Capt. Purvis talks to community about crime

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

About 20 people took time from the busy Labor Day weekend to attend a not-widely announced public session with Capt. Leonard Purvis of the Riverside County Sheriff's Department's Hemet Station, who came to Idyllwild Saturday morning, Sept. 2, to discuss the local crime conditions.

He first visited with the Pine Cove Property Owners Association and later in the morning, he was the speaker at a community meeting held at Town Hall. About 20 residents, both full- and part-time, were interested in the topic, despite the heat and holiday activities.

Not only was Purvis here to answer questions, he wanted to learn about the concerns of Hill residents.

Initial fears were about organized gangs establishing a foothold in Idyllwild in order to sell drugs.

Purvis popped that balloon with his response that "... hasn't been on our radar. There is no major crime syndicate here. It's mostly a homeless issue and problem."

And he stressed that homelessness is not a crime, and he agreed as one audience member

Supervisors take steps to begin cannabis legalization

Ultimate decision depends upon 2018 tax vote

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

At the Aug. 29 board of supervisors meeting, the future regulation of the legal cannabis commerce within Riverside County was begun. However, as Supervisor Kevin Jeffries (1st District) emphasized, the future legalization of cannabis marketing will be totally dependent upon the approval of a tax measure on the November 2018 ballot.

The board, in a 3-0 vote, with Supervisor Marion Ashley (5th District) abstaining and Supervisor John Tavaglione (2nd District) absent, approved the recommendation of the Cannabis Ad Hoc Committee to direct staff to begin developing a comprehensive regulatory program for commercial cannabis.

As he introduced the recommendations of the ad hoc committee, of which he and Supervisor Chuck Washington (3rd District) are the members, Jeffries emphasized,

"I did not vote for Proposition 64 nor am I a marijuana enthusiast or an advocate. But it is my opinion we have lost the war on cannabis in Riverside County. And it is time to start regulating it to protect our neighborhoods."

One of the reasons the ad hoc committee recommended the board move toward a legal, but regulated, cannabis industry, was the futility of banning it and trying to enforce the laws.

"I have five to nine illegal dispensaries within 2 miles of my house," he said. "It's like a whack-a-mole game for the county staff." He was sharing and repeating the frustration of many county residents, such as in Idyllwild, who oppose the presence of the dispensaries. Yet, they are in violation of a code-enforcement ordinance and their business is not a criminal venture.

"At the time, it appears to be a battle we are not winning," Washington lamented. Then he later added, "The most illuminative issue ... for me was the fact that whether we ban marijuana totally or regulate marijuana it is about the same level of staffing to fight marijuana growing and dispensaries in the county."

The new ordinances are

Capturing flying squirrels on camera

Nature Center meeting to discuss details

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

For local citizen scientists, Saturday, Sept. 9, is an opportunity to participate in regional wildlife study.

The San Diego Natural History Museum is asking local residents to help in efforts to identify whether the Southern California flying squirrel still resides in the San Jacinto Mountains. While several members of the species were captured on cameras during the past year in the San Bernardino Mountains, the San Jacinto Mountain squirrel has not been seen locally in decades.

The SDNHM will host a meeting at 1 p.m. Saturday, at the Idyllwild Nature Center. Brian Gibson of the museum's staff will describe the project and offer cameras to use to spot the squirrel if they are attracted to the neighborhood.

"In this first meeting, we will take a look at a slideshow outlining the history and design of the Flying Squirrels of Southern California study. We will assign you a camera and explain how to use it, as well as watch some instructional videos on camera installation and how to upload your data to iNaturalist," Gibson said. "Could it be that squirrels are already habituated to visiting these sites in the middle of the night undetected?"

For those with technical questions about the camera or its operation and location, Gibson will return the following weekend to help install the camera and bait station.

The museum's squirrel project can be found at flyingsquirrels.sdnhm.org/. And information about the San Bernardino project can be found on its Facebook Page, www.facebook.com/groups/1112184362207519/.

Gibson said, "Feel free to request to join the group!"

September is National Preparedness Month

Activities planned throughout county and Idyllwild

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

For those of you caught in the news of the Palmer Fire near Beaumont or the La Tuna Fire in the Verdugo Hills of Los Angeles or those who prefer rain, Hurricane Harvey or the impending Irma, Gov. Jerry Brown joined with the Federal Emergency Management Agency in declaring September National Preparedness Month.

The 2017 theme is “Disasters Don’t Plan Ahead.” The intent was explained in a FEMA press release earlier this month.

“Managed and sponsored by the Ready Campaign, National Preparedness Month is designed to raise awareness and encourage Americans to take steps to prepare for emergencies in their homes, schools, workplace, organizations, businesses and places of worship. National Preparedness Month is an opportunity to share emergency preparedness information and host activities across the country to help Americans understand what it truly means to be ready.”

And FEMA Administrator Craig Fugate said in the release, “Disasters don’t always occur when we are together with our family and friends, and so it is important to take a few minutes now to plan what you will do in the event you are separated. It only takes a few minutes to talk through the greatest risks that can affect where you live, work or go to school. But by having that conversation or making a plan, families will have more confidence and be better prepared when the next event happens.”

The California Office of Emergency Services has offered several suggestions for families to initiate plans in case of an emergency and steps to think about or issues of which to be aware. These can be found on its website at www.caloes.ca.gov/for-individuals-families.

The Riverside County Emergency Management Department has planned several events this month throughout the county.

EMD advises, “Looking at the evacuations taking place in East Texas, how would you let your family know you are safe? What would you take with you? Do you have copies of your important documents, such as prescriptions, insurance policies and important records?”

Locally, Mountain Disaster Preparedness is planning a community meeting Thursday, Sept. 28. The guest speaker will be Alex Tardy of the National Weather Service’s San Diego Office. In 2015, he spoke to a full room of local residents about the forecast for a potential El Niño bringing winter rains.

stressed, “It’s not just the homeless.”

Purvis said his staff will track the known criminals who are in jail and when they are released. This often follows a pattern of either fewer or more crimes.

But the recent spate of home and business crimes seem to be “crimes of opportunities, and frustration increases as crime is committed,” he said. In the past, there were patterns related to the time of day, but “... it’s happening all day now.”

The object of these break-ins, in Purvis’s opinion, is to steal property, which can be converted to cash, necessary to buy drugs, including methamphetamine and even heroin. While the sources may be off the Hill, when the need exists, the individuals find a way to obtain the drug.

Treating the homeless compassionately and with empathy is appropriate. But a small number will take advantage of this assistance, according to Purvis.

Individuals who frequently return for more or new clothing and utensils may be discarding them when they leave the Hill for drugs and need new supplies when they return, he advised.

Purvis advocated that residents install security cameras around their homes. New systems permit remote access so that homes can be monitored in real time from anywhere.

