Town roads will be repaved in time for weekend events

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

Last week, town roads were completely torn up due to the county repaving project. Detours were present only when it was too late to compensate and traffic control was non-existent. Not only were residents frustrated, so were business owners (see Town Talk on page A5).

The work was originally scheduled to coincide with the work on Highway 74 to ensure the town would be minimally impacted. However, the Idyllwild Water District's pipeline replacement work in the center of town was delayed. This caused a delay in the repaving project and Highway 74 from Hemet to Mountain Center opened without the pilot car before the repaving project was completed.

The Town Crier sent an email to Riverside County Third District Supervisor Chuck Washington's Chief of Staff Michelle Dearmond letting her know the conditions and asked if the work would be competed by Oct. 12 for the Art Walk and Wine Tasting, the Quilt Show and other events around town that weekend.

Dearmond responded, "I've reached out to Patty Romo, the transportation director, to answer your questions. I'll be in touch or she will as soon as possible."

Fire weather watch begins

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

The National Weather Service issued red flag warnings for the area and Cal Fire issued a press release that it is "staffing up and preparing for the forecasted extreme fire weather across California" between Wednesday and Friday evening. Check for updates.

"With some of the most destructive and deadliest fires occurring October through December, we need Californians to not be complacent. Wind-driven fires move fast, and residents need to be ready to evacuate at a moment's notice in the event of a wildfire," said Cal Fire Director Thom Porter. Cal Fire wants the public to know that the agency "is not involved in the decision making of when and where the power is turned off, or when the power will be turned back on when such conditions

Here are some safety tips from Cal Fire:

- Don't mow or trim dry grass on windy days.
  - Never pull your vehicle over in dry grass.
  - Target shoot only in approved areas, use lead ammunition only, and never shoot at metal objects.
  - Check and obey burn bans.
  - Ensure campfires are allowed, and if so, be sure to extinguish them completely.
  - Report any suspicious activities to prevent arson. If you see something — say something.
- To learn how you can be prepared for wildfires and evacuation steps, visit ReadyForWildfire.org and preventwildfire.ca.gov.

arise." The agency will, however, request a power shut-off from a utility company for the safety of firefighters when fighting a wildfire around powerlines. "The power shut-off request will only be for within the fire area and this is to provide for the safety of firefighters within that area," according to the press release.

Not every hero wears a cape

It's National Fire Prevention Week

By CAL FIRE
CONTRIBUTED

Move over superheroes, and look around, every Californian can be a hero if they know and practice fire safety skills. As Fire Prevention Week soars Oct. 6 to 12, planning and practicing a safe escape is the key to getting out of a house fire or wildfire in time. "Being aware of your surroundings is an ability people need to use wherever they go," said Cal Fire Director Thom Porter. "No matter where you are, look for two ways out. If the alarm system sounds, take it seriously and exit immediately. If you are in a wildfire situation, leave early."

Complacency can result in disaster. Now is the time to educate yourself and your family about the small but important actions to keep everyone safe. Start with a home escape plan and practice it monthly, during the day and at night so it becomes muscle memory. Have an outside meeting place so your family knows where to go and to stay, and also have a communication plan in place. In a wildfire, don't wait to evacuate. If it's an uncomfortable situation, leave early and make sure to take your pets and important items with you.

"Your ability to get out safely depends on advance planning and warning," said California State Fire Marshal Mike Richwine. "Per the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), only one of every three American households have actually developed and practiced a home fire escape plan. While 71% of Americans have an escape plan in case of a fire, only 47% of those have practiced it. We can do better."

By being a hero, you can be someone who takes small, but important actions to keep yourself and those around you safe from fire. When it comes to fire safety, be the hero in your household and your community. Here are a few things you can do:

- Make an escape plan, practice your plan monthly during the day and at night to make sure that children and adults react to the smoke alarm and know what to do.
- Draw a map of each level of the home. Show two ways out of every room.
- Have an outside meeting place like a mailbox, tree, or light. Call 911 from your meeting place.

- Children, older adults, and people with disabilities may need assistance to wake up and get out. Make sure that someone helps them.
- Install smoke alarms inside every sleeping area, in hallways outside of sleeping areas and on every level of your home.
- If people are trapped, firefighters have the best chance of rescuing them. Firefighters have the training, experience and protective equipment needed to enter burning buildings.

Become a hero by learning fire safety skills to protect you, your family, and your community. For more detailed information, visit www.readyforwildfire.org or www.fire.ca.gov.

ICC soccer season week 2 results

By Will Steichen
Idyllwild Community Center Director

This soccer season is proving to be quite competitive with players showing some impressive talent. Below is a recap of last week's games.

