Pine Cove will evaluate future of special tax

By J.P. CRUMRINE

The County Service Area 38 Advisory Committee was advised last week to begin thinking about its parcel tax for the ambulance contract with Riverside County.

Since the committee's January meeting, the county Board of Supervisors has agreed to renegotiate its ambulance contract with American Medical Response. As part of the negotiations, 3rd District Supervisor

Jeff Stone has asked the county's Emergency Medical Services Agency to find a way to include Pine Cove within the prospective contract with AMR.

"The stated intent of Supervisor Jeff Stone is for Pine Cove and surrounding communities to be included in the countywide contract," said Bill Brown, operations manager for the county's CSAs. "If so, you'll be treated like all other areas of county ... So, you should begin

IFPD conduct violates Brown Act

By J.P. CRUMRINE

The accompanying article on page 5 reports on the Idyllwild Fire Protection District Commission's discussion of a meeting with Riverside County Fire Department officials at the Emergency Command Center in Perris on Tuesday, March 18.

Three commissioners — Jerry Buchanan, president, Rhonda Andrew-son, secretary, and Nancy Layton, treasurer — all officers; and the three citizen members — Chris Davis, Calvin Gogerty (alternate) and Susan Weisbart — of the district's Finance Committee, along with Fire Chief Patrick Reitz, also a committee member, attended the meeting to discuss renegotiating the dispatch contract with RCFD. All but Davis publicly shared their impressions of the March 18 session during the commission's April 8 meeting, thus confirming their attendance at a meeting that was neither noticed nor identified on any agenda for commission or committee meetings.

In the opinion of California Newspaper Publishers Association General Counsel Jim Ewert, all IFPD participants on March 18 committed violations of California's open government law — the Brown Act — because the three commissioners constitute a quorum of the district's governing body. Secondly, four members, Layton and three citizens, compose a majority of the district's Finance Committee, which by law is a standing committee. And each of these representatives of the district was at the meeting to discuss district business — dispatch services.

Pine Cove Water District considers major equipment purchase

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Buying or continuing to rent major equipment for future pipeline replacement and repair projects was a major topic during the Pine Cove Water District meeting last week.

Laying new pipeline, which the district did last summer, or replacing pipeline with PCWD employees is less expensive than contracting the work, General Manager Jerry Holldber told the directors. But doing the work with district staff requires using specialized equipment, such as an asphalt planer.

To lay the nearly 1 mile of pipeline last summer cost nearly $16,000 in equipment rentals, he told the board. Pipeline replacement projects will continue for several years into the future. For example, this summer, work is planned along Franklin, Forest Lake, Skyline and several other local roads. To rent this specialized equipment costs between $5,000 and $6,500 per month.

The projects need about three months from start to finish.

"We need something different. It hurts to spend that much money," Holldber told the board. "What if we buy the equipment?"

After speaking to several equipment dealers, Holldber learned that the equipment could be purchased with zero-interest loans for about $20,000 over a four-year period and a three-year deal would cost more. While this would cost more than annual rental fees, the district would have the equipment's use for many years.

Discussing Holldber's suggestion, the board asked him to develop a specific plan and proposal.

"We have a long-term plan for pipeline replacement that could continue to do work in perpetuity as long as the weather is good," affirmed Board President Michael Esnard. "If the numbers work out, I think that it's a good idea."

Director Dee Eskew asked what the number-one could be with the idea. "Just the amount of money. Maybe we don't do so much pipeline work," responded Holldber.

Along with Director Robert Hewitt, Eskew agreed with Esnard that there will always be work to do. He concluded, "People are leaning positively toward it, pending further details."

The board also approved an easement to run a pipeline across Joel and Oteal Palmer's property. This will enable the district to install a fire hydrant on the Red Hill Truck Trail, extending water service to an area vulnerable to fires.

Director Joel Palmer excused himself from the meeting while his colleagues discussed the proposal with Holldber. Esnard stressed that this would benefit the community and the Palmers were receiving no monetary or other benefit from the district.

In other financial business, the board approved a resolution establishing a public hearing for June 11 on its $30-per-acre standby fee. Through the third quarter of the fiscal year, PCWD has received $510,000, about two-thirds of the expected revenue. Expenses have been about $585,000, or 70 percent of the budget. But additional property tax revenue and water revenue from two billing periods will be received in the final quarter of the fiscal year.

In water business, PCWD's March production increased 132,000 gallons from 2013 to a total of 1.8 million gallons, slightly less than the February total.

For the three months since the beginning of the year, PCWD has produced 5.9 million gallons, which is 11 percent or 745,000 gallons less than the same period in 2013.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced the award of $253.6 million of grants for support of more than 800 local homeless housing and service programs in California.

Riverside County received $7.1 million for local programs such as ABC Recovery Transitional Housing, Martha's Village and Kitchen Transitional Housing, Shelter Plus Care Consolidated All County and the Transitional Housing for Dually Diagnosed.

Provided through HUD's Continuum of Care Program, these grants support a variety of programs, including street outreach, client assessment and direct housing assistance to individuals and families with children experiencing homelessness.

RMRU has two rescues this week

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Riverside Mountain Rescue Unit was involved in two successful rescue efforts this weekend, both of which exemplified the problems hikers can encounter when they go off on trek without being fully prepared.