Several people asked how they could join the Mountain Community Patrol. New members will have background checks, fingerprints and modest training through the Sheriff’s Department. But the formation and active role for Neighborhood Watch units is very effective, Purvis added.

Marlene Pierce, a member of MCP, attended and explained that MCP members can “... only observe and report. They are not allowed to arrest suspects.”

Another individual asked about the possibility of greater use of community service officers. Unfortunately, Purvis replied, the current sheriff budget condition does not provide enough money to hire additional CSOs. Just as importantly, the CSO has other functions to serve, such as transporting prisoners, which would limit the time to patrol the Hill.

When asked about citizens who are armed and defend themselves, Purvis emphasized that, while it is an additional tool, they must firmly believe an intruder is presenting an immediate threat to them or their family in order to defend shooting at them.

If an imminent threat is not clearly present, deadly force cannot be justified.

When asked about the marijuana dispensaries in town, Purvis repeated that they are currently illegal. The Sheriff’s Department and Code Enforcement are trying to stop them, but it is a misdemeanor and the sheriff doesn’t have enough resources to constantly enforce the code ordinance when they must respond to crimes — bodily and property.

“Until a new county licensing process comes to fruition, any dispensaries in unincorporated areas are illegal,” he said.

Before finishing, Purvis said citizens who believe a crime is occurring should call 951-776-1099 or 911 if it is an emergency.

dependent upon passage of the tax measure and residents from the whole county, not just the unincorporated areas will vote on it.

The intent is to create areas, such as near schools and neighborhoods, where the cannabis commerce would be banned. Jeffries also said there will be criterion for approval of license. For example, being “busted for an illegal dispensary or grow site” would prevent issuance of the license for some period.

Ashley expressed his mixed emotions about the action. “I’m really conflicted the way we’re going. It is probably the best we can do, but I sure don’t feel very happy about it.” While he supports the availability of medical cannabis, he is concerned about recreational use, which is why he abstained from this vote.

Straight-ahead and cutting-edge jazz held sway

Ticket sales and attendance held steady

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

Straight-ahead and cutting-edge jazz held center stage at the Idyllwild 2017 Jazz in the Pines festival. Each of the three venues offered new acts and interesting arrangements and sounds.

And, according to John Newman, Idyllwild Arts Foundation director of business operations, ticket sales and attendance were remarkably consistent with last year’s numbers. “Attendance was equal to last year,” said Newman, “1,700 paid attendees through the gates Saturday [plus another few hundred volunteers, musicians, vendors and IAF staff], and around 1,200 paid attendees on Sunday.”

Newman said net proceeds for scholarships were consistent with the last two years as well, but reports are still being finalized before any numbers are released to the IAF board. Newman added that combined ticket sales for the two days of this year’s festival were within $200 of last year, showing, in Newman’s opinion, a strong level of consistent support from patrons and fans.

Beginning this fall, the Hemet Unified School District will add a new feature for the benefit of students’ families and parents.

The Parent Resource Center will open and offer various types of help, such as classes for parents, nutrition education and student support.

An open house for the PRC is from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept 12. It is located at 26866 San Jacinto Street in Hemet. No appointment is necessary and staff will offer tours and introductions of its purpose and availability.

“This is the first Parent Resource Center HUSD has ever had,” wrote Alexandra Sponheim, HUSD’s public information officer. “As a district, we wanted to provide a place where parents could gain a better insight about the education process and have access to various resources and classes that would help them in assisting their children. The Parent Resource Center is working closely with the Idyllwild school to bring the same resources that are offered at the Parent Resource Center to families in our outlying communities.”

An example of the classes is one on nutrition scheduled for five Thursdays from 9 to 10 a.m., beginning Oct. 12. Topics include planning a healthy meal, shopping on a budget, interpreting labels and more.

Another example is the Parent Project to address topics to develop strategies for positive parenting. These include establishing goals for students, family conflict, student performance, truancy and others. The intent is help parents form prevention and intervention plans, if or when needed.

This class is from 5:30 to 8 p.m. beginning Tuesday, Sept. 19.

To sign up for the class, call the PRC at 951-765-0004. The classes will be in English and Spanish.

Rouse Fire contained next day

NEWS EDITOR

The Rouse Fire, which started about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, near the U.S. Forest Service’s Cranston Ranger Station, was contained the next evening. The fire’s size was estimated to be about 14 acres, according to Lee Beyer, the USFS incident contact.

The fire started on the north side of Highway 74 near its junction with Bee Canyon Road. Then, spot fires ignited brush on the south side of the highway, causing its closure. Easterly winds pushed the fire west toward Forest Road 5S15 or Rouse Ridge Road, Beyer wrote.

During the initial firefighting Wednesday afternoon, the highway was closed in both directions. By evening, it was fully re-opened.

Matt Ahearn, battalion chief on the San Jacinto Ranger District, was the incident commander. The cause of the fire is under investigation, according to the USFS.

On Wednesday, Aug. 30, the Riverside County Sheriff’s Department removed about 8,000 marijuana plants from a Hill site. Here, the helicopters, which transported about seven deputies to the site, are seen at Lake Fulmor. The street value of the plants was estimated to be about $4 million and they were spread over 3 to 4 acres.

Three crashes on Hill roads over Labor Day weekend

On a busy Labor Day weekend, there were three crashes on Hill roads. Officer Edward Nunez, California Highway Patrol Pass Station, read reports of the officers who responded to the incidents.

At 3:38 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, Angel Jimenez, 30, of Indio, was driving his white 2003 Ford Expedition eastbound on Highway 74, ½ mile east of Ribbonwood Drive in Pinyon, when he caused his vehicle to run off the road, hitting the mountainside. There were no arrests or injuries.

At 7:40 a.m. Friday, Sept. 1, Heriberto Isla Sluna, 18, of Coachella, was driving his white 2001 Ford Mustang northbound on Highway 243 just north of the intersection with Highway 74. At the same time, Paula Klein, 59, of Laguna Beach, was driving her gray Honda Insight southbound on 243. For unknown reasons, Sluna crossed over the double-yellow line colliding head-on with Klein’s vehicle. There were no injuries and no alcohol or drugs involved in the incident, according to the CHP report.

At 6:55 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 3, Oscar Zamora, 23, of Hemet, was driving his blue 2000 Acura Integra westbound on Highway 74 east of South Fork Trail when, for unknown reasons, he ran off the road and struck a metal sign. Zamora was uninjured and there was no arrest.

IWD warns customers of phone scam

Several customers of the Idyllwild Water District have reported receiving telephone calls allegedly originating from the IWD office.

The caller ID is displayed at the IWD office number. When answered, the caller claims that they are with the water district.

