Representatives of the Idyllwild Rotary Club visited Connie Chavez's second-grade class at Idyllwild School on Friday, Oct. 11 to witness the students making use of the computer headsets donated by the club. This year, the club donated 80 headsets to account for damage and an increase in the number of students, after purchasing enough headsets for each student a few years ago. Veterans to apply for Riverside County's Operation Recognition program

Deadline extended to end of the week

BY RIVERSIDE COUNTY OFFICE OF EDUCATION CONTRIBUTED

They were away from home serving their country while classmates were marching in commencement ceremonies. Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard veterans who missed out on their high school graduations due to military service can apply for a diploma through the 2019 Operation Recognition program.

Individuals who were interned in a Japanese-American relocation camp during World War II are also encouraged to apply.

The deadline to apply for the high school diploma program is Oct. 15 for veterans from World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War and for those who chose service to their country over graduation caps and gowns.

Chris Petinak, director of public relations and communications services for the office of the Riverside County Superintendent of Schools, wrote in an email "The deadline is tomorrow [Oct. 15], but we would probably accept someone if they let us know by the end of this week [Oct. 18]."

A total of 354 veterans have received a diploma through Operation Recognition since 2007. The diplomas are awarded as a joint-effort of the Riverside County Board of Education, the Riverside County Office of Education, and the Riverside County Department of Veterans' Services.

The 2019 Operation Recognition ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at the Moreno Valley Conference and Recreation Center, 14075 Frederick See Veterans, page A8

Construction begins at Town Hall

BY STEPHANIE YOST
BOARD PRESIDENT
IDYLLWILD COMMUNITY CENTER

For many years our Town Hall was managed and operated by the Idyllwild Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of the town. However, with the chamber's dissolution, the property ownership reverted to the Johnson family, who were the original owners. On Aug. 16, the Johnson family sold the Town Hall property to Idyllwild Town Hall LLC, a corporation formed by Tom Hawthorne and Loie and Dave Butterfield.

The LLC engaged Shane Stewart to manage the refurbishment of Town Hall with the intention thereafter to donate the land and building to Idyllwild Community Center (ICC) to operate for the benefit of our community. Since the sale, refurbishment plans have been underway and construction began Oct. 14.

In addition to taking into account the important 72-year history of the property and its uses, the new owners have consulted ICC about its future planned uses for the facility. Construction will concentrate on one area of the property at a time to minimize disruption of ICC's current programs, events and rentals. Please be patient with the construction and kind to all staff and workers you may interact with. We all look forward to the completion of this important and historic project that will benefit everyone in our community.

Emergency prescription medications can be obtained during declared disaster

BY THE OFFICE OF SEN. JEFF STONE CONTRIBUTED

Senate Bill 569 by Sen. Jeff Stone, R-La Quinta, allows pharmacists to dispense controlled substance without a security form during a declared disaster. The bill was signed into law by Gov. Gavin Newsom.

The bill had previously passed both the California Assembly and the Senate unanimously.

The California State Board of Pharmacy received information on challenges during recent declared disasters, including the recent Camp Fire. During this fire, many individuals were displaced and significant damage occurred to infrastructure and healthcare facilities. One of the challenges identified to the Board of Pharmacy was limited access to prescription medications including controlled medications for pain, ADHD, depression and anxiety treatment.

Existing law establishes requirements for controlled substance security forms, including required elements that must be included on the printed security form. However, there is currently no exemption from these requirements for a declared disaster. In addition, during a declared disaster, many patient care areas occur in emergency shelters, public schools and even churches. These

PCWD deals with housekeeping items

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

One of the main items on the Pine Cove Water District (PCWD) board meeting agenda was removing former board member Steven King as a check signer and adding newly appointed board member Rose Venard.

In the FY 2019/20 budget, 46% of the general manager’s discretionary fund has been used. Jerry Holldbber is the general manager for the district. The total budgeted amount of the discretionary fund is $3,000. The funds have generally been used in the past for Christmas cards for employees, funeral flowers if one of the board members passes away, and whatever else is necessary, according to the district’s office.

The district pays its workers compensation in one payment at the beginning of the fiscal year. PCWD allocated $15,000 in its FY 2019/20 budget and paid out $14,384.

The district has received 24% of its FY 2019/20 income. The projected income is $1,050,000. The district has received $251,279.

Hiring

The board pushed back on hiring an additional limited term field employee. Holldbber reminded the board that routine maintenance needs to be completed. The work is difficult to complete in a timely manner due to a lean staff.

“We want the work done right,” said Holldbber during the conversation.

Operations report

According to the operations report, the district produced 2,859,550 gallons of water in September 2017 and produced 2,969,290 gallons in September of this year.

Meters read and billed, reported Oct. 9
Item	Amount
Billed	$106,328
Produced	6,697,590 gallons
Accounted	5,840,580 gallons
Loss	13%

Next board meeting

The next Pine Cove Water District meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Nov. 13 at the district’s board room, 24917 Marion Ridge Drive.

Pipeline project underway

The district’s auditor will be at the November meeting

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

The pipeline replacement project for the Fern Valley Water District (FVWD) began last month. In a cozy room at the district office supplied with plenty of coffee last Friday morning, General Manager Victor Jimenez described the experience he and Office Manager Jessica Prierer had observing how El-Co Contractors, Inc. (El-Co) work on the project.

Jimenez wanted Prierer to have an understanding of how the pipeline project is carried out. “I wanted Jessica to see what was involved in the project,” Jimenez said.

“They started on Rim Rock [Road] at Fern Valley Road,” replied Jimenez

when asked where the work on the project had started. Currently, they are about 500-600 feet up Dogwood Drive, according to Jimenez.

As of Oct. 11, 1,100 of the 4,000-foot pipeline had been installed.

As of Oct. 11, 1,100 of the 4,000-foot pipeline had been installed.

“What they cut is a perfect trench but then as they are excavating, they get rocks that are too big, or the tooth of the bucket will catch the asphalt and it will pop up a chunk, but that will all get addressed when they do the final repair,” said Jimenez about if the trenches are specifically being cut.

Is the district saving any money on this project? When it comes to boulders, they are. Instead of El-Co transporting the boulders off the mountain, a local and Pine Cove Water District will be utilizing them, saving FVWD some money.

When the board and Jimenez were asked during the meeting why the prior pipeline had so many issues, they responded that when it was constructed more than 30 years ago, it was not done properly. The district has been having issues ever since.

The district has been putting funds aside for the project and it will cost $1,450,050.

