Fireworks illegal on the Hill

And in most of Riverside County

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

"Fireworks are illegal in Riverside County," stressed County Fire Chief Daniel Talbot at a press conference last week. "Except for certain cities, they are prohibited in all other areas of the county."

Fireworks may be bought and used in the following cities: Blythe, Cathedral City, Coachella, Desert Hot Springs and Indio.

Riverside County Sheriff Stan Sniff reinforced Talbot's warning that use of fireworks in county areas can result in confiscation and possibly arrest.

On the Fourth of July, nearly two out of every five calls to the Sheriff's Department are about illegal use of fireworks, according to Sniff. Responding to these calls delays responses to serious needs.

Sniff also warned that when guns are shot into the air, the bullets come down and can cause damage, "That's a violation," he added.

"The District Attorney stands behind law enforcement. It's illegal to have fireworks in Riverside County," said Managing Deputy DA Stephanie Weissman. "If you are caught possessing fireworks you have purchased somewhere legally, but now you have brought them here where it is illegal, you will be cited and may be prosecuted. If you start a fire using these fireworks, you will be prosecuted for a felony offense."

To report the use of illegal fireworks in non-emergency situations, contact the Riverside County Sheriff's Department at 951-776-1099 or 800-950-2444. If you have an emergency, dial 911.

For a listing of approved public, professional fireworks shows throughout Riverside County, visit the Fire Department's website at www.rvcfire.org.

The Riverside County Sheriff's Department, Idyllwild Fire Department, the U.S. Forest Service and the Riverside County Fire Department are holding a community meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, July 9, at the Idyllwild Fire Station.

Law enforcement and fire officials plan to discuss the risk and threat of fires on the Hill and what can be done to mitigate them.

"There is risk to public safety from campfires in unauthorized areas given the current forest conditions," said Lt. Zach Hall of the Sheriff's Hemet Station. Inadvertent campfires may have been the cause of two recent fires, and perhaps more.

On the Sheriff's Facebook page, he added, "While this meeting is not about managing homeless encampments, it is about the real danger open fires present and what we can do together to reduce the risk."

Hall and the fire officials would like to discuss efforts to help the homeless in the Idyllwild area. Some assistance may contribute to the risk of fire.

For example, offering a homeless person food such as raw meat, which has to be cooked, requires a fire. Left unattended, this fire might spread. Hall stressed that he is trying to offer the homeless services available through county agencies.

"The IFPD, RVC Fire/Cal Fire and USFS, in conjunction with the Sheriff, are working cooperatively to reduce the fire danger to the Hill," wrote IFPD Chief Patrick Reitz. "One part of this effort is reaching out to the homeless population in the area to identify potential risks, identifying hazardous behaviors that could lead to a threatening wildland fire while educating and connecting individuals to needed services."

Homelessness is not a crime, but sometimes this behavior can increase the risk of fire. The Sheriff's Department does have a Homeless Outreach Team, which offers a variety of services, including rooms and apartments to the homeless within the county.

Hall and fire officials want to offer suggestions on how assistance can be shared without creating a fire threat.

They invite, "... all community members, residents, faith-based organizations, help/service centers and business owners."

For more information, contact Lt. Zach Hall at 951-791-3420 or zhall@riversidesheriff.org.

The distance between the Idyllwild Fire Station and the American Medical Response unit near Foster Lake is no longer considered "zero," with respect to Riverside County dispatching an ambulance to a medical emergency on the Hill.

The county changed the policy that said, "For purposes of closest ambulance the AMR Pine Cove Unit and IFPD ambulances are considered equal distance," and made it effective as of June 28.

Financial issues dominated the last meeting of fiscal year 2017-18 for the Idyllwild Fire Protection District's commission last week.

The commission unanimously (3-0) approved a 5-percent increase in the ambulance-service rates. Commissioners Larry Donahoo and Jerry Buchanan were absent.

The new Advanced Life Support cost will be $1,628, an increase of about

The commission also approved a resolution opposing the "Tax Fairness, Transparency and Accountability Act of 2018," which was expected to be a proposition on the November 2018 ballot, but was withdrawn on June 29.

Hill residents love to vote

Turnout significantly higher than county and state

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Once again, Hill residents from Pine Cove to Garner Valley have demonstrated their attention, if not devotion, to civic responsibility.

For the June primary, the turnout in the four Hill precincts — Garner Valley, Idyllwild, Mountain Center and Pine Cove — was 57.6 percent. Turnout in Riverside County was 35 percent and statewide turnout was 37 percent.

Depending upon the race, the choice of candidates differed slightly from the rest of the county or state. Even on the Hill, Idyllwild showed a greater tendency to cast a ballot for a Democrat than the other three precincts.

For example, in the gubernatorial race, 53.5 percent of the Idyllwild ballots checked one of the Democrats; however, in Garner Valley 71.4 percent of the ballots were cast for a Republican candidate.

In Idyllwild, Gavin Newsom garnered nearly 40 percent of the votes compared to only 22 percent in Riverside County and a third statewide. In contrast, John Cox received 56 percent of the Garner Valley votes compared to one-third of the votes in Riverside County and a quarter throughout California.

Cox also was the leading voter getter in Pine Cove and Mountain Center, although he did not collect a majority in either precinct.

Congressman Raul Ruiz, the incumbent Democrat for the 36th District, earned 50 percent or more of the votes in Idyllwild, Mountain Center and Pine Cove. But Garner Valley voters preferred Republican challenger Kimberlin Brown. She got 36 percent of the vote and collectively, the five Republican candidates captured more than 70 percent of Garner Valley's votes.

The vote for state senator favored incumbent Republican Jeff Stone, although the differences between Idyllwild and Garner Valley were still present.

Stone was the top vote getter in each of the four precincts. In three, he received the majority of votes cast. Nearly 75 percent of Garner Valley voters favored him. But his total in Idyllwild was 46 percent, only six votes more than Democrat Joy Silver.

The Hill is included in the 71st Assembly District. Incumbent Randy Voepel had two challengers — fellow Republican Larry Wilske and Democrat James Elia. Ninety percent of the district is in San Diego County and Voepel easily won a spot on the November ballot against Elia.

However, Hill voters are not supportive of Voepel. Idyllwild and Pine Cove voters gave a majority to Elia. Voepel got about a quarter of the votes in those precincts.

Both Mountain Center and Garner Valley gave a plurality of votes to Wilske, who actually got the most votes in all of the Riverside County precincts in the Assembly District. Although Voepel received a third of the votes in Garner Valley, Wilske still out polled him with 43 percent.

In the nonpartisan District Attorney's and Sheriff's elections, the Hill's votes were a little more consistent with the rest of Riverside County.

Hestrin captured nearly 60 percent of votes in all four precincts. In Garner Valley, he collected nearly 80 percent.

Countywide, Hestrin earned 66 percent of the vote. In Idyllwild and Pine Cove, he got about 60 percent, 70 in Mountain Center and 80 in Garner Valley.

Except for Mountain Center, which easily favored incumbent Sheriff Stan Sniff, the three larger Hill precincts favored challenger Lt. Chad Bianco. His largest percentage in these three was 43 percent of the Garner Valley voters.

Throughout Riverside County, Bianco got 36.3 percent and Sniff was second with 31.6 percent. They will compete through the summer and fall with the November election deciding the next county sheriff.