The caller then instructs or asks the listener to use their phone’s key pad to answer various questions.

IWD is alerting and warning customers and residents that this phone call is apparently a “phishing scam.” IWD staff does not make calls requesting non-verbal responses.

IWD staff will call a customer for several reasons such as to advise that data indicates they may have a leak or to notify the customer that a water bill payment has not been received, which puts their service in jeopardy of being discontinued.

If you receive a call purportedly from IWD and you feel the least bit uncomfortable, the district advises you to hang up and call our office immediately.

The IWD office number is 951-659-2143. The acting general manager is Jack Hoagland, whose email address is jack@idyllwildwater.com.

We asked one of our regular customers ...

“WOW! That’s about all I can say about the results we have gotten from the “Post-It” ad we have had you apply to the front of the Town Crier the past few months! I don’t know if your other advertisers know about those “Post-Its” but I will tell you those things knocked it out of the park for us as far as response goes. We will continue to use this format one week a month, however would like to recommend that the other 3 weeks of the month could really yield some true results ... especially if they are come kind of a coupon or something. # The new member-supported Town Crier

By Jack and Becky Clark
Co-Publishers

When we decided we needed to appeal to Town Crier readers, we had no idea what their response would be. We simply knew that relying on local business advertising would no longer work for our Hill, so Town Crier readers — the folk who seem to appreciate it most — would have to decide whether they still wanted the newspaper for our community.

We gave folks three weeks notice that the paper would no longer be free on the Hill on Sept. 7, thinking that not much would happen Membership-wise until then.

Well, instead, the response has been overwhelming. We still need to go a long way, but after only three weeks of the Membership model, we already are one-quarter of the way to the minimum amount we estimate we will need annually to pass the newspaper on. And the $1 paper is beginning only this week. You folks clearly want a continued newspaper on our Hill, both online and ink-on-paper, and you are stepping up to make that happen. We could be neither more grateful nor more proud of the people of our Hill community.

The Town Crier flag now boasts that it is a “Member Supported” newspaper. A Member-supported newspaper can serve our community endlessly into the future.

And by “people of our Hill community” we include the folk who are not full-time or even part-time residents, but who are acquiring TC Memberships now just because they love Idyllwild and its surrounding communities. Many of them hope to live here full-time some day, and they want the TC still serving our community when they do. Just this past Saturday alone, we welcomed new Charter Members from El Cajon, Fullerton, Glendale, Sherman Oaks and San Luis Obispo. We gratefully count these special people as part of our Hill community.

And, please remember: If you are an off-Hill Member and you come to the Hill without your current Town Crier issue, you can pick up a replacement free at the TC office from 9 to 5 p.m. Monday to Thursday, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, and anytime you can catch someone in the office during off-hours and weekends. We've always done that for subscribers and will continue for Members.

The TC now has a magnificent start down the road to being a viable, Member-supported newspaper that can be passed on indefinitely to younger publishers dedicated to continuing a newspaper on our Hill. That is the objective.

Many, many thanks to all you Charter Members. Your early responses are encouraging other community-minded readers to join with you. As soon as the “Town Crier Member” decals arrive, we will be mailing them to you.

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author's name, address and weekday phone number.

The Town Crier will not publish “thank-you” letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (becky@towncrier.com).

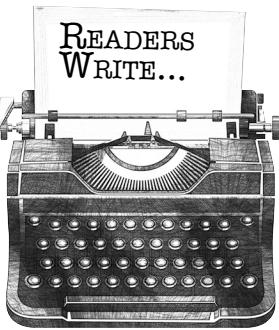

Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

Elevation question

EDITOR:

After many years of vacationing on the Hill, I have always wondered what reference point is used for determining the elevation of our Hill communities: Pine Cove, 6,200 feet; Idyllwild, 5,303 feet; Mountain Center, 4,444 feet.

MICHAEL BLURTON

we lose everything. Reader support will never be enough. Ask any publisher: Advertising is the life blood of any paper and the loss of our local paper will have serious consequences. Think about that next time you wonder why sales are down.

Idyllwild, wake up!

Lack of advertising in Town Crier

EDITOR:

My wife and I bought our cabin in Pine Cove in 2012. The cabin was a bank repo and required a lot of work. I wanted to use local “Hill” businesses but sources of information were hard to come by and not always reliable.

The Town Crier was the exception and became my primary source for almost all my “Hill” information. I turned to the Classified section and there I found all the information I needed. I hired contractors listed there to replace my septic system, replace the flooring, repair the plumbing and electrical, install a new roof, paint, sweep the chimney, repair the furnace and even an ongoing cleaning service.

We used the ads to learn which movies were playing and for help in choosing a restaurant. In 2012, the paper was filled with ads for local businesses. I would have been lost without that resource.

While reading the most recent edition, I noticed many fewer ads for local companies seeking my business. Why? Don't they still need or want new customers?

Our local paper is needed by everyone and, currently, the owners publish it at a financial loss. Where would the local businesses be financially if there were no local rag to advertise? If local businesses don't support our paper by taking out ads, how can it sustain itself? What will ultimately become of the businesses?

I believe our Hill communities need the Town Crier to survive. With no ads, businesses will fail; with fewer businesses, tourism will drop and more businesses will fail. Property values will drop and the local economy will collapse.

The Town Crier, residents and businesses all depend upon each other for economic survival. If we lose either,

EDITOR:

Idyllwild Fire and Idyllwild Water are sub-standard agencies that refuse to fix their problems not because they fail to identify them, but rather they don't see the importance of doing so. The arrogance is appalling, dangerous and reason enough for dissolution.

IFPD won't be the lead agency saving your home during a wildfire nor will Idyllwild Water be capable of delivering the water through hydrants to put it out, period. Forget poor water quality, insufficient hydrant flow/ placement and substandard EMS services.

Sadly for IFPD, it's about happy notes from grandma, deception found within grand-jury investigations, professional competence, employee lawsuits and Santa Claus on the fire truck. For IWD, it's about cheap water for businesses at the expense of proper district maintenance. The damning evidence is clear and overwhelming. Money can't fix this bad conduct.

IFPD must be dissolved and replaced with Riverside County Fire/Cal Fire. It can be done quickly with minimal expense to homeowners.

Idyllwild Water can be dissolved, too, but who wants to fix this t---? Bad pipes, substandard hydrants, broken wells and horrible water can be fixed, but not its board and staff that continue making the problem.

Thank goodness Pine Cove and Fern Valley water districts have independent thinking, united, knowledgeable, assertive and caring boards.

MATTER OF FACT

In last week's story on page A7 about a suspected felony DUI crash, the California Highway Patrol reported that American Medical Response transported both passengers to Hemet Valley Medical Center.