The district reported that “El-Co Contractors, Inc. continues the pipeline replacement project with good results and better than expected rock related delays.” Large rocks have been an issue but “having the breaker has greatly reduced the down time of splitting and excavating the rocks.”

What has staff been up to?

Over the last month, field staff was flushing and servicing the districts hydrants, training a new employee, inspecting the pipeline project and repairing leaks.

Administrative staff assisted field crew, managed the pipeline project, researched total organic carbon monitors and worked on integrating a meter reading program.

The district is still on a 4/10 work-week schedule to make sure the pipeline replacement project runs smoothly, according to Jimenez.

Credit card fees

Another issue discussed during the meeting was credit card fees. The district is in the process of implementing Automated Clearing House payments. There has been some pushback from customers on the expense of paying water bills by credit card.

November meeting

The district’s auditor will be present at the November meeting. Proper oversight is the board’s main concern when it comes to the audit. The board is concerned that fresh eyes are not overseeing the district and want to articulate that to the auditor.

IFPD board meets — mountain emergency communication system in planning stages

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

The details of a mountain communication system are in the works, according to Idyllwild Fire Protection District (IFPD) Chief Mark LaMont at the last IFPD board meeting held Sept. 24.

Details about the materials and construction of the system are in discussion so that a final cost can be nailed down. In the meantime, there are grant funds available that could be utilized to expand local emergency AM radio station WNKI’s service across the mountain.

According to LaMont, Brian Tisdale with Riverside County Emergency Management Department, is in charge of finalizing the details on the mountain’s communication system.

“What I am working on with Brian [Tisdale] now is narrowing down the list of materials needed to expand WNKI across the entire mountain plateau and to install alerting sirens and an education platform to go with that,” LaMont told the board and meeting attendees.

Tisdale is a former Lake Elsinore mayor and aide to Third District Riverside County Supervisor Chuck Washington. According to a story in the Press Enterprise published June 22, 2016, Tisdale worked as a Riverside County disaster preparedness manager before becoming an aide to Washington.

“We are narrowing down an exact number, dollar amount, to provide us with the proper materials and equipment needed to stand the system up,” LaMont explained to the board and meeting attendees.

“The county is currently working under a grant that they received last year for emergency alerting notifications and Brian Tisdale believes we can utilize some of that funding ... So, he is working with the grant folks to ensure that they are able to utilize some of those funds which would kick off the first phase, which is expanding WNKI,” LaMont explained. “The second phase would be actually doing improvements on any parcels that would need improvements to carry the alerting system on them. Thirdly, the implementation and installation of those sirens.

“What the grant needs is an identification of each of those products, each of the pieces of equipment, and need three different suppliers of that equipment in order to narrow down the cost summary so they can prove that to the county to utilize those funds to purchase that equipment.

“Ultimately, we are in the process of narrowing that down whether or not those pieces of equipment qualify for the grant, and if so, could we move forward and purchase them so we can start standing that system up,” concluded LaMont.

The Idyllwild Fire Protection District board met last month to discuss abatement and an emergency communication system for the mountain.

Idyllwild soccer season continues

By Will Steichen
Idyllwild Community Center Director

Soccer season is in full swing as teams start to settle into the rhythm.

4- to 6-year-old division
Defense was outstanding in both games, as there were no goals allowed. Gregory Taylor and Cooper Lewis were the defensive stars for the Renegades, while Ian Castro and Audrey Roman were standouts for the Royal Knights. Quinlynn Carpenter of the Blue Monsters was a spectacular goalie. Jaxx Foye covered the entire field for the Red Hawks.

7- to 9-year-old division
There was another well defended game which resulted in a 0-0 tie between The Dragons and Idyllwild. Goalie Miles Sechrest, of The Dragons, was phenomenal in the net and Nick Sanchez played awesome defense. The stars for Idyllwild were Dane Knight and Bentley Lewis. Friday night's game was a thriller.
Dane Knight scored three goals and River Fernandez scored a goal for a 4-0 Idyllwild lead. Liverpool bounced back with two goals from Silas Zimmerman. A penalty kick from Ben Taylor made the game 4-3 with Idyllwild still in the lead, which ended up being the final score.
Standings: Idyllwild 2-0-2, The Dragons 1-1-2, Liverpool 0-2-2.

10- to 14-year-old division
The Crusaders defense dominated the game in a 2-0 victory. Cody Fogle scored a goal on a penalty kick just before halftime for a 1-0 lead. Kail Nuez scored a goal late in the game to secure the victory for the Crusaders. Goalies Cameron Gage and Jayden Fogle provided the shutout.
Ellie Manchester played great defense for the Crusaders. Idyllwild Stars' Christian Gonzalez, Hayley Olivier and Finn Carpenter played outstanding in the loss.
Standings: Crusaders 2-1-0, Idyllwild Stars 1-2-0.

Life Tribute Jan Jaspers-Fayer 1929-2019

Jan Jaspers-Fayer, former Idyllwild resident and lifelong artist, passed of natural causes on Tuesday, Oct. 8, 2019.
He died peacefully in San Pedro with his family by his side. Jan was 90 years young. Jan and his wife, Elisabeth (deceased 2014), were active members in the Idyllwild community.

They were involved in many organizations including The Rotary Club of Idyllwild, Idyllwild Arts Academy/ISOMATA, Art Alliance of Idyllwild, Idyllwild Garden Club and the Idyllwild Area Historical Society. Jan's spirit lives on in his art, which can be seen throughout the town.
Jan is survived by his daughters, Anita Dixon and Marian Jaspers-Fayer, three grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. In keeping with Jan's wishes, there will be no funeral service. Jan and Elisabeth loved Idyllwild — their residence for over 40 years — and its community spirit.
To honor Jan and Elisabeth, donations can be made in their name to The Rotary Club of Idyllwild, P.O. Box 152, Idyllwild, CA 92549.

Steele cut at Houston

By Jack Clark
PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

Brendan Steele posted a 5-over-par 76-73 — 149 at the Houston Open last week to experience his only cut in four tournaments of this early 2019/20 PGA Tour season. Only 57% of his drives found the fairways, allowing him to hit only 64% of the greens in regulation. His putter gave away 1.636 strokes to the field.
The cut dropped the Idyllwild native from 74th to 85th on the FedExCup points list.
Our information is that Steele is taking a month off. As of now, we expect that his next appearances will be in the Mayakoba Golf Classic in Mexico on Nov. 14 and The RSM Classic in Georgia on Nov. 21.

