Highways 243 and 74 changes this week

Caltrans added one more hour in morning to Highway 74 opening

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Traffic flow on Highway 243 between Franklin Drive and Fire Station 23 (Pine Cove) will be slowed between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Thursday, May 9.

Caltrans will have maintenance crews removing a boulder near Lakeview Dr. Consequently, only one lane will be available for vehicular use.

One-way flagging will control traffic on the road during the work.

Caltrans warns that traffic will occasionally be held for up to 20 minutes to remove debris from the road way. There may be loud and precedent noise in the area during the boulder's removal.

Beginning Tuesday, May 7, Highway 74 opened from 4 to 8 a.m. for traffic between Mountain Center and Hemet, according to Caltrans Public Information Officer Terri Kasinga Monday afternoon. A pilot car escort will still be leading the traffic.

This is one more hour than originally provided in April when the highway was opened to limited use. The evening hours remain 6 p.m. to midnight.

Board OKs special construction fees at transfer station

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

A question has been raised about the legality of the construction debris fees, which CR&R, the management agency, imposes at the Idyllwild Transfer Station.

The last time the Riverside County Board of Supervisors approved these fees was June 2014. Resolution 2014-081 authorized the then transfer station management, Waste Management Inc., to continue to impose a fee for construction debris.

Responsibility for the construction debris resides with the county's Department of Environmental Health. The Waste Resources Department does not regulate these materials, which could pose health hazards, such as asbestos and lead that need to be treated differently.

Also, the acceptance of construction and demolition debris at the transfer station eliminates a trip to Lamb Canyon where this waste must eventually be taken.

The current fee structure will expire this year and the board had a new resolution on its agenda for this past Tuesday, May 7. The action was to set a public hearing on the new rate structures for Tuesday, May 21.

Cell tower permit followed county procedures

Process does not separate significant projects from minor ones

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Verizon has constructed and installed a new cell tower in Idyllwild. It is on the Idyllwild Inn property and is not yet operational.

Learning of and seeing the completed project has worried and raised the ire of several local residents.

However, the Riverside County Planning Commission held two meetings on the request for a building permit. A Director's Hearing was held Dec. 18, 2017. Invitations to attend and announcements of the meeting were sent to 36 property owners within 600 feet of the tower's location. No one attended the meeting.

County homeless population growing

Fewer counted in Idyllwild this year

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Homelessness is a problem through out the country and is growing in Southern California. Orange, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and Kern counties all reported increased numbers of homeless between 2017 and 2018. San Diego County reported a slight decline, but its homeless population is nearly three times the number in Riverside County. Last week, the Riverside County Department of Public Social Services released the results of its 2019 winter homeless survey. In the past year, the number of homeless people counted in the county increased by 21 percent, from 2,310 in January 2018 to 2,811 in January 2019. The report’s author states that several reasons associated with the counting process and procedures would and did yield a higher result this year. For example, the time allocated for counting allowed for a wider area to be covered, targeting encampments, and even included more volunteers. Nevertheless, the author stressed, “the actual number of homeless individuals is estimated to be higher than [Point-in-Time] Count results due to ongoing challenges of locating homeless individuals.” The 2017 count was 2,406, or 96 individuals more than 2018. That trend was short-lived. In its press release, the DPSS cautioned readers about the accuracy of the count: “Annual homeless counts provide a snapshot of homelessness. Due to the challenges in finding homeless people, however, actual numbers of homeless individuals may be higher.” Most of the homeless live in unsheltered conditions. Of the nearly 2,800 homeless in the county, about 766 (slightly more than a quarter) live in some form of shelter. Of those without shelter, 43 percent live on the streets, a quarter have found encampments and one out of six lives in a vehicle. Parks, abandoned buildings and under bridges provide some safety to another 10 percent. Nearly 80 percent of the homeless are adults. Of the nearly 300 youth, about two-thirds are less than age 17. Of the 82 homeless families, 77 are in sheltered conditions. Of the five county supervisorial districts, only

District 5 (which includes Moreno Valley, Perris and Banning) had a decrease in the number of homeless individuals compared to 2018. The homeless population in District 3, which includes the Hill communities, is 301, nearly 40 percent greater than the 2018 population of 214. Nearly 90 percent are adults and two-thirds are male. No children under age 17 were observed in this district. About a third (112) are in Hemet and another 48 in San Jacinto. The homeless in the unincorporated areas increased from 37 in 2018 to 65 this year. Nine were identified in Idyllwild, but that is less than 15 counted in 2018. Eliminating, solving or reducing the homeless population is a very difficult process because the cause for each individual or family can be so different. No single variable or characteristic defines people who have no home. Some involve abuse substances, such as alcohol or drugs, some are victims of domestic violence, and some have mental health conditions, such as PTSD, HIV or AIDS. Governor proclaims this Wildfire Preparedness Week

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

In California, Gov. Gavin Newsom proclaimed May 5 to 11 as “Wildfire Preparedness Week.” Newsom noted that he has been concerned about the consequences and threats of wildfires from his first day in office on Jan 7. Noting, “Eleven million people — approximately a quarter of the states’ population — live in high fire-risk areas,” he issued his proclamation on April 30. Cal Fire is concerned about the possibility of fires in 2019. In its release, the agency reminded local residents, “California’s wet winter created a sizable crop of new grass growth, but don’t let the wet weather fool you as the abundant grass dries. Now is the time to act to prevent wildfires.” Cal Fire kicked off Wildfire Preparedness Week Monday, May 6, at its aviation unit in Sacramento. Heading the dignitaries speaking was Wade Crowfoot, secretary of the Department of Natural Resources. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Life Tribute Judith Mae Krug 1940-2019

Judith Mae Krug, 78, of Idyllwild, went to be with her Lord and Savior on Saturday, April 27, 2019, in Hemet. Judy was born Dec. 31, 1940, in Matador, Texas, to Clifford and Billie Jean (Plumlee) Webb. She was raised in Los Angeles from the age of 6 months old, and graduated from George Washington High School. Judy married Jim Krug on Dec. 16, 1978, and together they moved to Idyllwild in 1990, taking residence in the Pine Cove area. She was preceded in death by her only sibling, sister Patsy Jean Nelson, and is survived by her husband Jim, her children from a previous marriage Sandy and Michael Velasco; two grandsons; and niece Donna Jean Vargas. She is also survived by her loving stepson Paul Krug, and step-daughter Anne-Marie Krug. A memorial service in her honor will be held at the Idyllwild Community Presbyterian Church at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 15.

