Locals join March for Our Lives

On Saturday, March 24, dozens of locals came to town to participate in Idyllwild's "March for Our Lives." This was one of hundreds of marches in support of the Parkland, Florida, school shooting victims and survivors, and in opposition to current gun laws. PHOTO BY PETER SZABADI

Supervisors agree to move forward on cannabis ordinance

Stepping closer to legal sales

By JP Crumrine News Editor

A cannabis (marijuana) industry is likely to come to the unincorporated areas of Riverside County, perhaps in 2018. Already nearly a dozen cities within the county have permitted at least one feature — retailing, cultivating, testing or distributing — of the novice industry.

At the end of a nearly three-hour workshop Tuesday, March 20, Supervisor Kevin Jeffries, 2nd District, summarized the Riverside County Board of Supervisor's next steps.

"Today, we need to make two decisions. The first is, do we move forward? Second, if we do decide to more forward, what revenue structure do we want?" he asked his colleagues.

While none of the supervisors were enthusiastically welcoming legal cannabis entrepreneurs to Riverside County, all mentioned that voters in the districts or cities in their districts approved Proposition 64, the Adult Use of Marijuana Act passed in November 2016.

Jeffries related how illegal dispensaries are open, shut and re-opened throughout his district and don't pay any county revenue. While he opposed Prop 64, he shared, "We're losing this war. The voters of my district voted in favor of [Prop 64]. In my unincorporated areas, the voters have spoken."

After more discussion, the supervisors agreed that staff should continue to develop ordinances for the regulation of the budding business.

County counsel was quick to point out that the 4-1 vote (Supervisor Marion Ashley opposed it) was only giving direction to county staff to proceed with its work on an ordinance.

The existing ordinances remain in place and can be enforced. All aspects of the cannabis business remain illegal in the unincorporated areas of Riverside

Since the regulatory process will involve land use, the proposed ordinance will be prepared and move forward through the county's Planning Commission. Staff emphasized that this would allow for additional public comments through the normal Planning Commission public hearings. The new ordinance could go to the board as early as July.

The board did not discuss the details of a potential regulatory scheme, although Charissa Leach, assistant director of Transportation and Land Management Agency, described several options.

The presentation also addressed the potential costs of regulation — about $1.5 million annually — and the amount and sources of revenue. It was the issue of revenue sources that attracted much of the board's attention.

Staff identified three options for collecting revenue to regulate cannabis. The first was tax imposed on retailers, distributors and cultivators. However, all voters in Riverside County must approve a new tax. A tax referendum cannot be limited to just voters in the unincorporated areas. And this became an obstacle.

The second option was a licensing fee. However, this approach limits the amount of revenue to be collected.

The third option is the use of development agreements. In essence, the county and cannabis business could negotiate an agreement, which would include fees to the county.

Several supervisors felt it was unfair See Cannabis, page A8

IWD board finishes busy, full meeting developing a regulatory scheme through New director, transparency policies and capital improvement plan

> By JP Crumrine News Editor

The directors of Idyllwild Water District had a long, busy and productive meeting on March 21. They filled a vacancy (see accompanying story and separate interview), adopted open government resolutions, and discussed capital improvement priorities and the state water-tax proposal.

Transparency resolutions

The board unanimously adopted resolutions on how to implement the California Public Records Act and the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Audience member Sue Nash said the resolutions were not necessary if the board was simply affirming its intent to comply with the state laws. Rather, a board resolution should identify and discuss where the district plans to go beyond what is in the legislation.

"The public shouldn't have to compare your policy with the laws. If your policy contradicts the acts, then there's no reason for it, except where you have some discretion," she argued.

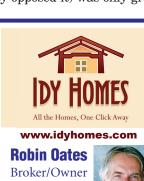

Audience member Tom Paulek re-stated his recommendation that IWD record and keep the recordings of its meetings. This would be a better sign of transparency, in his opinion.

Capital investments

General Manager Jack Hoagland presented a capital improvement plan for the next 10 fiscal years. His proposal would spend about $1 million next fiscal year and a total of $6.4 million over the 10-year period.

In fiscal year 2018-19, which begins July 1, Hoagland offered eight water projects, costing nearly $850,000, and four sewer system projects for $175,000.

The most costly water project was replacing about 2,600 feet of pipeline along Village Center Drive to North Circle for $520,000. The pipe is old, and the project continues the pipeline work done last summer from Bicknell See IWD, page A8

Volleyball

Mike Holato of Town Hall gave this report on recent Youth Volleyball games.

Games

Youth Volleyball started with only one match. Suburban Propane Tidal Waves defeated Village Market Net Ninjas 25-23, 25-17 and 15-25.

Golf

Jim Crandall, Palms to Pines Golf Association handicap chair, provided this report about the Association's regular monthly tourney on Friday, March 24 at the Diamond Valley Golf Course.

Bob Wadlow (course handicap 15) won the tourney with a net 68 and won a special prize for a hole-in-one on the 13th hole. Second place was easily Pete Capparelli (23) this month with a net 72. Dennis Chavez (9) took third with net 76. Tied for fourth, both at 76, were Crandall (13) and Ken Garelick (25).

In the B flight, made up of golfers with a handicap index of 24.4 or above as of Oct. 1, 2017, Jerry Daquila (27) was first with a net 76. Barry Zander (37) finished second with a net 80. In third, with a net 87, was David Hiemenz (37). Don DePalma (38) took fourth with a net 101.