Idyllwild Library needs items for time capsule

The library is looking for items for a time capsule that will remain in the library for the next 25 years. If you have memorabilia, old library cards, a child's drawing, a receipt for fines paid, or old catalog cards, newspaper/newsletter articles on people or events in the past, a craft that a child completed years ago, letters from children or adults describing what the library has meant to them, please bring them to the library for possible inclusion in the time capsule. Please note that not everything will necessarily be included. A committee will choose those items that fit and, if donors would like, their items can be returned to them if they are not included.

Readers are avidly reading

By JACK CLARK
Co-PUBLISHER

Many hundreds of Town Crier members are supporting and reading the Town Crier, and they are joined by a thousand or more readers who obtain newspapers at distribution points on our Hill.

It's a great time for Hill businesses to take advantage of the Town Crier's avid readership by advertising in Hill residents' favorite newspaper.

When you advertise in the Town Crier, your ad is focused on people who care about the fact that your business is reachable to them. This is clearly true of on-Hill businesses, but it's also true of local, off-Hill — Hemet, Banning-Beaumont and the desert — businesses as well.

Yes, Hemet. Highway 74 is now open, and Caltrans told us that Highway 243 to Banning will open Nov. 1 with some form of traffic control.

So, now is the time for business-advertisers to get on board and take advantage of the Town Crier's increased membership and readership.

Of course, this is all possible because Town Crier members have joined together to keep a real newspaper serving our Hill community. You have proved the viability of the Town Crier and the vibrancy of its readership. All of this is key to businesses who want to make the most of their advertising budgets.

One reason for the Town Crier's popularity is its openness. We're the only newspaper we know of that holds its editorial news meetings open to the public. Come participate on Wednesday mornings at 8:30 a.m. at the Idyllwild Library.

Newcastle Disease continues to impact Riverside County

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

Virulent Newcastle Disease (vND) has made its way around Southern California in recent months. A contagious and fatal viral disease that affects the respiratory, nervous and digestive systems of birds and poultry, doesn't harm humans if ingested. It is, however, killing chickens and other poultry by the hundreds.

As of Oct. 4, 2019, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) has confirmed 451 premises in Cal-

“The warrant states the CDFA can inspect and destroy any animal. So my kids are in fear they will be back to kill our dogs, horses and cat. My children and I are terrified and rarely leave the home. We suffer from anxiety, duress and depression.” — Kerri Elaine ifornia as infected with vND, including 260 in Riverside County, 142 in San Bernardino County, 45 in Los Angeles County, one in Ventura County, one in Alameda County, and one in San Diego County. The USDA also confirmed one infected premises in Utah County, Utah and one infected premises in Coconino County, Arizona.

In Idyllwild and surrounding communities, many backyard chicken owners could potentially be impacted by this virus. The state of California could come through to euthanize their beloved chickens in an effort to halt the disease in its tracks. To date, thousands of chickens and other birds have been euthanized by the USDA throughout the state, but some people are outraged as their chickens are seemingly healthy and disease-free.

Many around the county have had their opinions on the state of California and its actions. “I feel this is not a proper protocol, but they get away with it,” said Riverside County resident Joshua Scally-Smith.

“Officials will come haunt you, harass you, and kill your birds if you do not comply with their rules! I am a part of a group on Facebook called ‘Save our birds’ and have a current lawsuit going to stop these violent killings.”

The newspaper reached out CDFA for comment on the allegations, but did not receive a response by press time.

Kerri Elaine, who started the ‘Save our birds’ Facebook page wrote, “The California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) and United States Department of Agriculture (USDS) came to my home on three different occasions, April 19, 2019, June 19, 2019 and Aug. 28, 2019. They slaughtered our healthy pets ... I paid and had my birds tested with the CDFA lab. The results were zero detections of any diseases.”

Harmony, not division

EDITOR:

The sign on Highway 243 as one enters Idyllwild says “Welcome to Idyllwild, Home of Adventure, Music Art & Harmony.” I believe the town monument is also titled “Harmony.”

I had always thought that the word “harmony” had a double meaning for our town. We have harmony among our friendly citizens and harmony in our wonderful music. We are, indeed, a special town, beautiful in scenery and beautiful in spirit.

So you can imagine how mystified I was when I saw those two pictures in the Town Crier on page A6 on Oct. 3 showing a Trump 2020 banner fronted by sign-carrying protesters, and then a photo of the banner being taken down.

I must say, I agree with Kerry Manos' letter to the editor titled, “Disturbing photos.” The Town Crier did our town a disservice by not adding why the sign was removed. It gave the impression that it was the act of the protesters that caused the removal, rather than “The banner violated Riverside County Ordinance 806” as was explained by the editor's note at the bottom of

I had always thought that the word “harmony” had a double meaning for our town.

Mano's letter.

The Town Crier intimated that it agreed with the protesters and disagreed with the right to exercise free speech. Please, Town Crier, try to keep objective and neutral. You have a diverse readership and pandering to one side will not increase your membership and only divide our townspeople.

With the 2020 election fast approaching, it is important for us as a community to tolerate all opposing views with courtesy and respect and to remember that every American citizen has a right to his/her view.

Legal campaign signs should not be run over with cars, destroyed, or defaced as we had seen in the run up to the 2016 election. To my knowledge, this did not happen in our town.

Sure, march and protest, which is the right of every American citizen, if it makes you feel better, but remain in harmony with those who have an opposing view, and realize that they too, have a right to free speech.

Let's not let the hateful actions of a few people in other cities influence us. Be kind to one another. After all, if Americans in a small town can't get along, how can we expect countries to get along and live in harmony?

MAUREEN ROSE,
IDYLLWILD

Our “New” Highway 74

EDITOR:

As a full-time resident who must make a roundtrip from Idyllwild to the Los Angeles area every week for work, I'm very grateful for our “new” Highway 74.

I say “new” because not only has Caltrans and its contractors repaired the parts of the highway that were damaged by the Valentine's Day Deluge (yes, that rainstorm was a “deluge” of Biblical proportions), but because much of the old road has been refurbished as well.

If you haven't yet headed off the Hill to Hemet, it's worth the drive just to admire the countless hours of planning and hard work of so many that have culminated in the lovely new road.

How has this personally impacted me? Since mid-February, what was previously a more than two hour trip to and from work each week, became a greater than three hour trip — not that driving to Glendale via Temecula or Palm Desert isn't a wee bit of a detour. The additional drive time came from my beauty sleep, which at my age, is a definite sacrifice.

Idyllwild relies on visitors to support its economy. So good, reliable roads are literally a lifeline for us all.

