Nonprofit awarded recreation contract

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Management of local recreation programs will formally return to the Hill beginning in January. Since 2011, when Riverside County canceled its contract with the Idyllwild Community Recreation Committee, the oversight for local recreation was managed either by the county's Economic Development Agency or the Open-Space and Park District.

On Monday, Dec. 18, EDA awarded an operating agreement for the Community Service Area 36 (Idyllwild and Fern Valley) to the San Jacinto Mountain Community Center, according to Michael Franklin, EDA's project manager for CSAs. (SJMCC is overseeing the building of the Idyllwild Community Center.)

"A 90-day MOU [memorandum of understanding] goes into effect on January 3, 2017, while a formal agreement is routed for approval by the Board of Supervisors," See Contract, page 28

At its Dec. 14 Special Meeting, the Idyllwild Water District Board also received a report from former General Manager Tom Lovejoy, who has been consulting for the district in recent years.

Lovejoy described his work and recommendations on several projects, including the recycled water facility, replacement of pipelines and rehabilitation of the horizontal wells above Foster Lake.

Board still studying meeting compensation

By JP Crumrine
News Editor

The new Idyllwild Water District Board of Directors held its second special meeting this month, but this time it was with four members. Dr. Charles Schelly is the new president of the district's board and Vic Sirkin will serve as vice president. Both selections were unanimous.

The board then addressed several issues relating to itself and introduced its choice for interim general manager. John "Jack" Hoagland, retired, but currently serving on the Rancho California Water District board is the board's preference. Final contract negotiations were planned this week, and the final contract was to be brought to the board's regular meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 21.

While the board discussed changing its compensation for attending meetings, which is currently $100 per meeting, an actual decision was deferred until the regular meeting this week.

Initially several members seemed inclined to reduce the meeting stipend of $100 to $50 and possibly abolish it.

Four crashes on Hill roads over a wet weekend

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

With rain, ice and a dusting of snow over last weekend, driving on Hill roads tested the skills of motorists. Four crashes took place from Thursday, Dec. 15, through Monday, Dec. 19.

At 12:55 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 15, John Huddleston, 35 of Idyllwild, was driving his 2001 gray Dodge Ram truck westbound on Highway 74 just east of the intersection with Apple Canyon Road. Huddleston was towing a black trailer when, according to the California Highway Patrol report, he became distracted and allowed his vehicle to drift to the right. When he saw he was headed directly toward a yellow sign warning of deer in the area, he hit the brakes hard, hit the sign, and went over the side and down an embankment. The truck overturned and came to rest on its roof. Huddleston was not injured and no other vehicles were involved.

At 11:10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 16, Ernesto Gutierrez, 34, of San Jacinto, was driving his 1999 black Toyota Tacoma truck westbound on Highway 74, 2 1/2 miles west of McCall Park Road, when he failed to properly execute a right-hand curve and crossed the double-yellow lines directly into the path of an oncoming 2004 white Jeep Rubicon driven by Daniel McNutt, 62, of Murrieta. The vehicles collided head-on but owing to fairly low speeds of both vehicles, no one was injured in the crash.

At 10:45 p.m. also on Friday, Mario Deniz, 22, of Mountain Center, was driving a white 2002 Chevy Silverado truck southbound on Highway 243 about 1 1/2 miles north of the intersection with Highway 74, when he crossed over the double-yellow lines and collided with a 2011 GMC Savannah van belonging to Idyllwild Arts Academy being driven northbound by Jeffrey Cohen, 70, of Idyllwild. Deniz was cited for driving under the influence. No one claimed injury in the collision.

At 3:45 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18, Jennifer Lattanzi, 33, of Hemet, was driving her black 2003 Honda Civic southbound on Highway 243 1 1/2 miles north of the intersection with Highway 74 when she allowed her vehicle to cross the double-yellow lines and collided with a 2004 Toyota Scion xA being driven by Edgar Solis, 29, of Idyllwild. Lattanzi was cited for driving under the influence. No one was injured in the collision and no other vehicles were involved.

Idyllwild receives more rain

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

A heavy rain fell on the Hill Friday. The amount varied by elevation, but all areas received much more than an inch during the 24-hour period.

The greatest amount of rainfall was recorded in Pine Cove which received 3.75 inches. The Idyllwild Fire Station recorded 3.18 inches through Sunday and the U.S. Forest Service's Keenwild Ranger Station had 1.81 inches of rain.

For the season (since July 1), Pine Cove has had 10.2 inches of rain, which is an inch more than the long-term average through the end of December. However, Keenwild has recorded 6.8 inches, which leaves it 2.4 inches shy of the 9.2-inch average.

Minimum wage rises to $10.50 per hour Jan. 1

To $15 per hour by 2022

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

In April of this year, California Gov. Jerry Brown signed into a law a minimum wage plan he called 'careful and responsible.' Under the bill drafted by the Legislature and supported by labor unions, California's minimum wage would rise to $10.50 an hour on Jan. 1, 2017, for businesses with 26 or more workers, with subsequent graduated increases topping out at $15 an hour by Jan. 1, 2022.

The bill Brown signed gives additional time to meet the new standard to businesses with fewer than 26 employees and also authorizes Brown and his successors to suspend increases for one year during economic downturns or when there are budget deficits. Businesses with 25 or fewer employees would have until Jan. 1, 2018, to make the transition to $10.50.

Under the plan, the California minimum wage for businesses with 26 or more employees would rise to $11 per hour in 2018, with subsequent $1.00-per-hour increases each January until Jan. 1, 2022. Businesses with 25 or fewer employees would have one additional year to mean each annual target.

Annual income of full time work at 2016 minimum wage in of $10 per hour would be $20,800; in 2022 at $15 per hour, it would be $31,200. For comparison, the Federal Poverty Level in 2016 for a family of four is $24,300.