According to Idyllwild Fire Chief Patrick Reitz, AMR transported one passenger and Idyllwild Fire transported the other.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW

Sixteen years ago, our world changed forever

To visit the site of the 9/11 attacks today, the National September 11 Memorial Plaza at the World Trade Center, is to see a country’s spirit reborn and renewed with haunting tributes, graceful and soaring architecture, somber and beautiful museums, and the sound of water pouring from fountains outlining the bases of the two towers —water that can be heard, at any time of day or night, over the noise and bustle of lower Manhattan, as a reminder.

At 8:46 Sept. 11, 16 years ago, the first plane struck the North Tower. It was the beginning of a coordinated attack that would down both skyscrapers, severely damage the Pentagon in an attack meant for the Capitol or White House, and send a fourth plane into a field in Pennsylvania as passengers united to take the plane back from hijackers.

It changed our country and was, along with Pearl Harbor, an attack that imbedded a new and lingering fear into each of us. Our oceans no longer provided the historic isolation and safety from foreign attack they had long provided. We discovered we were, and are, vulnerable.

Some reacted angrily denouncing Muslims and fostering suspicions of the “other” that continue to this day. Some sought to bring the county together — all races, all creeds, all religions — since, as a country of immigrants, we are all the “other,” part of a rainbow American family.

Now, with the divisive election of 2016 behind us, and with the political rhetoric as divisive and heated as it has ever been, we are left to wonder what 9/11 taught us. Who are we today and how are we different from who we were before 9/11?

Many proclaim loudly with sanctimonious authority. Few listen. Cooperation and tolerance are victims.

In the shadow of the Twin Towers, there is a poem by Emma Lazarus on a bronze plaque in the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty that speaks of who we were, and are can perhaps still be as a country. On the 16th anniversary of 9/11, the poem speaks eloquently about what it is to be an American.

“Not like the brazen giant of Greek fame,
With conquering limbs astride from land to land;
Here at our sea-washed, sunset gates shall stand
A mighty woman with a torch, whose flame
Is the imprisoned lightning, and her name
Mother of Exiles. From her beacon-hand
Glowes world-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
The air-bridged harbor that twin cities frame.
‘Keep ancient lands, your storied pomp!’ cries she
With silent lips. ‘Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!’”

New Town Crier distribution points

The Town Crier has new distribution locations on the Hill. As we’ve advised previously, beginning with this week’s Sept. 7 issue, the Town Crier will no longer be “free on the Hill.” The price is $1 per copy at eight locations: Idyllwild Chevron, Idyllwild Shell, Fairway Market, Lake Hemet Market, Mountain Center Market, Pine Cove Market, Village Market and the Town Crier office.

However, we know $1 a week for the newspaper does not fit within everyone’s budget, so if it doesn’t fit within yours, you may obtain a free copy at the Idyllwild HELP Center or at the Town Crier office. The Town Crier can also be read at Idyllwild Library.

ago, it did not have enough business advertising to survive. So we tried a series of incentives in an attempt to attract advertising: We slashed our advertising prices by 25 percent, we offered full-color ads at no additional price, we tried publishing a promotional magazine, we introduced contests and new columns and improved our games, and our office remained open seven days a week as a Visitors Center to serve the needs of visitors to our Hill, hoping that serving them would increase business for our advertisers.

We tried “bundling” advertising in our various publications, providing deeper discounts for advertising in more than one publication. We changed printing companies and went to a broadsheet size because we knew it would produce a more reliable, better-quality newspaper with consistently sharper, more-colorful photos and ads, which it did.

Eight months ago, we made the Town Crier “free on the Hill” with free issues in each Hill mailbox, and the paper’s circulation went from about 2,350 to about 5,500 — more than 230 percent of what it had been previously — which meant more than twice as many eyes on our advertisers’ ads.

We distributed Town Crier publications at more than 60 locations around the Hill which resulted in thousands more Town Crier newspapers, Explore Idyllwild Directories and Explore Idyllwild Maps in the hands of Hill visitors than ever before. We published the Town Crier’s actual distribution and circulation numbers on page A4 every week, and we offered to share with potential advertisers the detailed records of our increased distribution and circulation.

We even appealed directly to local businesses’ sense of community spirit, asking them to support the Town Crier for the benefit of our whole community, growing their businesses through advertising at the same time.

Although these efforts helped somewhat, they did not produce nearly the needed level of advertising from our local businesses. Some businesses say they can’t afford to advertise (?), others say they don’t need to advertise (!), and some give no explanation at all. But, whatever the reason, the traditional advertiser-funded community newspaper model does not work on our Hill anymore. So we must try something different.

So, beginning with this issue, we can no longer provide the Town Crier free to the Hill.

We both are volunteers at the Town Crier, serving these years with no compensation. To be clear: no cash, wages, salaries, commissions, draws, advances, bonuses or dividends — no compensation of any type. (One month, we did try paying our publisher-editor minimum wage, but that lasted only one month. The paper couldn’t afford it.) Whenever we dine out, or stay at a hotel or motel, it’s all on our personal credit cards. The Town Crier cannot afford to budget for meals, travel or entertainment.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF JOSEPH D. INGRAM
AKA JOSEPH DURAND INGRAM
AKA JOE DURAND INGRAM
Case No. INP1700555
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of JOSEPH D. INGRAM AKA JOSEPH DURAND INGRAM AKA JOE DURAND INGRAM
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Victoria A. Ingram in the Superior Court of California, County of RIVERSIDE.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Victoria A. Ingram be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 9/25/17 at 8:45 AM in Dept. No. 1A located at 46-200 OASIS STREET, INDIO CA 92201. Branch: Indio.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Preventing suicide sessions

In honor of World Suicide Prevention Week, practitioners of Access Bars will be hosting events all around the world and opening their doors for anyone looking for a different possibility or a spark of hope.

Free sessions are being offered at the Idyllwild Library for those struggling with anxiety, severe stress and thoughts of suicide — or for those who have lost a loved one to suicide.

Access Bars is the core of Access Consciousness, developed by its founder Gary Douglas. Douglas believes the Bars are 32 points on your head that when gently touched, release anything that doesn’t allow you to receive.

The next event is from noon to 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 14.

Incumbents easily win re-election to Pine Cove Water board

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Pine Cove voters continue to express their satisfaction with incumbents on the water district's board.

All three — Board President Robert Hewitt, Lou Padula and Joel Palmer — were easily re-elected to another four-year term. Challenger Jeffery Kleefisch finished with 60 votes (or 12.1 percent of the ballots cast), well behind the three incumbents who garnered more than 150 votes (or 29 percent) each.

Hewitt will begin his second four-year term. He has served on the board since 2012.

When learning of the election results, Hewitt wrote in an email, "I am grateful to the Pine Cove citizens for showing their confidence in the work we are doing at PCWD and look forward to continued success."

