, and then donate back a minimum of 40 hours to the program.

Volunteers are needed for staffing Saturday morning workshops, classroom presentations and community group presentations. Learn more about recycling organic resources and get to know others with similar interests.

The training class is from 7:30 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Saturdays from Aug. 3 to 24 in Moreno Valley. The department provides books and study materials. Limited seats are available.

For more information and to register for classes, contact Riverside County Waste Management Department at (951) 486-3200 or email WasteCompRecyc@co.riverside.ca.us.

Steele moving up the FedEx ladder

By JACK CLARK
PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

Brendan Steele improved his position on the FedEx Cup points list and added some insurance to his playing card for next season.

The native Idyllwilder shot a 3-under-par 66-70-72-69 — 277 in The Greenbrier Classic in West Virginia to gain 24 FedEx Cup points, bringing his running total to 429 and moving from 88th position to 85th on the points list. He also added more than $20,000 to his official prize money for the season.

Steele continues to maintain his high-level iron play. Last week he averaged an excellent 29 feet, 2 inches, in proximity to the hole, which is a stat measuring the closeness to the pin of approach shots. In his final round he averaged an outstanding 24 feet, 2 inches in that category.

Sunday, on the 616-yard, par-5 17th hole, Steele slammed a drive of 321 yards to the left fairway, followed with a crushing 288-yard 3-wood to within 7 feet, 2 inches of the hole — then sank that putt for an eagle 3. Wow, wouldn't you have loved to have seen that?

This week Steele plays in the $4.6 million John Deere Classic on the TPC Deere Run course in Silvis, Ill. Not quite as much money at stake this week, but the winner gets the bonus of qualifying for the Open Championship (often referred to in the U.S. as the British Open), which will be played next week at Muirfield in Scotland.

Town Crier Photo Contest!

Deadline for entries: 5 p.m., July 31, 2013

Here's your chance for fame, glory, and a free license plate frame! Enter your best color photographs of the Idyllwild area in the Idyllwild Town Crier's 2014 Wall Calendar Photo Contest. Winning photographs will be published in full color in the new calendar, and winning photographers will get a byline and an Idyllwild license plate frame.

The Rules

Contest is open to everyone. Submit up to ten 8" x 10" glossy color images. If images are digital, they must be submitted on a CD or DVD, be at least 300 dpi when scaled to 8" x 10" and must be accompanied by high-quality glossy color prints for judging. Include your name, address, phone number, e-mail and location on the back of each print (make sure you use a pen that doesn't smear or bleed onto other prints). Also, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope for safe return of your work. New this year: Limit 3 submissions per person.

You can drop off your entries at the Town Crier at 54425 North Circle Drive, or mail to Town Crier Photo Contest, P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549. Sorry, no email submissions.

While the Town Crier will reserve the right to publish the photos and use them in promotional material, photographers will still own the rights to their work. Questions? E-mail: halie@towncrier.com

Brenna metaphorically discusses 'Murdering the Mom'

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Don't expect "Murdering the Mom," Duff Brenna's latest work, to be a criminal confession of matricide, although a browser at one of his book signings asked Brenna's publisher if it was a death row confession.