By signing the Legislature's bill in April, Brown averted a November ballot initiative that would have raised the minimum wage to $11 per hour in 2017 and $15 per hour by Jan. 1, 2021. Said Brown at the signing, "Once again California is showing we can do right by workers, we can advance the economy and we can do it through the legislative process in a careful and responsible way."

Pushback against the wage increase came from businesses noting that it would lead to job losses and worsen California's business comments. Commentators predicted more automated checkout lines and kiosks as employers could be forced to reduce staffing.

Brown, reputedly a fiscal moderate, expressed his own concerns about the $15-per-hour target at the Los Angeles signing. "Economically, minimum wages may not make sense," said Brown. "But work is not just an economic equation," noting that "labor is part of living in a moral community."

The federal minimum wage is still $7.25, set at that level in 2009. Throughout the U.S. state minimum wage rates vary widely. But beginning Jan. 1, 2017, minimum wages will rise in 21 states, more than 20 cities and several counties and regions. The biggest increases, in percentage terms, will be in Arizona (up 24 percent to $10), in Maine (up 20 percent to $9) and in three Silicon Valley cities (up 20 percent to $12).

Grants for groups visiting Friends of the San Jacinto Mountain County Parks are presenting a mini-grant field program.

Beginning Sunday, Jan. 1, eligible educational groups will receive grants to help offset the costs of visiting the Idyllwild Nature Center.

Formal and non-formal educators, schools, youth organizations, adult continuing education programs, scout groups and community outreach groups are eligible.

Ferrellgas collecting winter clothes

Ferrellgas is collecting new and gently used coats, hats, scarves and gloves this year, and putting them into the hands of less fortunate members of our community.

Donations can be given to Ferrellgas deliverymen or brought to the Ferrellgas office at 28995 Highway 243 through Friday, Dec. 30. At the end of the coat drive, Ferrellgas will donate items collected to one or more local charities.

"Ferrellgas is proud to provide a product that helps keep people in our community warm and provides some comfort in their lives," said Terry McGuire, local director of operations. "But we realize that too many local residents will struggle to stay warm this winter because they don't have an adequate coat. Our goal is to help provide one to as many people here as possible. Thanks to the generous members of our community, we look forward to doing just that."

McGuire said local residents do not have to be customers of Ferrellgas to participate in the coat drive.

OUT LOUD

Editor's note: Co-publisher Jack Clark writes this week:

Pretty heady stuff, this change coming to the Town Crier on Jan. 5, and the paper's staff is ready and eager for it.

"Full market coverage" is the term in the trade; "free to the Hill" is what it means here. TC newspapers free each week to each of thousands of mailboxes in Idyllwild, Mountain Center and Garner Valley, out to Paradise Corner. And Hill shops and businesses will be giving out free papers, too, so you should see many more tourists carrying TCs.

Hill stores and restaurants will have small (5"x6.5") but distinctive signs in their windows, inviting folk to come inside to get free local newspapers — and while they're inside they'll buy something else, too. Shops already distributing the TC will have first crack. But we're doubling our circulation to more than 5,000, so if you're interested in having free TCs in your business to attract customers inside, send an email to jack@towncrier.com or call me at 951-663-1453.

On weekends, expect to see TCs being read in restaurants and shops by many more tourists and second-home folk. To get your business ads in front of them, call Lisa at the TC office, 659-2145. With our new broadsheet size, your ads will be bigger and better looking — and they'll go out to twice as many readers. And since we'll still be a weekly paper, your ad won't disappear in one day, like an ad in a daily paper. Your ads will be around town and on coffee tables for a week.

It's all part of our ongoing effort to serve more readers and more advertisers, so we can keep a real newspaper serving our Hill.

Over-zealous tree removal

EDITOR:

I recognize the importance of county road crews having the right of way to clear dangerous trees from the road right of way. What I do not understand is how a county maintenance crew can cut down a healthy 40-year-old evergreen oak tree that is not near a power line or creating a hazard, this same crew also cut down two 20-year-old manzanita trees. All of these trees were 5 feet from the road and their branches did not crown onto the asphalt. I am just sorry some over-zealous county employee took down these trees on my property but on the right of way. If they randomly cut my trees yours can be next.

IWD seeks new director — again

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

As reported last week, John Cook resigned from the Idyllwild Water District Board of Directors. He has served eight years.

The new board has notified the Riverside County Register of Voters and requested applicants for the vacancy to submit a letter of interest and a résumé describing their qualifications to the board by Dec. 30. An appointment will be made in January.

Cook was appointed to the board in November 2008. He was elected to his first full four-year term in 2009 and re-elected in 2013. His term expires in December 2017, and he would have been up for re-election this coming August.

With his resignation, the IWD board is again at fewer than five members. Since the end of November 2015, there has been a 100 percent turnover in the board.

In December 2015, directors Steve Kunkle and June Rockwell replaced Dean Latin and Warren Monroe, whom they defeated in the August 2015 election.

In September 2016, directors Jim Billman and Mike Freitas resigned, without explanation, concurrently with former General Manager Tom Lynch.

Fern Valley Water accepts 2015 – 16 audit

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

At its Dec. 16 meeting, the Fern Valley Water District Board of Directors unanimously accepted the 2015-16 audit and heard General Manager Victor Jimenez report that water supply was in good condition.

Teaman, Ramirez and Smith of Riverside performed the audit and reported that “the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the business-type activities of the FVWD as of June 30, 2016...”

In Fiscal Year 2015-16, FVWD’s revenues dropped about $38,000 or 3 percent. Customers conserving water was the reason. FVWD customers used 30.8 million gallons during the fiscal year, which was 2.2 million less than the prior fiscal year.

Expenses were also slightly less in fiscal 2015-16. This was largely due to a small depreciation and reduced non-operating expenses.

The district’s total net position is $7.5 million, a $92,500 increase.

The largest liabilities remain pensions, other post-employment benefits (health insurance) and the Saunders Meadows bond. The latter is paid from assessments on the properties in that district.