Life Tribute Glen Wall 1917-2018

Glen Wall (shown at the Idypark dedication, hand over his heart in awe), 101, died Monday, Oct. 22, 2018 in Idyllwild at the loving home he shared with his grand-daughter Cindi and her husband Rick Hinds. Glen was born June 3, 1917, in Manly, Iowa, the third of six children. Glen started working on cars as a young teenager. It clearly became his life passion. He quickly learned the auto mechanic trade before being drafted into the Army during WWII. He was enrolled in officer training school prior to the war ending and decided his love of cars was far greater than his love for the Army. When the war ended, he left the armed forces to follow his passion, something he would later often ponder if it was the right decision. In 1937, Glen met and married the love of his life, Freda Rose Brandenberger. In 1938, Glen and Freda had their one and only child, a daughter they named Joyce. Glen worked in management at an auto dealership until the early 1950s when he and his oldest brother Forey opened Wall Custom Cars in South Gate. They specialized in selling customized, one-of-a-kind modified cars. In the early 1980s, Glen retired from the car business, and he and his wife moved to Northern California to be closer to their daughter and her husband. Glen went to work for them as a machinery manager at their manufacturing business, Air Factors, in Pleasanton, working for another 20 years. He finally retired at the age of 87 in 2004. During his retirement, he and his wife Freda lived a quiet life in Pleasanton. In his late 1990s, Glen proudly took on the role of daily caretaker for his wife until her death in 2016. They had been married 77 years. Shortly thereafter, he relocated, calling Idyllwild home. Glen was honored as the oldest veteran in Idyllwild at the town’s Idypark dedication ceremony in May 2018. It was a true highlight of his final year. He died peacefully at home in Idyllwild several months later. Glen is survived by his older brother Forest “Forey” Wall (now 106) and two younger sisters, Pearl Porter and Violet Dawson; daughter Joyce Schilling; granddaughters Glenda “Sue” Schilling and Cynthia “Cindi” Hinds; five great-grandchildren, Christina Andring, Kurtis Jones, Michael Jones, Brandon Andring and Amelia Leonard; and 11 great-great grandchildren. Glen will be remembered by his family for his very favorite things: his love of cars, hot fudge sundaes, spending time with family and motorhome traveling and his ability to “fix anything but a broken heart!”

Valentine’s Day storms declared major disaster

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Last Thursday, May 2, President Donald Trump concurred and declared that the damages resulting from the Feb.13, 14 and 15 storms in California, including Riverside County, to be a major disaster. The declaration will result in federal monies to state and local governments to help rebuild and restore the public infrastructure damaged from the atmospheric river of rain during that period. Damage from landslides and mudslides also is part of the declaration. The federal assistance can be used for debris removal, emergency protective measure and permanent restoration of infrastructure. Other eligible categories for assistance include roads and bridges, water control facilities, public buildings, public utilities, and parks and recreation areas. The federal government’s share of the costs will be 75 percent. Riverside County officials will work with State Emergency Services for project cost reimbursement, according to Shane Reichardt, senior public information specialist for the county’s Emergency Management Department. The county estimated its direct costs from this disaster were about $70 to $75 million. “[The declaration] also makes the area eligible for the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program, where entities such as the county can apply for funding for projects that can mitigate the effects of future disasters like heavy rains and wildfire,” wrote Hernan Quintas of Rep. Dr. Raul Ruiz’s staff. After Gov. Gavin Newsom submitted the state’s request, Ruiz also wrote to Trump. Then on May 2, he announced, “Today the President heeded our call and issued a Major Disaster Declaration for the Valentine’s Day floods that damaged roads and hurt regional business. I’m working with Governor Newsom and FEMA to ensure that our communities receive the funds and resources available for a full recovery. On April 15th, I wrote to the President calling on him to issue this declaration . . .” No private assistance was approved for this declaration. Reichardt presumes that the state didn’t qualify with enough individuals. Insurance coverage probably reduces the number of potential individual claims. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Nominating period for director seats on Fern Valley Water board ends May 31

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Nominations for the Aug. 27 election of three directors to the Fern Valley Water District may be submitted to Riverside County Registrar of Voters Rebecca Spencer. The official nominating period opened Monday, May 6, and will end at 5 p.m. Friday, May 31. The nomination period can be extended if an incumbent director does not file papers with the Registrar’s Office by May 31. The decision of an incumbent not to seek re-election will extend the deadline for that office to 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 5 for everyone except the incumbent. FVWD has three seats up for election in August. The terms of incumbents President Trischa Clark and Vice President Richard Schnetzer end December 2019. Clark was elected to the board in 2011 and re-elected in 2015. Schnetzer was appointed in October 2014 and elected to a full term the following year. Also, the final two years of former Director George Rowell’s seat will be on the ballot. If the number of nominations does not exceed the positions for election, a formal election will not be needed and the Board of Supervisors may appoint the eligible nominees. In 2017, that was the result of the FVWD election. FVWD directors must own property within the district, but do not have to be full-time residents. The Registrar of Voters’ staff is available to help prospective candidates complete the necessary paperwork and to answer questions. Candidates unsure about the local district offices for which they are eligible, based on residency, should contact the Registrar of Voters office for help. Candidates will receive informational handbooks at the time they obtain their papers. For more information about this election, contact the Registrar of Voters office at 951-486-7200 or 800-773-8683, or FVWD at 951-659-2200. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Idyllwild Water District cancels May 15 meeting