The winners of the closest-to-the-pin contests on the four par-3s were Lee Lanfried on hole no. 4; Capparelli on hole no. 6, and Garelick on hole no. 17. And of course, Wadlow with his hole-in-one at hole no. 13.

Here are the current point standings for the club championship playoffs for the new season that runs from August 2017 through July 2018:

| Place | Golfer | Points |
|-------|-----------------|--------|
| 1 | Pete Capparelli | 27 |
| 2 | Scott Schroeder | 23.33 |

Steele just misses 'sweet sixteen'

By Jack Clark Pro Golf Correspondent

You can't come much closer to being seeded into the brackets of the World Golf Championships Match Play tournament than Brendan Steele did last week.

In a tournament that starts with 64 of the best golfers in the world, the Idyllwild native advanced to a tie for one of the 16 bracket positions that would vie for the top spot. But his drive on the first playoff hole caught a left fairway bunker, which — in addition to the fact that Tyrrell Hatton then knocked his second shot to within 3 feet of the pin — cost Brendan the bracket spot.

In the earlier round-robin-match play, Brendan bested Charley Hoffman 1-up on Wednesday and Alexander Levy 3 and 1 on Friday, but lost on Thursday to Hatton 3 and 2. Hatton lost to Hoffman 3 and 2 on Friday, setting up the playoff with Brendan since both had finished round-robin play with 2 wins and a loss.

Brendan will sit out this week's Houston Open, opting instead to prepare for next week's Masters Tournament — one of the four "majors" on the PGA Tour — in Augusta, Georgia.

David Hunt resumes family Steven King new Pine Cove water director role with Idyllwild Water

By JP Crumrine News Editor

Editor's note: At its March 21 meeting, the Idyllwild Water District Board of Directors selected David Hunt as the fifth director. He replaces Geoffrey Caine, who resigned in January. Since Hunt did not campaign for the position, the Town Crier interviewed him so the community would have some knowledge of the new water director.

He will have to stand for election in 2020 for the final two years of the term.

Hunt is truly an Idyllwild native. He called himself a "Hillbilly" at the board meeting. His parents, Bud and Barbara Hunt, have lived here for decades Barbara was born in Idyllwild.

"Being on the Idyllwild board feels personal," Hunt said. "I have responsibility for it's running well and to be there for the communi-

Hunt's affinity for the water district and devotion for community service comes from his family's history of service. His father was the first fire chief at Idyllwild Fire Protection District and his grandfather was general manager of the Idyllwild Water District even before it became a public agency.

"I wish all of his knowledge was passed on to me biologically," Hunt said wistfully. "And Idyllwild has given me a lot of wonderful childhood memories. Now I have time to give back."

Retired from work in the private sector and with the Riverside County Office of Education, Hunt has already begun his public service. He is a fire lookout volunteer, and bikes and hikes trails to ensure homeless campers haven't inadvertently started a fire.

Hunt's two highest water priorities are tempering the natural variability of water revenue caused by conservation and monitoring the potential water demand of large, new development.

As customers conserve water usage during an extended drought period, they use less water, which generates less revenue for the district. This pattern Hunt understands; but he worries about the vicious circle. Since less usage generates less revenue, this could ultimately affect the quality of service,

"I am not totally against the issuance of new meters, but we need to work with the fire department and county Building and Planning because some people are using the larger meters for fire sprinklers to expand the [size of their] homes."

In essence, once a sprinkler system is installed and the district has provided the larger meter, some homeowners are adding rooms to the house without county permits, Hunt believes.

Hunt also expressed his pleasure about how smoothly the whole board has been working together. He also expressed his sadness that he joined the board after Caine died. He felt Caine added a lot of team building and insight to the board's proceedings.

Hunt recognizes that IWD is quite different from its two neighbors — Fern Valley and Pine Cove water districts. IWD has a much larger commercial district to which it serves water, and a separate sewer district, which neither Pine Cove or Fern Valley must manage.

"But I'm looking forward to working with the other water districts, but consolidation is not one of my agenda issues," he said.

He will have to stand for election in 2020 for the final two years of the term.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW

By Susan Rowell PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL Newspaper Association

There are two things you need to know about newspapers.

Newspapers are important to community life and democracy. Always have been. We at the National Newspaper Association think it is important for all sorts of newspapers to survive for the sake of a free society — the very large and the very small ones, the liberal ones, the conservative ones, the middle-of-the-road ones, the ones with no viewpoint but just important news, all of them. Some are our members. Many are not. We defend them anyway. America needs them like we need oxygen.

The second is that even if your newspaper seems to be "online," the digital copy that you may count on probably couldn't exist if there weren't a printed newspaper behind it. The newspaper in print supports all of the other versions economically. So, if the printed version disappeared, you can't assume all would be well because it is online anyway. It won't be.

These facts are important because the paper your newspaper is printed on is under attack.

One small paper mill in Washington State is trying to use the federal trade and tariff laws to make this paper — newsprint, or uncoated groundwood paper, in paper parlance — about 50 percent more expensive. This mill has complained to the U.S. Department of Commerce and International Trade Commission about international competition. If it succeeds, the prices of newspaper printing will skyrocket. The resources available for everything else your local newspaper may need or want to do for you will be strangled.