FVWD’s 2016-17 budget includes an additional $200,000 to pay nearly two-thirds of the estimated unpaid balance. The directors expect this to reduce the annual interest costs to CAL PERS by $19,000.

“We might consider fully funding it this year,” suggested Director Richard Schnetzer. This result free more than $40,000 in future budgets.

As a result of the review of the internal controls, the board will have a purchasing policy prepared this year.

“The audit makes the district look very good,” Schnetzer said summarizing the whole report.

The board also approved a contract with architect Jim Marsh to expand its conference and break rooms area this year.

Reporting on the November water production, Jimenez said “Everything continues to run smoothly.” While more well levels decreased, the decrease was slight. Offsetting this minor decrease were large increases in the levels of other wells, such as a 5-foot rise in the level of well no. 14.

Production was up about 16 percent in November compared to 2015. Wells continued to be the source of about one-third of the district’s water.

Pine Cove re-elects officers; water leaks down

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Pine Cove Water District directors chose the same slate of officers for 2017 as served in 2016. Director Robert Hewitt remains board president; Diana Luther will serve again as vice president; and Lou Padula as secretary. All of the officers were elected to their current board office in August 2015.

Reporting on the water conditions, General Manager Jerry Holldber said, “Production is consistent with the last couple of years.”

In November, PCWD production was 2.3-million gallons, which was about 100,000 more than last year. For the year, PCWD has produced 29.6-million gallons compared to 29.2-million gallons in 2015. For the first 11 months of 2016, its production is about 500,000 gallons or 1.6 percent more than the same period in 2015.

Holldber also reported that the groundwater level of PCWD’s static well had dropped 2 feet in the past month, although it had been steady since October.

The level of several other wells has increased, some nearly 10 feet. In particular, the ground level of two wells in the Dutch Flats area, which were not used in the past month, rose 30 feet, he noted.

Holldber said he will upgrade the wells in this area to prepare for spring in case the district needs to expand the number or location of wells in use.

The leak detection efforts have been successful. Holldber reported that water loss was 5.7 percent in November after being 14 percent in October and averaging 10 percent for the past 12 months.

“That is the best we’ve had in a long-term,” he said proudly.

In cooperation with the district’s legal counsel, Brad Neufeld of Varner & Brandt of Riverside, they will hold a workshop in January on the Brown Act and state ethics laws. The use of social media will be another topic addressed during the session. The workshop is for the district’s directors and other elected representatives of Hill public agencies and their general managers.

Holldber also reported that he had met with the Idyllwild Water District directors to offer help or assistance as they begin to recover after the resignations of its GM and three directors. This was done with the PCWD board’s knowledge.

2017 tax filing season begins Jan. 23

Deadline for filing tax returns is April 18

The Internal Revenue Service announced that the nation's tax season will begin Monday, Jan. 23, 2017, which is when it will begin accepting electronic tax returns. More than 153 million individual tax returns are expected to be filed in 2017.

Many software companies and tax professionals will be accepting tax returns before Jan. 23 and then will submit the returns when IRS systems open. The IRS will begin processing paper tax returns at the same time.

The IRS reminds taxpayers that a new law requires the IRS to hold refunds claiming the Earned Income Tax Credit and the Additional Child Tax Credit until Feb. 15. In addition, the IRS wants taxpayers to be aware it will take several days for these refunds to be released and processed through financial institutions. Factoring in weekends and the Presidents Day holiday, the IRS cautions that many affected taxpayers may not have actual access to their refunds until the week of Feb. 27.

The IRS also reminds taxpayers that they should keep copies of their prior-year tax returns for at least three years.

Taxpayers who are changing tax software products this filing season will need their adjusted gross income from their 2015 tax return in order to file electronically. The Electronic Filing Pin is no longer an option. Taxpayers can visit IRS.Gov/GetReady for more tips on preparing to file their 2016 tax return.

April 18 filing deadline

To submit 2016 tax returns, the filing deadline is Tuesday, April 18, 2017, rather than the traditional April 15 date. In 2017, April 15 falls on a Saturday, and this would usually move the filing deadline to the following Monday, April 17. However, Emancipation Day — a legal holiday in the District of Columbia — will be observed on that Monday, which pushes the nation's filing deadline to April 18. Under the tax law, legal holidays in the District of Columbia affect the filing deadline across the nation.

The IRS also has been working with the tax industry and state revenue departments as part of the Security Summit initiative to continue strengthening processing systems to protect taxpayers from identity theft and refund fraud. A number of new provisions are being added in 2017 to expand progress made during the past year.

Choosing e-file and direct deposit for refunds remains the fastest and safest way to file an accurate income tax return and receive a refund, according to the IRS.

As in past years, the IRS will begin accepting and processing tax returns once the filing season begins. All taxpayers should file as usual, and tax return preparers should also submit returns as they normally do — including returns claiming EITC and ACTC.

Where's My Refund? on IRS.gov and the IRS2Go phone app will be updated with projected deposit dates for early EITC and ACTC refund filers a few days after Feb. 15. Taxpayers will not see a refund date on Where's My Refund? or through their software packages until then. The IRS, tax preparers and tax software will not have additional information on refund dates, so Where's My Refund? remains the best way to check the status of a refund.

Help for taxpayers

The IRS reminds taxpayers they have a variety of options to get help filing and preparing their tax return on IRS.gov. Taxpayers can also, if eligible, locate help from a community volunteer. Go to IRS.gov and click on the Filing tab for more information.

Seventy percent of the nation's taxpayers are eligible for IRS Free File. Commercial partners of the IRS offer free brand-name software to about 100 million individuals and families with incomes of $64,000 or less.

Online fillable forms provides electronic versions of IRS paper forms to all taxpayers regardless of income that can be prepared and filed by people comfortable with completing their own returns.

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) offer free tax help to people who qualify. Go to irs.gov and enter "free tax prep" in the search box to learn more and find a nearby VITA or TCE site, or download the IRS2Go smartphone app to find a free tax prep provider.

