Time-of-use rates being implemented by Edison

Businesses now, residential customers will shift in 2020

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Microwave dinners will become more expensive beginning in October 2020. That is when Southern California Edison will begin shifting all its residential customers to time-of-use electric rates. And evening electricity will cost more than lunch time.

Beginning next month, new time-of-use periods will be applied to business accounts, most of which are already on time-of-use.

Winter rain and snow keep falling in Idyllwild area

More expected this week

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

In the past week, 6 to 8 inches of snow and rain have fallen in town, much of the snow accumulating. More snow fell on the communities to the north. And the bitter cold weather helped snow fall in Garner Valley, the eastern edge of Anza Valley and as low as about 3,000 feet.

As of Monday morning, the U.S. Forest Service's Keenwild Ranger Station recorded about 1.75 inches since midnight Monday, Feb. 4. Most of that rain fell before the weekend, which was colder and brought more snow. From Friday through Sunday, 4 inches were recorded at Keenwild.

More rain is expected to begin Wednesday and continue through Thursday when another atmospheric river passes over Southern California.

From Oct. 1 through Jan. 31, Keenwild recorded 10.5 inches of rain. The long-term historic average for that period is 11.8 inches.

Historically, February brings about another 4.5 inches of rain. Since Feb. 1, 5.25 inches have fallen at

Ruiz sees potential to work with Trump

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Local Congressman Dr. Raul Ruiz shared with the Town Crier his thoughts about President Donald Trump's State of the Union speech.

Ruiz acknowledged that the inconsistency between the president's actions and statements creates a basic skepticism about the intent of the speech.

Nevertheless, "There are some topics we're very willing to work with him," Ruiz said.

Among these are Ruiz's long interest in reducing the cost of pharmaceuticals and medicine. Investing in an infrastructure for the future is another important issue, of which he feels there is room to reach concurrence.

"And important in this district is ending the HIV epidemic," Ruiz stated. The 35th District has six times the national average of HIV cases, according to Ruiz.

Ruiz attended Trump's State of the Union address Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, and brought David Sherman, a local officer with the U.S. Transportation Security Administration from Desert Hot Springs, as his guest.

Bipartisanship and cooperation between the administration and Congress is possible, Ruiz stated. His own experience with the administration's plans to combat the opioid epidemic helped him see the potential.

"I attended meetings, and offered expertise and served up ideas as a member of the minority panel, and voiced my opinion during the mark-up," he stated. But he is not convinced the ideas emanating from the SOTU reflect willingness and openness to multiple viewpoints.

Ruiz compared Trump's current statements urging a plan to reduce the cost of prescription drugs with his administration's

The Town Crier's Idyllwild daily high and low temperatures and rain and snow totals in the past were taken directly from the National Weather Service website, which gets its Idyllwild weather information from automatic weather sensing equipment at Idyllwild Fire Station, an official NWS COOP reporter. [We are seeking reliable Idyllwild and Pine Cove full-time residents to provide this information. Residents who follow CoCoRaHS procedures would be strongly preferred. CoCoRaHS is an organization of private, amateur weather observers that provides carefully collected data for use by the NWS. If you are interested in providing us with rain and snow reports, please contact jack@towncrier.com or (951) 659-2145.]

Our weather season is July 1 to June 30. Our season totals now have been corrected for the period July 1 through September 17, 2018, which prior to this issue of the TC had been in error. Weather conditions affect Hill roads contributing to traffic crashes

Four crashes on Hill roads

Winter conditions were partly to blame for Hill crashes over the last week, including one serious incident involving a felony DUI. California Highway Patrol Public Information Officer Darren Meyer, the source of these reports, cautioned residents and visitors alike that winter conditions on the Hill can be dangerous and require extra measures of caution when driving.

At 10:06 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 6, David Barajas, 27, of Hemet, was driving a white 2000 F150 eastbound on Highway 74, ¼ mile east of Southfork Trail, when he encountered a shady section of the highway with patches of ice. Even though proceeding at a low speed of 35 mph, according to the CHP report, Barajas lost control of his vehicle, struck the mountainside and overturned. There were no passengers and Barajas was not injured in the crash. His vehicle was towed by Castellanos Towing of San Jacinto.

At 10:25 a.m. Friday, Feb. 8, David Salk, 70, of Idyllwild, was driving a white 2003 Nissan Pathfinder northbound on Highway 24, 3 ¼ miles north of mile marker 19, when he hit a patch of ice and snow on the road, causing the vehicle to collide with the mountain. Salk suffered minor injuries in the crash but declined transport. His vehicle was towed by Idyllwild Garage.

At 8:30 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 10, Jose Carranza, 22, of Rancho Mirage was driving a silver 2002 Acura TL westbound on Highway 74 just west of Apple Canyon Road on an uphill stretch of the highway, when he made an unsafe turning movement, causing him to lose control of the vehicle. The vehicle struck a metal roadway edge marker, overturned and slid about 30 feet down an embankment.

There were three passengers. All suffered injuries. In the vehicle were front passenger Fernando Pichardo Jr., 26, of Rancho Mirage, back seat behind driver passenger

A silver sedan left Highway 74 at Apple Canyon Road on Sunday morning and collided with two trees. The four occupants in the vehicle were transported for injuries. Highway 74 was closed to two-way traffic for an hour or two as Idyllwild Garage helped remove the car and clear the scene.