4- to 6- year old division

The Blue Monsters had a great game with Marlin Peterson scoring a goal and Quinnlyn Carpenter playing great defense. Mark Pena and Ian Castro were rock stars on defense for the Royal Knights. The Redhawks' Augie Titus scored two goals with teammate Bob Donovan scoring a third. The Renegades goalie, Finn Kellgren, made remarkable saves!

7- to 9- year old division

"Idyllwild's" Dane Knight scored the winning goal late in the game giving them a 1-0 victory over The Dragons. Goalies Roger Gonzalez and Tate Donavan of Idyllwild worked together to shut out their competition in a thrilling game. The Dragons had stellar defense from Nick Sanchez, Miles Sechrest and Kayson Adams.

For The Dragons second game of the week, Miles Sechrest scored a hat trick (three goals) while Jackson Taylor provided great defense in their 3-0 game against Liverpool. Luke Olivier and Candace Cook had standout games for Liverpool.

Seth White scored two goals for the Crusaders to give them a 2-0 lead, but the Idyllwild Stars' Dane Nuez responded with two goals to tie the game. Cody Fogle came back with a goal, giving the Crusaders a 3-2 victory over the Idyllwild Stars. Jayden Fogle was a standout goalie for the Crusaders, making multiple impressive saves!

Steele T29 at Shriners last week

Plays in Houston
Open this week

By Jack Clark
Pro Golf Correspondent

Brendan Steele posted a 14-under-par 68-69-68-65 — 270 at the Shriners Hospitals for Children Open last week in Las Vegas to tie for 29th place. Considering that about 165 of some of the best players in the world enter each PGA Tour event, a 29th placing is impressive. The Idyllwild native posted 20 birdies against only 6 bogeys all week, including a whopping 11 birdies while going bogey free over his closing 27 holes.

A bit of a shaky start brought Steele to his 36th green Friday afternoon where he faced a nerve-testing 3 foot, 1 inch putt — if he made it, he went on to play the weekend and if he missed it, he and all his fans went home. With no hesitation, he rapped that putt firmly in the front door of the hole.

From there, his game turned around. Steele's Saturday third round began birdie-birdie, then hit a rough stretch of four bogeys over his remaining first nine. However, he took hold over his final nine, posting five birdies against no bogeys to stand at 8-under-par going into Sunday's final round. In that fourth round, Steele marked up six more birdies during a bogey-free sparkling round of 65.

On the week, Steele's drives averaged 312.4 yards while finding 75% of the fairways. He hit an impressive 79.17% of the greens in regulation and lost little more than one-fifth of a stroke against the field putting. On Sunday, he actually gained 1.231 stroke in that last category. Over the four days, Steele drained 10 putts of 10 feet or more in length, including putts of 32, 26 and 24 feet.

This fine showing moved Steele up 13 places on the FedExCup list, from 87th to 74th. He needs to be in the top 125 by the end of this season next August to earn his PGA Tour card for the 2020/21 season. Striding to the scoring trailer after Sunday's 33-32 round of 65, the Idyllwild native exuded a well-earned confidence going forward that was fine to see.

Besides the Town Crier, Steele was supported in person by one former Idyllwild local who wished to remain unidentified, but who certainly was enthusiastic and cheered on Steele. And, of course, Steele's Montreal superfans, André Pilon and wife Pierrette Filion, walked with him every round.

Steele looks forward to keeping his momentum going this week at the Houston Open on the Golf Club of Houston course in Texas. He'll tee off Thursday at 10:35 a.m. PDT and Friday at 5:45 a.m. PDT playing both days with Grayson Murray and Patton Kizzire.

Readers keep joining ... members keep renewing

By JACK CLARK
CO-PUBLISHER

Last week we published a story about the publisher-editor of a local newspaper in a rural community in Kentucky. He was somewhat startled — and he must also have been humbled — to learn that farmers in his community had not attended an important civic meeting about farm zoning because they were relying on him to attend and publish a thorough and accurate report about it. They felt that their local newspaper's story would be all they needed to decide on how to respond to a meeting that was important to their livelihoods.

We at the Town Crier intend to see that your community newspaper continues in that vein — serving as your community watchdog that publishes the bad with the good, warns of danger, advises of opportunity, challenges authority, praises accomplishment, investigates irregularity, marvels at art, exposes abuse, celebrates lives and publishes its readers' letters. If a publication doesn't do all of those things, it can't call itself a newspaper.

Hereafter, we plan to proudly publish a listing of the Town Crier's active memberships, most likely in the first issue of each month. We want you to know how much we appreciate your continuing support, and how important the memberships of you and your friends and neighbors are to all of us who care about our Hill community.