Tips for choosing a return preparer and details about national tax professional groups are available on IRS.gov.

Renewal reminder for Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers (ITINs)

ITINs are used by people who have tax-filing or payment obligations under U.S. law but are not eligible for a Social Security number. Under a recent change in law, any ITIN not used on a tax return at least once in the past three years will expire on Jan. 1, 2017. In addition, any ITIN with middle digits of either 78 or 79 (9NN-78-NNNN or 9NN-79-NNNN) will also expire on that date.

This means that anyone with an expiring ITIN and a need to file a tax return in the upcoming filing season should file a renewal application in the next few weeks to avoid lengthy refund and processing delays. Failure to renew early could result in refund delays and denial of some tax benefits until the ITIN is renewed.

An ITIN renewal application filed now will be processed before one submitted at the height of tax season from mid-January to February. Currently, a complete and accurate renewal application can be processed in as little as seven weeks. But this timeframe is expected to expand to as much as 11 weeks during tax season, which runs from mid-January through April.

Several common errors are currently slowing down or holding up ITIN renewal applications. The mistakes generally center on missing information, and/or insufficient supporting documentation. ITIN renewal applicants should be sure to use the latest version of Form W-7, revised September 2016. The most current version of the form, along with its instructions, are posted on IRS.gov.

Last Saturday, New Spirit Love hosted 100 children at the New Spirit Idyllwild location. The children enjoyed an afternoon of festivities including meeting Santa Claus. Santa Claus handed out hand-picked gifts to each child provided by New Spirit with the assistance of his helpful elves.

Hockey

Brian Smith, father of young Idyllwild hockey player, Adam Smith, provided this coverage of the Wildcats travel hockey team.

Saturday, the Wildcats faced off against the Ontario Wave. The Wave started off the scoring with a short-handed breakaway with two minutes to go in a very physical first period. In the second, Wayne Sturdevant scored for the Wildcats ten minutes into the period. Then, only 25 seconds later, Kaleb Bector scored, giving the wildcats the go-ahead goal. Four minutes into the third, Scott Hommel scored to give the Wildcats a 3-1 lead. About a minute later, Idyllwild's Adam Smith added an insurance goal, securing the Wildcats' 4-1 win over the Wave. After last week's impressive 9-0 shutout win and this week's win, the Wildcats have moved back into third place in the standings. Their next game will be a Riverside home game at 4:45 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 7, against the Jr. Ducks.

Happy Holidays! Let's Talk About Trees ...

It's The Dormant Season and the bugs are asleep...
Time for pruning Pines and fruit trees. Time for weight reduction on those heavy Oak limbs. Time to mulch!

DID YOU KNOW...

- Proper fruit tree pruning will increase the fruit yield and maximize structural integrity of the limbs
- Pine trees should ONLY be pruned during the winter months to avoid attracting beetles
- A trained eye can spot defects and weak points where trees are likely to fail and break
- Using climbing "spikes" on living trees can damage their vascular system for decades
- 2"-4" of mulch in the root zones can decrease evaporative water loss by up to 75%
- During the winter, fresh wood chips from a chip truck can be used for mulch without attracting beetles

*contact Pacific Slope Tree Service for mulch delivery

Call for a No-Cost Property Review, by a Certified Arborist, for recommendations to keep your trees healthy and safe.

Over $20,000 distributed in 2016

As the 2016 calendar year comes to an end, the Art Alliance of Idyllwild is celebrating a record year for fundraising.

Keeping in compliance with its 501(c)(3) mission, it distributed more than $20,000 to art-specific programs and scholarships in 2016.

Six community organizations received funding: Idyllwild smARTS Program, Idyllwild HELP Center, Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation, Musica, Idyllwild Elementary Music Program and Idyllwild Arts Academy.

In addition to providing art scholarships, AAI also funded art classes for local homeschool kids, hosted two free summer youth workshops, and presented a full calendar of events.

Funding was made possible because of two annual fundraising events: The Eye of the Artist and the 19th-annual Art Walk and Wine Tasting.

Bald eagle count Jan. 14

The U. S. Forest Service has scheduled one more bald eagle count for this winter. The count will be on Saturday morning, Jan. 14.

Two bald eagles reside on the shores of Lake Hemet. In 2014, they produced two eaglets.

The local count will be at Lake Hemet. Volunteers meet at the Lake Hemet Market at 8:30 a.m. on the above dates for orientation. Contact Ann Bowers (annbowers@fs.fed.us or 909-382-2935) for more information.

Other counts that day within the San Bernardino National Forest will be at Big Bear Lake, Lake Arrowhead, Lake Gregory, Silverwood Lake State Recreation Area and Lake Perris State Recreation Area.

Seniors welcome at food share

The longstanding senior food distribution with no economic qualification was disbanded late last year.

However, according to organizers, seniors are still welcome at the weekly USDA food commodity program. No one has to qualify for distribution.

The USDA food distribution is the first Tuesday of each month at the Mormon Church at the corner of Highway 243 and Tollgate from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Bring a box. The next distribution will be Tuesday, Jan. 3.

An almost white Christmas in Idyllwild

A time to come together in peace

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

In the higher regions of Idyllwild and Pine Cove, a light dusting of snow still covers the ground just days before Christmas – an unexpected present following last Friday’s heavy rainfall.

As it does especially in the cool winter air, the mountain sparkles with sunlight dappling its pines during brilliantly clear days and smoke from chimneys adds holiday festiveness to the star-filled nights.

This year, Hanukkah begins Dec. 24, Christmas Eve, a symbolic uniting of the two faiths, Jewish and Christian, as different congregations light candles and pray on the same night — a serendipitous symbol of a need and a time to come together in peace.

Idyllwild Christmas is not the typical Southern California experience – more Currier and Ives than Rodeo Drive. And if you want the idyllic “White Christmas” Bing Crosby dreamed of in 1942, you’d be more likely to find it in Idyllwild than Beverly Hills.