Former Hemet Police Chief Dave Brown got about 20 percent of the county vote and about the same on the Hill for sheriff.

On the five propositions, the Hill and the county were together on all except Proposition 68, the natural resources bond measure. Fifty-two percent of county voters cast a "No" ballot, although a majority of the state approved it. However, only Garner Valley, with 70 percent, opposed the measure. The other three Hill precincts supported it.

Idyllwild one of many places that marched Saturday

Zero-policy immigration issue is the motivator

By HOLLY PARSONS
STAFF REPORTER

"Galvanized by the images and voices of immigrant children separated from their parents by President Trump's immigration policies, hundreds of thousands took to the streets Saturday in major cities and small towns across America to expressed outrage that they hope will carry over into the fall election," reported the LA Times, June 30.

Idyllwild residents were no exception. Rallying support for "Families Belong Together," Harmony Monument acted as ground zero at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 30, leaving little question that upwards of 175 residents demand immigration and refugee policy changes at U.S. borders.

Led by a consortium of local community activists, the Idyllwild march became a flashpoint for placards and posters, with the chanting, "No hate! No Fear! Immigrants are welcome here!" Bronwyn Jones states, "I love this mountain village and the wonderful people who live, love and work here."

Marching and chanting in unison, the group circled through Strawberry

Creek Square, across the front of the Fort, up North Circle Drive and ultimately returned to the monument. Participants sporting Idyllwild Indivisible T-shirts mingled between participants carrying signs saying "What if They took your Children?" and "Practice Aloha." Temple Har Shalom fielded a sign reminding "First they came for the children," followed by "We are all family," "I care! Do U?" "Proud Americans do Care" and "Proud Americans for family unity," "Human Rights, Truth and Compassion." Even children carried signs saying, "Families belong together." "Resist; Grab 'Em by the 2018 Mid-Terms" and "We are all Immigrants" were common themes.

What is the takeaway from an epoch mobilization of free speech across the U.S. and in Idyllwild under the banner "Families Belong Together?" The National Domestic Workers Alliance Political Director Jess Morales Rocketto stated, "I have literally never seen Americans show up for immigrants like this." But the subject is far from resolved.

Perhaps the answer lies in the fact that to date, MSNBC reports about 500 families have been reunited, yet thousands of children remain estranged from their families.

Fatal traffic collision on Highway 243

BY HOLLY PARSONS
STAFF REPORTER

At about 6:25 p.m. Monday, June 25, on Highway 243 near mile marker 19.7 in Poppet Flats, a motorist stopped his vehicle at a dirt shoulder to take photos of the panoramic San Geronio Pass below, according to the California Highway Patrol. As the driver walked to the edge of the road, he saw an overturned vehicle in the thick bushes below.

The driver called 911 and CHP responded with Cal Fire to investigate. Upon arrival, CHP and firefighters accessed a damaged green 2010 Toyota FJ Cruiser. After a search of the Toyota and immediate surrounding area, first responders were unable to find any occupants.

CHP requested assistance from the Riverside County Sheriff's Department K-9 unit. Deputies subsequently located the body of Robert Fulton, 63, of Idyllwild, about 200 feet from the vehicle at 9:10 p.m.

CHP officers are investigating the cause of the collision but have yet to determine an exact cause. Drugs and/or alcohol have not been ruled out as a contributing factor(s) in this collision.

Road, Giovanni James, 26, of Perris, was driving a green 1998 Mercury Mystic west on Highway 74. The road curved to the left and the vehicle went off the road onto the shoulder, hit a paddle marker, caught fire and burned completely. There were no injuries and the vehicle was towed to Idyllwild Garage.

At 11:43 a.m. Friday, June 29, Tracy Brown, 49, of San Bernardino, driving a white 1996 Silverado west on Highway 74 east of the Strawberry Creek bridge, allowed his vehicle to drift onto the shoulder where it lost control and overturned. The driver was not injured, and the vehicle was towed to Idyllwild Garage.

At 9:05 a.m. Saturday, June 30, a single-vehicle crash occurred on Highway 243 north of Twin Pines. Kimberly Cooke, 63, of Banning, driving a red 2016 Toyota 4Runner north on Highway 243, allowed her vehicle to drift off the road onto the right shoulder and into the rock mountainside. The driver was transported by American Medical Response to Desert Regional Medical Center with minor injuries. There was damage to the vehicle's front end and it was towed to Idyllwild Garage.

Riverside County Cool Centers opened June 1

Give residents a reprieve from heat

With temperatures rising, people might need a place to escape the heat and cool off. Riverside County offers free cool centers throughout the county and they opened June 1.

Fifty-six cool centers are open to the public at no cost and will be available through Oct. 15, as temperatures warrant. Locally, the Idyllwild Library is available and nearby Anza, Hemet and San Jacinto have cool centers.

Excessive heat and high temperatures can lead to dangerous health situations, particularly for the elderly and those with medical conditions. One potential heat-related injury is heat stroke, which occurs after continued exposure to excessive heat and robs the body of its ability to regulate its temperature. Heat stroke can happen fast and needs to be taken seriously because it can be life-threatening.

The Community Action Partnership of Riverside County, in conjunction with Riverside University Health System, Public Health, coordinate the cool centers. Locations include local senior and community centers. Light refreshments and water will be available at some locations.

I just finished the annual budget for Idyllwild House Publishing Co. Ltd. last Friday, Jack and I had our shareholders' and directors' meetings Saturday, and I feel a tremendous pressure off my back so I can relax tomorrow, the Fourth of July.

Because of our readers and those who see the benefit of advertising in our publications, we are finally in the black after 10 years. That is a tremendously good feeling to know that this business has a future.

But even with that good feeling, I would be remiss not to say how saddened we are here at the Town Crier over the murders of five newspaper employees at The Capital Gazette in Annapolis, Maryland. All of us in journalism are shaken by this story. Our hearts are broken by this news.

We all know someone who has a grudge against us. Fortunately, most of those people never take such an action as that man did in Annapolis.

But, we did have a man like that last year who threatened one of our reporters with bodily harm. The man was arrested and charged, then given a misdemeanor sentence that required an anger management course. Apparently, that did no good because he took to venting his anger online.

What we do in this small town that is more valuable than anything else we do is hold those in government posts accountable to the people they serve. We report on other important issues that affect your lives, too, such as wildfires, traffic collisions and weather events.

Does that make us "the enemy of the people?" No, it doesn't. We who work here are good people who contribute to this community both here at work and outside of work. We, and those journalists in Annapolis, don't deserve to be called "the enemy of the people."

And so many of you have made that clear to us through your support of this past nearly one year of Memberships.

I just stopped this column to take a call from a man in Redondo Beach whose subscription just ran out and who berated me for our Membership model that is keeping this newspaper here for the people of this community. Most of you see the value of the paper being here — even if you spend less for it at the store or pick it up for free at the Help Center.

Tim Grobaty, who writes for the Long Beach Post, recently wrote an opinion piece for PBS in which he pointed out the importance of community newspapers: "To add to the woes is the fact that many politicians see the media as overzealous watchdogs. And they're right to think so; their fear is warranted, because that's what the small newspapers do so well: Keep a steady eye on the opportunistic city government, the shady school board, the double-dipping water commissioner. And there's a direct relationship between a town's size and its paper: The smaller the city, the more important its paper is to the community."