We'd also like to take this opportunity to give a special shout-out for the support of the Town Crier members who do not reside on the Hill. Some of them have second homes here and are keenly interested in our local goings on. Some have moved away, but still want to keep up with their old home. Some are folks who have decided they want to retire to our Hill someday, and some are simply visitors who loved their visit here and intend to return. Somewhat more than half of our members reside off the Hill, and we can't tell you how much we truly appreciate your continued support.

If you can, why not attend one of your Town Crier's weekly news meetings, where we plan coverage on stories for future issues. We meet at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesdays at the Idyllwild Library. The Town Crier's meetings are open to the public — members or not. Some folks have been participating for years. Come listen and be heard!

Thanks to you all.

Idyllwild Renaissance Faire

EDITOR:

On Sunday, Sept. 29, my wife and I had the pleasure of attending the 2019 Idyllwild Renaissance Faire held at Camp Emerson. Due to our job situation, we do not have the privilege of being able to reside at the top of the hill full-time. However, we visit whenever the occasion arises. And what an occasion!

Multiple musical groups with decades of training were singing with people in costumes ranging from simple to elaborate walking past, handmade goods both durable and soft, weaponry deployed in melee between fully armored knights, the Queen of Castile and her retinue sweeping through the camp earning bows and vows of service from passersby.

Disturbing photos

EDITOR:

I would like to better understand the point behind the two photos and their captions, which were shown juxtaposed on page A6 of the Oct. 3 issue of the Town Crier. The upper photo shows four people holding anti-Trump posters in front of a large "Trump 2020" banner, which appears to be mounted behind a chain link fence and is presumably on private property. The caption below this photo names the people who are "exercising their rights" by protesting the banner's message. The second photo shows a couple of people behind the fence taking down the "Trump 2020" banner, as the caption to this photo tersely points out.

Who took down the "Trump 2020" banner and why? Was it removed by someone who disagreed with its message? Was the person who originally put it up so bullied and intimidated by protesters that he/she removed it for fear of reprisal? I am very disturbed that these photos seem to celebrate the freedom of one side to proclaim its views, while denying that same freedom for the opposing view. That is not freedom of speech, and the protesters in the top photo look old enough to know that.

I fear the Town Crier may be developing a divisive political bias. That bias (on both sides) is everywhere else in the media, and it's the last thing I want to see in my hometown newspaper! It may feel like everyone in town agrees with the folks shown protesting, but that's mainly because people with liberal views tend to be open and up front about them, as your protesters clearly are. Those with conservative views may seem thin on the ground simply because they keep their mouths shut for reasons clearly demonstrated by your pair of photos. The Town Crier would best serve its diverse readership by staying out of the fray altogether.

Editor's note: The sign was a large part of the local conversation. The banner violated Riverside County ordinance 806. The property owner, Jason "Jay" Johnson, commented on the removal of the sign on Facebook: "A quick note to let you all know I'm the owner of the property. It was not Village Market's idea to take the sign down. Village Market had nothing to do with the sign. I support all the commanders and chiefs. I do believe Trump is doing a wonderful job. I assure you, I had more positive reviews than negative. I believe in the constitution. Obviously, there are many people that want to change it, but I'm not one of them. I respect all your views. A few of you believe that the sign was hurting our town. That's the only reason I took it down. Last thing I want to do is hurt the community."

I pray for America every night

EDITOR:

I cannot lose another country. You do not know how it hurts to give up a country. I do, but this time, no one is going to take America away from me.

Yes, history repeats itself. That is why I know and see clearly how we, the American people, are being used, abused and lied to.

Politicians are filling their pockets and using their power to control us. They are taking more and more of our democracy away from us.

I was eleven years old when World War II was over in Germany. It was a horrible war and it is forever a part of my heart and soul. My part of the country was given to Russia and I lived under communism and socialism for 10 years.

People had their properties taken with the explanation, "It is now all the wealth, the prosperity of the people."

When the wall came down in 1989 in East Germany, it was in shambles. However, West Germany was prospering.

I studied languages and was a language teacher for two

The KGB was watching, listening and spying on people all the time. We were not safer. We had the same situation again like under Hitler. If you spoke against the regime, you were picked up, and never seen again.

I had enough!

I immigrated to the United States in 1956. It took two years to get my visa. My aunt and uncle, who had come to America earlier, sponsored me. This way of letting people into America worked well.

I was due a small refund from my passage from the American Express. I went into the office to speak with the manager. After speaking with him, the manager offered me a job. I had only been in the country for three days.

People who want to immigrate, should want to integrate, learn English and give back to the country not take.

That is what I do. I give back to this wonderful country. America is the best country in the world. My "high" is loving America, respecting it and helping people.