The first started about 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 12, after the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway received a call from three lost hikers. According to the Riverside County Sheriff's Department press release, the hikers, who reside in the city of Irvine, were identified as Keith Irvine, Ali Dewey and Matt Ashcraft, all in their 20s and wearing summer clothing.

They were stranded at the 7,000-foot elevation, at the base of a steep incline near Skyline Trail, and were unable to hike down.

The Riverside County Sheriff's Aviation Unit located the hikers and dropped cold-weather clothing and sleeping bags for their use in case the RMRU team could not reach them that night.

Edison planned outages continue

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Another power outage affecting the town business area and many residential neighborhoods is planned between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 16. Several smaller and limited outages have also occurred since the April outage, which affected much of the local area, including Pine Cove. One outage affected about 15 customers on Marion View Drive Tuesday. Last week, one outage affected about 40 customers on Lower Pine Crest Avenue.

"We are putting in equipment to make the substation more efficient," said Louis Davis, Southern California Edison region manager. "We are upgrading from 4,000 volts to 12,000 volts."

Davis was very apologetic to the community and understands the frustration SCE is imposing, but Idyllwild has only one substation. No duplication of equipment is available. Power cannot be shifted to other equipment or back-ups used while this substation is shut down.

"There is no good time to shut off the power," he explained. "We try to avoid nights because of the temperatures and people needing alarms in the morning."

The new equipment should eliminate some future problems and possibly avoid those outages, but Davis stressed that Idyllwild is "... a little remote and it takes longer for service vehicles to get here."

Although Hemet Unified School District tried to negotiate a change in the date and length of the outage, Edison was adamant that it could not modify it to accommodate the Idyllwild School. Consequently, Principal Matt Kraemer arranged three field trips for students.

The kindergarten through second-grade students were to go to the Idyllwild Nature Center until about noon, when the kindergarten students had to return. Kraemer had some other activities planned for the older children until school ended.

The third through fourth grades were to take a hike along the Ernie Maxwell Trail. The middle schools students (sixth through eighth grades) were to travel to the Palm Desert Aquatic Center.

The district did hook up a generator enabling the school to offer pre-school activities and have lights and power in the cafeteria and office.

RMRU members Les Walker and Eric Holden took the tram to the top and then hiked down to the lost hikers. They connected about 10 p.m. RMRU guided them to the tram where they spent the night.

On Sunday morning, all took the first tram down to the base and left without any medical problems.

The second rescue started about an hour after the first. RMRU was notified that two hikers, a male and female, were lost on the Marion Mountain Trail. RMRU members Lee Arnson and Helene Lohr responded.

"At first we were thinking it was serious. But one of the hikers got cell service and described their location," Arnson said. They were at the Marion Mountain campground — only 10 minutes away. "They felt genuinely lost."

"They did the right thing," Arnson stressed. "They stayed in one place." They had no headlight, no topographical maps, inappropriate clothing and not enough water. "They completely underestimated the trail," said Lohr.

The three young men lost on the Skyline Trail did not have enough water and were wearing T-shirts and shorts, according to Arnson.

"People get confused and are not prepared for the steepness of the [Skyline] Trail, the steepest in North America," Walker said.

The Riverside County Sheriff's Department reminds hiking enthusiasts to carry proper equipment for any outdoor excursion. Proper preparedness includes a well thought-out travel plan shared with friends and family, as well as familiarity with common hiking equipment, such as GPS, maps and compasses, proper clothing and plenty of water.

RMRU offers several helpful, lifesaving tips at its website, www.rmr.org.

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Several earthquakes occurred on the Hill and in nearby areas in recent days. All were less than 3.0-magnitude.

The most recent and strongest was 2.9-magnitude quake at about 7:40 a.m. Monday, April 14. It was centered 7 miles south southwest of Idyllwild and 10 miles southeast of Valle Vista.

This was the fifth quake in this area over an eight-day period.

The first occurred about 7 p.m. Monday, April 7, when a 2.6-magnitude tremor originated about 11 miles south of Aguanga.

Two days later on Wednesday, April 9, two more quakes shook the Hill softly. About 7:50 a.m., a 2.5-magnitude quake occurred about 3 miles south of Idyllwild and 9 miles east of Valle Vista. The second one that day was magnitude 2.7 and occurred 16 miles northeast of Indio.

On Thursday, April 10, a fourth quake of magnitude 2.3 occurred north of Idyllwild about 3 miles south-southeast of Banning and 8 miles northeast of Valle Vista.

OUT LOUD

Two Idyllwild Fire groups committed numerous and parallel Brown Act violations on March 18, when both a quorum of commissioners and a quorum of the Finance Committee visited the dispatch command center in Perris.

Multiple violations of both groups within this agency occurred because the meetings were neither noticed nor opened to the public. A quorum of the Finance Committee also rode in a car together, to and from the Perris meeting.

CNPA Attorney Jim Ewert said, in all his decades of advising newspapers, he has heard of one agency committing two Brown Act violations but never heard such breadth of this agency's violations that day.

Former IFPD Commissioner Ben Killingsworth has stated, "Other than abiding by many state laws that govern its activities, [IFPD] is not beholden to anyone ..." The truth is, the agency is definitely beholden to the public, and the Brown Act is one of those state laws guaranteeing us citizens the opportunity to participate in our government. Local agencies' actions affecting our lives do not form from nothing. They arise out of deliberations and discussions, and it is our right to know these.