Canadian paper producers have supplied the U.S. for many years. They have some natural advantages over U.S. papermakers because of hydroelectric power and shipping costs. More than a dozen U.S. mills have stopped making newsprint in the last decade because demand for paper has declined.

Today, even if Canadian paper disappeared because of high tariffs being proposed to the federal government, the U.S. paper mills could not supply newspapers with the paper they need. Mills cost hundreds of millions of dollars to build and can take many years to be safely situated in compliance with environmental rules. With demand falling, no one is going to invest in a massive expansion of U.S. newsprint. Over the short term, tariffs could force the price of paper up and the New York investors who own the Washington State mill could gain.

But our country will lose. Fragile newspapers will vanish. Challenged newspapers will have to cut back. Even healthy newspapers are going to have to find ways to absorb a daunting new cost. And who will pay? Everyone who relies on a newspaper to tell the local stories, cover elections, advertise sales, get pictures of the winning touchdown and cheer the economic development people on in their work of creating new jobs.

That worries me. If it worries you, pay a visit to www.stopnewsprinttariffs.org and be informed.

Need for volunteer fire lookouts

The Fire Lookout Host Program, one of the many volunteer programs of the Southern California Mountains Foundation, is recruiting volunteers to staff fire lookouts for the 2018 fire season.

Volunteers help protect the forest and local mountains communities as well as communities along the forest boundary from the threat of fire. They also act as hosts to the multitude of public who visit the towers. Anyone age 18 or over can volunteer.

Trainings begin April 9. Volunteers must attend four training classes: a two-hour Orientation class, a three-hour Natural History class, a seven-hour Operations class and an all-day In-Tower Training that puts you in the fire lookout with an experienced host.

Dates and more information are posted at www. mountainsfoundation.org/fire-lookouts or contact the Fire Lookout Host Program Coordinator, Pam Morey, at 909-225-1025 or e-mail at pmorey@mountainsfoun-

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author's name, address and weekday phone number.

The Town Crier will not publish "thank-you" letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (becky@towncrier.com). Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

Scholarships for local students

The Idyllwild Scholarship Board is requesting community donations to support scholarships for 2018 high school graduates.

To be eligible, a student must have resided in the Idyllwild School attendance area with a parent or guardian for at least three or more years during grades K-8, and for two of the four high school years. Academic requirements are an attainment of a 2.5 or better GPA during 10th through 12th high school grades or a combined SAT score of 1052 or ACT of 20.

Other considerations would be involvement in school or community activities and a demonstration of intent to further their education.

Applicants must fill out a packet, write an essay and appear at an interview in front of the selection committee. The committee is made up of representatives of local organizations, two members-at-large and the Idyllwild School principal.

Application packets may be picked up at the Idyllwild School office or found on the web at www.IdyllwildScholarshipFund.org.

Completed packets are due by April 16 to Idyllwild School. Interviews will be scheduled for Monday, April 30, and Tuesday, May 1.

Donations may be sent to Idyllwild Scholarship Fund, PO Box 778, Idyllwild, CA 92549. All donations are tax-deductible. Last year, the Idyllwild community donated more than $20,000 and scholarships were awarded to eight local high school students: Audrey Carver, Benjamin Cruz, Benjamin Goulding, Monique Grover, Kendra Johnson, Brianna Lewis, Sage See and Sable Summerfield.

Change to area codes 619 and 858 The California Public Utilities Commission reminds consumers that beginning May 19, residents and businesses with 619 and 858 area codes must dial 1 + area code + telephone number for all calls. After that date, if callers do not use the new dialing procedures, the call will not be completed and a recording will instruct the caller to hang up and dial again using the new dialing

In April 2017, the CPUC ordered that the 619 and 858 boundary be removed to allow the existing 858 area code to serve the same geographic region as the existing 619 area code, and conversely, the existing 619 area code to serve the same geographic region as the existing 858 area code. CPUC implemented this change to ensure that consumers and businesses in the greater San Diego area have continued access to telephone numbers from the wireline, wireless and Voice over Internet Protocol providers of their choice.

The new dialing procedure will not change existing 619 and 858 phone numbers or the cost of the call. Calls in a consumer's local calling area remain local calls.

Dialing 911 is unaffected. Consumers can still dial three digits to reach 911, as well as 211, 311, 411, 511, 611, 711, and 811 where they are available.

Idyllwild School grantmakers award $4,000 to five local groups

By JP Crumrine News Editor

For the fifth year, Idyllwild Middle School Youth Grantmakers evaluated applications for activities to support local youth activities and made difficult decisions awarding the available funds.

Started in 2013 with the help of the Community Foundation of Riverside and San Bernardino Counties, and continued with the support of the Idyllwild Community Fund, the program has helped several local programs whose activities benefit local youth — from preschool to high school.

Jayne Davis, a ICF board member, has worked with the students since last fall. "They are truly amazing," she said. "And it's gone very well. They ask very tough questions.'

In order to review the grant applications, Davis and faculty, George Companiott III and Donna Mercer, had to educate the group about philanthropy — its history, its purpose and its use. They taught the students how to devise criteria to evaluate proposals and ask meaningful questions while on a field trip to applicant sites

This year, the grantmakers awarded $4,000 to five grants applicants from a larger pool of applications.