That is also true here and was also true in Annapolis. Small-town newspaper journalists and employees don't get paid much. It is hard work. But we do this because we love it. When I write this column, when our reporters write their stories, they write to you, the reader. We serve you, in a sense. We want you to be informed about what affects you.

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author's name, address and weekday phone number.

The Town Crier will not publish "thank-you" letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (becky@towncrier.com).
Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

Obnoxious

EDITOR:

Last Sunday, while having lunch at the Gastrognome, a group of motorcyclists came roaring into downtown Idyllwild and distributed (not parked) themselves in front of the Idyllwild carved wooden statue. I don't know if they were planning to have lunch at "Jo'An's Restaurant" and were disappointed/mad when they found a lovely park there instead or if they just wanted to let everyone on the Hill know they had arrived.

Anyway, they sat on their bikes and continued to rev up their motors as if to see which bike could make the most noise for almost 10 minutes.

We had guests we had invited to lunch and were sitting outside on the deck at the Gastrognome, and the noise was very disturbing to us, our guests and all others dining outside in downtown Idyllwild.

My belief is that families come to Idyllwild for a pleasant day in the mountains and not to be harassed by a group of noise-making motorcyclists. It is also my belief that there is a Riverside County Noise Ordinance (Sect. 7.35.010), to which even outdoor music groups must adhere. Given this fact, hopefully there is something that can be done by the county should these motorcycle groups continue to want to make themselves known in downtown Idyllwild.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW

Editor's note: Alice Alveraz is volunteering at the Port Isabel Detention Center in Los Fresnos, Texas.

Today (Saturday) I worked as an attorney. As many of you know, I'm here in Texas working as a volunteer medic at a clinic for families who have just been released from ICE. Happenstance and fate connected me yesterday to a group of attorneys who were meeting with parents separated from their children and detained in Port Isabel Detention Center.

Our job today was to gather information about where their children were at, how the kids were, amount of contact (if any), the status of their asylum claim and if they had been subject to coercive efforts to give up their asylum claims in exchange for being reunited with their children — some as young as 6 months.

This is a prison — no phones allowed, no jewelry, no water/coffee. I brought nothing but two pens and a notepad, and was locked in a 10-foot-by-6-foot room from 1:30 p.m. to 8:20 p.m. Each parent (referred to by their number and not name) was brought to me in prison-like attire.

What I learned:

- Mothers were told that if they signed a piece of paper (with no explanation of what it was) they would see their children soon (ostensibly, this was to coerce them to forfeit their asylum claim).
- I was told mothers had been in for 10 to 20 days and had no contact with their children at all.
- Some had a phone call from their child but did not know where they were.
- Many thought that if they were deported, their children would be kept here in the U.S. (turns out this is happening — see recent Reuters article).
- Some parents did not speak Spanish or English well enough to have a credible/reasonable fear interview without violating due process (but did not know how to ask for a translator or that they had a right to a translator).
- Mothers and fathers had been separated from their children for up to 18 days already.
- Mothers and fathers are provided a phone number to call for attorney help but they do not have money to make the call. (I gave them my toll-free number).
- Almost all the mothers cried when asked about their children.

Finally, every mother and father I spoke to was moved and many cried when I told them that today, in every major city all across the U.S., people were in the streets protesting the taking of children. That the many good people of this country were fighting — in the streets and in the courts — to fix this terrible wrong.

I know there is more, but I am exhausted. This took all my stamina, legal knowledge, language skills and empathic efforts in attempting to be there 150 percent for every person I spoke to.

If you are not well out of your comfort zone, you are not doing enough.

Only six more weeks until the one-year anniversary of our Town Crier Membership model. That's when the moment of truth will begin, i.e., when it's time to begin renewing the earliest Charter Memberships. If the Town Crier is to be ongoing, the Membership model has to be ongoing, too. It is crucial that prospective new owners/publishers see that the Membership model continues to work successfully into a second year.

So please plan to renew your Membership when it comes up.

And also, please plan to attend our weekly news meetings, open to the public, Wednesdays at 8:30 a.m. at the Town Crier office. That's when we decide on news stories for the upcoming week. However, this week, because of the Wednesday holiday, the news meeting will be at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, July 5.

Seeking EMax award nominees

For the eighth consecutive year, the Idyllwild Town Crier is requesting nominations for the annual Ernie Maxwell Community Spirit Award. Bring your nomination to the Town Crier office at 54405 N. Circle Dr., mail it to P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549, or send by email to becky@towncrier.com by Friday, Aug. 31.

The honor is given to an individual or group who represents EMax's spirit of community and volunteerism. Prior awardees took actions that created a spark sufficient to bring others into the fray just as Maxwell did with his activities involving the environment.

The nomination information should provide the reason why the individual or group has been nominated. They should have demonstrated a tangible, perhaps physical, effect on the community. The Ernie Maxwell Scenic Trail is an example of accomplishment.

How long has your nominee been active in the community?

Provide a description of their volunteer contributions and accomplishments for the community.

And finally, can you show how these efforts have been adopted or expanded by the community?

The five previous awardees were the Mountain Communities Fire Safe Council in 2011, Dawn Sonnier in 2012, Robert Priefer in 2013, Annamarie Padula in 2014, Wendy Read in 2015, Janice Murasko/Robert Hewitt in 2016 and Jay Mulder in 2017. A plaque in the Town Crier office lists the awardees' names.

Later, you will have an opportunity to vote for the top three 2018 nominees. Group noting, e.g. collecting a list of signatures at a meeting, is not permitted. Votes must be on original, not copies of, ballots available in the Town Crier.

Community Improvement Designation monies, from which each supervisor has a portion to grant to his constituents and local organizations.

In April, Washington provided money for the 2018 Idyllwild Summer Concert Series.

Start studying: 12 measures on November ballot

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Twelve is how many propositions will be on the November ballot and three other possibilities were withdrawn Thursday. Besides U.S. senator, offices such as governor, lieutenant governor, state senator, assembly member, sheriff, school district and perhaps local offices, 12 measures, which range from bond approval to eliminating California in favor of three states, will lengthen the already-crowded ballot.

These include four bond measures totaling more than $16 billion.

Below are brief summaries of the 12 propositions on the ballot this November.

Proposition 1

This authorizes the state to borrow $4 billion to help build affordable housing, including loans to veterans for farms, homes and mobile homes.

Proposition 2

This proposition allows money from a 2016 $2 billion bond to be used for housing for homeless. A legal challenge wanted to limit the use to mental-health services.

Proposition 3

This is another bond measure for $8.9 billion to fund infrastructure projects. These will be for safe drinking water, water quality, water conveyances, groundwater sustainability and storage, surface water storage, dam repairs, and watershed ment to health care and disease prevention," they added, describing their goal.

Another measure would have established very strong privacy measures in California. With the passage of Assembly Bill 375, its sponsors withdrew the proposition.

The new state law allows individuals to request what data has been collected about them, to whom it has been shared and deletion.

"Today, the California and fisheries habitat protection.

Proposition 4

This proposition authorizes the state to borrow $1.5 billion for construction, expansion, renovation and equipping of qualified children's hospitals.

Proposition 5

Allows the transfer of the property tax base of an individual's home to a new residence.

Proposition 6

The "Gas Tax Repeal" and requires future increases in vehicle fuel taxes or fees to be submitted to the voters for approval. In 2017, the Legislature approved a gas tax increase, which is to be used for state road repair and maintenance. Approval of this measure will repeal the proposed funding for this work.