Now, I'm just waiting for the return to service of Highway 243, which is by far my preferred route into Los Angeles. It's both faster and much more scenic (at least, in my opinion). I'm waiting patiently, as the re-opening of Highway 74, which has reduced my commute time, is a great benefit to me and my family.

STEPHANIE YOST,
IDYLLWILD

THE END OF LIFE OPTION ACT

Some call it death with dignity. Some call it the right to die. Some call it medical assistance in dying (MAID). It is about making one's own choices, and having options about how to legally — and with medical assistance — end one's own life, at least when one is suffering from a terminal illness. Accessing medical assistance in dying is legal in California under legislation called The End of Life Option Act. (See first link above for full text with straightforward language.)

There are a number of criteria — all laid out in the text of the legislation — that surround using this option. However, it is doable and not as complicated as one might think.

There are nonprofit organizations that serve as care navigators to assist in finding the right fit for each person. One of those is listed above in the third link, End of Life Choices California. They are a nonprofit and many of their volunteer staff of navigators are medical professionals and social workers who are trained, committed and compassionate. These particular folks started this organization very recently as Compassionate Choices shut down its volunteer program. In fact, it is the staff that volunteered for Compassionate Choices. They still felt a calling to do this work and created a new nonprofit. They are based in the San Diego area but can assist throughout the state.

Here are some of the basic requirements as stated in The End of Life Option Act:

An individual who is an adult with the capacity to make medical decisions and with a terminal disease may make a request to receive a prescription for an aid-in-dying drug if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (1) The individual's attending physician has diagnosed the individual with a terminal disease.
- (2) The individual has voluntarily expressed the wish to receive a prescription for an aid-in-dying drug.
- (3) The individual is a resident of California and is able to establish residency through any of the following means:
 - (A) Possession of a California driver license or other identification issued by the State of California
 - (B) Registration to vote in California
 - (C) Evidence that the person owns or leases property in California
 - (D) Filing of a California tax return for the most recent tax year
- (4) The individual documents his or her request pursuant to the requirements set forth in Section 443.3.
- (5) The individual has the physical and mental ability to self-administer the aid-in-dying drug.

(A) A request for a prescription for an aid-in-dying drug under this part shall be made solely and directly by the individual diagnosed with the terminal disease and shall not be made on behalf of the patient, including, but not limited to, through a power of attorney, an advance health care directive, a conservator, health care agent, surrogate, or any other legally recognized health care decision-maker.

How to get a letter published

The Town Crier welcomes letters reflecting all opinions. Letters should be concise and to the point. They should be no longer than 400 words. Letters must be typewritten, double-spaced and in upper/lower case (not in all caps). Letters must be identified with the author's name, address and weekday phone number.

The Town Crier will not publish “thank-you” letters, consumer complaints, form letters, clippings from other publications or poetry. Political letters during election season cost 10 cents per word but are not accepted the week before an election.

We reserve the right to reject or edit letters for length, taste, clarity or frequency of submission. Only one letter per author within a 28-day period. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of Town Crier staff. Letters may be submitted in person, by mail, by fax (659-2071) or by e-mail (melissa@towncrier.com).
Deadline is 10 a.m. Monday.

How do you feel about the Public Safety Power Shut-offs?

By NATASHA WOODS

I suppose this little adventure should start with a proper introduction. My name is Natasha Woods. I have been happily — actually happily, not just “happily because that’s what you’re supposed to say” — married to an Idyllwild native for 10 years. Despite the fact I swore I would never live in Idyllwild, here I am.

My husband’s stories of his wonderful childhood changed my mind on the matter. Now, here we are, four years in as locals with two little mountain men of our own. We have more animals than I ever intended to have in my life.
Life is good — not perfect — but good. In the time we have been here, I have changed quite a bit. Life on the hill has a way of slowing you down and helping you realize what you’re made of because let’s face it — we deal with some things.
Our first fire evacuation sparked this understanding. A flood drove it home, and shoveling my snowy driveway 14 times within a week forever ingrained it in my brain. Mountain living is tough, but mountain dwellers will always be tougher.
So, what will this column be about? Well, really, my hope is that it will be a little reprieve from the daily grind.
I love to laugh, and make others laugh as well. It lightens the heart and makes even the hardest times seem a little less awful. There will be stories of misadventures in motherhood, my painfully awkward encounters with strangers, and encouraging words from someone who understands that sometimes life isn’t all rainbows and sunshine.
I hope to bring a smile to your day, or at the very least, give you something to gossip about when the local “did you hear” well runs dry. Stick with me and this hot mess mama will show you you’re not alone, and that we’re all just getting by the best we can.

Drink and boat, lose your vessel

Senate Bill 393 will clamp down on boating under the influence

By THE OFFICE OF SEN. JEFF STONE

Gov. Gavin Newsom has signed legislation authored by Sen. Jeff Stone, R-La Quinta, to allow boats driven by intoxicated individuals to be impounded for up to 30 days. Stone represents Idyllwild in the state senate. If a person is killed by a boater under the influence of drugs or alcohol and convicted of such crime, Senate Bill 393 calls for the boat used in the commission of the crime to be subject to asset forfeiture rules currently imposed on automobiles.

“Senate Bill 393 is a simple measure, but it shouldn’t matter if a person is killed by a car or a boat driven by someone under the influence of drugs or alcohol the victim is still dead and the vehicle used in the crime should be subject to asset forfeiture,” said Stone.
The legislation was introduced after Stone learned said, “My kids hid in their closet or bathrooms in fear. The warrant states the CDFA can inspect and destroy any animal. So my kids are in fear they will be back to kill our dogs, horses and cat. My children and I are terrified and rarely leave the home. We suffer from anxiety, duress and depression.”

“Since May 2018, over 1.2 million birds have died or been euthanized because of this devastating virus,” wrote Dr. Annette Jones, D.V.M., director and state veterinarian in an Oct. 1 letter posted on the CDFA website. “Thanks to cooperation from Southern California residents in very difficult circumstances, and a tremendous commitment from emergency response teams, the joint CDFA and United States Department of Agriculture Virulent Newcastle Disease Project staff has found no new positive detections of the disease since early Sept. 2019. Teams are currently testing poultry in areas previously known to have infected birds in order to find any remaining pockets of disease. Now is a crucial time for adherence to biosecurity as we move closer to eradication. Until virulent Newcastle disease is eradicated, Southern California is at-risk.”

All this leads to the question, is there injustice with our system, or is the state of California taking the proper precautions in keeping the vND from spreading? CDFA wrote the following in a July 2 update: “The VND project team will now survey and test in areas where disease has previously existed to make sure there are no remaining residual pockets of virus in poultry. However, it is important to recognize that the virus will remain in the environment for several more months, and that the risk of infection remains. If additional birds test positive, those birds and any exposed birds on adjacent properties will be euthanized.”