Padula, who was the leading vote getter, said, "I'm happy and glad all three got re-elected. The people want us to continue and we're a good team to keep going."

Padula was re-elected to his fourth full term. His first victory was in the 2005 election. Palmer will begin his third full term and has served on the board for 10 years.

Kleefisch is a relatively new full-time Pine Cove resident. He moved here as a full-time resident in 2015.

The county Registrar of Voters has not certified the current totals because any ballots with postmarks on or before Tuesday, Aug. 29, and received by Friday, Sept. 1, still have to be counted. The official final results will be announced Sept. 7.

As of Friday, Sept. 1, the current PCWD election results are:
Candidate	Votes	Percent
Louis Padula	154	29.79
Joel Palmer	152	29.40
Robert Hewitt	151	29.21
Jeffery Kleefisch	60	11.61

Golf

Jim Crandall, Palms to Pines Golf Association handicap chair, provided this report about the association's regular monthly tourney in August and the beginning of its year-end playoffs.

Idyllwild's Palms to Pines Golf Association held the regular monthly tourney in conjunction with the first round of playoffs for club champion on Friday, Aug. 18, at the Golf Club at Rancho California.

The playoffs had the top 8-point finishers face off for the association's annual championship. This year, play-off contenders were Peter Holzman, Lee Lanfried, Dennis Chavez, Barry Wallace, Crandall, Pete Capparelli, Ken Garelick and Dave Robb.

The play-off format pits the top-point person and the eighth, the second point total faces the seventh, the third plays the sixth, and number four and five play each other.

In the first round of the playoffs, Robb (course handicap 13) beat Holzman (14), Capparelli (26) beat Chavez (9), and Garelick (25) beat Lanfried (26).

Crandall (14) and Wallace (14) could not play until Aug. 30 and their match was played at The Country Club at Soboba Springs. Crandall left the course as the victor.

The semi-finals will be later this month when Robb will face Capparelli, and Garelick and Crandall will meet. The winners play for the club championship.

In the first regular tourney for the 2017-18 year, Capparelli's net 67 earned him first place. In second was Chavez, who shot a net 69. Scott Schroeder (22) shot net 70 for third; Robb shot net 71 for fourth. Crandall (14) and John King (26) tied for fifth place with net 73s.

The winners of the closest-to-the-pin contests on the four par threes were Chavez on hole no. 2, Crandall on hole no. 6, Capparelli on hole no. 10, and David Hiemenz (41) was the closest on hole no. 16.

The August tourney was the beginning of the 2017-18 point garnering season for the club championship playoffs next year. Here are the current point standings for the new season, which runs from August through July 2018:

Place	Golfer	Points
1	Pete Capparelli	6.5
2	Dennis Chavez	4.5
3	Scott Schroeder	3.5
4	Dave Robb	2.5
5	Jim Crandall	1
tied	John King	1
7	Mike Brown	.5
tied	Dave Curl	.5
	Jerry Daquila	.5

	David Hiemenz	.5
	Pete Holzman	.5
	Lee Lanfried	.5
	Bob Wadlow	.5
	Barry Zander	.5

In regular season, points are awarded at each tournament as follows: first place, 6 points; second place, 4 points; third place, 3 points; fourth place, 2 points; fifth place, 1 point. Also, one-half point is awarded to everyone who participates.

A member has to compete in at least five regular-season tournaments to qualify for the playoffs.

The club is a member of the Southern California Golf Association and is sanctioned to establish SCGA handicaps for members.

If interested in joining the club or playing as a guest, contact Crandall at jim.crandall@verizon.net or 951-265-5732, or Capparelli at pete@capparelli.com or 951-452-5552.

County and school district facing employee negotiations

County union plans strike

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Labor Day weekend passed with the usually community events and political speeches throughout the nation and in California.

However, labor issues are coming to the forefront locally. Both Riverside County and Hemet Unified School District will be addressing them this fall.

Tuesday evening, Sept. 5, HUSD held a public hearing to receive the list of proposed issues from the Hemet Chapter of the California School Employees Association.

CSEA is separate from the Hemet Teachers Association, which signed a new contract with HUSD this spring after going through the impasse process. The new contract expires June 30, 2019.

The current CSEA contract expired last year. CSEA is proposing a new, three-year contract. The list of issues, the association wants to negotiate is three pages long.

Some of these, besides salaries and benefits, include leave time, use of building space, work schedules and evaluations.

The county has already declared an impasse with two of its labor groups. On Aug. 30, the county's labor counsel, Zappia Law Firm of Huntington Beach, wrote both Service Employees International Union Local 721 and Laborers' International Union of North America Local 777 informing them the county has declared an im-passee.

The county also is negotiating a new contract with the Riverside Sheriff's Association.

SEIU, which represents about 7,300 of the county's roughly 20,000 employees, announced plans this week to go on strike starting Wednesday, Sept. 6.

"Declaration of impasse begins a process that could lead to mediation if requested by a union. Then, there would be fact-finding," wrote county Public Information Officer Ray Smith in an email to the Town Crier.

"A person acceptable to the union and the county would hear both sides. If still no agreement at the end of fact-finding, the fact-finder would write a report that goes to the Board of Supervisors. The board members would could then direct staff to continue negotiating, impose terms, or do nothing," he said, adding that both sides might reach an agreement at any time during the mediation process.

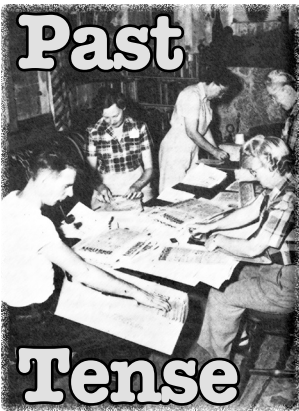

In the letter to the two unions, Edward Zappia said the impasse was authorized because of "... parties' inability to reach agreement on numerous terms and conditions of employment after a year of negotiations and over 10s [sic] of bargaining sessions, and [the union's] failure to respond to the County's Last Best and Final offer issued back on July 12, 2017."

The supervisors have had difficulty balancing the county budget for several years, and major salary or benefit increases will exacerbate their problem. But these employee groups have not had a new contract for several years.

Readers

Being volunteers was fine for us, but it meant that when we retired the Town Crier would retire with us, since nobody likely would want to acquire a newspaper that is viable only if the editor, proofreader, pickup/distribution man, light-duty handyman and occasional lawyer all are willing to work for free. And since Jack is 72, our retirement will be sooner rather than later — not likely very much later than this time next year; perhaps sooner than that. So, our goal now is to quickly make the Town Crier financially viable so it can be acquired by other, younger publishers dedicated to providing a real newspaper for our Hill. And as we said in a recent follow-up story, we do not intend to retire before finding new publishers that are right for the Town Crier and our Hill.