This event makes it clear that this agency is in ignorance of certain laws. Board and committee members need Brown Act training. We hope that, whether required to or not, this agency's public representatives make a deliberate effort to get trained not only on the Brown Act, but in ethics as well. After defending numerous grand jury reports, why mess around?

CONTEST JUDGE

This week you are again challenged to identify the particular spot depicted in this Hill photograph. It might be the exterior of a building or surrounding grounds of a commercial, governmental or nonprofit premises, or a public place in Idyllwild, Pine Cove, Fern Valley or Mountain Center. The prize is tickets to the Rustic Theatre, your picture in the Town Crier, and life membership in the No. 1 Hillbilly Detective Agency. If there is no winner during a week, the ticket prizes will accumulate.

Open to all ages. Only one entry per household. It doesn't matter how you submit your entry, as long as it's in writing, delivered by noon Monday (or Tuesday if the Town Crier office is not open Monday) to the Town Crier, attn: Jack, and you convince the judge that you found the exact spot. Just saying something like, "The wall around _____ restaurant" is not enough. You must describe the actual spot by pacing off or some other specific description. Taking your own photograph of the spot would be ideal, but is not necessary to win as long as you persuade the judge that you have found the exact spot depicted in the contest photo. The decision of the judge is final. If there is no winner, clues will be given and the weekly prizes will accumulate. This is not a race. If there is more than one person with a correct answer, a drawing will determine the winner, so keep your answer to yourself. Check out this week's new photo.

Last week's photo was of the east patio of Nature's Wisdom restaurant on Ridge View. Larry Kribs, Billie Ruben, Chip and Leslie Schelly, and Jeff and Yvonne Smith all submitted correct entries. Their four entry names went into a hat on identically sized pieces of paper, and Dolores Sizer drew out Ruben's name.

Beware of malware ...

By JAY PENTRACK
STAFF REPORTER

Malware, or malicious software, that contains viruses and spyware, can be downloaded via links contained in bogus emails. The perpetrators of these scams can take control of, or monitor use on, the infected computer and use this information to steal personal information.

Scammers will use any ruse to inspire recipients to click on the link, up to and including fake death notices. These notices appear official, offering condolences and inviting recipients to attend a funeral service celebrating the life of a friend or loved one. When the link is clicked, rather than going to a funeral home website, scammers download malware and effectively hijack the computer of the unsuspecting target.

The Federal Trade Commission advises that recipients delete the email immediately. Do not click on the link. Also, be sure to keep current on virus/security software. A few more tips include verifying that security settings are set high enough to recognize unauthorized downloads; use a pop-up blocker and never click links within a pop-up; and most importantly, never respond to unexpected pop-up messages or emails, especially ads that claim to have scanned your computer.

IFPD accepts 2012-13 audit; dismisses auditor

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Idyllwild Fire Protection District Commission accepted its 2012-13 audit and decided to seek a new auditing firm at the board's April 8 meeting.

Before discussing the district's financial condition, which continues to deteriorate, Fire Chief Patrick Reitz said, "I want to publicly admonish RAMS [Rogers, Anderson, Malody and Scott, LLP, the district's auditors since November 2010]. I requested representatives at this meeting.

"We're not important enough, even though they were on the Hill today," Reitz continued. "That they were not available to us tonight is extremely unprofessional."

In the absence of the actual authors of the audit, Reitz asked the district's financial consultant, Rob Dennis, to discuss the results.

"IFPD got a clean opinion," Dennis stated. "There are no liquidity or solvency issues."

Despite this comment, the audit's discussion states "... the General Fund reported a decrease in fund balance of $138,753." For another year, the district's expenditures continued to exceed revenues. Consequently, its assets (other than property) were about $430,000, a decline of nearly $200,000 in two years.

A positive result in 2013 was the growth of property tax revenue by nearly $72,000 to $1.1 million. IFPD projects tax revenue will grow 4 percent this year.

This is the third consecutive year of negative income. Consequently, reserves, exclusive of capital assets, have fallen from nearly $900,000 at June 2007 to about $240,000 at June 2013.

The current year's budget (2013-14) has a $45,000 net income, according to Dennis' report. However, without the $218,000 from the one-time sale of the cell tower in September, the budget would have shown a $173,000 deficit.

In addition, Dennis posts ambulance billings as revenue rather than actual cash collected. There is an expenditure charge for write-offs and uncollected bills.

Also in this year's budget, the March ambulance billing reduction total was the same as the amount for February, thus underestimating the March net result. Treasurer Nancy Layton said Dennis did not have time to update this portion of the budget.

Commission President Jerry Buchanan stressed that the Commission would have to devote more attention to the medical response reports in the future because the emergency medical incidents will be a significant contributor to IFPD's revenues.

"These reports [of departmental medical calls] will be a key indicator of future revenues," Buchanan said. "If medical billings go down, future income declines."

For example, the total medical calls, both transports to medical facilities and non-transports, increased from 29 in February to 38 in March. This compares to 36 in February 2013 and 33 in March 2013.

IFPD's legal costs increased again in 2013, according to the audit report. They continue to grow this year. In September, the commission budgeted $20,500 for legal expenses. Actual expenditures this year were nearly $24,200 through February and another $7,000 (nearly a third of the budget amount) was recorded in March, for a total of $31,200.

A draft of the budget for fiscal year 2014-15 may be available next month, Reitz said. A tentative budget must be approved by July 1 and a final budget before Oct. 1.

meeting in section 54952.2(c), such as attendance at a conference open to the public, or at another open and publicized meeting of another local agency. Even social or ceremonial occasions are allowed, provided the members do not discuss among themselves issues under the district's purview.