Christy Ledezma, 22 (residence not noted in CHP report), and back seat behind front-seat passenger Francisco Magana, 28, of Palm Springs.

Carranza was cited at the scene for driving under the influence and was arrested. Carranza suffered minor injuries and was transported by Idyllwild Fire ambulance to Desert Regional Medical Center in Palm Springs.

Pichardo suffered major injuries and was transported by Mercy Air to Riverside University Health System Medical Center in Moreno Valley.

Ledezma was transported by Reach Air to Riverside University Health with life-threatening injuries.

Magana was transported by Idyllwild Fire to Desert Regional Medical Center with life-threatening injuries.

One of the patients being transported by Idyllwild Fire became combative in transit causing the ambulance to pull over at Paradise Corners. A Riverside County Sheriff's Department car was in the area and responded to the scene at Paradise Corners, as did the CHP car that had investigated the crash site and followed the ambulance to Desert Regional Medical Center.

Meyer noted that with head injuries, it is not uncommon for patients to become unruly or combative and his report did not note which of the injured had become difficult.

In what Meyer characterized as snow incidents that are not always logged as traffic collisions, at 6:10 p.m. Friday, Feb. 8, a Honda was noted on its side just north of Vista Grande. CHP Officer Bell requested a flatbed for towing and noted solid ice at the scene. Cal Trans went to the scene to scrape and sand ice. There was no information identifying the driver in the CHP log other than it was a non-injury event.

Likewise, on Sunday, Feb. 10, two vehicles were seen stuck in snow conditions at 12:14 p.m. at Marion Ridge and Highway 243 in Pine Cove. The vehicles were noted by a CHP cruiser heading to another incident. When the Riverside County Sheriff's Department patrol car arrived at the scene, the deputy was unable to locate the vehicles or document the incident.

Life Tribute Ron Perry 1939-2019

On Saturday, Jan. 26, 2019, Ron Perry greeted the sunny morning with his usual enthusiasm and delight at living another day in paradise. After two passionate games of pickle ball with friends, he dozed off and passed away.

Born in Monterey Park on July 17, 1939, Ron served in the U.S. Air Force for four years at Nellis AFB in Nevada where he learned to program computers. He moved to California and worked at Honeywell, Sperry Univac and the Atomic Energy Commission. For 40-plus years he ran Incompass Inc.

A pioneer of early road rallying with the Sports Car Club of America, he won many races and owned iconic American muscle cars. His family enjoyed trips rock climbing, hiking the mountains by Lake Isabella and riding dune buggies. Ron was an avid sportsman, playing his heart out at beach volleyball, racquetball and pickle ball.

Community service included serving as president of his HOA in Irvine and working with the Irvine Police Department.

In Idyllwild in 2004, he married Doris. He served on the Pine Cove Water District Board of Directors, and volunteered with Mountain Disaster Preparedness, the Idyllwild Area Historical Society and for 16 years, the Mountain Communities Fire Safe Council as vice-president, GSOB hunter and Woodie.

Winter

Keenwild and the total since Oct. 1 has been 15.75.

While the National Weather Service is forecasting drier weather in the next several weeks and month, temperatures are expected to remain well below normal for late winter.

In the short-term, drought conditions are likely to be lifted, but they may return during the summer.

Cal Fire's Predictive Services unit has advised local firefighters, "Widespread heavy rainfall during the past 30 days continues to drive rapid growth of fine fuels at lower elevations. ... This will go a long way to maintaining robust growth of seasonal grasses as well as brush and shrubs below 3,000 feet ... which may pose a problem once these fuels begin to cure toward May. Therefore, there may be a spike in grass fire activity compared to most years since 2011."

Lane plans to take on Washington again

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Randon Lane, mayor pro-tem of Murrieta, has announced that he will challenge incumbent Supervisor Chuck Washington for the 3rd District seat on the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

In 2016, Lane finished third in the June primary to Washington. Shelly Milne was second. Washington won the general election in November.

In his announcement, Lane said, "Over the last four years, Supervisor Washington has been absent from the district. During difficult times we need leaders who can make difficult decisions and we have not seen that from the 3rd District. Unfortunately, Supervisor Washington has closed the door on Riverside County's working families and it is now time for new leadership that will show up and be a voice for everyone."

Lane has served as Murrieta's mayor in 2011 and 2016. He was first elected to the City Council in 2008. Previously, he served on the city's Planning Commission. In December, the Riverside Transit Agency Board of Directors unanimously chose Lane to lead the 22-member governing board for the upcoming year.

On the basis of his Murrieta experience, Lane also added, "The Third District needs strong leadership that supports limited government and accountability, fiscal responsibility that is fair to our working families and a bold course of action that will bring new life to the Third District and Riverside County. I believe my vision for the future of Riverside County and my track record in Murrieta demonstrates I am the best candidate for this position."