We are at a crossroads. This country is in great danger. We must speak up and demand a change. Don't be afraid good people. The right is on our side.

Newspapers protect your First Amendment rights

By JIM ZACHARY
CNHI DEPUTY NATIONAL EDITOR

With just 45 words the founders guaranteed five — no six — basic freedoms, fundamental American rights.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

This Bill of Rights, the first 10 amendments to the U.S. Constitution, was ratified to protect freedom, to ensure liberty and to define the republic.

These fundamental rights of freedom declare what it means to be an American.

As Americans, we are guaranteed:

- The right to freely practice religion
- The right to exercise the freedom of speech
- The right of a free press
- The right to peaceably assemble in protest
- The right to petition the government for a redress of grievances
- And the sixth — implied — right: The right to know, viz; the freedom of information.

It stands to reason that if the press is free to hold government accountable, if all people are free to openly express their opinions about government, to assemble in protest of government and to petition the government for grievances against it, that we also have a fundamental right to always know what government is up to.

Newspapers have a long and important legacy protecting the public's right to know.

In that way, newspapers have always mattered. The work newspapers do in communities has always been important.

However newspapers have never mattered more or been more important.

In 1841, Thomas Carlyle wrote about the power of the press, conjuring the words of Edmond Burke: "Burke said there were Three Estates in Parliament; but, in the Reporters' Gallery yonder, there sat a Fourth Estate more important far than they all."

Burke may have been chiding the press for its sense of itself, but Carlyle used his words to write about the importance of newspapers to democracy.

In an often-quoted letter to Edward Carrington, Thomas Jefferson wrote that if he were to have to choose between "a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

Democracy is best served when the newspaper provides checks and balances as the fourth estate of government. Newspapers are not the enemy of government — rather they are the champions of ordinary men and women.

Newspapers are the most powerful advocate the public can have and for that reason should always provide an open forum for a redress of grievances and public expression.

Newspapers hold government accountable because at our very core we believe that government belongs to the governed and not to the governing.

If newspapers do not stand up for the public, protect the rights of free speech and the rights of access to government, then no one will.

The provisions of the First Amendment do not exist to protect the press. Rather, the press exists to help protect

Dr. Ruiz introduces bipartisan legislation for infrastructure improvements at Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center

Legislation would provide the authorization for road construction to access facility

BY THE OFFICE OF CONGRESSMAN RAUL RUIZ, M.D. CONTRIBUTED

Rep. Raul Ruiz, M.D., D-Palm Desert, and Rep. Ken Calvert, R-Corona, introduced bipartisan legislation to provide the Indian Health Service (IHS) with authority to acquire land and build an access road to the Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center outside of Hemet, California. The facility is the only Indian Health Services Youth Regional Treatment Center in California and is currently accessed by a dilapidated dirt road that is frequently washed out by heavy rains and often in great disrepair.

“As the only IHS youth regional treatment center in California, the Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center provides crucial services to support our native youth and build strong communities in our region and around the state,” said Ruiz. “It is unacceptable that there is no paved access to this facility. This legislation will increase access to health care and restore dignity to residents throughout the region who rely on the treatment and care that Desert Sage provides.”

“The Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center serves a critical role providing needed health services to the Native American community in southern California.” said Calvert. “That’s why I proudly supported funding for the construction of the facility as the previous chairman of the Interior and Environment Appropriations Subcommittee. I’m happy to work with Rep. Ruiz to ensure we have the infrastructure necessary to give patients access to this facility so they can safely receive care.”

“Tribes, Indian health programs, and American Indian families in California appreciate Congressional Representative Dr. Raul Ruiz for introducing this legislation and Reps. Ken Calvert, Pete Aguilar, and Paul Cook for co-sponsoring it,” said Dr. Mark LeBeau, chief executive officer of the California Rural Indian Health Board, Inc. “Their leadership in bringing this important legislation forward supports the Indian Health Service in completing the Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center construction project in Southern California.”

Chris Devers, tribal delegate for the Pauma Band of Luiseño Indians, said, “Having the main road paved will ensure that American Indian youth and facility staff can safely access the Desert Sage Wellness Center. We encourage all Representatives, especially those from California, to support this bill.”

The Desert Sage Youth Wellness Center provides substance abuse treatment to native youth with a focus on culturally appropriate care and community support. Desert Sage is the only Youth Regional Treatment Center in California and one of twelve nationwide.

Background

The legislation, H.R. 4495, is co-sponsored by Calvert, Rep. Pete Aguilar, D-CA, and Rep. Paul Cook, R-CA.