But in regards to the March 18 event, "These are definitely Brown Act violations," opined Peter Scheer, a lawyer and executive director of the California First Amendment Coalition.

The violations include failure to post the meetings of a quorum of the commission and of a quorum of its Finance Committee. And finally, a quorum of the Finance Committee traveled in one vehicle together, which constitutes a meeting.

Buchanan's reaction was that he had asked his commission colleagues not to speak in order to avoid "discussing" the issue, though several members admitted to speaking at the Perris meeting. The public was prevented from any hearings, deliberations, discussions or actions of the two public bodies, thus violating the principles of open government, said Ewert.

Also, the discussion at the commission's April 8 meeting arose during the chief's regular report, when he talks about his activities during the past month, but a discussion of the Perris meetings was not posted on the agenda. So any constituent interested in the status of the dispatch contract would not have known this discussion was to occur at the April 8 meeting.

Another fire engine and crew has been added to the Riverside County Fire Station 23 in Pine Cove. Also, an engine and crews are supplementing the Station 53 (Garner Valley) staff, Cal Fire Mountain Battalion Chief Sean Dakin said at last week's County Service Area 38 meeting.

"There will be six people at the station every day," Dakin said. Two complete crews, including medic engineers, will be at Station 23 daily, as well as a relief crew on the seventh day of each week.

The additional resources are available from new state funding and Cal Fire Chief Ken Pimlott had dedicated them to this area, according to Dakin.

Two of the new captains were at the April 9 CSA meeting and Dakin introduced them to the Advisory Committee.

Special tax

some discussion of winding down the special tax."

If the new contract with AMR provides service to CSA 38, Brown told the committee that there would no longer be a need for the special tax for the enhanced ambulance services approved in an August 2004 special vote.

The current contracts between the county and AMR, and the county and the Idyllwild Fire Protection District (which provides the ambulance service to Pine Cove and the area north of Pine Cove) both expire June 30, 2015.

The current contract between the county's EMSA and IFPD costs CSA 38 $124,000 this fiscal year and will increase to $129,000 for fiscal 2014-15. This is about $40,000 more annually than the special tax generates.

The tax could be totally eliminated or reduced. Brown advised the CSA 38 Advisory Committee that it might assess whether other public safety needs or programs would be useful with the Pine Cove residents.

In the spring of 2015, the county will begin preparation for its property tax collections in December 2015. Thus, next March would be the appropriate time to decide the tax's future, Brown said.

The committee now plans to discuss the tax's disposition during its future meetings leading to perhaps a decision next spring.

Marge Muir and Robert Hewitt are the Budget Committee to recommend a 2014-15 spending plan for inclusion in the county's 2014-15 budget. The Budget Committee will work with Cal Fire Mountain Battalion Chief Sean Dakin and send the proposal to the full committee after its submission.

The Advisory Committee did agree to Dakin's request for $15,000 this fiscal year to re-model portions of Station 23 to accommodate increased staffing. This work would include additional lockers and changes to the kitchen and storage rooms. (See accompanying story.)

MATTER OF FACT

In last week's issue on page 3, the Town Crier incorrectly reported that an Adventure Pass is not needed on the San Bernardino, Cleveland, Los Padres and Angeles national forests over Easter weekend.

An Adventure Pass is needed within those national forests this weekend. Only the National Park Service is offering free entry to its lands as part of its kick-off weekend.

Town Crier regrets the error.

Hill Easter: Sunrise Service to special dinners

BY MARSHALL SMITH
CORRESPONDENT

Easter, the holiest day in the Christian calendar, begins for Idyllwild with the traditional Easter Sunrise Service at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, April 20, at Inspiration Point at the end of Double View Drive.

Pastor Tim Westcott of the Idyllwild Bible Church will celebrate an event that for Christians worldwide is the most momentous in the Christian calendar — the resurrection of Jesus Christ three days after his crucifixion on a hill in Jerusalem. The title of his sermon is “What is Easter?” Throughout the Christian world, the faithful exchange Easter greetings of “He is risen!” as they don bright and festive finery to celebrate the promise of renewed life and purpose.

It is a season of religious feasts and celebration not just for Toddlers through 3 years of age search for eggs at last year's Saturday morning egg hunt at the Community Center site.

FILE PHOTO

Christians, but also for Jews given that Passover and Easter occur during the same period.

Local churches begin the lead-up to Easter Sunday with services on Maundy Thursday, April 17; Good Friday, April 18; and Holy Saturday, April 19. Consult your church for services offered and the times.

Easter, the vernal or spring equinox, the budding of trees, the carpeting of flowers, the proliferation of bright green grass and the arrival of longer periods of daylight are traditionally associated as acknowledgments of the continuity of life. Parents and children decorate and color eggs to symbolize the optimism of the season and the arrival of new birth after an often dreary and fallow winter. Rabbits and eggs, secular symbols now associated with Easter, have their roots in pre-Christian fertility rites. But regardless of the derivation of the traditions and symbols, it is a season that celebrates new and vibrant life.