Here there is not the hustle and bustle of shoppers rushing about in a glitzy urban metropolis decorated with consummately expensive taste. Here there is more tranquility, more simplicity, more peace and more time to stop and visit with friends.

Some wonder whatever happened to the Christmas promise of “Peace on Earth, Goodwill to Men,” as we humans seem increasingly to be choosing disagreement and disruptiveness over concurrence and comity. Come to Idyllwild. You might find a more welcoming experience.

Christmas is first and foremost a religious observance, celebrated by local churches. Most Idyllwild churches hold candlelight Christmas Eve services. Check church websites for specifics. St. Hugh’s holds services at 5:30 p.m. Christmas Eve, Dec. 24; Idyllwild Bible Church holds two, one at 4:30 and one at 6: Queen of Angels Catholic Church celebrates Christmas Eve mass at 4; Community Presbyterian at 7 with candlelight; Crossroads 243 at 4:30 p.m. and Spiritual Living Center at 6:30.

American Legion Post 800 is open Christmas Eve 12 to 5 and Christmas Day also 12 to 5 but with no special luncheons or dinners. The Idyllwild Help Center will be accepting food donations through Christmas Eve Day.

Idyllwild restaurants will be crowded especially with Christmas falling as it does this year on a Sunday. Make reservations to celebrate an old fashioned Christmas in Idyllwild. Visit shops, galleries, restaurants, wine bars and experience music everywhere you go. Pause under the brilliant night sky to see stars that are very hard to see in light-blighted urban areas.

And take a moment to stand before the Idyllwild Christmas tree, craning your neck to see to the top of the old sequoia, lit this year by 5,200 lights – and once more, feel the awe and beauty of Christmas just as you did when you were a child.

Film festival firsts: What's new at IIFC 2017?

BY MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

One of the great pleasures of Idyllwild's independent film festival is seeing new works by up-and-coming filmmakers.

The Idyllwild International Festival of Cinema year eight will not disappoint with an expanded schedule, new offerings and celebrity appearances.

As to what's new, the IIFC website (www.idyllwildcinemafest.com) has a partial list of festival films with a new feature that allows one to click on an arrow and go to the trailer for the particular film. Better than a written summary of the plot, viewers can view the trailer and sample the action, sound, cinematography and feel of the film.

According to Stephen Savage, festival founder and director, the official opening night film on Thursday, Jan. 5, is Cassie Jaye's controversial feature-length documentary, "The Red Pill." Jaye is a distinguished documentarian but this film may have posed her greatest challenge when, as a feminist filmmaker, she set out to document the mysterious and polarizing world of the men's rights movement. Expecting to find a misogynist hate group aiming to turn back the clock on women's rights, Jaye instead learns of the various ways men are disadvantaged and discriminated against.

At age 21, Jaye won the award for Best Feature Documentary at the 2010 Cannes Independent Film Festival in France for her first feature documentary, "Daddy I Do."

Also on opening day is the 10th-anniversary screening of Savage's film "Cosmic Radio," filmed on location in Idyllwild. "Many of the cast are coming back for the anniversary screening," said Savage.

Also on opening weekend, at noon Saturday, Jan. 7, is the premiere of the television pilot, "Tucker's War," written and directed by Savage and produced in conjunction with the Summerhawk Film Institute. "Tucker's War" follows the story of a World War I veteran and medal of honor recipient who comes back from the war to build a life in a country in transition — between a Wild West that no longer exists and an industrial future that is just beginning to unfold.

Prior to the screening, Savage will have a discussion and Q&A with Joan Benedict Steiger, actor, author and widow of film great Rod Steiger. Benedict Steiger will speak about her own Hollywood career in television and film working alongside such legends as Elizabeth Taylor and Mickey Rooney, and her relationship with Steiger. Benedict Steiger will be featured in Savage's upcoming feature film "The Wind of Heaven," scheduled to begin production in 2017.

Closing weekend, on Sunday, Jan. 15, Savage will hold an onstage discussion with Academy Award, Golden Globe and BAFTA-nominated actress Anne Archer. Archer was nominated for all three for Adrian Lyne's 1987 iconic thriller "Fatal Attraction." Archer received a Golden Globe for the ensemble cast of Robert Altman's "Short Cuts" in 1993.

Festival Executive Producer Trinity Houston also called out as a "must see" film, "Hired Gun," a documentary look at some of the LA music scene's top session players and side musicians from the 1970s to the present day. Houston also noted 2017 festival entries come from as far away as Iran, Kosovo, Hong Kong and India, making IIFC 2017 a truly international festival.

IIFC 2017 is sponsored by IM3Global and The Riverside County Film Commission. Tickets, passes as well as all pertinent information can be found on the festival website. IIFC 2017 runs from Thursday, Jan. 5 through Sunday, Jan. 15.

Born November 1, 1946. Now, Celebrating 70 years ...

The Town Crier grows up and out!

The Town Crier has had several prices and sizes over the years, and now —

- * We'll be FREE ON THE HILL — free to P.O. boxes, free to Hill shops, and
- * We're going to the familiar BROADSHEET size used by most other papers.

All beginning with our Jan. 5 issue!

Why the changes?

- ✓ Better for our readers: No more cost to Hill readers, fewer pages to turn, more to read on each page. And you can wrap bigger fish in it.
- ✓ Better for our advertisers: DOUBLE THE CIRCULATION means double the ad readership. BROADSHEET means better printer options: Sharper, cleaner ads, brighter colors. And readers stay on your ad page longer.

The same news coverage. The same local agency coverage. The same features, events, puzzles and games. The same Town Crier you rely on, but in a more workable news format.

We'll still bring you "Almost all the News — Part of the Time."

And we'll still be "Online All the Time at idyllwildtowncrier.com."