The truly major difference we must now make is to our funding:

We now realize that Town Crier support is going to have to come from those who value us most — our readers. And our readers frequently tell us that they do not want just an online-only newspaper; they still want a real ink-on-paper newspaper, too.

We have received many "thank yous" and favorable comments from our readers who really do appreciate what the Town Crier is doing for our community. During the past 16-18 months alone, the Town Crier's investigative journalism produced several articles revealing important information that had been misrepresented and/or concealed by our local governmental agencies. Our readers let us know they appreciated the Town Crier's serious journalism informing them of these matters.

So, we now are making a last effort to keep the Town Crier serving our community: We are appealing to our readers to save and support the newspaper with Memberships at five levels of support: Sustaining Readers, Sponsors, Patrons, Heroes and Angels, depending upon what you feel you can afford to keep the Town Crier benefiting our community.

So, please take stock of your feelings about the value of the Town Crier and your ability and willingness to contribute to save and support it for our community. The Membership Application on page A5 will explain how you can help. We will routinely publish the results of this ongoing Membership drive in the Town Crier, so you can see how it is progressing. The importance is this: A Membership-supported newspaper can serve our community endlessly into the future.

We do realize that not everyone can afford to be a Member even if they want to be, and not everyone can fit a $1 newspaper into their budget each week. So a number of free papers still will be available at the HELP Center and the Town Crier office for those whose budget cannot allow for a newspaper — and the Idyllwild Library will always have the Town Crier on file, too.

Thanks to you, our readers, for your attention, and for all your well wishes and support over the years.

We also thank those businesses who have supported the Town Crier with their advertising and continue to do so; we wish there were more of you.

We both feel enormously happy to have been able to give our Hill a real community newspaper during the past four-plus years.

With our great appreciation and thanks.

Historical Society's Home Tour features five homes

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

Idyllwild's history, much like that of Anza and Garner Valley, is colorful and rich. Old-timers are proud of having lived through times of no regular electricity and rutted roads.

The Idyllwild Area Historical Society and museum sponsors an annual home tour whose residents are proud of their homes' history and restoration efforts. Said new IAHS President Charlotte Grody, "Home owners are at the toured homes and will discuss their renovations and home-maintenance efforts. These homeowners are engaging and just love their homes."

This is the 17th year of the tour, with visitors numbering between 500 and 650. The museum is the sixth edifice on the tour and the oldest of the homes. It was built in the 1920s and during the tour, will be a place for folk to stop for refreshments between home visits.

Four of the homes on tour were built in the 1930s and the fifth, built in the 1960s, sports a marriage between mid-century Palm Springs and Idyllwild. Toured homes feature a variety of historic touches, including knotty pine, stone fireplaces, hand-crafted wood mantles, authentic appliances from the 1930s and 1940s, Native American artifacts, and wonderful gardens and walkways.

People who love the mountain's history and architectural authenticity will appreciate the immersive experiences this tour offers.

The IAHS home tour is from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16. The cost is $20 per person. Tickets, which are the home-tour booklet, can be purchased on the day of the tour next to the monument in the center of town starting at 9:45 a.m. or at the museum. Pre-sale tickets can be bought at the museum during normal business hours, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, 54470 North Circle Dr., at the corner of Oakwood Street.

InterArts Chair Abbie Bosworth next at Spotlight on Leadership

By MARSHALL SMITH
STAFF REPORTER

The Associates of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation sponsors Spotlight on Leadership, a series at which faculty members, chairs of academic and arts departments, discuss their curricula, challenges and student projects.

At 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 11, Inter Arts/Fashion Design Chair Abbie Bosworth with talk about the one major at Idyllwild Arts that integrates various artistic disciplines, giving students a broader scope of art studies.

The series is designed to familiarize Idyllwild residents with the school's academic and arts programs, and the challenges of teaching to an increasingly international student body. IAA's student enrollment is more than 50 percent international, with students from more than 30 countries attending the residential arts high school (ninth through 12th grade, as well as post-graduate students).

IAA provides pre-professional training in the arts and a comprehensive college preparatory curriculum. Majors include music, theater, dance, visual arts, creative writing, film and digital media, and inter arts/fashion design.

Bosworth will talk about her department's approach to providing students with structured pathways to move between art forms. Ninth and tenth graders focus on different learning techniques inherent to specific art forms. Upper-class students focus on integrating several arts fields of study into a comprehensive, interdisciplinary project. Senior shows can take the form of gallery exhibitions, site specific installations, performances, films, fashion shows or published texts.

Inter-arts students explore a variety of "pathways," finding their way through various areas of interest, including fashion design, design, storytelling, performance practice and digital communication.

Fashion design is a significant and growing component of the academy's arts programs. Students receive in-depth training from hand and machine sewing to fashion illustration, photography and conceptual design. Fashion shows take place each winter and spring.

Storytelling, too, is a growing area of student interest, allowing students to explore writing fiction and non-fiction while working with other departments including creative writing, film, visual arts and theater.

Bosworth, with background as a writer, performer, director and teacher, is the ideal chair for the department. She is an engaging presenter and conversationalist. She teaches theater and creative writing at IAA and acting at Brockus Dance Conservatory in Redlands. She is a published playwright whose works have been performed at the Kennedy Center's American College Theatre Festival, Cal State San Bernardino and the Ruskin Group Theatre in Santa Monica where she is a member of the New Play Development program. She also is a teacher in the IAA Creative Writing Department.

Spotlight on Leadership talks are open to all and are free to attend. They take place at the Fireside Room of Nelson Dining Hall on the IAA campus.

CONTEST JUDGE

Only three correct entries that I know of this week; Laurie Cole, Dave Hunt and Kris Kirshbaum all identified the purple wall of the Hicksville Pines Motel on Highway 243 in Pine Cove. But, in accordance with our long-standing rule, also in this week's pot are Kathy Nielson and Linda Otterbeck, both of whom I negligently left out of last week's contest. Outta the hat came — Oh, you'd never guess — Kris' name again! So, Kris, please come to the Town Crier office to pick up your $25 Visa gift card, available through the courtesy of June Rockwell and the Idyllwild Burger House. OK, this week's photo is in celebration of our new family canine, Amigo, whom we are fostering through the good people at ARF. Where is this stone-still fella?

One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the Town Crier office.

AAI celebrates 20th-annual Art Walk and Wine Tasting

On Saturday, Oct. 14, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., visitors to the mile-high artist community of Idyllwild will experience the magic that happens when galleries, artists and Southern California wineries join forces to raise money for art scholarships and events.

The annual Art Walk and Wine Tasting, presented by the Art Alliance of Idyllwild, a 501(c)(3) organization, draws more than 2,000 visitors.