And for children, Easter morning is a magical time to search their homes for brightly decorated hidden baskets holding gifts, candy and colored eggs left by the Easter Bunny. Community Easter egg hunts are planned both by the Idyllwild Community Center and American Legion Post 800. The Idyllwild Community Center invites children from toddlers to ages 10 and older to a hunt at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 19. ICC's Dawn Sonnier reports that because of generous sponsorships from local families, merchants and restaurants, 3,000 plastic and real eggs will be hidden on the ICC site, an increase of 1,000 more than last year. “There is also an Easter bonnet contest and the Easter Bunny will be hopping by,” said Sonnier.

Post 800 has scheduled its hunt for Easter Sunday, from 1 to 3 p.m., on the post grounds. The Easter Bunny also will stop by and lunch will be served to all attendees. Festivities are sponsored by the post's Ladies Auxiliary.

Local restaurants offer a variety of Easter brunches and dinners. Celebratory meals, treats and traditional feasts are integral parts of the Easter Sunday holiday, since they follow a Lent period characterized by fasting and denial. If dining out, be certain to make reservations early.

Preventing the human trafficking of youth

BY MARSHALL SMITH
CORRESPONDENT

Opal Singleton knows the dangers of trafficking of young people both in the United States and in third-world countries. And the recruitment methods are not that dissimilar, regardless of first- or third-world location. "A lot of recruitment has to do with gangs," said Singleton, noting that the ubiquity of smart phones and the Internet makes recruitment far easier.

Singleton is a board member and director of development for Rapha House, an organization that provides rescue and healing programs for victims of child sex trafficking in Thailand, Myanmar, Cambodia and Haiti. She is also president and CEO of the U.S. organization Million Kids. MillionKids.org serves as the training outreach coordinator for the Riverside County Sheriff's anti-human trafficking task force. "It's called Million Kids because over one million kids are trafficked each year," she said.

Singleton will discuss this rapidly growing crime and its inroads in Riverside County at a presentation for the Soroptimist International of Idyllwild at 6 p.m. Thursday, April 17, at the Rainbow Inn. She calls her talk and trademarked program, "The Love Trap." The discussion is free to the public and light refreshments will be provided.

"It's easy money and the need to be loved and included," said Singleton, explaining the attraction for minors and young adults. "It's the fastest-growing crime in the United States, and California is number one among the states for trafficking growth. Seventy-two percent of victims are U.S. citizens and a significant percentage of those are minors and young adults 21 to 24."

Singleton noted that in San Diego County, according to a report by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, gangs are now making more money from sex trafficking than from drug sales. "Anybody can be recruited," she noted. "Very seldom is someone kidnapped. It's the lure of easy money and affection, the need to be loved." She said recruitment can happen by Internet or through a friend, boy or girl. It can happen in public schools and in malls. "Sixty percent of the time it's a girl or boy friend that uses a relationship in a deceptive way to ensnare the child. This has more to do with how vulnerable our kids are. Most of the time love lures them in."

She noted the most vulnerable populations for trafficking recruitment are foster kids, runaways, homeless and pregnant young people. "Prevention is the key to keeping our families and young people safe," said Singleton. "At the heart of prevention is education and understanding the dynamics of how human trafficking ensnares innocent people."

Although Singleton will concentrate primarily on trafficking of youth, she will also address the growth in labor trafficking and California Law SB 657, Transparency in the Supply Chain Act, which requires retail sellers and manufacturers doing business in California to disclose their efforts to eradicate slavery and human trafficking from their direct supply chains for tangible goods offered for sale. The law exempts retail sellers or manufacturers having less than $100,000,000 in annual worldwide gross receipts.

Singleton said her mission is to educate and make adults aware of how easily disaffected children can become involved in child prostitution, and, once in, how difficult it is to break free.

For more information, Singleton can be reached at www.millionkids.org and at osingle405@aol.com.

Protection sought for flying squirrel

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

In early April, the Center for Biological Diversity announced its intention to fight for federal protection of the San Bernardino flying squirrel, a native to both the San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountains.

No sightings of the flying squirrel in the San Jacinto Mountains have been confirmed for several decades. And a recent five-year wildlife resurvey study in the region failed to find any of the squirrels, according to the CBD.

CBD filed its notice of intent to sue the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service under the Endangered Species Act. The remaining population in the San Bernardino Mountains faces threats from climate change, habitat destruction and cat predation. This is the second CBD action to protect the local squirrel.

The center petitioned in 2010 to have the squirrel protected under the Endangered Species Act. In January 2012, the FWS announced it had completed an initial review of the squirrel's status and "determined such protection may be warranted." The agency said further evaluation of the squirrel's status and the impending threats to its habitat would be conducted.

The service is now more than two years overdue in making the required 12-month finding to decide whether protection will be granted.

In its press release, CBD said, "This rare, truffle-eating flying squirrel is threatened by climate change, forest habitat destruction and predation by domestic cats, and it has disappeared in recent decades from one of the two mountain ranges it lives in near Los Angeles."

Flying squirrels get their name from a furred membrane called the patagium that extends from the wrists to the ankles, thus enabling them to easily glide between trees. They can glide through the air between trees at distances up to 300 feet.

The animals depend on high-elevation conifer forests of Southern California and favor eating truffles. The squirrels' forest habitat is moving upslope as temperatures warm and drier conditions threaten their truffle food supply, which thrives in wet, cool conditions.

According to the FWS, moisture is important for the squirrels' habitat that tends to be near streams or springs, which promote the growth of truffles.

As urban development usurps forests, the squirrels' remaining mountain habitat decreases and the threat of predation from domestic cats increases.