Readers: When your current subscription runs out, you'll keep getting your Town Crier for free. Doubled readership means more advertisers, which means your paper will continue to be here to bring you local news and coverage of local agencies — to keep you informed.

Please keep on supporting our regular advertisers!

Businesses: When you regularly advertise in your Town Crier, you contribute to your community. Your regular advertising pays our bills so the Town Crier can continue to bring local news and coverage of local agencies to our readers. Remember, our readers keep their Town Crier handy on their coffee table for a whole week — with your ad in it. It's like advertising seven straight days in a daily newspaper.

Your local newspaper must have your regular advertising to survive. So,

WE ENCOURAGE YOU TO REGULARLY ADVERTISE

Take advantage of our doubled, free circulation and do your part to keep us a well-informed community!

A blueprint for building a Death Star—Right!...

After seeing "Rogue One," my imagination ran wild. I started researching what it would take to build a Death Star.

As a disclaimer, I am more of a Star Trek fan than a Star Wars fan; so if you disagree with anything you are about to read, please don't use the "Force" against me.

Based on my research, the first Death Star in the Star Wars series was about 120 kilometers (about 75 miles) wide and the second was 160 km (almost 100 miles) wide. I will average ours out to 140 km wide which comes out to a little less than 1/20th the size of Earth's moon.

Keep in mind that the largest space station we have ever built is only 100 meters (about 325 feet) across by 40 meters high.

Okay, so what material would this Death Star be made of? Right now there is revolutionary research being conducted on graphene and its possible applications; but, to keep it consistent with the original idea, let's make our Death Star out of steel.

Since we have to protect it from attacks, let's play it safe and make it 20 cm (or 8 inches) thick. Being that it's 140 km wide, we would need about 60 billion cubic meters of steel, which comes out to approximately 20,000 times the size of The Great Pyramid of Giza (just for the outer shell).

We also have to consider how much steel we need for floors, walls, rooms, equipment inside plus the fact the 2015 world production of steel (crude) was only 1.6 billion tons, which would mean we would need several decades just to come up with enough to build the outer shell.

We also haven't even taken into account the cost. As of December 2016, the cost of steel is $300 per ton which would make the price tag $150 trillion — twice the cost of all the goods and services sold globally per year.

I won't even bring up the cost of maintenance or whatever energy source is needed to rotate it into position. But what really makes a Death Star is its power to destroy planets using the super-laser.

The strongest laser we have at the moment on Earth produces 10 to the power of 15 joules of energy. Scientists have estimated that to blow up a planet the size of Earth using a laser would be 10 to the power of 32 joules of energy. That's 10 with 32 zeros after it.

This is the same energy that our Sun produces in an average week.

To put it into perspective, if you pointed the strongest laser we currently have at an earth-sized planet, we would need to point it non-stop for 3 billion years (give or take a few million years) in order to get the desired effect.

Didn't mean to burst anyone's bubble (including those hired to work in the incoming administration's Department of Defense) but go see the movie regardless. At least you will get to see Darth Vader being Darth Vader even if you have to wait 'til the final scene.

BY VIC SIRKIN, RESIDENT FOODIE

The perfect gift of love and life ... food!

With the holidays upon us, nothing may be more appreciated than a jar or container of home cooked soup with a ribbon around it and a nice baguette. Guaranteed it will not end up in a holiday grab bag exchange!

A big pot of minestrone, vegetable, chili..., you name it, will make a whole bunch of last minute gifts that really will be used — and appreciated.

You were wondering what to do with all the old yogurt containers and such anyway, right?

So, if you haven't already decided what you should make and how to present it, then I'll create an example that you, along with a friend or maybe a couple of kids, can put together and make a little project of it.

Let's make a highly customized vegetable soup with pasta, potato or grains, then your choice of fresh sautéed veggies.

We'll begin with a sautéed blend of diced celery, onion and sliced carrot, this mixture added to chicken, beef or vegetable broth. Perhaps you would like a can or two of tomato product (sauce, whole, crushed). There are infinite combinations of these items, yet if you choose the ones you like then chances are you will love it. Your friends will, too, at least they will eat the baguette.

Start with the broth and make it easy on yourself. Buy a couple boxes of chicken broth, 32 oz. each. I use low sodium since I will adjust later. A 15 oz. can or two of tomato puree, or whole tomatoes (that you can chop into the sizes you want, along with the juice) — even more if you like.

Sauté a cup each of sliced carrot, diced celery and onion in oil or butter until starting to soften. Then add some crushed garlic and sauté a minute or two longer. Then add it to the broth in a good-sized pot. Start warming this.

Next, sauté your choice(s) of absolutely anything from diced, sliced or chopped peppers, squash, zucchini, mushrooms, green beans, even chicken, etc. Veggies will give up some liquid so you can use a good amount of them. A cup of any one thing is a good amount.

Sauté in butter or oil until almost soft. Add them to the pot along with any remaining liquid. Season with whatever you like — oregano, basil, chili powder, cayenne salt, pepper, or another. Stir.

Now you could toss in some rinsed barley, lentils, quinoa or rice, even diced potato (about 1/3 cup, 1 cup if potato). These take some time to cook. You can now even add a can of beans (including the liquid), and in a little bit maybe a little orzo or alphabet pasta (it swells). Pasta will be done fairly quickly so add it toward the end. About 1/3 of a cup as well.

Bring to a boil then simmer until the texture is to your liking. Taste frequently for seasoning.

Too thin? Add a mixture of a tablespoon of cornstarch and cold water (no lumps). Bring it to a quick boil, this should thicken it.

Too thick? Add enough water and adjust seasonings. Reheat. If it becomes too heavy because you went over the line with quantities, an extra box of broth may rescue the operation.

When you are satisfied that it's too good to give away, then it's done!

Using a ladle, measure how many scoops it takes to fill a normal soup size bowl and use that number as a guide.

If you are giving this to one special friend, a couple or a family, let them know you want to drop off something that needs refrigeration. They will respond. They can freeze it or eat it very soon.