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

The Idyllwild Water District has canceled its scheduled regular meeting for May 15. The Board of Directors will not have a quorum available to conduct a meeting. Directors Les Gin, David Hunt and Peter Szabadi will be out of town and unable to participate via teleconference. No change has been made for the June 19 public hearing on its annual standby fees. These have been levied on unimproved parcels for several decades. The fee is $30 per acre and the 2019-20 fees are not being changed. JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

Brendan Steele had a better trip this week at the Wells Fargo Championship in Charlotte, North Carolina. He posted a 2-over-par 72-70-75-69 — 286 for a share of 54th place. On the week, the Native Idyllwilder’s drives averaged 321.9 yards and found 66 percent of the fairways, while he hit 68 percent of the greens in regulation and lost an average of just over 1 stroke to the field per day putting. Had he been just even with the field in putting, he would have moved up to a tie for 31st. Brendan currently is ranked 160th on the FedExCup points list and is 181st in the Official World Golf Ranking. He’s not playing in the Byron Nelson this week, and he won’t qualify for the PGA Championship next week. TC Membership model working!

By Jack Clark
Co-publisher

Our editorial in the Aug. 17, 2017, issue of the Town Crier listed the myriad incentives we had attempted to secure needed advertising from businesses in order to keep the TC serving our community, including a direct appeal to their community spirit. But none of those efforts worked.

So, we realized that we must appeal to those who clearly appreciated the TC the most — our readers. We emphasized that a real community newspaper warns of danger, advises of opportunity, challenges authority, praises accomplishment, investigates irregularity, marvels at art, exposes abuse, celebrates lives and publishes its readers' letters. To keep the TC doing all this, we introduced a five-tiered Membership model, asking readers to become Members at whatever level they thought they could afford to keep the TC serving our Hill.

The Membership model was a last resort, and we had no idea how it would be received by our readers. Well, as you know by now, you all came through. Together we were able to keep the TC running and increase its attractiveness to new owners who will follow us.

But there was always the question of what would happen in the second year of the Membership model. Would folk continue to support it, or would their support taper off? Well, once again, you are coming through. Two-thirds of the way through our second Membership year, the TC now has 728 Active Memberships — compared to 648 at the close of year one — and we still have nearly four months to go. A healthy increase that answers the question of whether TC readers will support a real newspaper on our Hill — one that will continue to be the sole monitor of eight local public agencies in our community. Clearly, your answer is “yes,” and that is so important to being able to appeal to prospective new owner-operators of your Hill newspaper. Congratulations to you all!

And please participate in our weekly open-to-the-public news meeting Wednesday mornings at 8:30 at Idyllwild Library. Several readers have been regularly attending and having their voices heard for years.

In response to Dave Hunt

EDITOR:

I am responding to the letter written by Dave Hunt entitled “Leave us the way you found us,” wherein he suggested that my efforts to offer an alternative to leaving the Hill to shop for reasonable prices is changing Idyllwild in a bad way.

My whole motivation is to provide a local shopping experience, geared toward helping our locals to shop local and save their hard-earned money at the same time. The time and gas it takes to find a bargain off the Hill is a hardship for many.

Miss Sunshine’s General Store is not a chain or corporate entity, but rather my gift to this village I love so much.

Appreciate the small town journalism

EDITOR:

Didn’t know, so very happy belated happy birthday and I appreciate you, [Becky Clark,] for all the fantastic, hard work you keep doing. I wish you great health and continued joy with your lovely family that I delight in your writing about, as well as your high level journalism in keeping honesty front and center with our service departments in Idyllwild.

Small town newspapers that report on democratic doings in our towns are the heart and soul of our Democracy. You and Jack have upheld these American journalistic ideals — and have been honored many times by your peers in California journalism.

Like a mother hen these past 20 years, I take great pride in wishing you a wonderful year ahead.

cil could not have become the powerhouse organization it is without her.

When we formed the council with members of the community in 2001, our goals were small: to educate the community about the fire danger and reducing fuel on their property. We were fortunate enough to have volunteers from Idyllwild and Pine Cove who were aware of the hazards we faced in the forest and who set to work clearing properties and parts of the forest of undergrowth and some dead trees with mine and kay’s own shovels, axes and chain saws.

After Kay [Cenicerros] secured nonprofit status as a 501(c)(3) and we affiliated with the California Fire Safe Council, we got a startup grant from the CFSC to rent office space and hire an executive director. The grant wasn’t large enough to pay a good salary, but Edwina took the job anyway. She was worth at least twice as much.

Soon she was getting us grants from the U.S. Forest Service through the CFSC. Thanks to Edwina and the hard work of MCFSC board and members, word of our work soon spread throughout the fire agencies locally and at the state level.

As Edwina secured more grants, the council was able to expand operations, eventually buying a truck and a shredder. Norm Walker was absolutely correct in saying, “Edwina has been the backbone of MCFSC for a long time.”

One year, the CFSC was given $1 million; Edwina had applied for and we were awarded $800,000 of that money for our most ambitious fuel reduction project that year. MCFSC’s efforts were recognized.

Kay is in the advanced stage of Alzheimer’s, but I know if she were aware, she would join me in wishing Edwina well deserved happiness in retirement and our undying gratitude for her devotion to the Fire Safe Council and the community.

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author’s name, address and weekday phone number.

The Town Crier will not publish “thank-you” letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (becky@towncrier.com).

Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

CLUBS

Mountain Area Genealogy Group

The Mountain Area Genealogy Group meets from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Friday, May 10, at the Idyllwild Library.