The Desert Sage Youth Treatment Center provides culturally sensitive treatment for American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) youth between the ages of 12 and 17 suffering from Substance Use Disorders (SUD). Previously, AI/AN youth used out-of-state facilities which took away their support systems at this crucial time of recovery from SUD.

Desert Sage was constructed in 2016 and can serve up to 32 patients at a time. It is the only IHS Youth Regional Treatment Center in California.

When the facility was constructed, Indian Health Service was unable to reach an agreement with landowners on adjacent properties in order to pave and maintain an access road. Ruiz’s legislation would give IHS the authority to purchase the land from willing sellers and construct a road to the facility.

According to the Centers for Disease Control, American Indian and Alaska Native populations had the second highest overdose rates from all opioids in 2017 among racial/ethnic groups in the United States.

Newsom signs bills to enhance wildfire mitigation, preparedness and response efforts

By the Office of Gov. Gavin Newsom
Contributed

Gov. Gavin Newsom signed a series of bills aimed at improving California's wildfire prevention, mitigation and response efforts and continuing progress toward its clean energy goals. The 22 bills cover various areas for a comprehensive approach to these issues, and reflect recommendations in the Governor's Strike Force report released in June. The report provided guidance on how the state can build a safe, reliable and affordable energy future.

"This has been a top priority in my administration since day one, and we were able to work collaboratively and effectively with the legislature to ensure California has a framework for today and for future generations," said Newsom. "Given the realities of climate change and extreme weather events, the work is not done but these bills represent important steps forward on prevention, community resilience, and utility oversight. I commend the legislature for making progress on these difficult issues."

In July, the governor signed a catastrophic wildfire and safety bill, moving the state toward a safer, more reliable and affordable energy future.

The Governor's Strike Force report included the following areas of focus:

- Catastrophic wildfire prevention and response
- Mitigating climate change through clean energy policies
- Fair allocation of catastrophic wildfire damages
- A more effective California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) with the tools to manage a changing utility market
- Holding PG&E accountable and building a utility that prioritizes safety

Below is a list of bills the governor signed to address recommendations made in the report, producing tangible results for all Californians.

Catastrophic wildfire prevention and response

The Strike Force report recommended the administration, the CPUC, local communities, and utilities work together to reduce the incidence and severity of wildfires. The following legislation will step up both community resilience and the state's response capabilities:

- Assembly Bill 38 by Assembly Member Jim Wood, D-Santa Rosa, provides mechanisms to develop best practices for community-wide resilience against wildfires through home hardening, defensible space, and other measures.
- Senate Bill 190 by Sen. Bill Dodd, D-Napa, includes a specific requirement to develop best models for defensible space and additional standards for home hardening and construction materials to increase the resilience of communities.
- Senate Bill 70 by Sen. Jim Nielsen, R-Gerber, requires Investor-Owned Utilities (IOU) to include information about consideration of undergrounding utility lines in their Wildfire Mitigation Plans (WMPs).
- Senate Bill 167 by Sen. Bill Dodd, D-Napa, requires IOUs to improve their WMPs by including specified requirements to mitigate the impacts of Public Safety Power Shutoffs (PSPS).
- Senate Bill 247 by Sen. Bill Dodd, D-Napa, requires increased oversight of the IOUs' WMPs, enhances requirements for fair wages and improves safety by ensuring a skilled and trained workforce.
- Senate Bill 209 by Sen. Bill Dodd, D-Napa, requires establishment of a new weather technology center modeled after the state's intelligence fusion centers.
- Assembly Bill 836 by Assembly Member Buffy Wicks, D-Oakland, establishes a program for retrofits of air ventilation systems to create community clean air centers, prioritizing areas with high cumulative smoke exposure burden.

- den.
- Assembly Bill 661 by Assembly Member Kevin McCarty, D-Sacramento, requires the Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District to prepare a wildfire smoke air pollution emergency plan to serve as an informational source for local agencies and the public during an air pollution emergency caused by wildfire smoke.
- Senate Bill 560 by Sen. Mike McGuire, D-Healdsburg, will mitigate impacts of PSPS.
- Senate Bill 160 by Sen. Hannah-Beth Jackson, D-Santa Barbara, will improve engagement with culturally diverse communities for local emergency planning.
- Senate Bill 670 by Sen. Mike McGuire, D-Healdsburg, will improve the coordination of emergency communication systems during 911 outages.
- Senate Bill 632 by Sen. Cathleen Galgiani, D-Stockton, sets a deadline for completion of Cal Fire's vegetation management environmental review.
- Assembly Bill 1823 by Assembly Member Laura Friedman, D-Glendale, which facilitates fuel reduction and other forest health projects.