Three groups received $1,000 each. The Idyllwild PTA Afterschool program was one. The Idyllwild School Booster program received money for its scholarship program in support of the school's trips to Catalina, Joshua Tree and other locations.

The Idyllwild Soroptimists also received $1,000 to purchase more supplies for the Youth Hygiene Closest at the Idyllwild Help Center.

PTA's smARTS program was awarded $960 to help defray costs for buses to take students to a special program at the McCallum Theatre in Palm Desert.

And Idyllwild School music teacher William Beuche was granted $40 to purchase more supplies for the music programs.

ICF began the concept of Youth Grantmakers several years ago. High school students composed the grant-making groups. The Idyllwild Youth Grantmakers, with the initiation and cooperation of ICF, was the first program composed solely of middle-school students.

This was Davis' first time assisting the grantmakers. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Winter ebbing, warm spring coming

News Editor

After another wet and cool week, winter appears to have ended and spring arrives this week. Temperatures will reach the 60s by Wednesday and warm even more by Easter Sunday.

Last week, more rainfall came to the Hill. The U.S. Forest Service's Keenwild Station recorded slightly more than three-quarters of an inch of rain Thursday. Since Oct. 1, 2017, the beginning of the rain year, 9.1 inches have been recorded at Keenwild, of which 4.7 inches have fallen since March 1.

Higher elevations recorded more rain during this latest storm. The Idyllwild Fire Department received 1.4 inches and the National Weather site in Fern Valley recorded nearly 1.8 inches. The Garner Valley site had less than a quarter of an inch.

The San Bernardino Mountains received 2 to 3 inches of rain from the lat-

Hit and run on 243; fatality on 74

By Susan Monroe STAFF REPORTER

At 9:35 p.m., Monday, March 19, a hit-and-run collision occurred on Highway 243 near Mountain Center, according to a California Highway Patrol report. The driver of a gray 2000 Jeep Grand Cherokee, going south on 243, is unknown. For an unknown reason, the Jeep veered over the double-yellow line. After the collision, the driver of the Jeep fled on foot in a southbound direction.

The other vehicle involved was driven by Ralph Hoetger, 63, of Idyllwild. Hoetger was driving a gray Toyota Tacoma northbound on Highway 243. When the Jeep crossed over the double-yellow line into his lane, Hoetger tried to veer to the right but was unable to avoid the collision and the two vehicles collided in the northbound lane.

Hoetger said he was in pain but there were no visible injuries so he was not transported to the hospital. Officer Gonzales, CHP San Gorgonio Pass office, is investigating this incident.

At 9:20 p.m. Saturday, March 24, a 76-year-old man (name withheld until family has been notified) of Mountain Center died in a traffic crash still under investiga-

The deceased had been riding a 2008 Harley Davidson Roadster motorcycle westbound on Highway 74, 0.3 miles east of Scenic Drive in Pinyon. He was transported by American Medical Response to Eisenhower Medical Center in Rancho Mirage where he succumbed to his injuries and was pronounced dead at 11:12 p.m.

California for many of his years. Consequently, he had an opinion about the water-tax idea, which is on the Legislature's agenda this spring with the governor's support.

"California is over governed and over taxed," he opined. "The state is looking to get money. They're coming to Pine Cove and other districts telling them, 'We're taxing your water.' Next there will be a tax for growing vegetables in your backyard.

"California is in trouble financially and looking for money," he concluded.

He expressed enthusiasm about working with his board colleagues. "What I know is, it looks like PCWD is a forward-thinking group." He pointed to the infrastructure work and the water conservation efforts.

One project in particular impressed him. "Fire hydrants are way out there [in the undeveloped neighborhoods]," he said. "That's planning and forward thinking.

"Those are really about future demand not just now," King emphasized. "You can't do anything without water." He also hopes to keep the district's water affordable.

"Nobody wants water rates to go up, but some may The "Right to Breathe" reveals the serious health have to live with some increases," King said about the future. "Initially, the percentage looks large, but the actual dollar amount is not a lot."

As the interview ended, King repeated, "My wife and I truly enjoy this community.'

CDC recommends fewer shots

The Center for Disease Control now recommends that 11- to 12-year-olds receive two doses of human papillomavirus vaccine at least six months apart rather than the previously recommended three doses to protect against cancers caused by HPV infections. Teens and young adults who start the series later, at ages 15-26, will continue to need three doses of HPV vaccine.

CDC Director Tom Frieden said, "This recommendation will make it simpler for parents to get their children protected in time."

Generally, preteens receive HPV vaccine at the same time as whooping cough and meningitis vaccines. Adolescents ages 13-14 also are able to receive an HPV vaccination on the new two-dose schedule.

Dear Idyllwild Donors,

VALLEY FORGE PRIVATE SECURITY thanks you for your business! Please know that VFPS is here for you, roving and patrolling the town of Idyllwild approximately 4 times every week, at various times and days, for obvious reasons.

While VFPS appreciates all donations, we really have to commend those that have set us up on direct monthly payments, and encourage other donors to do so. We certainly are happy to have made a difference in the town, but we are also running a business which has its normal expenses to cover. Thank you again in advance.