This is an introductory meeting for those interested in being part of a genealogy group. Bring your family tree and share stories if you have them. The group will discuss what they would like to do and learn in their genealogical searches.

For full details and to RSVP, visit www.meetup.com/Idyllwild-Genealogy-Meetup/events/249204205/ ...

Fireside Book Group

For the month of May, the Fireside Book Group will be reading “Dear Los Angeles” by David Kipen. Kipen, a cultural historian and avid scholar of Los Angeles, has scoured libraries, archives and private estates to assemble a kaleidoscopic view of a truly unique city.

From Spanish missionary expeditions to the Golden Age of Hollywood to the new world of social media, this compilation comes from diary entries and letters throughout a 500 year span, creating a tapestry of discoveries and observations.

The group will be from 2 to 3 p.m. Wednesday, May 15, at the Idyllwild Library, to discuss the book ...

Idyllwild Elders and Others

A new club, Idy Elders and Others, has scheduled a first meeting as a community discussion from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 21, at the Idyllwild Library.

The purpose is to find ways to live on the Hill when faced with challenges such as old age or illness.

From left, Becky Clark, Barbara Wallace and her sister Theresa McCarthy following the Cinco de Mayo meal prepared for folk who showed up for the American Legion Post 800 feast Saturday night. The weekend of April 27, the Idyllwild Middle School Mountain Bike Team competed at the Cruise the Keys race in Keyesville (near Lake Isabella). The five kids who went did very well at the toughest course of the year. Mei Li Stroud (right) overcame a spill to the podium and had her best finish of the year, fourth place, in the very competitive Girls Level 2, Grades 6-8. Isabela Asiedu also grabbed her best finish of the year and achieved her goal of a top 10 finish by finishing ninth in the Girls Level 1, Grades 6-8 category. Another best finish of the year was Seth White, finishing 18th in the Boys Level 2, Grades 6-7 category. Colby Sonnier held his own, finishing 31st in the huge Boys Level 1, Grade 7 category. Kaleb Mann held strong through an early pileup to finish 23rd in the Boys Level 1, Grade 6 category. As their coach, I can tell you that these kids made me so proud as they pushed themselves through some very hot, dry, dusty and windy conditions to race and finish well. We’re looking forward to the fifth and final race coming up May 11 in Tehachapi. PHOTO BY JOSH WHITE

Jerry Ogburn (left), president-elect of the Palm Springs Noon Rotary Club, received an official Rotary squirrel mascot from Idyllwild Rotary President Chris Scott at the Wednesday, May 1, meeting. Ogburn addressed the club in his capacity as a long-term member of the Palm Springs Tram board, and presented many interesting facts about its financing and operation. PHOTO BY TOM KLUZAK

CHP to announce new traffic safety campaign

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

On Monday, May 6, the California Highway Patrol San Geronio Pass Area announced it is implementing a stronger traffic enforcement campaign. The program began last week and will continue through September 2019.

These efforts will focus on the San Geronio Pass Area’s top primary collision factors that are causing injury and fatal collisions within this area.

Federal funding will allow CHP to deploy more officers. CHP also will be working with a community-based task force and creating a public education curriculum to reinforce key traffic safety messages.

CHP and task force members unveiled traffic safety signs for the campaign.

Funding for this program was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

JP Crumrine can be reached at jp@towncrier.com.

Have coffee with the CHP
The California Highway Patrol is starting Coffee With a Cop at the Town Baker in Idyllwild.
The event is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, May 18.
The three Idyllwild resident post officers (pending scheduling), Public Information Officer Darren Meyer, Lt. Rich Mendez (field operations manager) and Capt. Mike Alvarez will be available to visit with local residents.

Citizens’ Climate Lobby to meet
The Citizens’ Climate Lobby meets from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 11, at the Idyllwild Library.
The group is a non-partisan, nonprofit organization that empowers people from all walks of life to become effective advocates for a livable world.
Its plan is to reduce greenhouse gas emissions enough to stabilize the climate while boosting the economy.

Garden offers free classes
Young Idyllwild’s Community Garden and Education Center is offering two free classes this May. The first class will be taught by gardener Julie Koppel from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 11. It will feature raised bed and container gardening with tips for succession planting and planting an herb garden.
The second class is from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 25. It will feature “How To Layout and Plan Your Home Garden” presented by landscape designer April Palmer. You will need to bring measurements of the area where you want to garden as well as a large sheet of paper, a pencil and eraser. Photos are also helpful.
Class size is limited to 15 people so sign up early by emailing Bob Greenamyre at bgreenamyre@gmail.com. Children are welcome and must be accompanied by an adult.
Everyone is also invited to join garden enthusiasts for the Community Garden Workday from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 18. Bring a hat, gloves and water.

Fit Over 50 is back
The Idyllwild Community Center Recreation Program has brought back Fit Over 50, a free senior-citizen exercise program, from 11 a.m. to noon Mondays and Thursdays. All senior citizens are invited.

Small business loan deadline
Director Tanya N. Garfield of the U.S. Small Business Administration’s Disaster Field Operations Center-West reminds California small businesses of the May 24, deadline to apply for an SBA federal disaster loan for economic injury caused by the Cranston Fire in Riverside County that occurred July 25 to Aug. 15, 2018.

According to Garfield, most businesses may apply for Economic Injury Disaster Loans of up to $2 million to help meet working capital needs caused by the disaster. “Economic Injury Disaster Loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that cannot be paid because of the disaster’s impact. Economic injury assistance is available regardless of whether the applicant suffered any property damage,” Garfield said.

These low-interest federal disaster loans are available in Imperial, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties in California; and La Paz County in Arizona.

Interest rates are 3.61 percent for businesses and 2.5 percent for private nonprofit organizations with terms up to 30 years. Loan amounts and terms are set by SBA and are based on each applicant’s financial condition.