TC Active Memberships growing

By JACK CLARK
CO-PUBLISHER AND GENERAL COUNSEL

On Sept. 1, 2018, the one-year anniversary of the Town Crier Membership model, the TC had 648 Active Memberships. Today, less than halfway through our second year, the Town Crier boasts 701 Active Memberships. If the Active Membership list continues to grow at about that rate, the TC will have about 750 members by its second Membership anniversary this coming Sept. 1 — about 16 percent more than after its first anniversary — a fine, continuing improvement.

The keys to this are that Charter Members renew their Memberships and new readers join with us. And we have more Members being sent their weekly TCs to addresses off the Hill than on. That indicates a continued interest in the Idyllwild area by folk who already have second homes here, by folk who want to have second homes here, by folk who want to retire here some day and by folk who just love to visit this community enough to want to stay abreast of what's happening here.

Our thanks to all of you for recognizing the importance of keeping a real newspaper serving our Hill community — and our congratulations to all of you for making that happen.

Whether you are a member or not, please come attend our weekly news meetings and participate in the planning of stories for upcoming issues of the Town Crier. Weather permitting, we meet every Wednesday morning at 8:30 at Idyllwild Library, next to the Fairway Market in Strawberry Creek Square.

Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author's name, address and weekday phone number.

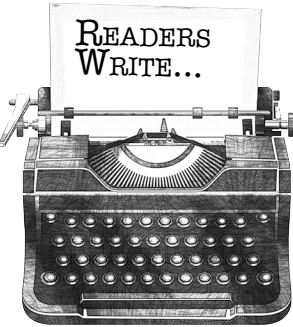

The Town Crier will not publish “thank-you” letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

Dirty work

EDITOR:
If we do not challenge and repudiate the perception that requesting and granting of sexual favors is a legitimate ticket to admission to a life in public service, we do a great disservice to those who may desire to participate in the political life of our state and national governments in the future.
I am especially concerned for our young people. What do we tell them? If desire, a steady moral compass and merit don't suffice, then what?

EDITOR:
It seems like winter has come back to Idyllwild this year. If you like your snow removed and don't wish to worry about it, I suggest you find a snow-plow person and get on their list. Yes, most of them have a list of customers. This is so they can be more efficient when it is time to plow. This way, no calling and they come and plow according to where you are located and where you are on their list.

If you try to wait until the storm is all over and the snow is frozen, this could lessen your plowing options. Instead of truck plows, maybe only tractors can help you.
Frozen snow and ice is hard on all snow-plowing equipment. If you think the cost is high for plowing, remember it only comes for about three months each year and maybe not much for those months.
Most of us haven't had to pay for much plowing the last three years.
Last, but not least, don't fire your plow guy until you have another one.

Wow, I didn’t think last week’s photo was tough. I suspect the heavy weather may have kept people from cruising around the Hill much, so maybe we’ll get entries this week. I backed off and gave you a bit more to work with this week, too.

Gift certificate prizes are supplied through the courtesy and generosity of the Red Kettle restaurant and Higher Grounds Coffee House. Please patronize their fine establishments, and let them know you read this column and appreciate their sponsorship.

So, take a shot at this week’s photo.

Free emergency magnets

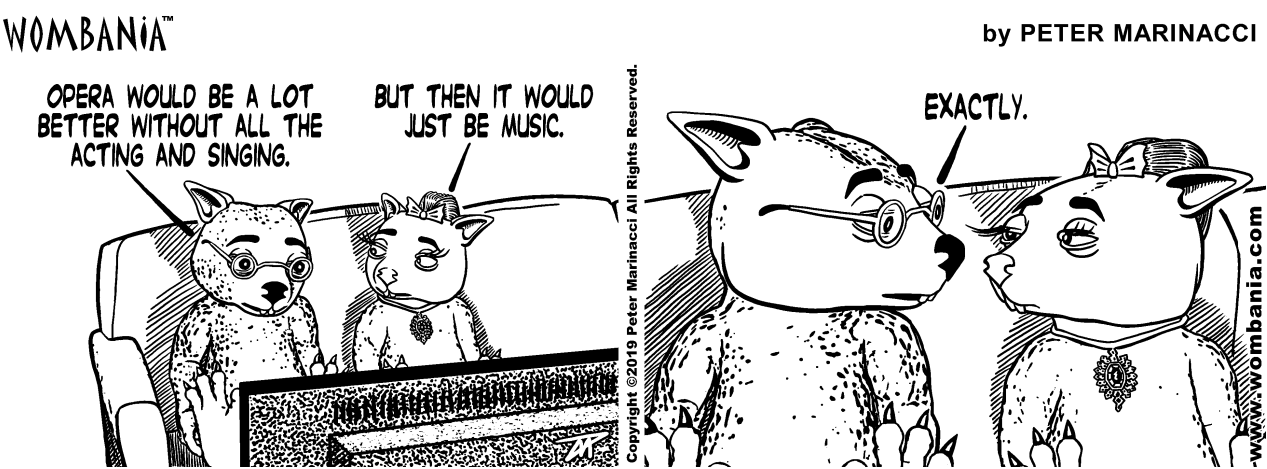

The Idyllwild Snow Group will be giving out free refrigerator magnets with the non-emergency numbers of both the Riverside County Sheriff’s Department and California Highway Patrol from noon to 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, in front of the Idyllwild Post Office.