Some signs to watch for: sudden death and increased death loss in flock, sneezing, gasping for air, nasal discharge, coughing, decreased activity, tremors, drooping wings, twisting of head and neck, circling, complete stiffness, swelling around the eyes and neck, and greenish, watery diarrhea.

According to the USDA website, all bird owners should report sick birds or unusual bird deaths to state and federal officials right away by calling 1-866-536-7593.

Cannabis grows prohibited without county land-use permits

County of Riverside issues reminder in multiple languages

By OFFICE OF SUPERVISOR CHUCK WASHINGTON

The County of Riverside is reminding prospective cannabis growers that they must obtain land-use approvals in unincorporated areas before cultivating the plant for commercial purposes, according to a memo released a couple weeks ago.

The document, which was issued in four languages, comes amid elevated efforts by the Riverside County Sheriff’s Department to eradicate illegal cannabis operations in the past few months. Deputies have executed multiple search warrants, particularly in the Anza Valley, and have made dozens of arrests.

Land-use applications for legal cannabis operations are pending with the County of Riverside Transportation Land Management Agency but applicants have multiple steps to complete before any proposals come for a vote before the board of supervisors. The application period opened just months ago, and pending applicants have until Oct. 30 to submit their conditional use permit paperwork. Additional reviews and approvals will be required after that deadline, so no commercial cultivation operations or dispensaries have been approved.

Third District Supervisor Chuck Washington, whose district includes the Anza Valley, collaborated with local advocacy groups and Riverside County Counsel to draft the memo, which emphasizes the importance of obtaining both a land-use permit and valid state license before engaging in the cannabis industry. The memo was translated into Spanish, Vietnamese and Hmong.

“Illegal cannabis cultivation will not be tolerated in Riverside County, and my office has worked closely with code enforcement and the Riverside County Sheriff’s Department to crack down on the dangerous black-market grows in my district,” Washington said. “I am committed to addressing the public safety and quality of life problems that illegal cannabis cultivation causes.”

Sheriff Chad Bianco stressed that his department focuses its eradication efforts on large, industrial-sized cannabis operations. In a public service announcement released by his department, Bianco stated, “If you own or operate one of those grows, you can

Medicare does not give out DNA kits

The FTC is getting reports that callers claiming to be from Medicare are asking people for their Medicare numbers, Social Security numbers, and other personal information in exchange for DNA testing kits. The callers might say the test is a free way to get early diagnoses for diseases like cancer, or just that it’s a free test, so why not take it? But the truth is, Medicare does not market DNA testing kits to the general public. This is yet another government imposter scam.

- # Collision on Highway 74
- BY MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ EDITOR
- A multiple vehicle traffic collision occurred last week on Highway 74, according to California Highway Patrol Officer Edward Nunez.

On Friday, Oct. 11 at 11:10 p.m., three vehicles were involved in a collision on Highway 74 east of Lake Hemet. Antonio Alcaarez, 24 years old of Perris, was driving east on Highway 74 in a yellow 2004 Ford F-150 when, for unknown reasons, the vehicle crossed the double yellow line into the westbound lane, colliding with two vehicles.

The first vehicle Alcaarez hit was a white 2019 Dodge Ram driven by 40-year-old Jason McLean of Idyllwild.

The second vehicle hit was a black 2010 Hyundai Tucson, driven by Amanda Giarnese, 49 years old, from Idyllwild.
- According to California Highway Patrol Officer Mike Bell, the driver of this vehicle was traveling westbound on Highway 74 near mile marker 61 around 5:18 p.m. Saturday afternoon when she lost control and drifted off the highway. The driver was transported by Idyllwild Fire Protection District ambulance to a nearby hospital for further evaluation. PHOTO BY JENNY KIRCHNER
- No one was transported to the hospital. Alcaarez complained of pain in his jaw and left ankle. All three vehicles were towed. It is unknown at this time as to whether or not alcohol played a role in the collision.
- According to California Highway Patrol Officer Graham Aanestad, Keith McCabe was traveling westbound on Highway 74 near mile marker 61 at about 4:23 p.m. Sunday afternoon when he lost control of his Mercedes, overturning and coming to a rest in a ravine. McCabe was checked by Idyllwild Fire Protection District paramedics on scene, but was not transported to seek further medical attention. PHOTO BY JENNY KIRCHNER
- # A quarter-acre fire ignited off Ernie Maxwell Trail
- BY MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ EDITOR
- A small, quarter-acre size fire ignited off the Ernie Maxwell Scenic Trail near Cougar Road around 4:18 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 10. The rate of spread was slow to moderate due to light winds and was 100% contained by firefighters within a couple of hours.

Not long after the fire ignited, the forward rate of spread had been stopped and firefighters had a line around most of the fire, according to the San Bernardino National Forest (SBNF) Twitter page.

As of Oct. 15, the cause of the fire is still under investigation, according to SBNF Public Affairs Officer Zachary Behrens.

YOUBITE, LLC recalls pork sausage and turkey sausage products due to mislabeling

BY UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
CONTRIBUTED

On Oct. 11, YOUBITE, LLC, a Camarillo, Calif. establishment, recalled approximately 7,197 pounds of raw and ready-to-eat pork sausage and turkey sausage products that contain either natural sheep or natural pork casings that were not declared on the product label, the United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) announced.

The raw and fully cooked, ready-to-eat pork sausage and turkey sausage items were produced on various dates from Oct. 9, 2018 to Oct. 9, 2019. The following products are subject to recall:

Employment agreement reached with UDW

Agreement will increase pay for in-home supportive services providers

BY RIVERSIDE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
CONTRIBUTED

On Oct. 8, the Riverside County Board of Supervisors ratified an employment agreement with United Domestic Workers (UDW), AFCSME Local 3930. The agreement memorializes the current wage of in-home supportive services (IHSS) workers, which was increased to $12 an hour in January 2019 to remain in line with increases to the state's minimum wage laws.

The agreement also sets forth future wage increases, both a result of the increasing minimum wage and two negotiated increases totaling $0.50 per hour. The final increase will be on Jan. 1, 2022, when the state hourly wage will increase to $15 an hour. These adjustments are the county's efforts to bring hourly wages in line with compensation from comparable counties for IHSS workers. The three-year agreement passed on a 3-0 vote. Fourth District Supervisor V. Manuel Perez and Third District Supervisor Chuck Washington, who represents Idyllwild, were absent.