Applicants may apply online, receive more disaster assistance information and download applications at https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela. Applicants may also call SBA’s Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov. Individuals who are deaf or hard-of-hearing may call 800-877-8339.

Mail applications to U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 King-sport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

Rodgers admits attempting criminal threats

After nearly five years,
Green trial to start

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

On May 2, Carl Rodgers, 45, of Idyllwild pleaded guilty to attempted criminal threats that could cause great bodily harm.
Riverside County Superior Court Judge Stephen Gallon granted Rodgers probation for three years after serving 180 days in the Riverside County jail. He also will have to pay the victim restitution and enroll in a 52-week domestic violence program.

He was arrested on April 22 and charged with the felony threats and a misdemeanor for driving without a license. The latter was dismissed.

Marcus Green’s trial is scheduled to begin May 10.
Green, 54, of Thermal, was the driver of a car that went over the side of Highway 74 in May 2014 and resulted in the death of a 5-month-old child. The RC District Attorney’s office filed two felony charges — murder and willful child cruelty — as well as gross domestic violence.

His bail is $1.86 million and he has been in custody since his arrest in 2014.

Forest Service seeks committee members to advise on fees

The U.S. Forest Service’s Pacific Southwest Region is seeking nominations to fill the 11-member Recreation Resource Advisory Committee in California.

Recreation committee members recommend recreation fee changes at national forest sites throughout California. This includes making recreation fee program recommendations on implementing or eliminating standard amenity fees; expanded amenity fees; and non-commercial, individual special recreation permit fees; expanding or limiting the recreation fee program; and fee-level changes.

Nominations are being accepted through Aug. 1. The Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act, signed in December 2004, directs the secretary of Agriculture, the secretary of the Interior, or both to establish Recreation Resource committees, or use existing advisory committees to perform these duties.

Recreation committee members represent various interests. Five persons are to represent recreation users and activities, which will be dependent on the season and mechanized equipment.

These types of recreational activities include winter motorized recreation such as snowmobiling; winter non-motorized recreation such as snowshoeing, cross-country and downhill skiing, and snowboarding; summer motorized recreation such as motorcycling, boating and off-highway vehicle driving; summer nonmotorized recreation such as backpacking, horseback riding, mountain biking, canoeing and rafting; and hunting and fishing.

Three persons will represent interest groups that include motorized outfitters and guides, and nonmotorized outfitters and guides. The third person will represent local environmental groups

The other three members will represent the following interests: a tourism official representing the state; a representative of affected Native American tribes; and a representative of affected local government interests.

The secretary will appoint members for staggered terms of two and three years beginning on the date members are first appointed. The secretary may reappoint members to subsequent two- or three-year terms.

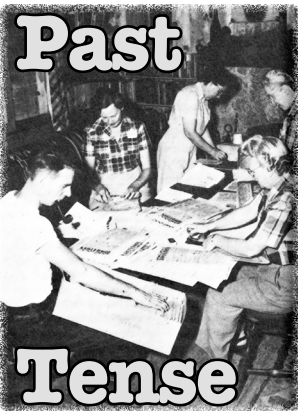

Membership appointments are based on the following criteria: qualifications to represent the desired interest group; rationale for committee service and desired contributions; and experience working successfully as part of a collaborative group.

Committee membership will be fairly balanced in terms of the point of view represented and functions to be performed. The committee’s jurisdiction includes national forests and/or Bureau of Land Management managed lands, in the state of California. They receive travel and per diem expenses for regularly scheduled meetings, but do not receive pay or other compensation.

Nominees’ demonstrated ability to represent minorities, women and persons with disabilities also will be considered in membership selections.

For more information, visit www.fs.usda.gov/main/r5/recreation/racs, or contact Matthew Boisseau at 707-562-8846 or matthew.boisseau@usda.gov.

Interested individuals must complete an application and provide background information supporting their qualifications to represent at least one of the identified interest groups by Aug. 1. Applications are available at www.fs.usda.gov/main/r5/recreation/racs and completed applications must be mailed to: USFS Region 5- Recreation RAC Nomination Attn: Matthew Boisseau, 1323 Club Drive, Vallejo, CA 94592.

CPUC OKs Edison Wildfire Mitigation Plan

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

About two months after California’s electric utilities submitted their wildfire mitigation plans to the state Public Utility Commission, the agency issued proposed decisions for the three largest utilities, including Southern California Edison. The two administrative law judges reviewing the documents agreed that the plans complied with the requirements of Senate Bill 901.

Tentative decisions were issued April 29 and final CPUC approval is expected at the May 30 meeting.

The SCE WMP was found to meet all the requirements specified in the law and by CPUC regulations. The judges and the CPUC stressed that SCE will have to provide regular reports on its activities to mitigate wildfires and any other related actions.

The judges did recommend that SCE bring its maps and designation of “High Fire Risk Areas” into greater conformity with the CPUC High Fire-Threat District maps.

Secondly, the decision required SCE to ensure its enhanced inspections and maintenance protect its distribution infrastructure as well as the transmission system.

Also, the proposed decision requested that SCE improve its justification for removing hazardous trees and reduction in system faults, ignitions and down wire events.

SCE’s plan promises more inspections, including enhanced overhead inspections. Two third parties questioned the cost and efficacy of these inspections. The judges also questioned whether these “enhanced” inspections would simply be drive-bys, given the large number of promised inspections.

Consequently, they ordered SCE to provide the CPUC with more information about how the enhanced inspections will be conducted.

To some extent, this issue relates to the judges’ concern about the adequacy of SCE’s metrics and indicators. For example, one of SCE’s performance metrics is “enhanced vegetation management.” This will be measured by the number of trees removed. The 2019 goal is 7,500 trees.