Baseball sign-ups extended until April 25

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Town Hall coed youth baseball sign-ups have been extended through April 25, according to Bill Brown, Riverside County's County Service Area administrator.

The Town Hall advertisement in the April 10 issue of the Town Crier read, "Unfortunately, this season has been canceled due to lack of enough players ..."

That decision has been reversed and youth baseball is $45 for CSA 36 residents and $55 for nonresidents. Softball for ages 12 to 16 years is $20.

Already the number of players signing up for the 2014 baseball season is nearly 75, twice the number of a week ago, said Richard Mozeleski, Town Hall sports coordinator. "I'm absolutely optimistic it will grow," he said.

He expects the season to begin immediately after the youth volleyball season concludes in the middle of May.

Besides the organized leagues for school students, he is planning an evening or a Saturday for teens to play softball. While this group won't have a formal league, permanent teams or uniforms, the games will have umpires and equipment.

"This is similar to our Friday-night pick-up basketball games," Mozeleski said.

Idyllwild's small population contributes to the difficulty of organizing the youth leagues. For example, about 30 players had signed up for baseball before it was canceled. While that is sufficient for three to four teams, the age range was too great for even that number of teams.

Youth volleyball experienced similar difficulties this year, according to Ginger Dagnall, volleyball coordinator. She definitely had to encourage parents to enroll their children in the league. Now she has enough players for two divisions of three teams each.

She stressed that parents should not be discouraged by the fees. Any child enrolled in the reduced-lunch program at Idyllwild School is eligible for a scholarship for participating in a Town Hall sport.

"That's what they used to do and I think it's continuing," said Amber Jacobson, the new head of recreation for the Economic Development Agency. "I'm glad we're making progress. People wanted this."

The Town Hall number is 659-2638.

Fire Safe Council's safety muster coming April 26

By J.P. CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The third Mountain Communities Fire Safe Council's Fire Safety Muster is from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, April 26, at the Idyllwild Community Center site.

It promises much useful and needed information that "... will serve as reminder for Hill residents to begin preparing for another fire season," said Edwin Scott, MCFSC executive director. "It's that time of year again."

One of the featured attractions is the U.S. Forest Service's popular K-9 demonstration.

"We wanted them back again because they were so popular last year," Scott said.

Many other agencies will demonstrate activities and safety procedures during the day, such as the Idyllwild Fire Department, which will demonstrate an extrication of a person from an automobile. Several other fire agencies, including Cal Fire/Riverside County Fire Department and the Forest Service, will demonstrate hose lays.

MCFSC's Woodies unit will be present and demonstrating how to split wood safely. Some of the local wood contractors will be demonstrating tree cutting.

A Riverside County representative will be available to register telephone numbers, including cell phones, to receive messages from its "Emergency Warning System." If an evacuation were issued during a fire, as was done last summer during the Mountain and Silver fires, this system will leave a message on every phone number registered within the affected area.

This muster will be the largest yet. "A lot of the agencies are really stepping up to the plate with time or personnel for this event," Scott said proudly.

Besides the fire agencies already mentioned, other participants include the U.S. Bureau of Land Management, Riverside County Office of Emergency Services, the Mt. San Jacinto State Park, Pine Cove Water District and local emergency groups, such as Mountain Disaster Preparedness, Mountain Community Patrol and Mile High Radio Club.

For the past two musters, the Riverside Mountain Rescue Unit has agreed to demonstrate rescues; but then the day of the muster it has been called to actual rescue incidents. Scott hopes RMRU will be able to participate this year.

The first demonstration, the K-9 activities, are at 11 a.m. IFPD's auto extraction is the final demonstration before the muster finishes at 3 p.m. Food and beverages will be available on site throughout the event.

Ron Singerton exhibits artistic versatility

BY JAY PENTRACK
STAFF REPORTER

The Singerton Gallery, located at 54245 N. Circle Drive, is home to all forms of art — paintings, bronze sculptures, stone sculptures and glass work — but what is truly impressive about the collection is that it is the work of one man, artist Ron Singerton. “A lot of people come in the gallery and they’ll say, ‘You do paintings, you do bronze, you do stone, you do glass, you do all of this stuff,’ and most artists do one thing,” said Singerton. “A lot of artists have achieved perfection in one form of art, but to attain perfection in another form of art that you are going to display and going to sell requires the willingness to make the mistakes and to put in the time, the money, the effort to build up to that level. If it is going to be a one-man show, it’s got to be an eclectic show.”

Singerton’s greatest influence was his father, Alexander, who grew up in poverty in Philadelphia. A self-taught artist, young Alexander would sneak into art classes, and listen and watch, and while his talent was undeniable, his confidence was lacking. “Whenever he thought he was going to get a commission, it always fell through and he didn’t have enough self-confidence to get into the Franklin Roosevelt [New Deal Art Program],” said Singerton. “If he had had formal training and had had a couple of breaks, he would have done really well.”

A native Californian, Singerton was born in 1942, and while the family returned to Philadelphia for a short time while his father was in the Army Reserves, they returned to Southern California in 1946 or 1947. Singerton attended college at Long Beach City College and Long Beach State, and completed his graduate work at the former, as well as his student teaching in 1965 before going into the military.

“When I got out of the Army in 1970 the only district that was hiring at the time — because there was a glut of teachers — was Compton so I taught Compton for three years,” said Singerton. At Compton, he taught history and social studies to middle school students. “Then I went over to L.A. Unified and taught in South Central for 10 years, again at middle school level with some high school thrown in.” After a failed business, Singerton returned to teaching in San Bernardino where he taught art.