Proposition 7

First, this proposition repeals the state's "Daylight Saving Time Act," which was approved as an initiative in 1949. It would allow the Legislature, with a two-thirds vote, to establish a new daylight saving time period or, also with a two-thirds vote, to establish daylight saving time year-round.

In his signing message authorizing the proposition, Gov. Jerry Brown wrote, "If passed it will — albeit through a circuitous path — open the door for year-round daylight saving. Fiat lux! [Let there be light.]"

Proposition 8

This would limit the amounts that outpatient

Legislature made history by passing the most comprehensive privacy law in the country," said Sen. Bob Hertzberg (D-Van Nuys), the senate sponsor of the bill. "We in California are continuing to push the envelope on technology and privacy issues by enacting robust consumer protections — without stifling innovation."

The third measure withdrawn involved responsibility and liability for lead paint. A court kidney dialysis clinics may charge for care.

Proposition 9

This would divide California into three separate states.

Proposition 10

This would allow local governments to enact rent-control measures by repealing state law, the Costa-Hawkins Rental Housing Act that restricts rent control.

Proposition 11

This would allow private ambulance companies to require emergency ambulance employees be on call during meal and work breaks.

Proposition 12

The proposition establishes standards for the confinement of calves, breeding pigs and egg-laying hens. By 2022, egg-laying hens must have a cage-free environment.

Legislation replaces three measures on November ballot

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The potential number of propositions Californian voters might have had to vote on in November was 15. However, on Thursday, June 28, the sponsors of three measures withdrew them after the state Legislature approved legislation accomplishing their goals and Gov. Jerry Brown agreed to sign the bills.

Soft-drink manufacturers were upset with local governments. They were opposed to recent and future impositions of local taxes on sodas. Consequently, they spent millions to get a proposed proposition eligible for the fall ballot. The measure would have required all new state and local taxes and fees to be approved by two-thirds of the voters.

This would apply to any taxes, not just on soda. So, the Idyllwild Fire Protection District commission passed a resolution earlier in the week opposing the proposed measure because of possible implications on its future parcel-fee measure.

The Legislature approved Assembly Bill 1838 to prohibit the increase or levy of a tax or fee on groceries through 2030. It also repeals or rescinds any increases enacted after Jan. 1, 2018.

In signing the bill, Brown noted that only four out of 482 cities in the state were considering a soda tax. Nevertheless, he wrote, "Mayors from countless cities have called to voice their alarm and to strongly support the compromise which this bill represents."

State Sen. Jeff Stone opposed the bill and referred to it as another deal with special interests. He offered his respect to the proponents of the tax, especially as a means to help reduce child obesity.

On Monday, July 2, the California Medical Association and the California Dental Association announced that they would sponsor an effort to place an initiative on the November 2020 ballot to restore a statewide tax on sugar-sweetened drinks. The associations estimated that this tax would raise $1.7 billion.

"In the face of growing public support for local health taxes on sugar-sweetened beverages, the billion-dollar global soda industry last week put corporate profits ahead of public health and forced an ultimatum upon the leadership of California's state government," said Dustin Corcoran, CMA chief executive officer, and Carrie Gordon, CDA chief strategy officer, in a statement released with the announcement.

"Big Soda may have won a cynical short-term victory but, for the sake of our children's health, we cannot and will not allow them to undermine California's long-term commit-

Supervisors add money for public safety

They also approve fiscal year 2018-19 budget

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Riverside County Board of Supervisors approved a budget, with amendments, for fiscal year 2018-19, which started this week.

The board added $5.3 million to its initial budget. All of the new funds will be for public-safety agencies. The Probation Department received $1.8 million. In response to District Attorney Michael Hestrin's request at the June 11 hearing, Executive Officer George Johnson recommended another $1.5 million for attorney staffing.

Another $2 million was allocated to the Sheriff's Department specifically for augmenting deputy-patrol staff in the unincorporated areas.

In his report of the recommended additions, Johnson told the board, "The Executive Office supports the Sheriff's commitment to identify and implement a variety of solutions to increase the number of patrol hours in the unincorporated areas, until hiring catches up to meet the demand."

Supervisor Kevin Jeffries (1st District) also asked the purpose of the $2 million, ensuring it would be for unincorporated-area staffing.

With the amended funding, the budget for 2018-19 is about $805 million.

Jeffries also raised the question about the contract with consulting firm KPMG. He asked about the contract's future and whether there would be any unused funds.

Chair Chuck Washington (3rd District) responded that he has discussed this issue with Johnson and expects him to report to the board in July about the contract's status, successes, funds and future needs.

In other action, a majority approved sending a letter to Cal Fire Director Ken Pimlott requesting a reduction of 12 positions within the next four months. County Fire Chief Daniel Talbot said he opposed the staff cut.

The 12 work on payroll, personnel and accounting, services that are crucial to firefighters, he felt. "Without these services, it will be a challenge for us to make payroll on time," he said.

While Washington agreed with Talbot and opposed the letter, the vote was 3-1 to sign and send it to Cal Fire.

decision last fall held Sherwin-Williams and Conagra liable for cleanup costs on homes built before 1951.

The paint companies withdrew the measure and three Assembly bills were put on hold.

"While this agreement will protect taxpayers and voters from having to bear the multi-billion-dollar burden created by lead paint, let's not forget that the real issue here is getting lead paint out of homes," Assembly member Tim Grayson (D-Concord) said in the press release announcing the measure's withdrawal.

New Medicare cards are arriving

The U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services is mailing new Medicare cards to protect the safety and security of people with Medicare benefits. The cards no longer contain a person's Social Security number, but rather a unique, randomly assigned Medicare number that protects the identities of people with Medicare, reduces fraud, and offers better safeguards of important health and financial information.

CMS has begun mailing the new Medicare cards to people who currently have Medicare benefits in California. As soon as people receive their new Medicare card, they should destroy their old Medicare card and keep their new Medicare number confidential.

People with Medicare and their caregivers can visit medicare.gov/newcard to find out when new Medicare cards will be mailed to their area. They can also sign up for email notifications about the new card mailing and check the status in their state.

In the summer, the Pine Cove Water District crew replaces and installs new pipelines. Here they are laying a new 8-inch water main along Pine Ridge as part of the South Central Pipeline Installation Project in Pine Cove. The district's goal for this summer is to lay 2,000 feet of new mains and fire hydrants.

Trial date set for Marcus Green

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

A trial start date in the case against Marcus Green has been set for Aug. 17.

Green, 53, of Thermal, was the driver of a car that went over the side of Highway 74 in May 2016 resulting in the death of a 5-month-old child. The Riverside County District Attorney's office filed two felony charges — murder and willful child cruelty — as well as gross domestic violence.

In April, Green's attorney, Michael Rowlands, deputy public defender, filed a motion to set aside the indictment because of irregularities when he was initially charged. However, on Monday, June 4, RC Superior Court Judge Dean Benjamini ruled against the defense motion and set the trial date.

Les Gin newest Idyllwild Water director

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Editor's note: At its June 20 meeting, the Idyllwild Water District Board of Directors selected Les Gin as the fifth director. He replaces Catherine Dearing, who resigned in May. Since Gin did not campaign for the position, the Town Crier interviewed him so the community would have some knowledge of the new water director.

He will have to stand for election in 2020 for the final two years of the term.