But the third parties argued that outcomes would be a preferred means to measure the success of wildfire mitigation. And the judges agreed, “... metrics are to be used to evaluate whether the plan actually reduces the risk of catastrophic wildfire. Thus it is not enough to measure how many trees are trimmed or miles of conductor replaced. Rather, metrics must measure whether this work had an impact on the utility’s wildfire risk.”

So, SCE was directed to come back with improved metrics that can demonstrate the success of its mitigation efforts.

But the overall plan was tentatively approved with the above conditions.

Commission scheduled the permit approval. No one attended and only one objection was raised. Consequently, the commission approved the permit unanimously.

Riley Ellis, who said he has been an Idyllwild resident for 20 years, wrote, “... am very much against the proposed installation being considered for Plat Plan No. 25987.” That is the reference to the commission’s file name for the tower’s permit.

Ellis objected to the tower because he felt it would “negatively effect the bucolic nature of the area and the view from my porch in particular.” He suggested that Verizon find an alternative location for its “ugly cell phone tower,” which might also affect access to Strawberry Creek.

But many people who are listed within the 600-foot boundary and were sent notifications of the meeting do not remember receiving them.

Myra Dutton, one of those concerned about the process, has suggested a change that might help local residents recognize an important zoning or building permit application affecting their neighborhood.

“The county cell tower permit process was very ineffectual for Idyllwild. Notifications were only sent once almost three years ago,” she wrote in an email. “The notice itself was unassuming, white with black print, and had multiple pages. Our notification was only a small paragraph on the third page.

“After a number of phone calls to the county supervisor’s office [Chuck Washington], I was told that they would change the permit process for Idyllwild and issue multiple notifications for any cell tower installation plans in the future,” she continued.

Then Dutton suggested, “Perhaps it is a good idea to reinstate the [Hill Municipal Advisory] Council here that was disbanded a few years ago due to lack of interest. MAC would be notified about any cell tower plans here and then would inform the rest of us so we could respond and at least have a say in the matter. Unincorporated areas, like Anza, Winchester-Homeland and Cabazon-Whitewater have one. It would help, especially these days with so many issues at hand.”

Recently, the newest member of the Idyllwild Historic Preservation District’s Local Review Board Terry Shipley asked his colleagues whether they had addressed the issue since the property is within the district boundaries.

None recalled a formal involvement. And Chair Warren Monroe acknowledged that although the tower was within the district, the LRB’s responsibilities are protecting existing historic resources. The tower itself is new and its placement does not affect the façade of any of the existing structures on the property.

On July 20, 2017, Yun Baird of the county’s Parks and Open-Space Department, responded to a Planning Commission request for comments about the tower. Her reply was, “No comments, looks fine. Thanks for the opportunity to review.”

Consistent with state law, the county planner also directly wrote six local tribes and informed them of the project. The Agua Caliente Band of the Cahuilla Indians did request a cultural inventory and consultation. Ultimately, the tribe submitted a condition stating the procedures to be followed if any human remains were discovered during the grading.

At its Feb. 21, 2018, meeting the Planning Commission adopted the staff recommendation to accept the negative environmental declaration and to approve the permit.

Eventually, Verizon’s tower may support the new network protocol, 5G. However, Verizon has no operational 5G equipment in California. Its first use of this technology is in Chicago and Minneapolis.

While some people are concerned that the higher frequencies will be dangerous for humans, there is no substantial nor credible research documenting this fear. Currently, both the Federal Communications Commission and the Food and Drug Administration acknowledge more studies would be beneficial, but none are currently adequate to support the fears of its use.

“While there is no federally developed national standard for safe levels of exposure to radiofrequency (RF) energy, many federal agencies have addressed this important issue. In addition to the Federal Communications Commission, federal health and safety agencies such as the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) have been actively involved in monitoring and investigating issues related to RF exposure,” according to the FCC.

The FDA does monitor frequencies emitted from microwaves, found in many residential kitchens. The FCC also tests and monitors the absorption rate of radio waves emitted from wireless devices. There is a limit, which if it were exceeded, would cause the FCC to stop the use of that device.

Nevertheless, some public officials question the safety of this technology. On March 13, the Portland, Oregon, City Council unanimously adopted a resolution requesting the FCC, in cooperation with the FDA, update its research on the health and environmental impacts of 5G radio frequency wireless emissions.

While the opposition to the new tower on the Idyllwild Inn property has recently surfaced, no one has expressed any concern or suffered health issues from the radio tower at the Idyllwild Fire Station, which was installed years ago.

Dahleen announces 20th Concert Series line-up

By JP CRUMRINE
NEWS EDITOR

Ken Dahleen, founder and producer of the Idyllwild Summer Concert Series, announced the performers for the 2019 — the 20th-annual — ISCS.

The first headliner, and these are all headline acts, will be The Diamonds, nationally famous and treasured. Do not come alone to this event, be sure to bring your “Little Darlin’.”

Dahleen has worked with the group many times and they are as excited to visit Idyllwild as he is to introduce them to the inaugural crowd at the Idyllwild Community Center Amphitheatre.

“July 11 is the grand opening of the amphitheatre,” Dahleen said proudly. “It’s the first time for the new location and we’re opening with The Diamonds. It’ll be great!”

“For the 20th series, I tried to pick the top groups — the most popular — over these 20 years,” Dahleen said. (See the accompanying box for the entire 2019 schedule.)

A Marine and musician, years ago, Dahleen, a saxophonist, spent many summer nights performing with popular and well-known musicians and acts. “I said we ought to do this in Idyllwild.”

But there was no local government entity to approach that would help organize and defray costs. So on his own, Dahleen reached out to community leaders to provide that assistance.

“We only had months to do it,” he exclaimed. But they did it. There were four acts that year and the concerts were where the Village Center Complex (Higher Grounds and Idyll Awhile) are located now.