Mitigating Climate Change Through Clean Energy Policies

The Strike Force report recommended that, given climate change is a core driver of heightened wildfire risk, the state must continue the transition to clean energy, mitigate risk and build resilience. The following legislation will ensure that California continues to make progress toward its clean energy goals:

- Senate Bill 520 by Sen. Robert Hertzberg, D-Van Nuys,

Assembly Bill 1054 created a more fair allocation of catastrophic wildfire damages and will hold PG&E accountable for prioritizing safety, and required the CPUC to take a number of actions.

establishes requirements for an energy provider of last resort given the increasing number of customers receiving power from entities other than IOUs.

- Senate Bill 255 by Sen. Steven Bradford, D-Gardena, requires additional reporting to the CPUC of efforts of community choice aggregators to comply with contracting diversity guidelines, and encourages other load-serving entities to participate.
- Senate Bill 155 by Sen. Steven Bradford, D-Gardena, improves CPUC oversight of renewable procurement and long-term energy supply contracts.
- Assembly Bill 1144 by Assembly Member Laura Friedman, D-Glendale, requires use of a portion of the Self-Generation Incentive Program, which provides incentives for battery storage, to provide additional benefits for community resiliency.
- Assembly Bill 1584 by Assembly Member Bill Quirk, D-Hayward, supports load-serving entities' decisions to take actions that benefit the grid and recognizes resources that serve overall needs.

A more effective CPUC with the tools to manage a changing utility market

The Strike Force report recommended an increased focus on effective safety regulation at the CPUC. The following legislation strengthens utility regulation by expanding the CPUC's safety review process:

- Senate Bill 550 by Sen. Jerry Hill, D-San Mateo, provides requirements for additional CPUC safety reviews, conducted together with the CPUC's review of utility asset transactions.
- Assembly Bill 1362 by Assembly Member Patrick O'Donnell, D-Long Beach, which requires posting of information by load serving entities to increase consumer access to information about their energy bills.

Additional legislation

- Assembly Bill 1699 by Assembly Member Marc Levine, D-San Rafael, prohibits a mobile internet service provider from impairing or degrading the lawful internet traffic of first response agencies during an emergency.
- Assembly Bill 1513 by Assembly Member Chris Holden, D-Pasadena, makes several technical and clarifying changes to current law which concern programs under the jurisdiction of, and the authority of, the CPUC and other energy programs to address the increasing threat of wildfires and utility liability related to those fires.

In July, the legislature passed and the governor signed wildfire safety and accountability legislation, which moved our state toward a safer, more affordable and reliable energy future. Assembly Bill 1054 created a more fair allocation of catastrophic wildfire damages and will hold PG&E accountable for prioritizing safety, and required the CPUC to take a number of actions.

Newsom has made wildfire prevention and mitigation a top priority since taking office. The governor proactively declared a state of emergency to fast-track 35 critical forest-management projects to protect more than 200 of California's highest-risk communities and redirected National Guard members from the border to undertake fire prevention activities throughout the state. The governor also included $1 billion in additional funding in the state budget to enhance our state's preparedness and expand our capacity to respond to emergencies. The budget included 13 new fire engines. He also:

- Invested $127.2 million to expand Cal Fire's fleet with C-130 air tankers and modified Black Hawk helicopters for nighttime firefighting operations.
- Signed an executive order authorizing the surge of almost 400 seasonal firefighters to Cal Fire this year.
- Began overdue modernization of California's 911 system.
- Announced the selection of the first two contracts for the Wildfire Innovation Sprint, intended to modernize the way the state contracts for acquisition and development of technology systems, with the goal of getting cutting-edge firefighting technology in the hands of emergency responders by next fire season.
- Supporting Cal Fire operations, including $2 million for the Butte County Fire Department to maintain its current level of service and continue operation of one year-round fire station through its cooperative agreement with Cal Fire.
- Partnered with the federal government to secure state access to remote sensor-based technology to detect wildfire ignitions, including securing delegation of authority from the secretary of defense to fly infrared equipped Unmanned Aerial System in support of Cal Fire missions.
- Invested $210 million Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund for forest health and fire prevention projects and programs to enable Cal Fire to complete more fuel reduction projects and increase the pace and scale of fire prevention.
- Developed and implemented the Forestry Corps Program, to operate four Forestry Corps crews that will undertake forest health and hazardous fuel reduction projects in areas of high fire risk.
- During his State of the State Address, the governor announced the creation of a Strike Force to develop a comprehensive strategy within 60 days, to address the destabilizing effects of catastrophic wildfires on California's energy future.

Club members spent months putting together six themed baskets that range in value from $1,200 to $2,000. This year's baskets are: Wine and Dine, Kids and Family, Happy Trails Travel, Home Sweet Home, Pamper Yourself, and Mountain Folks/Garden. There is also a "Money Hat" worth $250 cash that one lucky winner will take home.