Don’t block snow equipment

Riverside County Transportation and Caltrans work hours to keep the highways, roads and streets on the Hill clear, passable and safe during snow and rain.

They would like to remind residents of their responsibility to help the plows and equipment to clear the local roads.

For example, do not park or leave a vehicle unattended on any state or county highway so that it interferes with snow removal. These vehicles can be towed in order to allow these agencies to continue their job of ensuring the roadways are safe and useable.

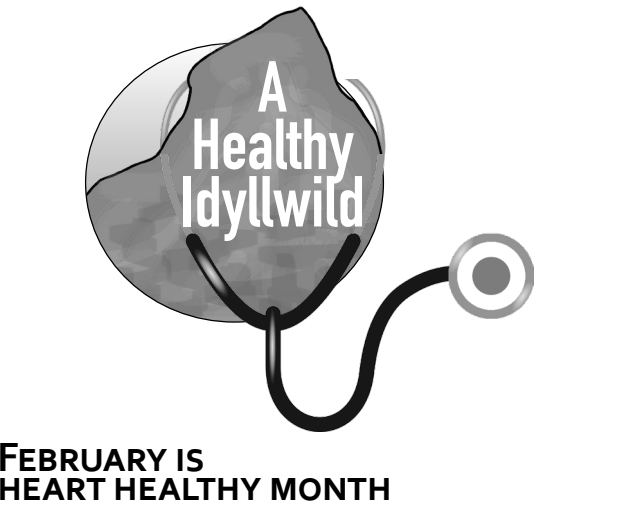

Idyllwild Water District 2017 salaries and compensation

Editor’s note: Each year, the Town Crier reports the information below for the three local water districts — Fern Valley, Idyllwild and Pine Cove — and the Idyllwild Fire Protection. The FVWD information appeared in the Feb. 7 issue. PCWD will appear next week followed by IFPD.

Each district provides the information to the state controller general who posts it on the agency’s website at <http://publicpay.ca.gov/>. The controller provides this information for more than 3,000 special districts. It is available for calendar years 2009 through 2017.

The information presented is posted as submitted by the reporting entity. The State Controller’s Office is not responsible for the accuracy of this information.

Nothing in this article is meant to be medical advice. Please consult your own healthcare provider.

Some info below taken from:

http://pcna.net/docs/default-source/patients-documents/living_guidelines_for_women.pdf?sfvrsn=www.goredforwomen.org/about-heart-disease/symptoms_of_heart_disease_in_women/just-a-little-heart-attack/

Many women, men and healthcare providers are still unaware that heart disease is the number one killer of women, causing one in three deaths each year. Women do less well after a heart attack than men. This is true even for women under age 55.

What are the signs of a heart attack in women? They are not the same as in men.

Women are less likely to experience chest pain with heart attack than are men. Women tend more to experience pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach; shortness of breath, sometimes without any chest discomfort; and other signs such as breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness. These symptoms signal that a woman is in a health crisis and needs medical attention right away.

There also is a “silent heart attack.” According to the American Heart Association, “People who have these so-called silent heart attacks are more likely to have non-specific and subtle symptoms, such as indigestion or a case of the flu, or they may think that they strained a muscle in their chest or their upper back. It also may not be discomfort in the chest, it may be in the jaw or the upper back or arms ...

“Some folks have prolonged and excessive fatigue that is unexplained. Those are some of the less specific symptoms for a heart attack, but ones that people may ignore or attribute to something else.”

Women tend to sluff off any of these symptoms, insist that they are fine and rely on their natural strength to set things right. However, all of these symptoms signal a medical emergency. 911 should be contacted. (Check out the last link above.)

Knowledge plus prevention are always the keys to health. See the first link above, “Living Guidelines for Women,” providing every piece of info you need to stay heart healthy at any age. Great news: Recent medical research shows that even small, incremental changes create a healthy difference at any age.

Being physically active plays a major role in heart health. If you haven’t been that active for a while, then start slow and gradually work your way up to 30 to 40 minutes of exercise three to four times per week. Take as long as you need to be successful. And consult your healthcare provider.

Did you know that the more you sit, the higher your risk for heart problems? Try standing when you’d normally sit, like when you’re watching TV. Try setting a reminder on your smartphone to get up and move once an hour. Walking, even short brisk walks for as little as 10 minutes per day, can provide enough physical activity to keep your heart in shape. Taking steps in place while holding onto a sturdy stable object works, too.

Stay healthy!

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924(d) of the California Civil Code. Case No. PRIN 1900141

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of ALICE P. LINDSAY

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Tami L. Mullen in the Superior Court of California, County of RIVERSIDE.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Tami L. Mullen be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on, 03/19/19 at 8:45 AM in Dept. PS3 located at Palm Springs 3255 E. Tahquitz Canyon Wy., Palm Springs, CA 92262.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

DeAntonio skips court date

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Mark DeAntonio, 53, of Pine Cove, who was charged in June with negligently discharging a firearm, has had several hearings in January regarding his attorney’s request for a mental health diversion.

Penal code sections 1001.35 and 1001.36 authorize this review, according to the public defender’s request.