Over time, the concerts have migrated from their original venue to the Mt. San Jacinto State Park, the Idyllwild Community Center, and in 2018, the parking lot of the Idyllwild Brewpub. But in 2019 and the future, the ISCS will be hosted at the ICC Amphitheatre.

“We’re proud to do that, inaugurate the amphitheatre. It’s a wonderful addition to the community,” he said.

As a former Marine, Dahleen admitted that many of his proudest moments each year have been when the Marine Corps band performs. “I still have friends connected with them and some friendships have passed.”

But the biggest challenge each year, Dahleen said, without hesitation, is fundraising.

“We always start out without enough money, but by the last concert we’ve got enough,” he said. He then mentioned that this year’s budget is a little more because of some special things planned for the 20th anniversary series.

Special family event at library

The Idyllwild Library will host its second-annual “My Community Rocks” from 10:30 a.m. to noon Monday, May 13.

It will bring together the families for a free, super-sized story time. Special guests from the Riverside County Sheriff Department, Idyllwild Fire Protection District and Pine Cove Water District to read to the children.

There also will be goodie bags filled with surprises from local businesses who also serve the community.

Idyllwild Summer Concert Series 2019

All concerts will begin at 6:15 p.m., usually with a local group performing. The main acts will begin at 7 p.m. All concerts will be at the Idyllwild Community Center Amphitheatre.

CREATURE CORNER

BY JANICE MURASKO

Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," the ARF cats talked about how many of them are lap cats.

Zeus: I was hoping last week's "Creature Corner" would encourage humans to see what great lap cats we are.

Thomas: Well, Heavenly Whiskers has some interest.

Zeus: Seriously? That's great! Whiskers, tell us about it.

Heavenly Whiskers: A nice couple spent time in the cattery, and I got some great petting.

Sadie: Are you going to be adopted?

Heavenly Whiskers: Maybe! The best part is the humans knew they needed to spend a little time in the cattery so we would feel comfortable, and I did. It was so nice.

Mr. Gray: I hope people realize that we are ready to be adopted, and by that I mean we are current on vaccinations, and some of us have recently had our dentals.

Zeus: So when we are adopted, we should need little to no veterinary care for quite a while.

Indie: That's right. ARF really takes care of us. The nice lady in charge of animal welfare tracks our weight and is continually making certain we are healthy.

Mr. Gray: Right! We all had a visit from a veterinarian, and she determined which of us need to have some dental work. She also gave us vaccinations to keep us healthy.

Indie: We are feelin' good!

Zeus: And looking good, too.

Bear: On another subject, are there no ARF dogs now?

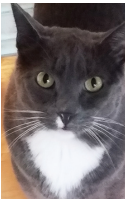

Heavenly Whiskers: Not at the moment, but you know how that goes. If one comes along who will work out with a foster, ARF will take it in and give it everything it needs.

Thomas: Well, that shouldn't be too long. Just when things get quiet ...

Bear: Yeah, we know.

IA student Mark Beebe is Grand Prize Finalist at L.A.'s Music Center

By Jack Clark
Contributor

Seventeen-year-old Idyllwild Arts Academy senior Mark Beebe was one of 14 “future superstars” selected as Grand Prize Finalists at The Music Center’s 31st-annual Spotlight Program. He will perform at the ticketed Grand Finale Performance at The Music Center’s Walt Disney Concert Hall at 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 4.

About 1,600 students auditioned from more than 253 high schools in 195 cities and eight California counties in seven competition programs. Mark was entered in the Jazz Instrumental program, playing alto saxophone. He selected Billy Strayhorn’s “Isfahan” and Benny Golson’s “Stablemates” for the competition and was backed by IA grad Owen Zorn on bass and a drummer. In addition to performing in the Grand Finale Performance, Mark won a $5,000 scholarship.

According to Rachel Moore, president and CEO of The Music Center, the Spotlight Program “nurtures nascent talent into blossoming performers or even future arts administrators by preparing them for the road ahead.” She views high schools as “the ultimate crossroad of life,” adding that Spotlight “offers a vital step forward for those students dreaming of a performing arts career.”

Jeri Gaile, director of the Spotlight Program, stated, “We’re so impressed with this year’s cadre of Spotlight finalists. They have the insight now to decide their path forward.

We’re excited to watch these stars shine even brighter in the future.”

Paul Carman, one of Mark’s instructors at Idyllwild Arts, opined that Mark is “definitely the best sax player we’ve graduated” and “one of the very best jazz performers.” Carman related that for next year, Mark has been accepted at many fine schools, including Berklee College of Music in Boston, The New School in New York City, California Institute of the Arts and Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Ohio, and that Mark will be attending the Conservatorium van Amsterdam in the Netherlands, which Carman praised as having a “very, very fine reputation.”

Tickets to the June 4 Spotlight Grand Finale Performance are $20 and can be purchased from the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion Box Office at 135 N. Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90012, by calling 213 972-0711 or by visiting musiccenter.org/spotlight-finale.

Not too soon to touch the camera

Idyllwild Arts Film students show that nothing could be better

By Don Stoll
Idyllwild Arts Manager of Communications and International Student Relations

Idyllwild Arts Academy’s film and digital media students will showcase their films — and show why they often ask “What could be better than this?” — on Wednesday, May 15, in the William M. Lowman Concert Hall.

At 3 p.m. and then at 6:30 p.m., six graduating seniors and one departing postgraduate student, along with their younger colleagues, will screen 25 films (some with adult language and content) for the Idyllwild Arts community and the general public.

And starting at 3 p.m., the Lowman Concert Hall lobby will feature a continuous demonstration of the 360-degree virtual reality filmmaking that academy instructor Neil Short has taught this year.

One of the students who wonders “What could be better than this?” — a tenth-grader from Bainbridge Island in Puget Sound — asked the question a few months ago, during a film shoot in downtown Los Angeles. Proximity to the movie capital of the world is part of what makes the academy’s Film Department thrilling to young people. Another part is their instruction by film industry professionals.