The kids used to come in my class when I was teaching art and they would say, ‘I can’t draw,’” said Singerton. “I say, ‘Yes, you can. Of course you can. You’re an artist, everyone is an artist. Everyone has certain skills.’”

It would be Singerton’s skill and a lot of encouragement from his wife, Darla, that led him to Idyllwild and the gallery he dreamed of owning. “I met my wife in 1991 and we got married in 1992 and she was a captain with Riverside County Sheriff. She ran the Indio station,” he said. “We had just got married in 1992 and she said, ‘Why don’t you pursue your art? Why don’t you do a sculpture for the sheriff’s department because they are having a commemoration of some sort?’” So Singerton created a bronze of a female officer holding a child that was a big hit.

Artist and gallery owner Ron Singerton with work in his gallery. Singerton creates his art in a variety of media, including paintings, bronze sculptures, stone sculptures and glass work. The gallery is located at 54245 North Circle Drive. PHOTO BY JOHN PACHECO

With a new focus on his art, the couple spent 15 years traveling to art shows selling Singerton’s work and then, after her retirement in 2002, Darla began crafting jewelry which she sold at shows (and now in the gallery). The shows continued until a fateful rainy day in 2009. “We were going to do a jewelry show in Pasadena; it was raining. We get there and Darla says, ‘No one is going to come and all of my stuff is going to get ruined in the rain. Let’s go home.’

On the way home she finally turns and looks at me and says, ‘You know what, it’s time to start a gallery.’ It was like the sun came out. It was so emotional I almost cried because I had wanted a gallery for years.”

With their home in Twin Pines, Idyllwild was a natural consideration for the gallery’s location. “Idyllwild for us, as far as a business is concerned, was the closest resort community that we could afford. It has worked out just great, being within 25 to 30 minutes and with such a beautiful drive up the mountain every day. It is great,” said Singerton. “This is the closest place I have ever been to an integrated art community where artists are not afraid to share their views and their talents.”

Singerton, 72 years young and ever the teacher, inspires visitors to his gallery who long to delve into art. “I tell ahead of you, it’s my choice. Am I going to do ceramics today, am I going to work on a bronze today or actually work stone again? It’s those creative juices that keep you going.”

And with what seems to be a raging rapid of “creative juices,” Singerton’s new passion, writing fiction, drives him even more. His second novel, “Villa of Deceit,” should be out by the end of summer or early fall. “For me, the summit is being a writer. If I’m doing the artwork I just have to please myself or if it’s a commission, I have to please the person who hires me to do the artwork. When you’re writing — whether it’s for a movie or for a novel or it’s non-fiction — you are outside of your little fishbowl and you’re working with a completely different industry.”

Singerton is planning a book signing when the new novel is released. “I’ll be totally insufferable. My wife is already looking for a bigger stick.”

At the Idyllwild Library this week

This is National Library Week. Visit our library and see what new features it has to offer.

From 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 16, Maria Reyes will offer her weekly Spanish language class for homeschoolers, a program designed for children but to which the whole community is welcome.

From 1 to 2 p.m. Thursday, April 17, the library staff will provide quick answers to basic computer questions. You may also call 951-659-2300 to schedule extended time for your questions. (The library staff wants you to know they are available anytime to help you use the library's bank of public computers.)

From 1 to 3 p.m. that same day, Julie Johnson hosts Teen Book Club for Homeschoolers. For more information, call her at 659-9793.

And from 2 to 3:30 p.m., also on Thursday, all women are welcome to join the women of the Idyllwild Bible Church for Bible Study.

Saturday, April 19, the Mile High Radio Club continues with the third of its four weekly classes. The class from 10 to 11 a.m. is for those with technician licenses who would like to upgrade their class. The class from 11 a.m. to noon is the beginning class for those interested in acquiring an FCC Ham radio license. An examination fee of $15 is due on April 26, the date of the final exam from noon to 4 p.m. Contact Tom Pierce at 951-808-3632.

And again on Saturday, from 11 a.m. to noon, the library staff is available with quick answers to basic computer questions. You may call in advance to set up an extended time at 951-659-2300. (Of course, the library staff is available anytime to help you use the library's public computers.)

Also on Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., the Wicca Study Group will explore the history, ethics and practices of Wicca using books by several prominent Wiccan authors. The class is open to persons ages 18 and older. Call JoAnne at 951-842-1866.

CLUBS

Idyllwild Conversations

Several members were able to attend the four-day Permaculture Voices summit held last month in Temecula, and they are going to give an overview of what they learned, focusing on subjects relevant to Idyllwild.

The event is from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday April 22, at the Idyllwild Library.

Also, one of the founders of the Idyllwild Orchard Project (one of the Idyllwild Conversation's action groups) recently had a greywater system installed at her house. The installation will be presented and discussed at 5 p.m. Saturday, April 19, at 26808 Saunders Meadow Road. These two free events are open to everyone in the community.

Finally, again on that Saturday, from 1 to 3 p.m., at the Legacy Writers Workshop, Katya Williamson will guide adult participants through writing exercises designed to help record the history and contributions each has made to family and community.

On Monday, April 21, from 10 a.m. to noon, the Forest Folk Cribbage Group meets for weekly fun and games. Everyone is welcome.