Two hearings were held in January and a third scheduled for Jan. 29. The hearing’s purpose was titled “suitability/treatment.” However, DeAntonio did not appear in court for the hearing.

Judge Emma Smith issued a bench warrant, reset bail at $20,000, and rescheduled the hearing for Feb. 19.

On June 25, 2018, DeAntonio was arrested and charged with three felonies: negligently discharging a firearm, manufacturing a zip gun, and being under the influence while in possession of a loaded and operable firearm. He had been released on $20,000 bail.

A SWAT team and helicopter responded to Pine Cove during the incident.

‘The Other Einstein’

The Fireside Book Group is reading “The Other Einstein” by Marie Benedict. The group meets from 2 to 3 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20, at the Idyllwild Library.

“In a time when most twenty-year-old women were wives, or trying to be, Mileva Maric was studying physics at an elite university in Zurich,” wrote Fantastic Fiction. “Her rise from the relative backwater of misogynistic Serbia to all-male university classrooms in Switzerland was nothing short of meteoric ... Then, fellow student Albert Einstein took an interest in her and the world turned sideways. Their life together was a partnership of heart and mind. But could there be room for more than one genius in a marriage?”

The adult public is invited to join in the discussions.

The purpose of time-of-use is to shift demand from periods where electric production costs are higher to lower cost periods. SCE's production and acquisition costs for electricity are now lower during the day than during late afternoon and early evening because of solar collection.

California produces a lot of solar energy. The best time for this is between morning and afternoon. As the sun begins to set, the solar source declines and disappears. Then, utilities must switch to more costly, traditional electric sources such as natural gas.

Consequently, the more demand that occurs when cheaper solar energy is available, the less cost to the utilities, which is why SCE is willing and wants to reduce electric rates during the day to shift as much usage as possible away from the high-cost periods.

Beginning in March, during the winter from Oct. 1 through May 31, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., will be the super off-peak hours for electricity costs for SCE business and agricultural customers. From 4 to 9 p.m., the rates will go to mid-peak. From 9 p.m. to 8 a.m., rates will be off-peak. This applies to weekdays, weekends and holidays.

Currently, business on-peak hours are from noon to 6 p.m. These hours change to from 4 to 9 p.m. next month.

The on-peak, or highest rates, will be applied from 4 to 9 p.m. weekdays during the summer months of June through September. The off-peak rates apply from 9 p.m. until 4 p.m. the following day.

This same pattern will be applied to residential customer rates beginning in October 2020. However, 400,000 customers were asked to volunteer for this system two years ago. So far, nearly 90 percent have retained the time-of-use rates.

Residential customers can visit the SCE site (www.sce.com/rates) to see how time-of-use would affect their rates. They have the option to choose time-of-use now, according to SCE Spokesperson Ron Gales. SCE will guarantee that during the first 12 months, no residential customers on time-of-use rates will pay more than the current tiered rate system.

Another way to gain lower rates is to agree to critical peak pricing, which businesses will be shifted to in March. This plan offers lower summer rates if the customer agrees to higher rates on 12 days throughout the year. These days will normally be the hottest expected days in the summer.

Again, this is an effort to shift demand away from high-peak usage, such as when homes, offices and businesses are all blasting air conditioning or fans. The CPP rate, which is significantly higher than normal, is only applied to electric use during the 4 to 9 p.m. period. Customers, if they sign up in advance (www.sce.com/CPUpdatecontact), will be notified a day before the CPP will be applied. The notifications can be by phone, text or email depending. It's up to the customer.

"Business customers newly enrolled in CPP as of March 1 will receive 12 months of bill protection," Gales wrote. This means that if the CPP rates result in a total higher cost than the current rate schedule, SCE will credit the difference.

Shifting more demand to daytime also will result in greater usage of renewable energy sources and less dependence on carbon-based sources.

The California Public Utilities Commission approved the time-of-use rate concept in 2015 and it applies to the three major electric utilities. In March 2018, San Diego Gas and Electric began shifting its customers to the time-of-use plans. SCE and Pacific Gas and Electric have until October 2020 to move all customers.

Several tests and experiments were conducted during the interim years. The results showed that customers save money, however, they also indicated that many do not actually know the cost and understand the time periods.

SCE plans a major education and promotional campaign when it begins shifting residential customers. This winter, several information brochures and letters were sent to business customers to help them better gauge the change.

Current budget looks stable

Future demands likely outpace revenues

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Riverside County Executive Officer George Johnson advised, perhaps warned, the Board of Supervisors about growing demands on the county's fiscal resources. At the Feb. 5 board meeting, Johnson and Chief Financial Officer Don Kent presented the mid-year review for fiscal year 2018-19.

First, they described several added costs that were already expended and, therefore, had to be funded in the budget. Examples include more funds for general assistance in the Department of Public Social Services, additional costs the county incurred during and after the Cranton and Holy fires. These total about $1.9 million and may be reimbursed from federal or state agencies, but the funds won't come until future years.

In total, the board approved another $12.9 million for programs and maintained the budget contingency account at $20 million.

Johnson then advised the board that another $20 million would likely be needed before the end of the fiscal year (June 30). This will help the Riverside University Health System, the District Attorney's Office and supplement ($300,000) the Public Defender's Office.