Gin has been an Idyllwild resident for less than two years, unlike David Hunt, the most recently appointed director, who has been a lifetime Idyllwild resident.

Gin from Arizona is extremely happy with his choice of Idyllwild for retirement. "When we visited Idyllwild in the summer of 2016, we fell in love with it," he said.

His interest in volunteering has not waned since settling here. Already, with assistance of his partner, Holly Parsons, he has contributed to several Art Alliance of Idyllwild events, including offering his backyard as a staging corral for the AAI's new deer herd.

"I want to connect with the community," Gin said.

While Gin does not have extensive experience with water production or treatment, he does have years of service on public nonprofit organizations and financial acumen, both of which he believes will benefit IWD.

His lack of "hands-on" water experience will not prevent him from learning about water issues and forming an opinion. But it will be the process of forming that decision and involving the public that will be his contributions to the board, he said.

"I believe in an inclusive environment," Gin said. "We all have a stake in its ownership and success. Of course, opinions matter, but through education we learn the facts, not hearsay.

"I try to be an active listener, not trying to form a judgment early," he added. "I want to defuse emotional responses and not make promises before understanding."

Besides cultivating an interaction with the customers and fellow board members' views, Gin recognized that a divided board seldom helps its community.

"After we make a decision, we need a united front," he said. "We can't undermine each other."

Only 66 years of age, Gin has devoted nearly two-thirds of his life to the banking and financial profession. His background makes him comfortable with numbers, including budgets. It motivates his seeking facts for problem solving and decisions.

While he abstained from the vote on raising the IWD water and sewer rates, his first opportunity to cast a director's vote, he did support the proposed 2018-19 budget.

"I have to have numbers, and voting for the budget just made sense to me," he said.

And Gin hopes the power of numbers will help the board educate and enlighten the community. "We need to be able to explain why we're doing what we're doing. Decisions can't be drafted in the dark with no transparency.

"We should be transparent. We're servicing the community," he said, offering to employ the bidding process more to keep the community informed of who and why they are doing their work.

"Sometimes the best long-term decision does not come with the cheapest short-term cost. The cheapest bid may cost more in the long run," he noted from his own experience using contracts.

But Gin is not unaware of local water issues and the district's responsibilities to its customers. He has lived through a very wet winter in 2016-17 and now an extremely dry season in 2017-18.

"These two years have been just the opposite and it is very concerning. We may have to do something this summer," he said.

He even opined about consolidation. Referring to his predilection for numbers, "How do you support three water boards, three executive positions, three administrative staffs? We had nine separate banks in Phoenix, which were merged into one and I was one of the presidents without a job."

He advocated finding the best practices at each district and sharing those mechanisms so that everybody on the Hill benefits.

"It's a community. It's all our water and it needs to be safe and plentiful," Gin urged. "At the end of the day, all each of us does is turn on the tap and want safe water."

of voters at the local level, for increases in state and local taxes, no matter how they are labeled nor how or by whom they are proposed." The sponsors were largely soda manufacturers.

Also, the measure would void any taxes or fees approved after Jan. 1, 2018, and before the enactment of this measure.

Last August, after the state Supreme Court decided California Cannabis Coalition v. City of Upland, many felt this would allow citizen initiatives proposing tax or fee increases to be approved with only a simple majority of votes as opposed to Proposition 218's requirement that government tax and fee increases require two-thirds of the voters' approval.

The commission opposed this measure because its two recent parcel-increase measures — "G" in 2010 and "W" in 2016 — failed to obtain the two-thirds threshold. Since the Upland case, IFPD is interested in a third measure and might encourage a citizen initiative, which the commission believes could obtain a majority vote of approval.

The California Special District Association solicited special districts to approve a resolution opposing the measure and IFPD will send this resolution to CSDA.

The commission also received the financial reports for the current fiscal year. Through May 31, IFPD's revenues for 2017-18 were $150,000 greater than its expenses. This positive balance will likely drop some after June's totals are included.

In June, ambulance receipts are likely to be the greatest source of revenue. Almost all of the property-tax, parcel-fees and mutual-aid reimbursement have been received.

Also, besides the likely monthly expenses of about $175,000, the district will incur costs for the team currently on the Pawnee Fire in Lake County. Reimbursement for these costs will be received next fiscal year.

Nevertheless, staff is optimistic that a positive net balance will still be achieved for fiscal year 2017-18.

In other business, Commissioner Ralph Hoetger was elected secretary.

County policy

Center resident and restaurateur Martha Pearson.

Concerned about an incident involving her uncle several months ago, Pearson has been trying to clarify the different treatment for dispatch of AMR and IFPD. Achieving little success, she organized a community meeting at the Mountain Center Café, her restaurant, Monday evening, June 25.

About 25 people attended, and half were fire or emergency medical officials. Pearson described the frustration created when her uncle had a traffic crash. IFPD responded before Cal Fire or AMR but was told to wait because the call was outside its district.

"It takes so long to get a call in rural areas. It's nerve wracking," Pearson said, relating her own 45 years as an Idyllwild and Hill resident. "This [her uncle's incident] was a really bad experience with ambulance responses living in Mountain Center. I'm just trying to get people motivated."

She questioned why the Pine Cove neighborhood was guaranteed 12-minute emergency response time, while Mountain Center, which is nearly the same distance, is not.

Bruce Barton, director of the county's Emergency Management Department, explained that former Supervisor Jeff Stone agreed with including Pine Cove under the provisions of the county's ambulance contract, thus AMR would serve the community, but he also decided to keep the 12-minute response standard.

The focus of the initial discussion was AMR's location and how it can back-up ambulances in Anza or Pine Cove with other crews. But Pearson said, "All that matters is who gets to calls faster."

Idyllwild Fire Assistant Chief Mark LaMont, who was present as a civilian, added, "You're arguing about the wrong thing. My folks [Idyllwild Fire crews] are here 10 to 15 minutes before AMR ambulance comes."

Shortly after Idyllwild Fire Commissioner Ralph Hoetger asked, "How do we move forward?" Barton replied, "The asterisk [qualification] can go away tomorrow." And he kept his word changing the policy effective June 28.

However, he then stressed that within non-exclusive operating areas, such as Mountain Center or Garner Valley, any permitted provider can serve. However, they would still have to meet state and county standards and provisions.

EMD confirms the providers' compliance through the Advanced Life Support contracts, which is why he urged IFPD to sign one.

"We need to get an ALS agreement signed. You've had 18 to 24 months. What do we need to do?" he asked. "It's a performance-based agreement."

Without this agreement, his department cannot approve IFPD serving a wider area, he emphasized. The fire district, however, feels that the county does not have maps that correctly depict IFPD's jurisdictional boundaries. Although EMD uses the county's Local Agency Formation Commission maps, this group has responsibility for managing public-agency boundaries.

The ALS contract between EMD and an ambulance provider sets the standards, conditions and terms of operations. These are the same throughout the county, and include clinical standards, data reporting and other information to review patient care, according to Barton.

"Being compliant with the law and good patient care are not mutually exclusive," Barton stated.

Idyllwild Fire Chief Patrick Reitz acknowledged that the agreement was awaiting IFPD's concurrence. But he said it has taken months to get drafts back and forth.

While he also acknowledged that EMD had made many compromises, the map issue was not the only remaining difference. "There are a few other issues. If I take it back to the commission, I don't think they'll support it." But he did offer to put it on the commission's agenda for July.