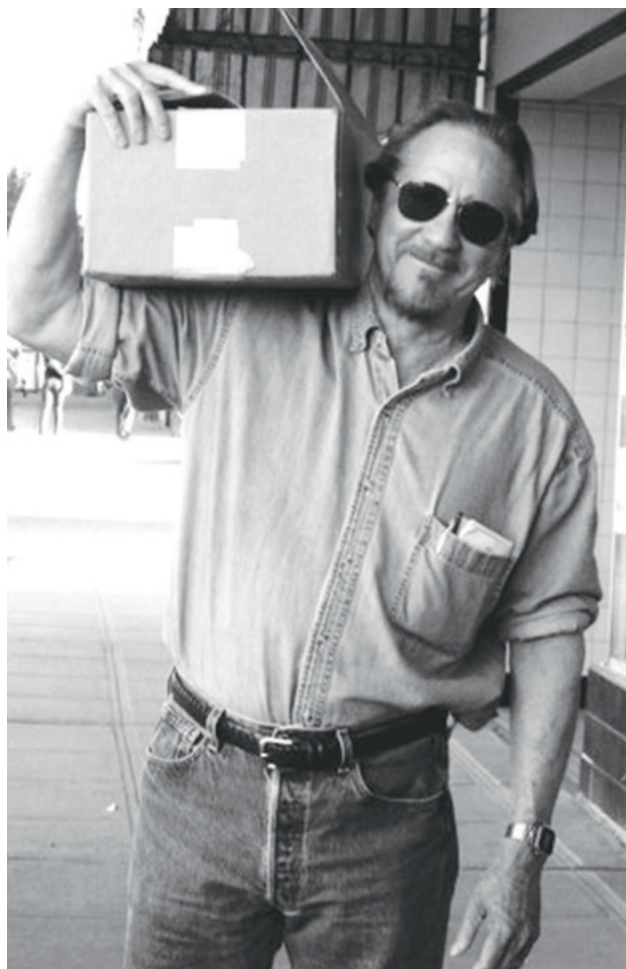

Quite the opposite. Nearly 15 years after his mother's death, Brenna is writing his paean to her. The title derives from her frequent response to his behavior, "You're killing me, Duffy," she would tell him — something most of us have either heard or repeated.

"She influenced my life heavily," Brenna said. "My mother was all energy. She was straightforward and never looked back. She never regretted anything. It's over."

Although they seldom crossed paths for years, he credits her as "... one of the forces in my life." His mother instilled the lessons that developed his ambition to become a writer.

Thus, this book is his attempt to "immortalize her and remember her and how she was in my eyes." Brenna is the next presenter in Eduardo Santiago's Idyllwild Author Series.

Born in Minnesota, he left home at 15 years and Duff Brenna is the next Author Series speaker Sunday, July 13.

took a lot of courage to write that book and he did it beautifully — if unconventionally!"

"Murdering the Mom" requires some effort. Brenna foregoes quotation marks throughout and also shifts his voice from first, to second and even to third person at times. By reading his work out loud, he finds the right bounced between there, Alaska and Colorado before joining the Army. During the three years in the 82nd Airborne, he earned a graduate education degree. Eventually, his hometown high school sent him a diploma. After leaving the military he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees.

Literature — both teaching it and writing — has been his career and spiritual path. Now retired, Brenna lives in Menifee.

He has been to Idyllwild many times. "It's very peaceful and I'd like to live there, but can't afford it." Not only the Hill's environment, but its compatibility with intellectual subjects were attractive to him.

When asked why he chose to invite Brenna to join the series, Santiago was direct. "The book itself, 'Murdering the Mom,' turned me off at first. I did not like the title nor the cover," he wrote in an email, then stressed. "But I'm glad I read it and I'm anxious to meet Duff. It rhythm for his mission.

"Using the various voices, I felt I could mine my own subconscious better," he explained. It's a subconscious that addresses many familiar subjects, including the quality of life near its end. He questions whether he could make a choice to avoid entering the abyss of dementia and long-term hospice care.

"It's always a question about quantity versus quality. What's more important?" he asked. Quality for Brenna is accomplishing something. Writing is how he achieves that goal. Every day he gets up and goes to his computer to write something.

Retired from teaching, he is the editor of an online literature journal — Serving House Journal — focusing on fostering literary arts. In fact, Brenna states, "Art is my religion." Symphonies, poems, sculptures and literature are all spiritual to him.

It's his belief in art that helps him through daily hardships. He describes his style as "neo-naturalism." It's simple and straightforward. There are "no compromises with sentimentality," he explained. His literary influences are Mark Twain, Jack London, Ernest Hemingway and Leo Tolstoy.

Pursuing his art is his mission. He is working on two books, one true story about a woman whose husband killed her. Although he has finished a first draft, it is in abeyance until the man's trial in Orange County begins and ends.

The second is about a couple. The woman is dying and her husband becomes so traumatized he has to leave. The result is a re-birth for both.

Brenna and Eduardo Santiago will discuss "Murdering the Mom" and works from Brenna at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 14, at Café Aroma.