Actually, these adjustments are a harbinger of future budget issues. Although revenues have been increasing, Kent noted that property taxes have averaged a 5-percent growth for several years. However, Johnson averred that softening the economy is inevitable in the next few years.

Whenever that may occur, Kent described another $350 million already planned for budgets from fiscal years 2019-20 through 2022-23, the next four years.

"The board understands the cost pressures this county is facing and the significant fiscal challenges ongoing that we must address and continue to address," Johnson said. He then began a summary of future planned and unplanned budget requirements.

The largest is the operational costs for the John J. Benoit Detention Center about to be opened in Indio. This approaches $140 million in those four years. Also, a lawsuit ensuring the inmates health care and mental health services will add another $38 million to future budgets. And the RUHS is constructing a new medical office building.

But the truly ominous prospect includes about $220 million, which is not part of future budget planning, but must be addressed. Inmate healthcare will consume more than half of this estimate. The RUHS will need funding to equip the new medical building and even the fire department is projecting future increases of more than $20 million.

Board members had few comments or questions about the budget status or forecasts. However, new Supervisor Karen Spiegel noted that the costs for the inmate healthcare and mental health services are included in the RUHS account. It was unfair to attribute the higher expenses to RUHS since it was for the county inmates.

Also, and not addressed during the mid-year review, is the county's growing pension costs, which could be $50 million over this period.

past actions to reduce the healthcare insurance options for millions of people. Ruiz does not see a common path for these two efforts.

"When the president says reduce or cut prescription for all, that sounds good," Ruiz said. "But look at what they have done ... He has repeatedly tried to repeal medical expenses and benefits."

In his statement, Trump urged bipartisanship on the battle against HIV and AIDs. "In recent years, we have made remarkable progress in the fight against HIV and AIDs. Scientific breakthroughs have brought a once-distant dream within reach," he said. "My budget will ask Democrats and Republicans to make the needed commitment to eliminate the HIV epidemic in the United States within 10 years. Together, we will defeat AIDS in America."

Ruiz is a strong advocate of this effort, yet he noted, "The president has tried to reduce coverage for HIV medicine and HIV patient access to Medicaid."

Going further, Ruiz pointed out that eliminating the Affordable Care Act's protection for pre-existing conditions often penalizes those with HIV. "This discriminates against them by raising the cost of health insurance."

Working together, Congress and the president, requires an acknowledgment that Congress writes and passes the laws; the president reviews and signs them, Ruiz emphasized.

While he concurs that a federal infrastructure program would benefit the nation, he was not sure how Congress and the president could achieve agreement on funding. If the Republicans demanded that the added costs come from existing programs, Ruiz is just as adamant that last year's tax law changes be modified.

"I think there are a lot of opportunities to look at how the tax law overwhelmingly and disproportionately benefited very few rich and powerful families in our nation," Ruiz noted. "This is not based on conservative fiscal policies." The infrastructure legislation has to ensure that everybody benefits, he urged.

Even the meaning of infrastructure may be another challenge. "Infrastructure of the future is guided by our imagination, not simply repaving dilapidated roads," Ruiz said.

For example, he believes broadband telecommunications capability is now a necessary element of current infrastructure.

This type of disagreement is similar to the stalemate on the funding for the border security, according to Ruiz. "A wall is a boondoggle and fiscally irresponsible," he stated. "We need to invest in scanning and screening equipment for ports of entry. That is where 90 percent of drugs and guns and dangerous people come through."

As he concluded, Ruiz stressed that future agreements and bipartisanship will be hostage to the details of each piece of proposed legislation. The president "... didn't give any policy details."

Check your chicken nuggets

January was a bad month for chicken nuggets. Tyson is recalling more than 36,000 pounds of panko nuggets due to concern they might be contaminated with "soft, blue rubber." The recall comes just after Perdue recalled more than 16,000 pounds of chicken nuggets because they weren't labeled as containing milk.

Surprisingly, Tyson's announcement isn't the only food safety alert this month involving rubber. Johnsonville also recalled 48,000 pounds of "Grillers" sausages because they might have been tainted with black rubber.

'The Handmaid's Tale' director in Lowman Concert Hall

Kate Dennis is such a hot commodity as a director these days that she needs an administrative assistant to schedule time for her to breathe.

Yet the Australian-born Dennis' respect for the Idyllwild Arts Academy Film and Digital Media Department will bring her up to inhale the fresh air of the mountains on a Saturday in February. That afternoon, a screening of her Emmy-nominated episode of "The Handmaid's Tale" in William M. Lowman Concert Hall will be followed by a Q&A.

More nominations and awards seem inevitable for this remarkable directing talent. But if there's a Work Ethic award, it's hard to imagine anyone else getting the nod: In just the last five years, Dennis has directed for, among other shows, "Secrets and Lies," "CSI: Cyber," "Sleepy Hollow," "Fear the Walking Dead," "TURN," "Suits," "The Mindy Project," "I'm Dying Up Here," "GLOW," "New Amsterdam" and "Heathers."