However, at the commission's June meeting, a day after the Mountain Center session, Commission President Rhonda Andrewson said she had several problems with the agreement and wanted to meet with Barton before the contract returned to the agenda.

After the meeting, in response to a Monday question from the Town Crier, Barton said he "... would like to complete that ALS agreement and get it back to the Board of Supervisors before the end of August. The 2018 county EMS plan update is due to the state EMS Authority by Aug. 31, 2018, and we would like to report it has been completed."

Both Pearson and Barton were pleased with the meeting and its results. When told that the "Closest ALS Ambulance" policy had been modified, Pearson responded, "He kept his word; that's good."

Barton reflected on the evening and wrote, "Overall, I thought it was positive. Clearly there were issues discussed that were important to the community. ... It is important that we listen to the community. We are always looking for ways to improve the EMS system. I felt that we were able to provide useful information that was understood, including the requirements that EMS providers need to meet to assure good patient care and patient safety."

Free fishing on Saturday

The California Department of Fish and Wildlife is encouraging all Californians to give fishing a try for free on the Saturdays of July 7 and Sept. 1.

CDFW annually offers two free fishing days, typically around the Fourth of July and Labor Day weekends. On these two days, people can fish without having to buy a sport fishing license.

All fishing regulations, such as bag and size limits, gear restrictions, report card requirements, and fishing hours and stream closures, remain in effect. Every angler must have an appropriate report card if they are fishing for steelhead, sturgeon or spiny lobster anywhere in the state, or for salmon in the Smith and Klamath-Trinity river systems.

All anglers should also check the rules and regulations at www.wildlife.ca.gov/regulations for the waters they plan to fish because wildlife officers will be on duty to enforce them. A fishing guide can be viewed at www.wildlife.ca.gov/fishing/guide.

Ben Cruz painting mural in front of Idyllwild School

BY JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The tiled mosaic at the front of Idyllwild School has passed away. Weather on the Hill was too much for the fragile artwork, according to Principal Matt Kraemer.

However, the school's entrance will still prominently display a significant art piece.

A mural, featuring Tahquitz Peak, will replace the delicate mosaic. Ben Cruz, former Idyllwild Middle School student and a 2017 graduate of Idyllwild Arts Academy, is painting the wall in front of the steps leading to the school's entrance.

Kraemer knew Cruz and admired his work. He commissioned Cruz to do the mural this summer. Cruz's goal is to have the mural completed by July 4.

He said he hasn't done a mural this big, but has done some, including his bedroom wall.

Besides painting Tahquitz Peak overlooking Idyllwild, Cruz will include a mountain lion, as the mosaic did, and Rocky, the school's mascot, standing on a rock.

When Kraemer reached out and invited him to create a public work of art, Cruz said, "I was surprised, but I thought it would be a good challenge."

Painting is his calling. In the fall, he will attend the Kansas City Art Institute and major in painting. His career goal is to become a practicing artist.

The mosaic was crumbling. The weather, heat and humidity was destroying it. Pieces were on the ground and behind the cafeteria. Kraemer and the artist, Gary Parton, agreed it could not continue to be repaired. Rather than replace it with another mosaic that would also be temporary, Kraemer decided to invite Cruz to help his alma mater.

When completed, Kraemer does plan to apply a protective coating, especially against potential graffiti. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Latin heat can't be beat to open the ISCS dance floor

Grupo Bohemio serves up Santana on July 12

BY MARSHALL SMITH
CORRESPONDENT

Idyllwild Summer Concert Series producer Ken Dahleen brings back the popular Latin band Grupo Bohemio to inaugurate Idyllwild summer dance fever.

There are certain experiences, approaching addictions, that are blissfully healthy. Dancing is one of them. Singing is another. Joy is a third.

Dancing sends healing endorphins to the body. Music enlivens the soul. And joy, especially on the dance floor, is contagious.

Add in the driving intensity of the Latin beat — salsa, reggae and the pounding African rhythms of Grupo Bohemio — and you have a perfect summer launch for the dancing-addicted couples of Idyllwild. Not partnered? No worries. Dance alone without embarrassment. Or summon up your bravura and brashness, and ask a stranger to dance. But, no matter what, dance, dance, dance.

A line from "Zorba the Greek" is instructive. "Man needs a little madness, or else he [or she] never cuts the ropes to free." If you are depressed, if you are lonely, if your relationship needs a little more romance, or if you feel the world is going to Hell in a handbasket, cast off all inhibitions and dance to be happy, and dance to be free!

Grupo Bohemio is a family band — brothers and cousins who have played together for years, sharing history and seasoned musicality. That is why they have been an ISCS favorite for many years.

This year, according to spokesman Manny Torres, they are focusing on the percussive rhythms of Santana — audience favorites like "Black Magic Woman," "Evil Ways," "Oye Como Va," "Brown Skin Girl," "Smooth," "Maria, Maria" and "Hold On."

On lead vocals and bass guitar is Jacinto "Chad" Cancino. On keyboard and harmony vocals is Ruben Can-cino. On percussion is Enrique Cano. On lead guitar is Manny Torres. And on drums and harmony vocals is Mike Cancino.

Mike remembered his father's influence in shaping the brothers and their musical bond. "The music came from Dad," he said. "He sang, played the bass and accordion, and had a passion for music." The brothers initially learned music from their father then chose their own instruments when they became older.

Manny said the group has been scoping out July weather for the desert and that on the night of the 19th, their Idyllwild date, desert temperatures will be north of 110 degrees. He enthused about how the group appreciates the cooler climes of the Hill. But perhaps that is wishful, given the heat Torres and Grupo Bohemio are going to generate.

You don't want to miss the beat and the heat. Grupo Bohemio takes the stage at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 12. Opening for them at 6:15 p.m. is Terry Jo.

This season, as it is each year, is free to attendees. But acts must be paid, and expenses must be met. Open your hearts and wallets when the donation jars are passed around. That is the only way this series can continue year after year — with your generous support.

CREATURE CORNER

BY JANICE MURASKO

Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," ARF family members talked about new members and those who had been adopted.

Panther: Little Girl may have gone to her forever family, but we will still carry on her tradition of doing an ARF cat check-in.

Indigo: Good idea! Let's find out what's new with each of us felines.

Panther: And we will start with me! I am a big boy, but not as big as I used to be. I came to ARF with a little poodle when my guardian passed. My poodle buddy was adopted right away, but I'm still here.

Topsy: But why? You are so wonderful.

Panther: Right?? I was 24.5 pounds when I got here, but I've slimmed down to 19.8 pounds. I'm much more active since losing weight. I'm male, and I just love humans and being in a human's lap. I'd be a great family member.

Topsy: You would be. May I go next?

Panther: Sure!

Topsy: So, I am one of the few remaining kittens, and I am jet black. I'm about 10 weeks old, female and super playful. I would love a forever home with a playmate, or maybe someone will adopt me and one of my sisters?

Panther: Thank you, Topsy. How about you, Indigo?

Indigo: Well, let's see... I am the co-office cat. I help Panther welcome all visitors. I got this job because I am so friendly. I'm also a jet-black cat (there are lots of us!) and male, and I would really like a loving home. I try so hard to convince everyone who comes to the ARF House.

Panther: Thank you! We will continue roll call next week.

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of "Days of Our Nine Lives" each week. And please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Hwy. 243 on Saturdays 10-4 and Sundays 10-2, or by appointment M-F by calling 951-659-1122.