Also on Monday, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., Miss Karrie will host children's story time, where preschoolers and children of all ages are treated to one of our library's talented storytellers with an associated craft. This week's theme is Earth Day.

On Tuesday, April 22, from 1 to 3 p.m., you are welcome to join the fun with the Knit Wits, a knitting social group. Share patterns, ideas and laughs. No knitting experience is necessary, and you are welcome to bring a snack.

And also on Tuesday, from 6:30 to 8 p.m.,

Idyllwild Conversations, an adult group that holds open discussions on various community and social topics, will host a debriefing of several of its members who attended the four-day Permaculture Voices summit last month in Temecula.

And as usual on Wednesdays, on April 23, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Maria Reyes offers her Spanish language class for homeschoolers — designed for children, but everyone is welcome.

Also on Wednesday, April 23, from 3 to 4:30 p.m., Saffron presents art projects geared to children ages 6 to 9. Pre-registration is required. For more information, contact Saffron at 951-541-6056 or Facebook: Poppycat Studio.

Our library is regularly open Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesdays from noon to 8 p.m., Thursdays and Fridays from noon to 5 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Telephone 659-2300. Keep checking this column each week for advance information about happenings.

CREATURE CORNER

BY MIMI AND HOOTCH

Hey ... it's Ethel with a big smile. But where's Fred? Oh, Fred was adopted? Yea and high five to you, Fred, for being on your best behavior. He is now in the best forever and ever home. Ethel was absolutely fine with it all, even though she didn't get to go, too.

Ethel is ready to move on as long as she has a very active family or a young canine playmate to grow up with. This young girl is under age 1, and loves to play and run. She is a quick learner, as she has already mastered sit and stay. Leash training was a piece of cake (or bone). Ethel is not a barker unless she sees a feline. So no cats, please. Oh, and doggy door and house trained, too. Grab your leash and start walking!

Here we have Lord Archibald (Archie) in white and Lady Arabella (Bella) in black. Lost, abandoned, dumped. That's a question mark. They came in to ARF together and are very friendly. They are between 3 and 5 years old. Since they are so attached to each other, we believe they would love to stay together when adopted. We believe the Archie is an American Eskimo and that Bella is a sheltie mix. Please call ARF if interested in these two — 951-659-1122.

Boomer just can't believe he has lived at ARF for more than a year now. His birthday was Feb. 27, yet he still is a playful, mischievous kitty. He has bravely said goodbye to his brothers and sisters, and being the youngest of the cattery, has had to take matters into his own paws. So flipping the cat toys up in the air, scrambling to catch them and tossing them across the room keeps him busy. Let's give Boomer his wish to have a forever home.

We have several pets on our website in assisted adoption, also. Be sure to look us up on Facebook, too.

ARF has many cats and dogs available for adoption or fostering. Go to www.arfidyllwild.weebly.com and click on Petfinder. All pets are spayed, neutered and current on shots. ARF is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sundays.

Creature corner is sponsored in Memory of Fluffys this week. To sponsor the column, call Lisa Streeter at the Town Crier, 951-659-2145.

Public Notices

Legals • Doing Business As

For questions about Public Notices call Dolores at the Town Crier (951) 659-2145 or E-mail: Dolores@towncrier.com

Every day throughout the United States, newspapers publish thousands of public notices about events, conditions or actions that affect countless individuals, families, neighborhoods and businesses. Public notices cover many topics, including business matters, liquor licensing, public auctions and sales, estates, zoning, public meetings, bids to sell goods and services to the government, local government finances and state and local elections. Public notice is a fundamental component of our system of representative democracy, which depends upon the participation of educated, responsible citizens.

HOROSCOPES

April 2014 — Week 3

December 22 – January 19

Hooray! The trying times are over, Capricorn, and fun is on the way. Travel plans take shape. Prepare to have a relaxing time with friends and family.

January 20 – February 18

Press on, Aquarius. There is no obstacle you cannot overcome. A mix up in communication tests patience at home. Work quickly to resolve the situation.

February 19 – March 20

Springtime weather get the creative juices flowing, and several projects come to completion. A friend has a request. Honor it if you can, Pisces.

March 21 – April 19

Clean and clutter free is your motto this week, Aries. Start with the most neglected areas of your home. A tantalizing offer is too good to be true.

April 20 – May 20

Don't underestimate the value of relaxation. Take time out to reminisce and rejuvenate, Taurus. You will return with a fresh perspective.

May 21 – June 21

You throw yourself into everything you do, Gemini. But not everyone works like you. Understand that and be prepared to compensate for any shortcomings that arise.

June 22 – July 22

Crazy, Cancer. The ideas are flying, but rather than try to implement them all, you might want to weed out the good from the bad. A decision is firm.

July 23– August 22

Dear friends drop in and out all week long. Roll out the welcome mat, Leo, and be supportive whatever is shared. A movie title catches your eye.

August 23– September 22

Direct you are not, Virgo, but direct you must be to resolve a situation once and for all. An article inspires you to take the initiative on a project.

September 23– October 22

Ooh-la-la, Libra. You make a rare find. Be careful whom you tell. A lapse in communication at home leads to laughter. Enjoy the moment.

October 23– November 21

Your financial outlook improves tremendously, and you are finally in a position to save. Save, Scorpio, not spend. A favor is returned in a big way.

November 22– December 21

You are blessed more than you can count this week, Sagittarius. Enjoy. A friend's world is turned upside down by the arrival of some-one from their past.