But perhaps the greatest excitement for film students is in making their own films, even as ninth-graders. College film departments don’t allow students to touch a camera for the first year or two, but the 25 movies showing in Lowman Concert Hall represent the work of students from every high school year.

Graduating seniors Theo Dröse, Adrienne Ferguson, Jozsef Lelovics, Rui Yan “Rio” Liu, Nicole Taro and Weijing “Vicking” Wang are justifiably excited about their futures. Yet the ones who go on to study film in college will, in a sense, take a step backward.

The extraordinary ambition and daring of the Film Department have even made it possible for this year’s only postgrad student, Martin Gerard, to tackle a feature film. Martin’s “In You We Trust” addresses domestic abuse and the marginalization of Native Americans as it follows the efforts of a young Native woman to uncover the truth behind murders committed in her community. This is a full-length work on which Martin and his academy colleagues have more work to do, but he’ll show the trailer in Lowman Concert Hall.

The Film Department faculty and students have earned so much respect that the departmental awards have been judged by the forward-thinking film community Women Under The Influence. Awards will be announced after the second showing of films.

The event is free and open to the public.

HOROSCOPES

May 2019 — Week 2

March 21 – April 19
Untangling personal problems might take more time than the impatient Lamb expected. But it's important to hang in there until all those knotty situations are straightened out.

April 20 – May 20
You still need to work out last-minute snags in your dealings with a rival. Hold your ground despite a perceived lack of support. Things should turn around before you know it.

May 21 – June 21
Best not to delay preparing for that upcoming family event. The sooner you get things started, the better chance you have of finding potential problems and making needed changes.

June 22 – July 22
The romantic Moon Child might be reluctant to see the reality behind that "ideal" situation. But by midweek, the practical Crab emerges to help clear away the moonbeams.

July 23 – August 22
Although the Big Cat might be receptive to more "purr-suasion" to get you to agree to a workplace change, make sure you can distinguish the fine line between facts and flattery.

August 23 – September 22
Your positive attitude in the workplace helps to get you noticed by the right people. Now go ahead and use some of that new self-confidence to help shore up a personal relationship.

September 23 – October 22
Although you might still have to work out some problems with a business partner, things go more smoothly on the home front. An investment opportunity might need more study.

October 23 – November 21
Don't be reluctant to act on your suspicion. Even if others see nothing wrong, the astute Scorpio could sense an underlying problem that isn't always obvious on the surface.

November 22 – December 21
A new opportunity presents some obstacles that need to be dealt with as soon as possible. Delaying action in hopes that the problems will go away could be counterproductive.

December 22 – January 19
A friend or family member's request might carry some hidden factors that could later create problems. Be sure you know all the facts before you make your decision.

January 20 – February 18
A setback in implementing a plan could turn out to be a blessing in disguise. Use the downtime to rework your original concepts and see where changes could be made.

February 19 – March 20
You might not be consciously fishing for compliments, but admit it -- won't you feel great when your efforts are noticed? So accept the praise gracefully. You earned it.

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS

California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: "Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor."

This is a contractor's responsibility, not a newspaper's, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors' advertising, if we notice it.

At this school year's last Idy-Talk, Aminta Skye (left) and Lexi Warnock shared their brief but eventful life stories that led them to attend Idyllwild Arts Academy. The entertaining and informative event, for the first time featuring two students, was held at the Town Gallery, which has been remodeled to accommodate the series. The Songwriting majors also performed some of their works, amazing the audience with their creativity and talent; their harmony was especially impressive. Lexi is graduating but Aminta is only in her second year at the academy.

Soroptimists honor grant, scholarship winners

Soroptimist International of Idyllwild awarded nearly $9,000 in scholarships and grants to local women and girls in the last 12 months. Club members and awardees celebrated their success at a dinner hosted by Ferro on Thursday, April 25.

The club received four applications for the annual Live Your Dream Award and all four were awarded scholarships. LYDA recipients must be women who are the heads of households and who are enrolled in college.

Local LYDA scholarship recipients were Delaney Pincumbe, Kasaan Hammon, Camille Spencer and Alison Johnson. Hammon and Spencer attended the awards dinner where they got up and thanked the club for the support.

Spencer is completing her associate's degree with the goal of teaching cosmetology, a profession she's been working in for decades.

Hammon is working toward a bachelor's degree to teach English at Idyllwild Arts, where she currently teaches songwriting.

Grant and scholarship recipients were honored at a dinner on April 25 at Ferro by Soroptimist International of Idyllwild. The club gave a Soroptimist International of Idyllwild scholarship to Denise Jones, who is studying nursing at Mt. San Jacinto Community College.

Mary Austin Grants were also given to three local women. The Mary Austin Scholarships and Grants program was created to honor the late Mary Austin, who was a Soroptimist member. Her husband, Doug Austin, who set up the fund in perpetuity, attended the awards dinner to thank the club for their work. Additional funds for Mary Austin Grant recipients were made available this year thanks to a donation from Linda and Manny Rider.

In addition to scholarships and grants, Soroptimist gave a monetary award to Spirit Mountain Retreat for their quarterly Veteran Women's PTSD Retreat.

CONTEST JUDGE

This is more like it! Five entries this week from Rochelle Ainsworth, Robert Carie, Chris Morse, Marc Reis and John Thomford. All five nailed the sign out front of the Spiritual Oneness Center on Cedar Street. Five names in the hat, Mandy Johnson pulled one name out: Robert wins another one!

Town Crier gift certificates are provided through the generosity of the Red Kettle restaurant and Higher Grounds Coffee House. Please say thanks to both of them for sponsoring our column when you stop in.

OK. Where have you seen this week's photo?
One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the Town Crier office. Email entries to jack@towncrier.com.