IHSS workers provide in-home care and personal services to low-income individuals who are either elderly or disabled.

"This three-year agreement with UDW is both fair for employees and the county," said Supervisor Chair Kevin Jeffries, who represents the first district. "We made tremendous efforts to reach agreements with some of our labor unions, and we continue to strive to reach agreements with the others."

Additional costs associated with this contract include contributions to a health insurance fund developed by the Riverside County Public Authority and administered by UDW. The health insurance contributions will be $0.57 per hour. In addition, training courses will be offered for IHSS providers, including courses on first-aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (commonly referred to as CPR) and caregiving essentials.

IHSS workers provide in-home care and personal services to low-income individuals who are either elderly or disabled. The assistance provided by IHSS workers allows individuals to stay in their homes or continue working.

The county costs for this fiscal year are $4 million, $6.3 million for next fiscal year, and $4.5 million in the final fiscal year. These figures represent the county's costs, which account for 17% of the entire contract. The federal government will cover 53% of the costs, and the state will cover 30%.

Negotiations continue with other labor unions.

Veterans

St., Moreno Valley.

In order to be recognized at the ceremony, individuals must currently reside in Riverside County.

The application, forms, plus photos and video from last year's ceremony are available online on the Operation Recognition website (www.rcoe.us/riverside-county-superintendent-schools/office-of-the-riverside-county-superintendent-of-schools/excellence-recognition-programs/operation-recognition/). There is no charge to apply or participate. Applications can also be requested by telephone. Interested persons may contact Tracey Case at 951-826-6570 or tcase@rcoe.us.

Degrees can also be conferred posthumously. Education Code Section 51440 authorizes the granting of retroactive high school diplomas to eligible veterans.

Section 51430 also authorizes the retroactive granting of diplomas to Japanese-American citizens whose internment by federal order in World War II prevented them from graduating from their hometown high school.

Disaster

non-traditional medical patient care settings may not have access to compliant controlled substance security forms.

Senate Bill 569 fixes this by creating a limited exemption to the controlled substance forms requirements during the initial phase of a local, state or federal declared disaster.

"I thank the governor and the legislature for their support of this important legislation that will help those who have experienced a disaster," concluded Stone.

- The products subject to recall bear establishment number "M-45475" or "P-45475" inside the USDA mark of inspection. These items were sold to consumers at farmers markets in Southern California.
- The problem was discovered by FSIS during routine inspection activities.

There have been no confirmed reports of adverse reactions due to consumption of these products. Anyone concerned about an injury or illness should contact a health-care provider.

FSIS is concerned that some of the product may be in consumers' refrigerators and freezers. Consumers who have purchased these products are urged not to consume them. These products should be thrown away or returned to the place of purchase.

FSIS routinely conducts recall effectiveness checks to verify that recalling firms are notifying their customers of the recall and that actions are being taken to make certain that the product is no longer available to consumers.

Consumers and members of the media with questions about the recall can contact Carina Mohr, plant manager for YOUBITE, LLC at 805-443-9617.

Consumers with food safety questions can call the toll-free USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline at 1-888-MPHotline (1-888-674-6854) or live chat via Ask USDA from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. (Eastern Time) Monday through Friday.

Consumers can also browse food safety messages at Ask USDA or send a question via email to AskUSDA@usda.gov. For consumers that need to report a problem with a meat, poultry, or egg product, the online Electronic Consumer Complaint Monitoring System can be accessed 24 hours a day at <https://foodcomplaint.fsis.usda.gov/eCCF/>.

A sold out art walk and wine tasting event

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

The Art Alliance of Idyllwild (AAI) held its 22nd-annual Art Walk and Wine Tasting event last Saturday throughout town. Twenty-one different wineries from all over California participated along with multiple artists showing and selling their pieces.

Tickets were required for the tastings, which included a keepsake wine glass with a unique 2019 design. Local musicians See Art walk, page B2

The Art Alliance of Idyllwild's 22nd Annual Art Walk & Wine Tasting was popular Saturday as wine and art lovers walked to the multiple designated event areas throughout downtown and up North Circle Drive, reaching all the way up to The Fern Valley Emporium.

Town Crier sits down with Stephen Savage of 'Idyllwild on the Air'

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

I sat in Stephen Savage's home studio on a beautiful fall afternoon. It's comfortable warm tones of light, a dark leather couch, coffee table, and music equipment was meticulously placed throughout the studio. The light from multiple computer monitors cuts through the room with piercing cold tones as Savage tells me about his newest podcast "Idyllwild on the Air" that he started in September 2019.

The podcast was created in an effort to get more locals interested in coming to the Idyllwild International Film Festival of Cinema (IIFC), which Savage founded in 2009. In this process, many have also learned about their fellow community members as Savage interviews locals about their hobbies, professions and life stories.

"The first year, half of our attendees were locals, now it's down to about a third," Savage said about the IIFC. "The idea is that I'm here to promote people with interesting stories through this podcast while also promoting IIFC to get more locals to attend."

Savage has been interviewing people who have either been in the community for a long time or may have just moved here, but all of them are doing interesting and exciting things. He is trying to bring light to what's going on in town, while helping listeners get to know previously unknown and unique things about his interviewees in hopes of breaking the misconceptions that listeners may have from personal experience or rumors.

Savage plans to expand the podcast outside of the studio to different events and areas of the mountain. "I want to do some interviews remotely in town at the tree lighting ceremony and on Halloween," he said. "I also want to do interviews with people in the desert, Anza, Stephen Savage in his home studio.

Pinyon Pines and other surrounding areas that have connections to Idyllwild. I'm excited about it."

While the list of future interviewees is practically endless, and many people are already scheduled to come into the studio in the near future, some of the people Savage has already interviewed are Ernesto Alé, Doug Austin, Brian Parnell, Riverside County Sheriff's Captain Leonard Purvis, Idyllwild Library Branch Manager Shannon Ng and Idyllwild Community Center Board President Stephanie Yost.

"It's my job to keep this podcast interesting all the time," replied Savage when asked what he sees for the future of his podcast. "We already have over 4,000 listeners from the 13 episodes we've done so far. I want to keep it going with people from our local music scene, people who know the history of Idyllwild, and artists from our healthy art scene. There's no end of cool people to interview. I think the podcast will go on for a long time."

"Idyllwild on the Air" can be found on Facebook and YouTube, as well as other streaming sites like Spotify, iTunes, and Podbean.

IIFC will be March 9 through March 15, 2020. Idyllwild local passes will be $25 and will cover the entire week with over 100 films.