"What sets Kate Dennis apart and makes her especially valuable in the industry," suggests Academy Film and Digital Media Chair Annette Haywood-Carter, "is the generosity she brings to the job and all her relationships. Simply put, everyone wants to work with Kate!"

Bringing Dennis to Idyllwild represents a coup for Haywood-Carter. Her entire faculty consists of film-industry veterans who understand the importance to a young artist's career, not only of skills, but of connections that permit observation of what industry success looks like close up. how Haywood-Carter's leveraging of Idyllwild's proximity to the film capital of the world — and of her personal contacts in Hollywood — can supplement the intense, hands-on instruction enjoyed by academy film majors.

Of course, it's also hard to overlook how the astonishing success of a woman director runs against the grain of filmmaking history. But with Kate Dennis popping up to direct for practically every TV show you can think of, and with Annette Haywood-Carter modeling consummate professionalism every day for Idyllwild Arts Academy's talented and ambitious film students, the grain is likely to start growing in another direction.

The event is from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16, in Lowman Concert Hall on campus, and is free and open to the public. Space is limited.

'The Pursuit of Happiness'

Marsha Kennedy will present the another of a 10-week course, "Pursuit of Happiness," beginning from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the Idyllwild Library.

The free course will explore what matters for a happy and meaningful life. It is a worldwide program based on an online study guide and supported by the Dalai Lama. Each session will cover a different theme.

Elanie Moore is continuing her "Artists Across the Ages — Cave Rock Paintings of Baja" with Elanie from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the Idyllwild Library.

Getting physical at Idyllwild Arts

Idyllwild Arts Academy Theatre Chair Bonnie Carpenter has no doubt about the benefits of her department's recently begun partnership with Fiasco Physical Theatre (fiasco-physicaltheatre.com).

A handful of Fiasco ensemble members take turns driving up the mountain from Los Angeles to teach at the academy for two-week stints. They train Academy Theatre majors in improvisation, acrobatics, physical theater, clowning, juggling, ensemble dynamics, Alexander Technique and commedia dell'arte. These are already valuable as supplements to the more familiar acting, singing and dancing skills that Carpenter's department teaches so well.

"But it's also about teaching the self-motivation and discipline that the Fiasco members model," Carpenter said. "Our students see Moses and Kent and Yiouli using their spare time to create for their own company's performances."

Moses Norton's wide range of physical-theater skills include mime and acrobatics. Kent Jenkins is a Youtube sensation as the Blue Man Group-inspired Snubby J. And Greek-born Yiouli Archontaki is a flamenco dancer and pianist (and much more, like both Moses and Kent).

"The students have them in class, working hard to teach these physical-theater skills," Bonnie continued. "They could rest when class ends because they're tired, but instead they go straight to work on their own things. It's inspiring!"

The inspiring connection to Fiasco Physical Theatre comes through Carpenter's Theatre Department colleague Erin Crites, now in her fourth year at the academy and also a Fiasco ensemble member.

Crites' excitement about physical theater is supported by UCLA Psychology Professor Albert Mehrabian's research (tinyurl.com/yb7ds7xv) suggesting that 55 percent of our communication is nonverbal. As vice president of Clowns Without Borders (clownswithoutborders.org/), Crites has brought the power of nonverbal communication to refugee camps and other trauma-affected areas where little English may be spoken.

Happily, trauma is in short supply at Idyllwild Arts Academy. But little English is spoken by some of the new international students who arrive every year, and Carpenter points out that incorporating more physical theater into her department's curriculum "can increase our international enrollment."

Talented international students can add a lot to her department, Carpenter suggests, noting the importance of the "inclusion of diversity."

Of course, the Theatre Department's American students also benefit from physical theater. For one thing, English itself can often seem foreign to native English speakers.

"Think of Shakespeare," Crites said. "A couple years ago I facilitated a 'devised' 'Hamlet' called 'Who's There — a Reimagining of Hamlet' —adapted and performed by the academy's theater students. The foreignness of Shakespeare's language meant that focusing on nonlinguistic sensory qualities was helpful even to the native English speakers as they were trying to decide on the most important elements in the original 'Hamlet' and reimagine how to tell it."

Speaking of diversity, that devised "Hamlet" incorporated six different languages.

Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," ARF cats discussed reasons why humans should welcome cats into their homes.

Mr. Gray: Let's have a little meeting here to come up with good adoption strategies for us cats.

Thomas: OK! Maybe we could each talk about what great family members we would be.

Mr. Gray: That's a good start. I am very handsome and very affectionate. What about you, Thomas?

Thomas: I like to be petted, I'm a good-looker, and I know how to entertain myself.

George: I'm not a demanding guy, and I will be good company, always around when needed.

Pepper: I like attention, but I don't bother my humans, you know, like walking across the computer keyboard. I know my boundaries.

Bear: I am very quiet and often keep to myself, but I really do like to be petted and brushed.

Sadie: I will always make a human feel important and loved.

Zeus: A human won't mistakenly step on me! I am pure white, which is good when it's dark, and I'm a big boy.

Heavenly Whiskers: I will be no imposition in any home. Just give me a cat condo for napping, a little attention when I want it, and I'm a happy cat.

Mr. Gray: We all sound like good catches!

George: And all of us are little to no trouble. We all use the litter box and are neat diners.