No baguette? A big craft beer works! You're a hero.

I wish you all the best holiday season ever.

Last week in Days of Our Nine Lives, the ARF cats were happy for Leia's finding a forever home.

Bobbie: Olivia, you know that I'm the new cattery 4-1-1, right?

Olivia: Yes, you're the know-it-all. We get it.

Bobbie: Darned tootin' I know it all! I know that ARF has a new dog.

George: (Yelling into the cattery) Olivia

Hey guys! Bobbie says we have a new dog in the ARF family!

Olivia: Cool! What's she like?

Bobbie: She's a Boxer-mix and will celebrate her second birthday next month.

Mr. Gray: Very nice, very nice. I just hope she doesn't upset the apple cart.

George: Olivia might, but I doubt this dog will. I hear she has very good house manners.

Bobbie: George, you are correct. Her name is Nala, and she is house trained, doesn't jump on people, and isn't a barker.

Mr. Gray: Whew. That's good. You know I prefer a calm environment.

Pepper: So, does Nala like dogs? cats? kids?

Bobbie: From what I've heard, she really likes dogs and plays well with kids. We don't know yet about cats.

Mr. Gray: When you say she plays well with kids, is she, uh, like crazy?

Bobbie: She is energetic, but she knows how to relax and be a good member of the family.

George: Maybe she'd like to go on walks or hikes.

Mr. Gray: Yes, walks and hikes would probably be good for this youngster.

Olivia: But can she open cabinets and jump from cat trees onto cabinets and shelves? Have I mentioned I can?

Mr. Gray: Yes, Olivia, we know. You are one very special cat.

Olivia: I am special! And I'd be a perfect holiday addition to a special family. And this month, my adoption fee is half-price!

Bobbie: As it is for all of us.

Who will be the first to meet Nala? Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of Days of our Nine Lives each week. And please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Hwy 243 on Saturdays 10-4 and Sundays 10-2, or by appointment M-F by calling 951-659-1122. Librarian experiences the 'Idyllwild effect'

BY MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

Idyllwild Librarian Shannon Houlihan Ng said her nearly five years in Idyllwild have changed her in ways she never expected. "I've always been focused and running at full speed," she observed. "My concept of home has always been where my family and my people are." But even with her children and grandchildren living off the Hill, Ng said Idyllwild is having a profound effect on her. "I feel so at home here," she noted. "I'm not striving the way I used to because I've found my place here."

As a military "brat," Ng said she had always experienced the "itch" to move or do something new every three years. "Children of the military understand that need to move on," she said. As a child of an Air Force pilot, Ng said she attended seven elementary schools, and at age 12, was living in Tripoli, Libya, at the time of the Gadaffi coup. "That's what got us out of there. Moving is what we did as a family."

But now, in Idyllwild, she feels peacefully settled, and is directing her energies to creating a vital program of activities at the Idyllwild Library and to volunteering across a broad spectrum of platforms. "I'm getting out of my comfort zone and stretching myself," she said.

Ng recently moderated two forums in Idyllwild — one, a Riverside County 3rd District supervisor candidate forum at the Nature Center and an Idyllwild Water District election forum at Town Hall. "I'd never done that before," she said. Ng received great notices from audiences at both for her tact, composure and professionalism in giving candidates ample time to speak while still keeping them focused on the questions posed.

the Idyllwild Community Fund Advisory Committee and is currently recording secretary.

She is learning meditation as part of a group led by Monique Zander and is looking forward to finding time to hike and explore Idyllwild's high country. As a child, Ng had horses and rode constantly. "I miss that," she said.

Ng is an innovator, propelled by intellectual curiosity and a desire to contribute, to teach and to expand opportunities for learning. She has brought new programs to the Idyllwild Library, including an annual children's film series as part of the Idyllwild International Festival of Cinema. She recently added a program for kids and adults called "Random Acts of Holiday Kindness."

A Glimpse into Santa's World

There are books about Santa's workshop and movies too. There are amusement parks based on Santa's workshop. There are even replicas of Santa's workshop. That's right. People around the world have set up their own Santa's workshops.

The owners of these workshops have used their imaginations to recreate what they think is Santa's workshop, complete with toys of all types. There are replicas of Santa's workshop in Europe, the United States and elsewhere.

For those that don't have a chance to visit these workshop replicas, there are websites that focus on Santa's workshop and what you might see there if ever given the chance to visit. As for visiting the actual Santa's workshop, well, there's only one person you can ask about that—the man in the red suit himself! What will he say?

Jokes and Riddles

Q: How long does it take Santa to burn down a candle in his workshop?

A: About a wick!

Q: Why does Santa keep a garden outside his workshop?

A: Because he likes to hoe, hoe, hoe!

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus

This year marks the 120th anniversary of probably the most famous Christmas newspaper editorial of all time. It was written by Francis P. Church in response to a letter from 8-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon. It was published on Sept. 21, 1897, in the New York Sun.

We reprint it each year for the enjoyment of our readers:

Is there a Santa Claus? We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

Dear Editor:

I am 8 years old.

Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun, it's so."

Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon
115 West 95th Street

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith, then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable their existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your Papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, not even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else more real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay 10 times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

back to the library from Jan. 3 to 9 for treats and surprises. The random acts are sweet and small, such as bringing the Forest Service a treat, cheering someone up with kind words and giving a friend a compliment. The calendar reminds children and adults of how we can be better connected as a community and that it really is the little things that count and bring us together.

"I'm always looking at opportunities to do something new," said Ng.

For Ng, volunteering and contributing are keystones of a life lived well. "Volunteering is essential to everyone's character," she said. "It's a strong part of being a citizen. Ng is an American Red Cross CPR trainer and has been active with the American Cancer Society's Relay of Life and the National Charity League, and has served for many years in many leadership capacities with the Girls Scouts of America.