VFPS is protecting property, businesses and people in Idyllwild every hour during patrol time. VFPS patrols each donor store or business 96 times every month, about 6 times a night per patrol shift. Roving and protecting property and businesses 6 hours per shift is producing results.

Several donors already have contacted VFPS to remove unwanted people from their donor property, which is productive. A real-life example is an incident in March 2018: A homeless person was observed sleeping on the property of an Idyllwild donor who had signed up for night security patrol. The protection officer asked him to leave, and he left. That's the VFPS deterrent in action.

Deterrents work only when you have them in place, and are ready to respond on the spur of the moment. Thank you Idyllwild donors for your business. It is VFPS' honor to protect your town. If you wish to become an Idyllwild donor, please contact Dan at (951) 392-0266.

Thank you, VFPS

David Hunt selected for Idyllwild Water board

By JP Crumrine NEWS EDITOR

The Idyllwild Water District Board of Directors deliberated extensively before choosing David Hunt to fill the vacancy created when former Director Geoffrey Caine resigned in January and, subsequently, died last month.

Four candidates — David Hunt, Les Gin, Sue Nash and Maygen Sandrini — submitted letters of interest to the board. Sandrini, an Idyllwild native and long-time resident, could not attend the meeting, but her letter of interest was read to the board.

The other three were at the meeting and each made a presentation on their own behalf before answering questions from the board.

Hunt (see accompanying interview) also is an Idyllwild native: "Hillbilly" was his characterization. Nash, a retired attorney, has lived here since 2002, and Gin, a retired banker from Phoenix and Tucson. moved here about a year ago.

Each candidate offered different attributes they believed would complement the board. Hunt, a former vocational teacher and business person, has a long history with Idyllwild. Besides growing up here, his family, parents and grandparents, have lived in town for decades Gin has extensive involvement serving on local boards in Arizona besides his financial abilities.

Nash's legal career with the San Bernardino County counsel involved work with environmental laws, and she has continued to pursue these issues since retiring.

After each spoke, Director Steve Kunkle questioned them about their views on consolidation, water-rate increases and future growth within the district.

Gin, the most recent resident, did not take a position on consolidation and wanted all the local districts to work together for the community.

Hunt wants to cooperate with the other two water districts — Fern Valley and Pine Cove. However, he noted the differences between the Fern Valley and Idyllwild legal structures would take time and effort to resolve, then said, "Personally, I would keep them as they are now and work together."

Nash identified several issues she believes take precedence, such as establishing quarterly meetings with the other districts.

After the three finished, Director Peter Szabadi nominated Gin and Kunkle seconded the motion. However, the vote was 2-1-1. Director Catherine Dearing opposed his appointment and President Dr. Charles "Chip" Schelly effectively did also with an abstention. A majority of the full board, three votes, is needed for an appointment. Dearing's initial motion for Hunt did not receive a second.

If the board did not select a new member, the choice would go to the Riverside County Board of Supervisors, General Manager Jack Hoagland told the board. Schelly and Szabadi agreed that a decision was needed at this meeting.

"Certainly, I prefer to appoint one of these applicants; they are all so great," Szabadi said.

In other business, Hoagland presented a draft of a new water-shortage contingency plan. The draft puts much greater emphasis on identifying the district's water supply and comparing it to actual demand, Hoagland said.

After some discussion, a committee composed of directors Kunkle and Director Dave Hunt, was established to work with the general manager to formulate a policy for the board's approval.

Idyllwild represented at Riverside cannabis workshop

By JP Crumrine News Editor

Idyllwild was well represented at the Riverside County Board of Supervisors cannabis workshop last week. Three of the public speakers were from Idyllwild, as well as several more in the audience who did not speak.

Most of the speakers during the one hour allotted to the public favored board action to authorize cannabis sales and growth within the county's unincorporated areas.

Stepping forward from Idyllwild were Linda Crowder, Alicia Barry and Dave Brown.

Crowder encouraged the legalization of cannabis because of its medical value. She has had two knee replacements and will have hip surgery in the future.

"It helps a lot," she stated.

Barry, who operates the Cannabis Country Club on Pine Crest Avenue, encouraged the supervisors to visit the store and learn what people want. She admitted they have been shut down this year, but espoused their intent to work with the county on finding positive solutions for the whole community.

We're offering complete transparency," she said.

Brown spoke positively of the work Code Enforcement is doing and expressed his concern over the conflict between state law legalizing cannabis and federal agents enforcing the opposite laws.

He also emphasized that cannabis revenue will help the county, but supervisors should be cautious on the level of taxation. Too high a rate could continue to encourage a black market in its sales.

Third District Supervisor Chuck Washington, board chair, expressed this point during the initial discussion. After the vote to move forward, he made the motion to use development agreements.

"Given the two options a cannabis tax or development agreements — it is my belief that the county maintains more control of its own destiny by way of the development agreement," Washington noted.

staff discussed the zones where each type of business might be allowed to operate. For example, cultivation could be limited to agricultural areas.

They also would discourage outdoor growing. The staff preferred indoor or mixed-lighting areas. Indoor cultivation might be permitted in commercial or manufacturing zones.

Growth plots would be limited to 1 acre, and cultivators would have to provide studies of water requirements and proof of availability.