Evans graces summer concert stage

By J.P. CRUMRINE
 NEWS EDITOR

The always popular Yve Evans returns to Idyllwild next week, Thursday, July 18. She and her group will perform at the Idyllwild Summer Concert Series staged at the Idyllwild Community Center site.

Evans' singing, playing and humor are often seen at Jazz in the Pines and will now be on display for her Idyllwild followers.

When asked what she liked about Idyllwild, Evans first described the "trees, peaceful trees," then chuckled and talked about the people and the friendly town.

"I walk down the street and people know who I am," exclaimed Evans, who has been performing in Idyllwild for 15 years. She added, "I've gotten very familiar with Idyllwild."

Evans sings the blues, gospel and pop. She described her show as, "My private party in a public place. It's like a reunion of a huge family — something for everyone."

She has described her entertainment as "from two of the greatest female performers that ever walked onto a stage — Pearl Bailey and Della Reese."

She clearly embraces her art and her public. In 2006, she was diagnosed with cancer, but has been cancer-free for more than five years, which is one reason she so easily shares her talent with an audience.

Brad Bobo, bassist and composer, Larry Washington, drummer, and Mike Simms, guitar, will accompany her on stage.

All the musicians have great voices, she said. But since she doesn't get to play any notes, they won't be allowed to sing, she explained.

This week, Evans will be at the Mammoth Lakes Jazz Festival. After 50 years of traveling around the world to perform, she says it can be tiresome. But she never tires of it, because "it affords new friends and old friends, a mixed bag of action, which is a great life for me."

"But I can't wait to get on the Hill," she said gleefully. "We're humble and honored to be part of the great summer series."

Marshall Hawkins Seahawk Band will open the evening's music at 6:15 p.m., and Evans follows at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 18.

Judged Artist Member's show and tour

By BETTY BAILEY
CORRESPONDENT

Who will be the Art Alliance of Idyllwild's 2013 Artist of the Year?

That question, and more, will be answered this month at the AAI's Judged Artist Members' Show and Working Artist Gallery Tour, a two-day event taking place the weekend of July 13 and 14.

From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, July 13, enjoy an open exhibition of AAI artists at the Rainbow Inn (54420 S Circle Dr. in Idyllwild). Dozens of member artists will display their work in the categories of photography, abstract art, representational art, mixed media and three-dimensional art.

AAI judged shows allow member artists to earn points toward AAI's prestigious Jack Williams Artist of the Year Award. Williams was an Idyllwild impressionist oil painter and art teacher.

Last year's winner was photographer Kathy Harmon-Luber. Sculptor Norman Deesing took home the award in 2011.

Be sure to cast your vote for the People's Choice Award, as participating artists decide who will take home the Artists' Choice Award. Then, pick up an Art AAI map and head out to visit member galleries.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., local artists will be hard at work in galleries throughout the town of Idyllwild. It's a great opportunity to observe up close and gain insight from the artists about their methods and motives.

From 6 to 8 p.m., head back to the Rainbow Inn for a festive evening reception, where votes will be counted and winners will be announced. Enjoy a glass of wine and appetizers as awards are given for each of the categories, as well as the Best of Show.

The winner of the three-dimensional category will receive the Frank Vrabel Memorial Award, named for a local artist who was a sculptor, gemologist, poet and author. The winner of the "2013" will also be revealed.

Don't miss the Under $100 sale, in which exquisite

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your zeal for challenges usually works well for you. But this week it's best to avoid jumping into new situations without more information. Vital news emerges by the weekend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Once again, the Bovine's patience pays off as that pesky problem works itself out without taking too much of your valuable time. A new task opens interesting possibilities.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Those suggestions you want to share need to be set aside for a while so you can focus on the job at hand. There'll be time later to put your ideas into a workable format.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Be sure about your sources before you use the information in any decision you reach about your new project. Some of the data might be out of date or misinterpreted.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A sudden challenge might rattle you at first. But pump up that strong Lion's heart with a full measure of courage, and face it with the continuing support of family and friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Watch your expenses this week so you can have a financial cushion to fall back on should things tighten up later this month. Money matters ease by the 31st.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Uncertainty over workplace policy creates anxiety and confusion among your colleagues. Don't be surprised if you're asked, once again, to help work things out.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The workweek keeps you busy tying up loose ends and checking data that needs to be verified. The weekend offers a chance to relax and restore your spent energies.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is not the best time to go to extremes to prove a point. Better to set a sensible goal now and move forward. There'll be time later to take the bolder course.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A step-by-step progression is the better way to move ahead. Taking shortcuts could be risky at this time. Important news arrives on the 31st.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Avoid getting drawn into workplace disputes that should be handled by those directly involved. Instead, spend your energy developing those new ideas.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You still need to be prudent about money matters. But things start to ease by the end of the week. A weekend encounter with an old friend brings welcome news.