"The idea is that I'm here to promote people with interesting stories through this podcast while also promoting IIFC to get more locals to attend."
— Stephen Savage

Some safety tips from Cal Fire:

1. Don't mow or trim dry grass on windy days.
2. Never pull your vehicle over in dry grass.
3. Target shoot only in approved areas, use lead ammunition only, and never shoot at metal objects.
4. Check and obey burn bans.
5. Ensure campfires are allowed, and if so, be sure to extinguish them completely.
6. Report any suspicious activities to prevent arson.
7. If you see something — say something.

entertained the large crowd and a variety of cheese, crackers and grapes were available for all attendees while they mingled with other art and wine enthusiasts.

AAI's Courtyard Gallery Manger Cynthia Grady spoke to the Town Crier Saturday afternoon about the event's success.

"We sold out online and sold all of these [pointing to a handwritten log of tickets sold] just today!" Grady said as she flipped through multiple pages of handwritten notes that documented the number of tickets sold at the gallery.

While AAI holds multiple events throughout the year, the Art Walk and Wine Tasting is one of their biggest and most well-attended events. Grady said, "The bulk of the money we raise from the wine walk is for education grants that help volunteer groups like smARTS at Idyllwild School and other annual events AAI does."

RCOE partners with state on a new literacy campaign

Riverside is one of two counties selected for $1 million Literacy Partnership Grant

By the Office of the Riverside County Superintendent of Schools
Contributed

In 2017, results for English Language Arts (ELA) on the California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress, 51.44% of all K–12 students did not meet the standard for ELA. In order to improve ELA scores and increase students' achievement in ELA, the California Department of Education (CDE) and Riverside County Office of Education (RCOE) are working together with a focus on early literacy.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond selected two county offices of education, Tulare and Riverside, to be a part of this effort. RCOE was chosen due to current literacy efforts, paired with unmet needs that can be met under this new partnership. Additionally, working with CDE allows partners to implement strong early learning efforts, work with established biliteracy programs, and provide pathways to increase student access to books in the home language. There is also great potential for customized efforts to specific underserved populations such as English learners, native tribe populations, homeless youth, and foster youth student groups.

"We are excited to partner with the California Department of Education on such an urgent and important issue — increasing our students' reading abilities," commented RCOE Superintendent Dr. Judy D. White. "The achievement gap between white students and students of color is present before they even begin kindergarten. It's critical all students are proficient readers, that we encourage and support a love of reading, and ultimately, help to improve the literacy rates for all students in Riverside County."

On Oct. 8, RCOE held a literacy launch event to highlight the Riverside County initiative, "Readership." The slogan for the RCOE campaign is "Read to me. Any Age. Any Stage." Eight districts are participating in the literacy grant effort including Alvord, Beaumont, Corona Norco, Desert Sands, Jurupa, Menifee, Moreno Valley, Palm Springs, and Val Verde.

Dr. Felicia Cruz-Delgado, director of leadership, innovation, and outreach, is coordinating the effort for the RCOE.

"This wonderful opportunity with the California Department of Education will enhance our focus on engaging families and communities to increase literacy and opportunities for all students," said Cruz-Delgado.

Upon taking office, Superintendent Thurmond immediately started working on his priority initiatives — improving statewide literacy as one at the top of the list. With that in mind, this campaign will seek to provide books in the hands of students, resources and support for teachers to help support the efforts, and family and community engagement to reinforce the love of reading for all ages. This new campaign is just the first step of Thurmond's bigger vision to roll out a large-scale statewide literacy effort that will require the CDE to identify and collaborate with private funders and foundations to help increase literacy rates in our public schools.

Thurmond said, "We can't do this alone, but with the right partners, we can make some serious strides in a positive direction when it comes to our state's literacy rates."

The daughter of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., a celebrity teen coach, and a professional drummer will highlight the motivational lineup of speakers set for the Riverside County Student Unity Conference on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the Riverside Convention Center, 3637 5th Street, Riverside.

"The Student Unity Conference is for students who are interested in unlocking the potential in themselves and bringing out the best in everybody around them," said Riverside County Superintendent Dr. Judy D. White. "We are stronger when we focus on what unites us instead of what divides us, and this free conference is perfect for students who want to be the change in their world."

While I was eating at Idy Sushi with my husband and 96-year-old dad, Pop Pop, the owner, Kai, came into the restaurant. He visited with us for quite a while.

When we were getting ready to leave, Kai helped Pop Pop out of his chair, walked him to the car, helped get him into the car, and then waved goodbye until we were out of sight.

counselor or principal about the limited number of seats available to each public high school.

Keynote speakers

Dr. Bernice A. King is chief executive officer of Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Nonviolence and founder of Be a King. King is also author of "Hard Questions, Heart Answers." Through her work at The King Center, King educates youth and adults about the nonviolent principles modeled by her parents.

As part of the center's Nonviolence 365 education and training initiative, she launched Students with King, which enables students to interact with King family members, as well as those who knew and/or worked with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Mrs. Coretta Scott King.

King is an innovative, energetic, and committed leader dedicated to taking her parents' legacy and teachings, The King Center, and the work of creating a more peaceful, just, human world with Nonviolence 365 into a new era.

The Celebrity Teen Coach Jesse LeBeau is another featured speaker. In life, we all face hardships, challenges, and road blocks at times. A perpetual underdog himself, LeBeau offers a unique perspective on why suffering, when viewed through the correct lens, can become the biggest strength and greatest asset. LeBeau's highly entertaining and interactive style creates an engaging experience helping students to understand how their unique personal story is their greatest untapped resource. Students will learn how to build stronger relationships, achieve goals, and increase productivity, all while building trust and having a deeper positive impact on others.

Clint Pulver — motivational speaker, professional drummer, actor, and pilot — will present The Significant Student Leader: How to Live Life By Design.

"It's not about being the best in school," says Pulver. "It's about being the best FOR the school." In this entertaining and incredibly impactful keynote address, Pulver explains that there is a difference between being a successful student leader and a significant student leader. He will provide actionable steps on how to achieve the best in others and become a significant student leader. Pulver will share powerful stories that help students discover their passions, get specific on goals, and learn how to identify their purpose in life. He will reveal that the secret is learning how to live a life by design, not by default, and that the choices made today will plant the seed for tomorrow's opportunities.