But for all her accomplishments in her professional and personal life (teacher, librarian, law librarian, business manager, wife, mother and grandmother), it is her present life in Idyllwild that continues to amaze her. "There is something very special about this place and the people in it," she said. "It's very different from other places I have lived. My goal is not to say 'no' to anything without at least trying it."

Ng is getting out of her comfort zone, growing in new ways and experiencing the "Idyllwild effect."

Dear Santa and Mrs. Claus,
We have been very good boys and girls at Lil' Critters Preschool. We have our Christmas wish list for you. Please give the reindeer extra carrots to make it to Idyllwild and Pine Cove.

Thank you,
Love, Lil Critters, Teacher Kathy + Teacher Heather

Kinsey, 4yrs - "A singing Anna doll. I already told him. A toy elf, but not a real one."

Gavin, 2yrs - " I want a train. I want ice cream."

Juniper, 4yrs. - "I want Elsa, Anna + Olaf and a Frozen Tea Party and it comes with Elsa, Anna and Olaf."

Beau, 4yrs. - "Rusty's race car. I want, hmmm, remote control cars because mine run out of batteries. I want a toy Santa's Workshop so I can work in there."

Oliver, 1 year old - Oliver is a happy baby. He likes to dance to music, play with electronic toys, and build things. He also likes to hug stuffed animals.

Chaz Levitt, 3yrs - "I want a basketball and a baseball. That's what I want."

Emily, 3yrs - "I want a Frozen Tea Party. I already asked Santa for it. A princess juice bottle, and a pink pen my Mommy can write a letter for it. I don't have a sparkly marker."

Isaiah, 4yrs - "A torch gun and new Star Wars black shoes that light up."

Danielle, 4yrs - "I want Elsa and Anna the dolls, a tea party, and a water bottle with Elsa and Anna. That's gonna be great!"

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS

California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: "Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor."

This is a contractor's responsibility, not a newspaper's, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors' advertising, if we notice it.

Water project

project captivated and surprised his audience. Lovejoy described its success as a "pipedream." He said he has tried to discuss its merits and the unlikelihood of achieving the desired results with board members for several years.

"Over the past few months, I've been deeply disappointed, but recent days encourage me and I'm feeling much better today," he began.

In Lovejoy's opinion, the proposed recycling project, which was initiated nearly eight years ago, is not cost-effective for the district.

"There is insufficient demand [for the produced irrigation water]," he stated. "It wasn't feasible during my tenure and the only difference is we're eligible for a grant."

One of his primary objections is the lack of analysis for the plant's product and its costs. Lovejoy offered his estimates and stressed he had encouraged former General Manager Tom Lynch to authorize a formal review. "I never got straight answers," he lamented.

In the vicinity of Idyllwild Pines, where IWD would store the recycled water, he identified five potential users — Idyllwild Arts, Idyllwild Pines Camp (although they have wells), Royal Pines, the Boy Scouts' Camp Emerson and Riverside County Park. But collectively, based on current consumption, these customers would use barely 10 percent of the water produced.

Lovejoy estimated that project costs would approach $4 million, twice the district's preliminary and current estimate, for which the grant and loan was justified. He thinks the district might have actual costs of nearly $3 million.

Overall the cost to produce the recycled water would be about 50 cents per cubic foot, but its sales value would be limited to less than 6 cents per cubic foot. District customers would be subsidizing the facility for years, he stated.

"It makes no sense. It's a pipedream," he asserted. "Every time I met with the general manager I told him he was living in a dream world."

Even changing several assumptions, Lovejoy claimed the overall results were not different.

"My recommendation is don't spend any more money until you decide it's cost effective," he concluded.

He also confirmed that the state has told the district that the recycled water could not be stored in Foster Lake.

"It's not prudent and not possible to re-charge Foster Lake," Lovejoy told the board.

In his opinion, IWD could invest less money searching for and drilling for new wells to more successfully augment the district's water supply.

Lovejoy did recommend continuing with the pipeline replacement project and rehabilitating the horizontal wells.

Franklin wrote in an email to the Town Crier. "CSA 36 will contribute $180,000 annually from the CSA 36 Special Assessment toward operations."

Janice Lyle, president of the SJMCC board, called this action a positive step and a creative solution to recreation on the mountain.

"We expect to receive the draft agreement this week and will be working to implement the transition on Jan. 1," she said. "As a local nonprofit, ICC is poised to assume management of the CSA 36 funding for the purpose of delivering quality recreation programs to mountain residents and visitors."

community service," said Director June Rockwell. "We shouldn't be paid. A hundred dollars is quite a lot and $50 is the local standard."

Director Steve Kunkle joined her saying, "A hundred dollars is too much. I have no problem with $50. I still won't take any compensation." He also recommended that these checks be identified in the district's monthly warrants.

Sirkin suggested setting the monthly maximum at $50 per month rather than a per meeting basis.

From the public, Tom Paulek supported the $100 per meeting rate or greater. "I expect the board to be very knowledgeable, not a casual job. I expect you to be very well informed and doing a lot of work. I recommend you re-consider the compensation."

"I want a very professional, adequately trained [board] member. A hundred dollars per meeting is peanuts," he concluded.

Marge Muir, local real estate agent and Idyllwild property owner, suggested

$50 per meeting. "People don't expect you not to be paid."

In September 2013, the previous board increased its meeting compensation to $100 from $50 per meeting — regular, special or committee meeting.

The board deferred a decision on the modification of the board's compensation and also whether to adopt Rosenberg's Rules of Order as the guidelines for managing its meetings.

The board set up a committee, composed of directors Rockwell and Sirkin, to explore new legal representation. The district's current legal counsel is David Wysocki of Akulfi and Wysocki, which has encountered its own legal problems associated with the City of Beaumont's corruption litigation.

Related, the board unanimously voted to put the litigation against current member Steve Kunkle in abeyance until a new counsel could review its merits. The vote was 3-0, Kunkle abstained and Cook had resigned.