Some of the treasures in this year's Kids and Family basket (valued at $1,600) are a Strider Bike, a family photo shoot, six rounds of miniature golf at Mulligan Family Fun Center (Murrieta), gift certificates to the Candy Cupboard and Rustic Theatre, plus tickets to LEGOLAND, Six Flags Magic Mountain, Aquarium of the Pacific, and more.

The Mountain Folks/Garden basket has an outdoor pizza oven included (donated by Idyllwild Heating & Cooling).

The Home Sweet Home basket (valued at $1,700) features a Cuisinart Kitchen Central, a Shark Vacuum Cleaner, framed art and a handmade quilt, many useful kitchen items, coffee from Black Mountain Coffee Roasting, plus gift certificates for Coyote Red's, carpet cleaning, chimney sweeping, organizing and decluttering services and more.

Vintage store opens at The Fort

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

The Ephemera vintage store that opened mid-August in the upstairs corner of The Fort and overlooks Idypark stems from passion, a vision and a bit of travel in between. Its owners, Samuel Markus and Jennifer Thorington, have been dreaming of opening their own vintage store for half a decade. They’ve finally made it a reality.

Clothes, typewriters, records, Snoopy and Garfield toys, and so much more is methodically fit into the cozy retail space and comes from New York, Northern California, Santa Fe, and everywhere in between.

Thorington and Markus travel about once a month on adventures to find new “old” items that would fit well in Ephemera. Local artists’ work is also displayed and the store works with more than 15 consignors. The Spruce Moose also made a signature candle — a tobacco-bourbon-vanilla scent that is a pretty shade of purple — that is only sold at Ephemera.

On top of owning Ephemera, Markus said, “We do a lot of film and production work, have an album we are hoping to record and release next year from our band ‘The Morning Birds’ and we homeschool our son, Isaiah, who’s nine years old.”

With Jim Croce’s “You Don’t Mess Around with Jim” playing in the background, Thorington said, “Sam and I really enjoy traveling all over the world collecting vintage on the regular ... When you’re passionate about something in life, you’re able to figure it out and it works. We’ve been successful here at this location — much more than we thought.”

Locals and Idyllwild Arts students receive a 15% discount. Eventually, the owners plan to have a table with 50% off items to help cycle items out as new ones come in. Be sure to stop in and check out Ephemera. For those of you that are wondering: Ephemera, according to Webster’s New World College Dictionary, means objects, often printed, that are not intended to last but are sometimes kept by collectors.

Idyllwild’s Mayor Max on Kelly Clarkson Show

By Jenny Kirchner
Reporter/Photographer

The Mayor’s office was invited to speak on The Kelly Clarkson Show during her National Adopt a Shelter Dog Month episode that aired on NBC this last Friday afternoon.

Clarkson asked, “How did Max II become the mayor of Idyllwild?”

The mayor’s Chief of Staff Phyllis Mueller told Clarkson that the election came about as a fundraiser and that Idyllwild has no local politicians. Clarkson asked with a giggle, “Is it happy there?”

“We’re happier. Definitely! Come and visit someday,” Mueller responded.

In true Mayor Max style, the mayor was spreading the word about doing kind and loving things for people instead of politics like most mayors. Mayor Max spends his days bringing smiles to peoples’ faces with the help of his staff, Mueller and Glenn Warren.

Being on The Kelly Clarkson Show was no different. Mayor Max had the audience oohing and awing with delight. Comedian Wanda Sykes helped Idyllwild’s mayor pose for a picture on set. The Property Brothers’ Jonathan and Drew Scott also helped snap a photo so Clarkson could be in the photo with Max and Mueller.

Sykes asked the mayor, “How’s your golf game?”

The message Mueller conveyed was we can all learn a thing or two from our furry, four-legged mayor about being loving, kind, and compassionate, no matter what is going on in the world.

HOROSCOPES

October 2019 — Week 2

March 21 — April 19

You could be caught in a torrent of advice from well-meaning friends and colleagues this week. But remember, Lamb, you are at your best when you are your own inimitable self.

April 20 — May 20

Expect strong efforts to get you to accept things as they are and not question them. But ignore all that and continue your inquiries until you're sure you have all the answers you need.

May 21 — June 21

Heavier than usual family and workplace duties compete for your time this week. Try to strike a balance so that you're not overwhelmed by either. Pressures ease by week's end.

June 22 — July 22

It's a good time for the Moon Child to show off your uniquely inspired approach to the culinary skills -- especially if they're directed toward impressing someone special.