In addition to the keynote speakers, multiple breakout sessions will be available for students to learn from subject matter experts in the areas of:

- Kindness, character, and relationships
- Leadership and storytelling
- Surviving homelessness
- Teamwork and the power of listening
- Building mental and emotional wellness
- Promoting positive change through civic engagement

HOROSCOPES

October 2019 — Week 3

March 21 – April 19

It might not be wise to pursue goals involving others, unless you can stop impulsively rejecting new ideas. Either open your mind or wait until next week, when this "ornery" mood passes.

April 20 – May 20

It's a good time for the Bovine to be creative and practical for yourself and your surroundings. Shop wisely, not impulsively, and keep your Bull's eye focused on quality, not quantity.

May 21 – June 21

You should feel more confident about moving ahead with plans that had to be delayed by an unexpected turn of events. Also, family matters might need more time than first anticipated.

June 22 – July 22

Be considerate of others as you move into a new area in your professional life. Take time to meet people and discuss mutual goals. The more you get to know each other, the better.

July 23 – August 22

Creating a fuss could get your ideas noticed quickly. But it would be best to present your case, and then wait for a reaction to follow in due course, rather than try to force it to happen.

August 23 – September 22

Unkept promises might cause plans to go awry this week. You can either grumble about people "letting you down" or find a way to make the best of it and move on. The choice is yours.

September 23 – October 22

Putting off making a commitment early in the week could be a good move. It's best to act when you know you're making an informed decision. Expect more facts to emerge by the week's end.

October 23 – November 21

A recent act of kindness on your part could take on special meaning this week. Also, look for signs of upcoming changes in both your personal and professional relationships.

November 22 – December 21

Many of the tougher communication barriers between you and others in the workplace or at home could begin breaking down this week. Expect some surprises to emerge.

December 22 – January 19

Your "tough love" attitude toward someone you care for could be misunderstood. Try to be less judgmental and show more consideration in the way you relate to that person.

January 20 – February 18

An unexpected workplace challenge could be daunting. But take what you know (and you know more than you realize) and apply it to the problem, and you should see positive results.

February 19 – March 20

Recent relationship changes for both single and paired Pisces continue to influence much of your week. Keep your focus on developing the positive aspects as you move along.

ATTENTION CONTRACTORS
California Business and Professions Code 7071.13 reads: “Any reference by a contractor in his advertising, soliciting, or other presentments to the public to any bond required to be filed pursuant to this chapter is a ground for the suspension of the license of such contractor.”
This is a contractor’s responsibility, not a newspaper’s, and we are not responsible for it. However, as a courtesy, we will remove references to a bond in contractors’ advertising, if we notice it.

Antoinette (Toni) Berthelotte was the guest of the Glasses and Giggles Book Club last Wednesday. Berthelotte is the author of "Fiona of Kinsale," a romantic history about Ireland during the 1600s. Edith Brix hosted this meeting where the members had a lively Q&A with the author, wonderful refreshments and a book signing. The e-book, or paperback, is available on amazon.com under its title and author's name. PHOTO BY S. BROWNING

★ STUDENTS OF THE WEEK ★

Idyllwild School first-grade teacher Diana Kirkham chose Kinsey Kretsinger and Marlin Peterson (not pictured) as Students of the Week. Mrs. Kirkham said “both are exceptional first-grade students. They excel in all academic areas and come to school daily with an amazingly positive attitude. Both students are perfect examples of having a ‘growth mindset’ ... they never give up and always try their best. They are outstanding role models, wonderful friends and a pleasure to have in class.”

So You Think You Know the Hill?

CONTEST JUDGE

CREATURE CORNER

BY JANICE MURASKO

Last week in “Days of Our Nine Lives,” ARF cats learned that they might have a new office cat.

Terra: All you felines gather around.

Mr. Gray: Hey, aren't you the new cat?

Terra: I am, and the ARF volunteers appointed me the new greeter for all visitors to ARF. That means I'm the new office cat.

Mr. Gray: Wow. I guess seniority means nothing. Humph.

Sadie: Oh Gray, it's because she is so very friendly. Humans will be so happy to be greeted by her.

Zeus: Terra, you look young.

Terra: True, even though I've had a litter. I'm so glad ARF will get me spayed now. No more kittens for me!

Zeus: Do you know if the last dog, Baloo, was adopted?

Terra: Yes, he was! I've heard a rumor that ARF now has another dog. She is pregnant!

Zeus: Holy catnip! Seriously?

Sadie: I heard that, too. She is very small and very pregnant. That's all we know right now.

Terra: Stay tuned!

Mr. Gray: And what about our kitten situation?

Bear: We still have Neptune and Jupiter looking for their homes, and very, very soon we will have another litter.

Mr. Gray: Kittens, kittens, kittens. I hope we soon find homes for all of them.

Terra: Don't forget that the new litter will also come with its beautiful mama. She will also need a home, just like me.

Sadie: We need to put out a call to all cat lovers. What's one more cat in a loving household?

Bear: If there is one, two might be twice the love.

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of “Days of Our Nine Lives” each week. Please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Highway 243 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturdays and from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Sundays, or by appointment Monday-Friday by calling 951-659-1122.

Creature Corner is sponsored by Carole Herman & Sandi Mathers.

Jupiter

Neptune

Mr. Gray

This week, the impartial lot-toss came out in favor of ... Rev. Bob Mitchell. Beginners luck wins again. Please come all the way to the Town Crier office to pick up your prize, Reverend. We'll be very glad to meet you.

Gift certificate prizes are generously provided by Red Kettle restaurant and Higher Grounds Coffee House. Thanks to both establishments for supporting our contest! We would like our contestants to please stop by both of these fine establishments to thank them for their continued sponsorship.

This week's photo should not be too difficult. Good luck! One entry per household. Contest deadline: Monday noon. Not a race — correct entries go into a hat for a drawing. Full contest rules and guidelines available at the Town Crier office. Email entries to jack@towncrier.com.

Free/reduced-price school lunches

Hemet Unified School District is distributing application forms to all households for free and reduced-price meals for enrolled children. Applications are also available at the principal's office in each school.

To apply for free or reduced-price meal benefits, complete an application and return it to the school. Applications may be submitted at any time during the school year.

The information households provide on the application will be used to determine meal eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or program officials.

Requirements for free and reduced-price benefits are as follows: For households receiving Food Stamp, CalWORKs, Kin-GAP, or FDPIR benefits, applications need only include the enrolled child(ren)'s name, Food Stamp, CalWORKs, Kin-GAP or FDPIR case number, and the signature of an adult household member.

For households who do not list a Food Stamp, CalWORKs, Kin-GAP or FDPIR case number, the application must include the names of all household members, the amount and source of the income received by each household member, and the signature and corresponding Social Security number of an adult household member.