CONTEST JUDGE

I was sure I'd get complaints from folk that they couldn't even tell what last week's photo was, much less where. But I got eight entries from Rochelle Ainsworth, Laurie Cole, Dave Hunt, Marsha Kennedy, Kris Kirschbaum, Grace Manues, Chris Morse and Yvonne Smith. They all spotted the rather big-bellied bear near the front of Idyllwild Clothing Co. and Flo-rist in the Forest on North Circle Drive. Names in the hat, and granddaughter Evey Johnson pulled out Grace's slip, so she wins this week's prize. And remember, we really do have prizes again, including ones we back-owe you all!

So, please come to the Town Crier for them. The current prizes are what could be referred to as "Universal Gift Certificates," good anywhere in town.

But, we still are looking for a regular business sponsor, which will get its name published in boldface, as well as an acknowledgment and thank you in this column each week — all for a gift certificate for your own business in the amount of $15 per week — or other prize, you name it.

OK, this week's photo really should be harder — really. Where is this one?

One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the Town Crier office. Email entries to jack@towncrier.com.

Wheaton College student Micah Hitchcock of Idyllwild was named to the spring 2018 Dean's List. Dean's List honors are earned by undergraduate students who carry 12 or more credit hours and achieve a 3.5 grade point average or higher on the 4.0 scale. Micah is the son of Misty and Dave Hitchcock of Idyllwild.

Wheaton College (Wheaton, Illinois) is a coeducational Christian liberal arts college noted for its rigorous academics, integration of faith and learning, and consistent ranking among the top liberal arts colleges in the country.

Rebecca Stewart's Ring cam didn't record the UPS driver making a delivery; it captured a video of a black bear last Saturday night in the North Ridge area. This is a still photo from the video. California Fish and Wildlife Biologist Kevin Brennan responded to the video, "Great example — no garbage, no bird feeder, no problem." Summer reading program at library
"Reading Takes You Everywhere" summer reading program at the Idyllwild Library ends July 31. Everyone is encouraged to sign up. The theme "Reading Takes You Everywhere" will take readers around the world with quite a few exciting activities that celebrate locations and countries. Stop by and pick up a printed calendar of events.

The whole family is welcome to this free event, which celebrates the summer reading program. Each Children's Storytime from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday will take you to a different country with songs and crafts. Next Monday's theme is "Mexico." Bring your "World Passport" (issued at the library) and get it stamped every time you come to an event.

Cooking around the world
In celebration of the Idyllwild Library's Summer Reading Program "Reading Takes You Everywhere," basic skills in food preparation from the country of Mexico, making tacos, will be featured from 10:30 a.m. to noon Wednesday, July 11 at the library. This is a free family event.

Busy month for Rotarians

At the June 27 meeting of the Idyllwild Rotary Club, planning for the Fourth of July Parade was the topic. Co-chairs Barbara Larsh (left) and Cathy Lopez guided the members through the complex logistics requiring many volunteer hours from all of the club members to stage what we all know as the premier small-town parade in the United States.

Ted Kinoshita, with plaque, and being hugged by wife Barbara, was honored as Idyllwild Rotarian of the Year at the Idyllwild Rotary In and Out Dinner on Wednesday, June 27, at the Mile High Café. The annual event celebrated the end of the reign of President Roland Gaebert and the beginning of Chris Scott's presidency.

Roland Gaebert, having already passed the gavel to incoming Idyllwild Rotary President Chris Scott, presented him with an item guaranteed to help with his difficult job over the next year. The hand grenade is labeled "complaints — take a number" and features a tab with number 1. Could come in handy!

Ken Dahleen once again asked the Idyllwild Rotary Club for help in assembling the stage for the Idyllwild Summer Concert Series, which begins July 5. Members of the club have always been happy to assist with the very complicated and demanding job, doing what they can to support the experience that adds so much to life in Idyllwild.

Idyllwild Storytellers to showcase at Middle Ridge

BY HOLLY PARSONS
STAFF REPORTER

Wordsmiths — poetic and lyrical — rejoice! Forums for your work are expanding to include Idyllwild Storytellers, a monthly series hosted by performing poet Brian Michael Tracy. This time-honored tradition places storytelling in all forms squarely in the center of an eclectic gallery at a time when spoken word and song craft have much to offer a world in transition. Each month will feature renowned storytellers from multiplicities of genre, an open-mic session will follow and, of course, spirits will flow.

Following the guest speaker, Idyllwild Storytellers invite artists of all meter and measure to the open mic, as long as the selected work inspires and tells a story. Lyrics accompanied by acoustic instrumentation also are summoned to add their unique mystique.

Tracy is no stranger to Idyllwild's art scene. A long-time pilgrim to these mountains for creative nourishment and a student in the Idyllwild Arts creative-writing program, he and his wife recently made Idyllwild home.

Following a five-year period studying Depth Psychology, Tracy guest-lectured at Pacifica Graduate Institute's, Ph.D. program on the relationship between psychology and poetry. Tracy also authored a series of webinars discussing the healing power of language. His work has appeared in The Wallace Stevens Journal, Plainsongs, California Quarterly, Depth Insights and Yogi Times, and on spoken-word radio programs throughout the United States and Canada, including stations KPFFK in Los Angeles and CIUT in Toronto.

Tracy is the author of three books of poetry, "Driving With Dante" (Conflux Press 2007), "The Distance Between Shores" (Conflux Press 2009) and "Opaque Traveler: A Dream Sequence in Verse" (Tebot Bach 2012). He also has released three critically acclaimed CDs of music and poetry, "Midnight Tea" (2007), "Blackbird Ballads" (2009) and "The Mystical Prism of Being" (2016).

"I think as an artist, I write to make sense of the world. I view poetry as the informed translation of a speechless soul. I think we're all creating on multiple levels. No matter the occupation or avocation, we give ourselves to the world," Tracy muses.

To the question, how does poetry change the world? Tracy responds, "Art gives us new possibilities to feel, see and understand by expanding individual and cultural consciousness. Really good art will invite rediscovery because of the layers. We could say the metaphor of poetry exists when it's detonated."

Midnight Tea

By Brian Michael Tracy

Drink it up

Drink the morning

Drink the daylight

Drink all that you can see

Drink the cup of heaven

Drink the midnight tea

Feast upon the fields

Feast upon your fire

Feast upon your thoughts

Feast on your desire

For the path to your waking

Lies within a slender stream

Abridged by the ego

Between experience and dream

Step to its edge and watch

It slowly drift toward light

Revelation in its wake

Drawing closely into sight

The inlet of the heart

With its wide and wondrous shore

Its sediment of prayer

Its wisdom and its lore

Where your cup is waiting

*Where all that you can't see
Is held in perfect silence*

Til you drink the midnight tea

The first featured storyteller in this ongoing series is mythologist Dr. Catherine Svehla, who will speak to the transformative power of myth. Svehla validates mythology's role to guide and offer tools for personal reflection and community conversation. She states, "I don't think there can be any lasting healing or change, personally or collectively, unless we engage with the myths that shape our lives. We need the wisdom and the wonder contained in the old stories that we call myths and we need to learn how to see through the invisible 'myths' of our cultural narratives and concepts if we want to be better people in a better world."

Svehla will speak Saturday, July 14. Musician and lyricist Keith McCabe will speak and perform Aug. 4. Film director and writer Annette Haywood-Carter will share her artistry Sept. 15. Idyllwild Storytellers will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. in the loft of Middle Ridge Gallery. Stay tuned for the schedule of future speakers.