July 23 — August 22

You might be happy about the re-emergence of a long-deferred deal. But don't pounce on it quite yet. Time can change things. Be sure the values you looked for before are still there.

August 23 — September 22

Try to rein in your super-critical attitude, even if things aren't being done quite as you would prefer. Remember: What you say now could create an awkward situation later on.

September 23 — October 22

Although you can expect on-the-job cooperation from most of your colleagues this week, some people might insist on knowing more about your plans before they can accept them.

October 23 — November 21

Creating another way to do things is commendable. But you could find some resistance this week from folks who would rather stick with the tried-and-true than try something new.

November 22 — December 21

You usually can keep your aim focused on your goal. But you might need to make adjustments to cope with unsteadiness factors that could arise over the course of the week.

December 22 — January 19

News arrives about a projected move. Be prepared to deal with a series of possible shifts, including starting and finishing times, and how much the budget will actually cover.

January 20 — February 18

A new relationship needs time to develop. Let things flow naturally. It could be a different story with a workplace situation, which might require faster and more focused

February 19 — March 20

Accept a compliment without trying to troll for any hidden reason beyond what was said. After all, don't you deserve to be praised every now and then? Of course you do.

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS
California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: “Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor.”
This is a contractor’s responsibility, not a newspaper’s, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors’ advertising, if we notice it.

Report traffic violators to CHP
The San Geronio Pass California Highway Patrol is starting a new traffic safety campaign that uses community members to assist in identifying unsafe roadways and drivers.
Report unsafe and/or illegal driving or problem roads by emailing (SanGorgonioPass@chp.ca.gov) the date, time, location and vehicle license plate (or a passenger's or dash cam's photo). Using the license plate, Capt. Mike Alvarez will contact the registered owner by mail, and issue the registered owner a courtesy warning letter. You get to remain anonymous during the CHP's contact. The warning letter is then kept on file at the San Geronio Pass CHP office for future reference.
If you are reporting a problem roadway with a high number of traffic safety concerns, CHP will log it and focus enforcement efforts there, using data to track the locations via hot-spot mapping so CHP can deploy resources in high-violation areas.
"This innovative campaign is designed to show our community we are listening, and even if we can't be in all places at once, we are still committed to public safety. Help us make our roadways safer," the Facebook post stated.

Of Jason, Mrs. Chavez said he “has been working very hard in math. He listens and follows directions. He is usually first to raise his hand and answer math questions. I am very proud of his great effort.” Of Venecyia, Mrs. Chavez said she is “putting great effort into being a successful second-grade student. She is trying her very best to listen and follow my instructions. I truly appreciate her effort this year. I am very happy to have her in my class.”

CREATURE CORNER

By JANICE MURASKO

Last week in “Days of Our Nine Lives,” ARF cats welcomed new dogs and kittens. Sadie: Since we don’t have an office cat right now, I’ll do the honors.

Mr. Gray: Okay, I guess. What’s new?
Sadie: Two of the three dogs who came to ARF last week — Morgan, the Yorkie, and Bruno, the terrier — were adopted.
Mr. Gray: Any cats?
Sadie: No, but kittens Jupiter and Neptune still need homes along with the rest of us.
Zeus: So, there is still one ARF dog?

Sadie: Yes, ARF still has Baloo, but there are three people who have put their names on the list to adopt him. He may be adopted this week.
Zeus: I heard that ARF is getting a litter of puppies and a litter of kittens!
Sadie: Got that right! ARF has just taken a small terrier mix, who is very pregnant.
The puppies will be ready to go to forever homes eight weeks after they are born.
Zeus: What about the kittens?
Sadie: The kittens are four weeks old. There are six total: two male and four female. Fun names! They all have names of California cities that start with the letter “A.” The boys are Arvin and Anza, and the girls are Artesia, Auburn, Avalon, and Albany. ARF volunteers are hoping they’ll be adopted soon. They are very, very cute. It is rumored that their mom, Terra, will be the next office cat.

Mr. Gray: What? Another new cat gets the coveted job of office cat?
Bear: Yes, that’s because Terra is so outgoing. If one of us was very outgoing, we’d get the job. But, all of us are slow-going. In other words, we need time to get to know the human.
Mr. Gray: Well, that’s just the way we are.
Bear: I know, but it means that a human will need to be patient with us and give us time.

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of “Days of Our Nine Lives” each week. Please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Highway 243 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturdays and from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Sundays, or by appointment Monday-Friday by calling 951-659-1122.

Well! Only two timely entries regarding last week’s photo. Please remember: The contest deadline is noon Mondays. So, this week’s entrants are Marc Reis and John Thomford. One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the Town Crier office. Email entries to jack@towncrier.com.