Art lovers are invited to start their art hunt at 10 a.m. by visiting galleries and art hot spots set up around town. The “Art Walk” is free to the public and maps will be available at 54295 North Circle Drive.

Wine enthusiasts are invited to enjoy the “Art of Wine” in the afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. when 18 Southern California wineries from Temecula, Warner Springs, Escondido, Fallbrook, Julian and Idyllwild share a selection of great wines at art locations around town. The fall weather makes walking from location to location a fun experience, but free shuttles also will be available to transport guests between venues.

A VIP event will allow wine enthusiasts to mingle with the wineries on Friday evening. Tickets are $50 each to this event hosted at Middle Ridge Winery. The evening features their wines, hors d’oeuvres, conversation and the opportunity to admire the local art that adorns the walls. There are only 20 tickets available so reserve your ticket early at visit www.artinidyllwild.org. Included in the ticket price are the wine tastings, a keepsake wine glass, live music, and a selection of cheeses and crackers.

Ticket prices for the wine tastings are $35 each person, with a special price of $30 each for groups of 15-plus and available at the website listed above. AAI members also receive discounted ticket prices. Visit the email address listed above. All ticket prices will increase Friday, Sept. 15, and, if any tickets are available on Oct. 14, they will be $50 each, regardless of quantity.

Steele now 27th on the FedExCup points list

BY JACK CLARK
PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

Brendan Steele carded 69-70-78-69 — 286 to tie for 56th at the Dell Technologies Championship in Massachusetts last week.

Consistency was a problem for the Idyllwild native: He fired a blazing 5-under-par 31 on the front nine Saturday, then posted a 4-over-par 40 on the same nine the following day in the rain.

Brendan now stands 27th on the FedExCup points list. He needs to do fairly well in next week’s BMW Championship in order to fend off likely charges by the likes of Hudson Swafford, José Garcia, Charles Howell III and Phil Mickelson, who currently are positioned 33rd through 36th on the list — all striving to get in the top 30, since that is what’s needed to advance to the Tour Championship.

Third marijuana dispensary claims different objective

By Marshall Smith
Staff Reporter

There are now three businesses in Idyllwild that in some form dispense medical marijuana or cannabis products. According to proprietors, they have different operational models and different objectives.

The latest, Higher Gardenz, according to spokesperson Mike Boris, is a non-profit 501(c)(3) cooperative run by a team of volunteers. Higher Gardenz shares a suite fronting Highway 243 near Village Market with two non-cannabis-based businesses.

Boris is a medical-marijuana educator who discusses the curative aspects of CBD topicals on FM stations in San Diego, Phoenix/Tempe and Las Vegas. He also writes for San Diego's Candid Chronicle to explain, in a confusion-prone market, how medical-marijuana topical salves and other products can be healthy treatment options for many chronic, pain-based conditions. Boris is a spokesperson for the cooperative, but not the senior manager.

Topicals are cannabis-infused lotions, balms and oils that are absorbed through the skin for localized relief of pain, soreness and inflammation. Because they're non-psychoactive, topicals are often chosen by patients, including the elderly, who want the therapeutic benefits of marijuana without the euphoria or disorientation of other delivery methods. According to cannabis educators, even if a topical contains active THC, it still won't induce the "high" one would get from smoking or ingesting cannabis.

Proponents claim cannabis salves can reduce muscle tension, unlock muscle spasms, and soothe aches and pains from stress and overwork. Those who, like proprietors of Higher Gardenz, say they are in business to serve medical needs, view themselves as healing centers.

Boris invites the Idyllwild public to visit Higher Gardenz to inquire about the benefits of medical cannabis. "Questions should never be met by confrontation, only by education," said Boris.

He said he is aware that attitudes regarding cannabis are shifting after statewide passage of Proposition 64. "It's a gray area," he said, when informed of the current illegality of cannabis cooperatives under Riverside County's land-use regulations. He and others note the public pushback and campaigns against the evil of alcohol once prohibition was repealed. Many, including some medical practitioners, view potential for damage to the integrity of the body system to be greater with alcohol than with cannabis. Marijuana has been shown to relieve pain and ameliorate certain medical conditions, something which alcohol has not yet demonstrated.

County supervisors plan to put a measure on the November 2018 ballot to tax the sale of marijuana and cannabis products. The tax would fund regulatory efforts for cannabis in the unincorporated areas. If the tax passes, regulation could begin once measures and staff are in place to do so.

In the meantime, and this the board of supervisors stresses, until new regulatory ordinances are in place, any marijuana business, for medical or adult recreational use, is still prohibited in the county's unincorporated areas.

The board stated, "... no permit of any type shall be issued for cannabis businesses or cannabis activities until the county adopts a comprehensive regulatory framework for medical and adult-use cannabis."

Within the space occupied by Higher Gardenz, two other businesses operate, sharing a pleasant and well-furnished reception room. One, Gardens of Wellness, is owned and operated by Leslie Scaramella Mays. Mays says she markets holistic healing products, such as essential and therapeutic oils, and a variety of diagnostic treatments. She said her line of Doterra oils are naturally powerful antioxidants that are 70 times more potent than and as pure as dried herbs. Mays also conducts foot detoxes, and skin scans and analyses through electrical stimuli.

The third business operating from the central suite is Bear Claw tattoo studio and Sea Miracle Super Food supplies. Owner Jamie Lachappa was not available for interview.

Boris said Higher Gardenz is Prop 215 compliant (the 1996 medical marijuana initiative) and both Boris and Mays stated they were operating their respective businesses with the intention of complying with all applicable laws. Neither was aware of the county's current prohibition of cannabis-based businesses in the unincorporated areas.

Whether sharing a single location with a central reception suite can negatively affect the non-cannabis-based businesses remains to be seen, since neither Code Enforcement nor the Sheriff's Department has visited or yet cited Higher Gardenz.

CREATURE CORNER

By Janice Murasko

Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," the Kapital Kittens were introduced.

Little Girl: I love this office cat job because I just love sharing good news.

Bodie: That must be fun. Do you have some to share?

Little Girl: I do! Four of the Kapital Kittens have found forever homes, so that leaves Trenton and Augusta.

George: That was fast!

Little Girl: It was, and I have more good news. Tinkerbelle has been adopted and Ivory the senior dog has also found a forever family.

Roadie: And have you heard that my adoption is pending? If all goes well, I'll be with my new forever dad this Friday!

Bodie: Congratulations, Roadie. I hope my forever family finds me very soon.

Little Girl: Wait! I'm not finished! We have a new feline family member. His name is Ranger and he is such a friendly, happy guy. He was found at the ranger station up here, and no one has come to claim him, so he is now looking for a new forever home.