BORN THIS WEEK: You handle challenging situations with boldness when necessary and caution when called for.

Public Notices

Legals • Doing Business As

For questions about Public Notices call Dolores at the Town Crier (951) 659-2145 or E-mail: Dolores@towncrier.com

Every day throughout the United States, newspapers publish thousands of public notices about events, conditions or actions that affect countless individuals, families, neighborhoods and businesses. Public notices cover many topics, including business matters, liquor licensing, public auctions and sales, estates, zoning, public meetings, bids to sell goods and services to the government, local government finances and state and local elections. Public notice is a fundamental component of our system of representative democracy, which depends upon the participation of educated, responsible citizens.

CREATURE CORNER

BY MIMI AND HOOTCH

Adopted and ready for their new adventure this week were Teddy Bear and Tyler II, two males from the litter of gray kittens. They went to their new home together, so the brothers will always have each other to play with.

Found: a small female husky-mix. Call ARF to identify at 951-659-1122.

Reunited this week to their very worried owners were Roxie, the corgi-mix, and Max, the Chihuahua.

Only three kittens are left. Tip-pycanoe and Tutti Frutti are the females and T. Rex is the male. Come in to ARF and get your kitty love. They will be ready for their new adventure into your home at the end of the week. Hurry, because these bundles of fur won't last long. They are all 12 weeks old and properly trained by a very good mama who has been adopted.

Ingredients: a little chocolate Lab, a little black Lab and mix with lots of water and love. You get Bulldozer. A true water lover, this big guy needs room to run and play in the water. He loves all sports, will walk on the leash, and when he finds his perfect owner, you can be sure this guy will stay right by your side.

Good with other dogs, large or small. Not sure about the feline crowd yet. Bulldozer was abandoned near the transfer station, along with the trash. He is looking forward now, and I think he's looking at you.

Bruce, the little male Chihuahua, and Ladybug, the shep/husky-mix, were also found at the dump. They are both young, and anxious for a new home.

Be sure to visit us at the Pet Expo Saturday.

We also have many dogs available on our website in assisted adoption.

ARF has many cats and dogs available for adoption or fostering. Go to www.arfidyllwild.weebly.com and click on Petfinder. All pets are spayed, neutered and current on shots. ARF is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sundays.

Wildfire control campaign

The U.S. Forest Service and other land management agencies have a new fire safety campaign in California. The One Less Spark, One Less Wildfire campaign provides constant reminders during this fire season to reduce the numbers of human-caused vehicle and equipment wildfires throughout the state.

“All the stories we hear about sparks starting wildland fires are true, especially during this hot, dry summer,” said Joe Aragon, U.S. Forest Service Region 5 Interagency Fire Prevention Action Team coordinator. “With the low precipitation winter brought, conditions are ideal for fire starts. We’re here to coordinate with communities, agencies, organizations and schools to heighten awareness and ultimately protect the public from damaging fires in order to create more fire-adapted communities.”

The campaign features posters, bumper stickers, informational cards and public service announcements giving safety messages about equipment such as lawn mowers igniting fires, tow chains sparking fires along roadways,

and safe campfires.

Partner agencies include the National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management, Cal Fire, Caltrans, California Department of Fish and Game, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Reclamation and many others.

Fire season in California has technically just begun, and already campfires have been blamed for 45 fires on national forest land. String trimmers, chain saws and mowers have sparked 13 fires. An abandoned campfire started the 1,708 acre Carstens Fire on the Sierra National Forest near Yosemite, costing millions of dollars.

Human-caused fires are avoidable. For more information about fire prevention, visit www.fire.ca.gov.