Thomas: And we don't have to go to a groomer. We take care of that ourselves!

Mr. Gray: I hate to break it to some humans, but we are less dependent upon them than dogs are!

Heavenly Whiskers: No one needs to take us for a walk.

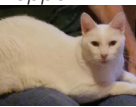

George: And in general, we live longer than dogs.

Pepper: But one of the best things is we are way quieter than dogs!

Sadie: Ha! That's for sure.

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of "Days of Our Nine Lives" each week. And please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Hwy. 243 on Saturdays 10-4 and Sundays 10-2, or by appointment M-F by calling 951-659-1122.

Sixth Children's Film Fest part of Idyllwild Film Festival

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The 10th-annual Idyllwild International Festival of Cinema will present its sixth-annual Children's Film Festival.

The CFF is the brainchild of Andrea Charles, IIFC filmmaker liaison.

"This year's films are amazing. We have four animated films and all are so well done," she said. "There's also a short film that is a spoof of 'Superman.'"

In 2014, Charles' first year viewing films, she made suggestions to Stephen Savage, IIFC founder and director, about the place and role for films aimed at a younger audience.

While he agreed, he tasked her with its organization. And she has created the CFF within IIFC.

One of Charles' first steps was to approach Shannon Ng, branch manager of the Idyllwild Library. Charles needed a venue for these films, which are usually much shorter than the features in the festival.

Ng agreed to provide the location. The Idyllwild Library continues to be CFF's home.

The CFF is so successful that 2019 is its sixth year. Six films were selected for this year's event. (See accompanying table.)

"It's fun," she said about CFF. "And it's great to see films good for children. There's so much negative in the world."

The six new films selected for this year are all short, less than 15 minutes, according to Charles and Ng. So they also will play several favorites from past years.

CFF films may be seen at 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 6, and at 2 p.m. Saturday, March 9. They will be shown at the Idyllwild Library and are free.

"I hope these films inspire the kids," Charles said.

"My favorite is 'Clark'; it's hysterical," Ng advised.

The viewers (children) of these films also will be able to vote for the best child's film. This award will be among all the other IIFC awards.

Film schedule for the Children's Film Festival
When:	• 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 6 • 2 p.m., Saturday, March 9
Location:	Idyllwild Library
Films:	"Captain 3D" "Clark" "Daisy Belle" "Henlightenment" "Lotta the Silhouette Girl" "One Small Step"

It will be announced and awarded Sunday, March 10, at the awards ceremony at the Hemet Theatre.

Charles, CFF founder, also is the celebrated author of the well-known children's book "Harvey's Favorite Day." She said the time spent to stage CFF "doesn't feel like work at all; I love it." Her own rottweiler, Harvey, was the inspiration for her book.

HOROSCOPES

February 2019 — Week 2

March 21 – April 19

Try to say as little as possible about the work you're doing through the end of the month. Then you can make your announcement and accept your well-deserved plaudits.

April 20 – May 20

You face a more difficult challenge than you expected. But with that strong Taurean determination, you should be able to deal with it successfully by week's end.

May 21 – June 21

Before you act on your "feelings" about that upcoming decision, it might be wise to do a little fact-checking first. You could be very much surprised by what you don't find.

June 22 – July 22

A recent workplace success can open some doors that were previously closed to you. On a personal level, expect to receive some important news from a longtime friend and colleague.

July 23 – August 22

Put your wounded pride aside and do what you must to heal that misunderstanding before it takes a potentially irreversible turn and leaves you regretting the loss of a good friend.

August 23 – September 22

One way to kick a less-than-active social life into high gear or rebuild an outdated contacts list is to throw one of your well-organized get-togethers for friends and associates.

September 23 – October 22

Getting out of an obligation you didn't really want to take on can be tricky. An honest explanation of the circumstances can help. Next time, pay more attention to your usually keen instincts.

October 23 – November 21

Use your Scorpion logic to push for a no-nonsense approach to a perplexing situation. This could help keep present and potential problems from creating more confusion.

November 22 – December 21

A friend's problem might take more time than you want to give. But staying with it once again proves the depth of your Sagittarian friendship and loyalty.

December 22 – January 19

The Sea Goat can benefit from an extra dose of self-confidence to unsettle your detractors, giving you the advantage of putting on a strong presentation of your position.

January 20 – February 18

You might want to ask a friend or relative for advice on an ongoing personal matter. But be careful not to give away information you might later wish you had kept secret.

February 19 – March 20

Use the weekend for a creativity break to help restore your spiritual energy. Once that's done, you'll be back and more than ready to tackle whatever challenge you need to face.

The South Coast Air Quality Management District has a CleanAir Furnace Rebate Program to encourage consumers to purchase low-emission, natural-gas central heating furnaces to help reduce air pollution.
Consumers who purchase the first 6,000 lower-emission furnaces will receive a $500 rebate per furnace. After the first 6,000 rebates, consumers will receive $300 for each condensing furnace, and $200 for each compliant non-condensing, weatherized home furnace.
For more information, including a list of qualifying furnaces, and to apply for the CleanAir Furnace Rebate program, visit www.cleanairfurnacerebate.com.