'What's new? 21st Century Education'

BY HOLLY PARSONS
STAFF REPORTER

This month's Spotlight on Leadership Series features Pamela Jordan, Idyllwild Arts Foundation president and head of school, speaking to a topic germane to leadership: "What's New? Education in the 21st Century."

When a visionary educator leading a premier independent boarding arts school focuses on the horizon, what does she see? "Educational landscapes reforming at a rapid pace. Definitions of excellence are also changing; its achievement requires we consider new models to evolve and expand competencies," advises Jordan.

Certain an arts-academic curriculum best prepares students to masterfully navigate the terrain of an unformed future, Jordan's excitement is palpable. She observes, "A deep dive into the realization that families will soon have a multiplicity of choices, that's the climate we're in today."

As a career educator, Jordan's contribut ion to strengthening the arts' influence on educational excellence can't be understated. Clearly, Jordan's professional context and passion inform her ability to consider and potentially embrace recognized, yet non-traditional, models.

"We can't think of schools as brick and mortar, or even operating within set time frames," adds Jordan. "Our model works, yet considering newly available models that embrace cultural strengths, different economic structures such as for-profit schools with deeper collaborative attributes, micro-schools and the positive leveraging of technology employing student centric curriculums, offer exciting possibilities."

One way IAA underscores its commitment to the Idyllwild community is by sharing strategic approaches which may offer great promise for students. For in-depth specifics, Jordan speaks at 10 a.m. Monday, July 9, in The Weston Room in the Krone Library building on the Idyllwild Arts campus.

The free series is open to the public and sponsored by the Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation.

HOROSCOPES

July 2018 — Week 1

March 21 – April 19
Your persistence pays off as the information you demanded starts to come through. The pace is slow at first, but it begins to speed up as the week draws to a close.

April 20 – May 20
An unwelcome bit of news jolts the Bovine, who would prefer that things proceed smoothly. But it's at most a momentary setback. A Leo brings more welcome tidings.

May 21 – June 21
You need to pay close attention to the details before making a commitment. Don't accept anything that seems questionable, unless you get an answer that can be backed up.

June 22 – July 22
Congratulations on getting that project up and running. But as exciting as it is, don't let it carry you away. Make sure you set aside time to spend with family and friends.

July 23 – August 22
Be sure you are part of the discussion involving your suggestions. Your presence ensures that you can defend your work, if necessary. It also helps gain your colleagues' support.

August 23 – September 22
A misunderstanding needs to be dealt with, or it can grow and cause more problems later on. Be the bigger person and take the first step to clear the air.

September 23 – October 22
Set some strict guidelines for yourself so your heavier-than-usual work schedule doesn't overwhelm the time you need to spend relaxing with loved ones.

October 23 – November 21
You might feel a little uncomfortable being among people you hardly know. But remember that today's strangers can become tomorrow's valuable contacts.

November 22 – December 21
Reward yourself for all that you've accomplished despite some annoying situations that got in your way. Enjoy a well-earned getaway with someone special.

December 22 – January 19
Realizing that someone else is taking credit for what you did is bound to get anyone's goat, but especially yours. Be patient. The truth soon comes out.

January 20 – February 18
Forget about opposites attracting. What you need is to find someone who thinks like you and will support your ideas, even if others say they're too radical.

February 19 – March 20
Workplace problems can affect your financial plans. Be prudent and avoid running up bills or making commitments until things begin to ease up by the 27th.

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS

California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: "Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor."

This is a contractor's responsibility, not a newspaper's, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors' advertising, if we notice it.

Jim Crandall, Palms to Pines Golf Association handicap chair, provided this report about the Association's regular monthly tournaments in May and June.

The May tourney was on Friday, May 25, at the Woodhaven Country Club in Palm Desert.

Scott Schroeder (20) shot a net 66 for first place; Pete Capparelli (23) shot a net 69 for second; Dennis Chavez (9) and John King (25) tied for third with net 70s; and Lee Lanfried (26) rounded out the top five with a net 73.

In the B flight, made up of golfers with a handicap index of 24.4 or above as of Oct. 1, 2017, David Hiemenz (36) shot a net 69 for first; Barry Zander (37) was second with a net 72; Chris Kramer (39) shot a net 74 for third; and Jerry Daquila (26) with a net 76 was fourth.

The winners of the closest-to-the-pin contests were Chavez on hole no. 3 and Ken Garelick on hole 6. The other two par 3s were unscathed.

The June tourney was played Friday, June 15 at Morongo Tukwet Canyon Champions links in Beaumont.

It was a warm spring day with a nice cloud cover to keep the heat at bay.

Crandall (course handicap 14) shot a net 70 for first place; Bob Wadlow (17) shot a net 73 for second; Chavez (10) and Barry Wallace (15) tied for third with net 74s; and Robert Priefer (26) rounded out the top five with a net 77.

In the B flight, Zander (39) took first place with shot a net 71; Daquila (28) shot a net 73 for second; Hiemenz (37) was third shooting a net 80; and Don DePalma (40) shot a net 91 for fourth.

The winners of the closest-to-the-pin contests were Wallace on hole no. 2, Garelick on hole no. 8; and Zander on no. 17. No one hit the green on the fourth par 3.

The current point standings for the club championship playoffs for the new season, which runs from August 2017 through July 2018, are:

Place	Golfer	Points
1	Pete Capparelli	35.5
2	Scott Schroeder	29.83
3	Dennis Chavez	25
tied	Bob Wadlow	25
5	Ken Garelick	24.83
6	Pete Holzman	17.33
7	Jim Crandall	17
8	Lee Lanfried	15
9	John King	10.5
10	Mike Brown	10

14	Mike Higginboth	2
15	Gary Brown	1
16	John Newman	0.5
tied	Jeff White	0.5

Flight B comprises high handicappers (greater than 24.4 as of Oct. 1) who don't qualify to compete in the club championships, but participate in the monthly tournaments.

The B Flight will hold its own playoff at the end of the year to determine the B-Flight Club Champion.

Place	Golfer	Points
1	David Hiemenz	47
2	Jerry Daquila	43.55
3	Barry Zander	34
4	Dave Curl	27
5	Don DePalma	15
6	Chris Kramer	9.5
7	Tom Flanagan	3.5
8	Dale Calderon	2
9	Tony Viola	0.5

Points are awarded at each tournament as follows: first place, 6 points; second place, 4 points; third place, 3 points; fourth place, 2 points; fifth place, 1 point. Also, one-half point is awarded to everyone who participates.

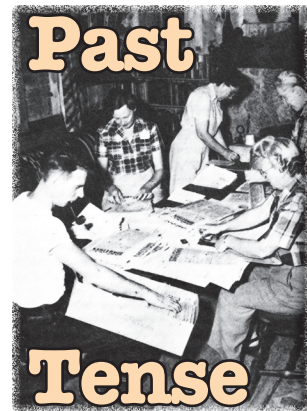

A member has to compete in at least five regular-season tournaments to qualify for the playoffs.

The club is a member of the Southern California Golf Association and is sanctioned to establish SCGA handicaps for members.

If interested in joining the club or playing as a guest, contact Crandall at jim.crandall@verizon.net or 951-265-5732, or Capparelli at pete@capparelli.com or 951-452-5552.