The county will consider prohibiting on-site consumption at retail outlets. Tobacco and alcohol can be sold in the same location. The county will consider banning live entertainment at cannabis retail

Comparing the ratio of cannabis dispensaries in town that already authorized retail sales, county staff estimated that 19 dispensaries might be sumcient in the unincorporated areas of Riverside County.

Idyllwild Arts dancers do well at grand prix

By Don Stoll Manager of Communications & International Student Relations Idyllwild Arts Academy

The prestigious Youth America Grand Prix (http://yagp.org/) at Escondido's California Center for the Arts in the middle of last month turned into a kind of all-star game for Idyllwild Arts Academy dancers. Sofia Tellez Marquez, Alejandra Alicona and Andrea Hernandez placed among the top 24 female classical dancers, with Andrea landing in the top 12, and Dayoung "Sally" Kim placing among the top 12 female contemporary dancers.

The boys fared even better, with Carlos Martinez Espinosa taking second among male senior classical dancers and Mateo Muñiz finishing second among male junior classical dancers.

Finally, Santiago Bedoya placed third among male senior dancers for both contemporary and classical. He surprised himself with his success in classical because "I twisted my ankle at the end and thought I would lose points."

The ninth-grader from Medellín [Columbia] was thrilled that his family had watched the event live on the Youth America Grand Prix website, since he's recently experienced some homesickness even though "when I was 10. I told my mother I'd want to go to another country to dance."

Dancing in a country far from home may become permanent for Santiago, since Youth America Grand Prix's top-rated dancers are coveted by the world's finest dance schools.

"I'm hoping for The Royal Ballet, in London, or the San Francisco Ballet or the Houston Ballet — where I have a full scholarship to dance this summer."

Santiago has been dancing long enough both to appreciate that his virtues are "musicality, technique, and turnout" — the leg's rotation away from the front of the body, permitting greater extension of the leg — and to understand that he "should try to jump higher.

"So, it's good that my Spring Dance Concert solo calls for a lot of athleticism." $\,$

His smile suggests he's excited by the challenge.

"I'm dancing to impress the girl I love with my strength."

Editor's note: The Spring Dance Concert was held March 14 to 16.

Chairs for Charity kick-off event is this Wednesday

By Susan Monroe Staff Reporter

Wednesday, March 28, the Chairs for Charity fundraiser kicks-off at Middle Ridge Winery Tasting Gallery to benefit the Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation's scholarship fund. Fifteen chairs, created by 15 artists from Idyllwild, IA and Palm Springs, will be on display until April 8.

All net proceeds will fund art scholarships to Idyllwild Arts Academy and Summer Program. March 28 will be the first time the artists' chairs will be on exhibit. This exhibit is free to the public.

From 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday, March 31, Middle Ridge also will host an artist's reception. Change Required will perform at this reception, also free to the public.

At the reception you may "buy raffle tickets for one selected chair and start bidding on others," said Artist Liaison Shanna Robb. You also may purchase event tickets for $45 to the "50th Year Anniversary and Live Auction of the Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation," celebrated starting at 5 p.m. Saturday, May 26, on the Idyllwild Arts campus. The bidding site explains that there will be "15 chairs, 15 artists, and 15 chances to win." As well, representatives of the Associates will be selling tickets in front of the Idyllwild Post Office on dates yet specified.

To purchase your tickets for the Associates' 50th-anniversary celebration at $45 a ticket, which includes dinner, drinks, music, dancing, silent auction and, of course, the chairs exhibit and live auction, you have the following options:

Golden Nugget Bar & Grill, as well as Lemon Lily & Jack open

By Susan Monroe STAFF REPORTER

Stuart Eberhardt and his fiancé Alicia Barry, along with friend and partner David Brown and friend Chef Brandy Iniguez, are "working our hearts out," said Eber-hardt, toward the opening of Golden Nugget Bar & Grill in the near future.

The friend team have a unified vision for the Golden Nugget, which is being set up in the old Arriba's restaurant. They want to make the Golden Nugget a fun and friendly place for the Idyllwild community to gather seven days a week. They plan to offer food, beer, pool and bingo for a start. Iniguez said their menu will start out simple; it will include soup and salad specials, hamburgers with fries, and chicken wings. They plan to make their fare easily affordable.

We live here and love it here," said Eberhardt. "Our son goes to school here, and we want to provide a service for the community." "We want to help the community in whatever way we can," said Barry. Recently, they donated a 40-foot shipping container to the Idyllwild Help Center to house donated furniture so it will be out of the weather.

In their lives before Idyllwild, Eberhardt and Barry had a horse ranch in Perris and ran their own construction company. As a family, they came to Idyllwild to visit, loved it and wanted to stay. "It's not for everybody," said Eberhardt. "We've seen a lot of people come and go, but we know as a family that it is for us."

The exact date of the opening of the Golden unknown. The group is getting ready to submit new plans with the Riverof Environmental Health and the state Alcoholic Beverage Control. In the meantime, they are giving the old Arriba's a do-over inside and out with paint and professional cleaning.

The group believes the Idyllwild local community is their "bread and butter," and that "tourists are an added bonus." The Golden Nugget operation will target the needs of the Idyllwild community first. Eberhardt said, "We are working hard, taking it one step at a time." He adds, "We want to get it done right."

In addition to the Golden Nugget Bar & Grill, there are plans for a Chinese/American restaurant in an adjacent building. Barry said that when they did a survey on Facebook, "People have been asking for Chinese food." We already have a cook who's ready and waiting.