Sadie: I think I should have taken notes! This is a lot of news to absorb.

Little Girl: You're right, Sadie, so I'll summarize. Denver, Austin, Phoenix and Juno, four of the kittens, were adopted. Tinkerbelle also was adopted. Ivory the senior dog was adopted, and we got a new cat, Ranger. We have three kittens still here, looking for forever families. One boy, Trenton, and the little girl Augusta are so playful and cute! Oh, and Roadie has a pending adoption. Whew!

Mr. Gray: I met Ranger this morning. What a nice guy! He loves humans. Some family will be very lucky to have him.

Pepper: I'm going to go play with those kittens. Bodie, you like cats. Want to join me?

Bodie: You bet!

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of "Days of Our Nine Lives" each week. And please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Hwy. 243 on Saturdays 10-4 and Sundays 10-2, or by appointment M-F by calling 951-659-1122.

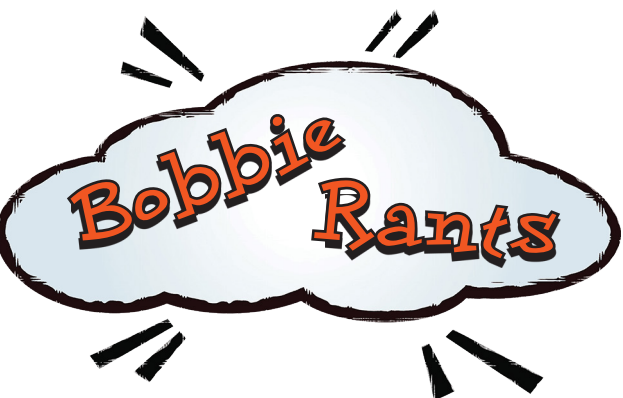

Creature Corner is sponsored in memory of Dreyfus.

Today I stood at the foot of the driveway and looked at my home. I admired it, turned my head a bit and admired it some more. Dang funny thing, this love for an 800-square-foot slightly listing house. Bad enough I am crazy in love with my dogs but my house, too?

Is there a medication for such irrational responses? But then I once had a secret crush on Ted Kaczinski. And I would marry Gloria Steinem in a twinkling, if she were so inclined. And if I were so inclined. And if I weren't already married.

Oh yes, the house. It was built in 1929 and it shows. It does indeed list. Increasingly.

Soon the kitchen will be out in the garage and our bed will be in the bathroom. This is serious business, but I have

The Reverend Sharon Hudson, regional support coordinator of the Centers for Spiritual Living, will be in Idyllwild on Sunday, Sept. 24, for the ordination of the Rev. Helen Henderson.

Before becoming eligible for ordination, Henderson was required to complete at least 6,000 hours of active service as a licensed minister, and pass a review by a panel of other ordained ministers. Unlike other denominations, the Centers for Spiritual Living does not ordain its ministers upon graduation from seminary or ministerial school, but instead allows ministers to work in the field before they fully commit their lives to ministry.

For Henderson, ordination then becomes the public acknowledgement of her commitment to the church, and is one of the most important moments in her life.

Hudson, of Poway, will officially administer the vows of ordination. Other ordained ministers from Southern California also will be participating in this joyous celebration.

slept in bathrooms before. And cooked in garages.

Outside of lifting the foundation on our shoulders and slipping in some really giant shims, the remedy is beyond us.

From where I sit at the computer, I am able to see clear outside through the "gap" at the bottom of the front door. I am figuring that it would be impossible for us to die of monoxide gas because this house fairly draws great gusts of fresh air through its gaps and malformations. Winter and summer. This also is a sign of sanctuary to all insects and small critters. C'mon in.

Looking out any window is a trip rife with lively distortions and wavy lines. I never did like to look at life as she really is, so this can only be to my advantage. Looking through this old glass, the inn next door resembles the Eiffel Tower, if I catch it just right.

If I turn my head rapidly, I can see cruise ships steaming up and down Cedar Street. Magic in that old irregular glass.

For years, the water in the bathtub ran rapidly when the kitchen faucet was turned on. Brian fixed it last year. I kind of miss it. Not the water loss, but the sense of power it gave me. Voila! Water in the shower.

On these knotty-pine walls are masterworks of art. We have even framed some of them by pasting a mat over a particularly unique pattern of knots. There is a droopy dog's face next to the piano. Waterfalls. Giant insects. Myriad smiling faces. Lots of crucifixes, some with corpses. Lie in bed, cruise the ceiling and enter the Louvre.

There can be no secrets. Drop a feather on the wood floor and it resounds as if a painting has fallen from the wall. We have thought of wall-to-wall carpeting, something soft and snowy white, but a close friend has disallowed it. But then she likes anything old and creepy. She likes me.

HOROSCOPES

September 2017 — Week 1

March 21 – April 19

Falling leaves make way for loads of fun this week. Grab some pals and take in the sights, Aries. The mad rush for support begins at the office.

April 20 – May 20

Don't count your chickens before they are hatched, Taurus. BE prepared for what could happen and have more than one backup plan.

May 21 – June 21

Listlessness settles in at home, and squabbles arise. Plan a fun family outing to ease tensions. A penny saved really is a penny earned, Gemini.

June 22 – July 22

Calling all Cancers. Opportunities abound. Don't miss out. A young one beats the odds. Take them out for an extra-special celebration.

July 23 – August 22

The love of your life surprises you at every turn this week. Enjoy it, Leo. It's been too long. A trip out East results in some very unusual finds.

August 23 – September 22

You are not as joined at the hip as some might imagine. Prove it this week, Virgo. A special occasion draws near. Start the planning now.

September 23 – October 22

Near and far, all eyes are on you this week. Make sure you rise to the occasion, Libra. A review shows you're on the right track to financial freedom.

October 23 – November 21

Forget it, Scorpio. You spoke up last time, and you paid for it big time. The issue has nothing to do with you. Bow out. A question goes unanswered.

November 22 – December 21

Some Sagittarians never learn. Make sure you're not one of them this week. A trip with old friends inspires you to make some much-needed improvements.

December 22 – January 19

Be realistic, Capricorn. You cannot afford to help out every time. Do what you can and be happy with that. An organizational goal is reached.

January 20 – February 18

For crying out loud, Aquarius. How many times do you have to be disappointed before you learn your lesson? Look to those who will see it through.

February 19 – March 20

Extreme measures are called for, Pisces. Do whatever is necessary to make a deadline. A health crisis comes to an end for a friend. Celebrate!

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS

California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: "Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor."

This is a contractor's responsibility, not a newspaper's, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors' advertising, if we notice it.

According to Co-founder/Director Annette Parry, Red Rose embraces "old fashion" play with no gimmicks, just purposeful play and work, along with giving back, and helping animals and nature.