Benita Haeggquist, the owner of Lemon Lily & Jack, is passionate about "the holistic healing art of skin care" she practices at her studio. Her studio is in the Courtyard building. Lemon Lily & Jack had a "soft" opening on Valentine's Day, she said.

When asked why she named her studio Lemon Lily & Jack, Haeggquist said, "It was named after the love story of my life, my grandparents." Lily will be 90 in May and Jack will be 99 in October. "Lemon" was put before Lily because the rare, nearly extinct flower, Lemon Lily, blooms here in Idyllwild and represents her love of alternative spelling I had found while researching the influence of Irish sailors on maritime folk music. There was mention of a sailor named Hooke who was Irish and led a lot of music aboard his ship. I thought that was cool, so I added it.'

Tompkins wants the public to know that he does not do "old-man sweater music." Rather, he "matches Irish with Middle Eastern sound, and changes the key." Still, Hooke is "hooked" on his Irish heritage, a result of his admiration of his grandfather, Jack Hughes.

Tompkins has been a professional entertainer since he was age 14. He took acting classes with Keegan Key of Key and Peele. He incorporates all his experience in music and acting to put on an entertaining performance while on stage. His band dresses like pirates and the act has an air of burlesque about it, "somewhat like a carnival on stage." Tompkins shared that his grandfather said, "It wouldn't be Irish without jokes and toasts." Tompkins said burlesque entertainment is "educated entertainment for uneducated masses, like slap stick on a high-brow joke."

As part of the band, Tompkins does lead vocals, emcees, and plays guitar and the Irish Bodhran (a round-frame drum played with a stick against your body), an instrument he has been playing since he was 12. He is self-taught. He also plays mandolin, ukulele and banjo.

Tompkins' wife Caitlin also plays in the band. She plays the flute and penny whistle. She's had 10 to 12 years of classical training on flute but has only been playing the penny whistle the last two years yet "she is owning it," said her husband. Of Caitlin, Tompkins says she is "the love of my life." They have an adorable son together, Owain, who holds up three fingers to tell his age.

Colin Smith, who also performs with Pentagrams and Daisies, plays bass ukulele with Port O'Thority. He and wife Monica, the other half of Pentagrams and Daisies, live in Idyllwild with their son Orion. Smith is an Idyllwild native who has been playing an instrument "since he could walk." Said Tompkins, "He was born and bred to it." Tompkins said Smith is "a hell of a good guitar player," but "he owns the bass ukulele."

Michael Huebner plays percussion with an acoustic kit made of hand drums sporting splash symbols, which make for a more authentic sound. Huebner is a professional drummer with 20 years' experience playing in Celtic bands.

John King plays the fiddle for the band. "He is," said Tomkins, "an extremely accomplished bluegrass fiddler." He also plays guitar and mandolin. King also lives in Idyllwild.

The Port O'Thority band played at the Idyllwild Brewpub's opening and its anniversary this year. They will play at the Brewpub in May this year. Follow the group on www.Facebook.com/portothority and/or contact them at portothority@

Hazardous waste collection

The Riverside County Department of Waste Resources has scheduled a free household hazardous-waste collection event on in Idyllwild from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, April 14, at the County Road Yard. The collection is open to all Riverside County residents.

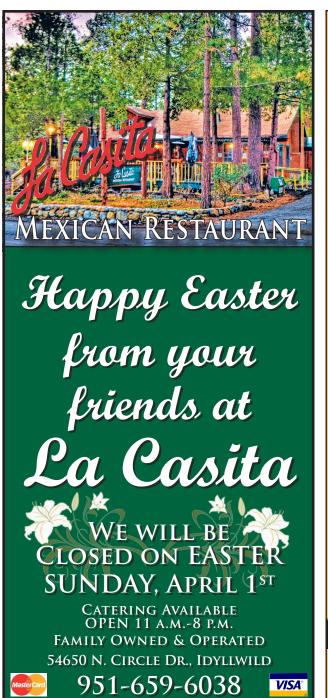

The event will accept residentially generated household hazardous wastes. Waste from businesses or nonprofits will not be accepted.

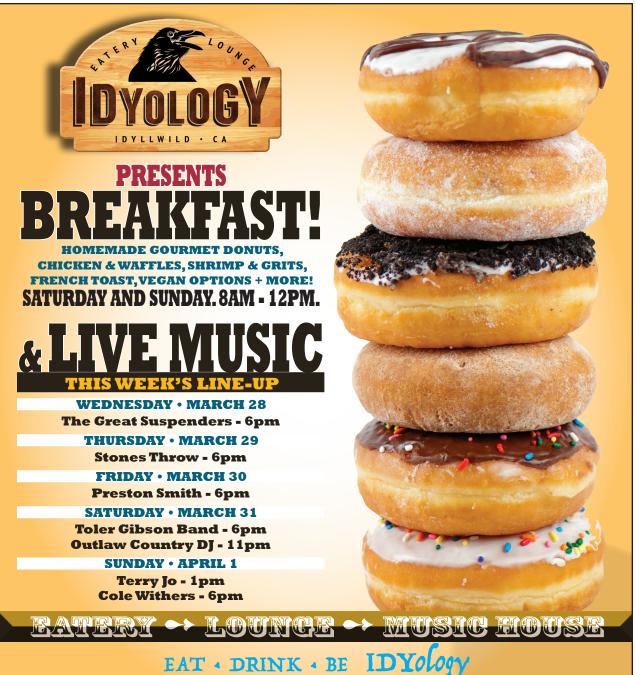

Typical wastes include used motor oil, paint, antifreeze, household and automotive batteries, pesticides, cleaning products, sharps (needles/syringes or lancets), unused medication (except controlled substances), fluorescent lamps, and electronic wastes such as televisions, computers, VCRs and telephones. Limit the amount of waste transported to no more than 15 gallons, or 125 pounds maximum per vehicle. Individual containers should be no larger than five gallons nor weigh more than 50 pounds.

The collection will not accept explosives, radioactive material, ammunition, asbestos, compressed-gas cylinders over 40 pounds, or infectious or medical waste other than sharps.

The event is subject to cancellation during inclement weather or for other hazardous conditions as determined by the county.

America's sweetheart Dawn Wells is coming to Soboba Casino

Remember Mary Ann from "Gilligan's Island?" She's coming to Soboba Casino. Dawn Wells made history as the first woman to sport "short shorts" on national television, and has been making hearts pound ever since.

If you are one of the many fans who tuned into "Gilligan's Island" every week, you have the chance to get your photograph taken with none other than Dawn Wells herself from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday, March 31. Soboba Casino is giving guests the possibility of a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to meet Wells in person, and receive a custom T-shirt, complimentary autographed picture and your own photo with "Mary Ann." (Autographed pictures and T-shirts are limited to first-come, firstserved while supplies last.)

According to Gene Stachowski, director of marketing for Soboba Casino, "We are thrilled to have Dawn Wells joining us for this special event." He continued, "Rumor has it that she is a big fan of Blackiack. You never know, she might even join us for a hand or two."

Well's appearance at Soboba Casino is in conjunction with the month long S.S. Soboba promotion, a "Gilligan's Island"-themed Prize Wheel where guests have the chance to win a share of up to $114,000 in prizes every Saturday and Sunday between now and March 31.

Plus, Wells will be announcing the grand prize winner of a 2018 Bentley Pontoon after her meet and greet at 9 p.m.

STUDENTS OF THE WEEK *

Kaziah Wood, eighth grade, and Christopher Vroman, third grade, were chosen as students of the week by Idyllwild School Supervision Aide Misty Hitchcock. Hitchcock chose these students because they are kind and encouraging to other students and are patient and respectful of school rules and others. PHOTO BY HALIE WILSON

Zoey Mason working on a pirate-themed creation on Wednesday, March 21. Idyllwild Library hosted a Youth S.T.E.A.M (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Mathematics) Workshop featuring MeeperBots, a Bluetooth compatible robot using Lego building blocks. Children had a chance to make their very own creations. Then using a phone app, they were able to bring them to life as they guided them to navigate handmade obstacle courses. CREATURE CORNER By Janice Murasko Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," ARF cats discussed the nev canine members. Little Girl: Adoption news!

Panther: How fun! My first time in the cattery meeting. Little Girl: Welcome, Panther. Are you comfortable? Panther: To be honest, I'd rather not be around other cats. I want a home all to myself, or with a dog. Mr. Gray: Hope it's nothing personal. Anyway, who got adopted? Little Girl: Both Taz and Pookie have found their forever families. Panther: That is great news.

Do you think I'll find mine soon?

Little Girl: Tough to know. The right human needs to come along, and you need to Indigo woo him or her.

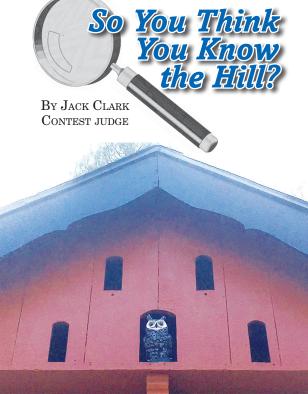

Panther: That will be easy. I'm so friendly and I love human attention.

Little Girl: As do I. You and I agree that a home with no other cats is grand. That way we get all the Little Girl attention. But whatever human adopts me will have to like a talker. Indigo: No kidding! You do talk a lot, and I mean a lot. Little Girl: So, maybe I am a little chatty. Whoever takes home Panther will need room. He's pretty darned big.

Panther: More to love! Little Girl: And one last thing. All five of the kittens and their mama now have been spoken for. They will go to their forever homes in about five weeks. They are so, so lucky.

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of "Days of Our Nine Lives" each week. And please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Hwy. 243 on Saturdays 10-4 and Sundays 10-2, or by appointment M-F by calling 951-659-1122.

Folk thought last week's photo was easier, but I thought it was so common looking you wouldn't know where to start looking. Well, seven of our usual suspects spotted the three shutters on one of the easterly windows of the building on the southwesterly corner of North Circle and Cedar. Rochelle Ainsworth, Dave Hunt, Kris Kirschbaum, Grace Manues, Marc Reis, John Thomford and Emily White all submitted correct entries. Mandy Johnson pulled John's name out of the hat, so, John, please come to the Town Crier office to get your $15 gift certificate provided through the generosity of the new Village Market.

This week's photo might be a bit tougher to find. So please, everyone, get on board to win the prize.

One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the
