Illegal campfires are on the rise

BY SAN BERNARDINO NATIONAL FOREST
CONTRIBUTED

It's no secret that the outdoors have become a popular choice to relieve some of the pressures people face in their daily lives. With a recent increase in visitation to the San Bernardino National Forest (SBNF), firefighting personnel and land managers are growing increasingly concerned about the uptick in illegal campfires that have sprung up all over the forest. Year to date, forest officers have documented an over 150% increase, from 33 in 2019 to 87 in 2020.

Campfires built on the ground, or ground fires, are always prohibited on the San Bernardino National Forest because they can escape or reignite after a visitor extinguishes them and leaves. It's what one cannot see underground and control that begs a different story than one might intend. Often thinking it's been extinguished, fires can and have smoldered underground and reignited dead leaf matter or even tree roots. All it takes is a gust of wind to get it going again where it can quickly grow into a full-blown wildfire threatening not only the forest's resources and private properties, but the people who live, work and play in the forest as well.

Under current fire restrictions, building, maintaining, attending or using a campfire is only allowed in fire rings provided by the Forest Service at open developed recreation sites, such as campgrounds and yellow post sites. (Yellow post sites are individual campsites with a fire ring and picnic table; they are not attached to a campground).

The same goes for wood or charcoal barbecues. The prohibited use has also increased, most notably in Lytle Creek and Mill Creek. Grilling with wood or charcoal is only allowed in barbecues provided by the Forest Service in open developed recreation sites, such as picnic areas, with a California Campfire Permit.

Those looking to grill or have a dispersed campfire do have an option. Portable stoves and campfire rings that have a fuel shut-off valve and only burns gas, kerosene, jellied petroleum or pressurized liquid fuel are allowed. Users must have a California Campfire Permit and must be at least five feet away from vegetation.

California Campfire Permits are free and can be obtained online after watching a short, educational video from Cal Fire.

A citation for violating fire restrictions prompts a mandatory court appearance. It is a federal offense punishable as a Class B misdemeanor, by a fine of not more than $5,000 for an individual or $10,000 for an organization or imprisonment for not more than six months or both.

"We know everyone enjoys having campfires while recreating outdoors," said SBNF Fire Chief Jaime Gamboa. "However, the public needs to be mindful of the conditions and where they are wanting to have campfires, in order to be safe."

According to the Riverside University Health System (RUHS) website, the area of Idyllwild-Pine Cove has seven cases of COVID-19 as of press time. The first reported case for the area was on April 3. No deaths have been reported for the area since the outbreak.

Riverside County is unable to provide recovery data by area. It is unknown at this time how many of the seven cases are still active.

Riverside County Public Health hosted a one-day COVID-19 mobile testing site at the Idyllwild Library on Tuesday, June 16 from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The county was able to test up to 150 people. According to the county, it is uncertain at this time as to whether a mobile unit will return at a future date.

As of press time on June 16, Riverside County has 11,694 confirmed COVID-19 cases. There are 395 deaths related to COVID-19 and 6,165 people have recovered. There are 237 individuals being hospitalized and of those 65 are in the intensive care unit (ICU).

As of press time June 9, Riverside County had 9,590 confirmed COVID-19 cases. There were 365 deaths related to COVID-19 and 5,466 people had recovered. There were 220 individuals being hospitalized and of those 71 were in the ICU.

As of press time June 2, Riverside County had 8,155 confirmed COVID-19 cases. There were 342 deaths related to COVID-19 and 4,804 people had recovered. There were 203 individuals being hospitalized and of those 62 were in the ICU.

To date, 159,287 people have been tested for COVID-19 in Riverside County, according to RUHS. The age range with the most confirmed cases in the county is still those between the ages of 40 and 64. However, the 18- to 39-year-old age group is catching up.

Kim Saruwatari, director of Riverside County Public Health, spoke about the health disparities within Riverside County at a recent press conference: "While we are not seeing the same levels of COVID-19 disparities as have been reported elsewhere, we at public health have seen the health disparities that have taken the toll on communities

Grant from ICF expands free transportation

BY MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

Mountain residents needing transportation and victims of the Cranston Fire received funds from the Idyllwild Community Fund (ICF).

The Forest Folk, Inc. qualified for a $3,500 ICF grant last December to aid in the expansion of the Idyllwild Shuttle program. The shuttle transports residents for free.

Reba Coulter, treasurer and project manager of Forest Folk, Inc., wrote a letter to the ICF expressing gratitude for the grant which allowed the group to expand shuttle service to the weekly food share at Mountain Center and retain the program's driver.

Coulter also wrote: "Knowing that many, if not most of our permanent residents, suffered greatly because of the Cranston Fire, little did we know how greatly that this service was going to be needed. These funds were largely responsible for helping to retain our driver who, in turn, helped keep the shuttle service in operation. Who could have predicted the pandemic we are now suffering through?"

Between April and May, the Idyllwild HELP Center received $7,590 in grant money to assist victims of the Cranston Fire. Contact the HELP Center for information about assistance programs if you were impacted by the Cranston Fire.

Greetings Idyllwild Community,

We are happy to share with you that Jazz In The Pines will return July 5 through July 17, 2020. The Idyllwild Arts campus remains closed as we make the necessary preparations and investments to bring our students back in August, so we will meet our Jazz guests online with exciting workshops and performances.

Although Jazz In The Pines will be held online, the festival will kick off on Sunday, July 5, at FERRO Restaurant with a special performance by Euphoria Brass Band. Tickets are not required. Just book a lunch reservation at FERRO and enjoy this New Orleans-style band. Due to social distancing recommendations, space will be limited.

Our new Jazz In The Pines format restores the original vision of festival co-founder Marshall Hawkins and combines the Festival and the Summer Jazz Intensive. This format allows us to build a bridge between the professionals we’ve loved for years and the next generation of jazz artists. The Intensive is for students ages 14 to 18, and will give young jazz enthusiasts a chance to learn from and play alongside some of the great jazz practitioners today.

“The new Jazz In The Pines is a state of mind. It’s an expression of shared wonder about the power of jazz not only to speak to generation after generation, but to help one generation speak to another generation.”
- Marshall Hawkins, Jazz in the Pines co-founder

The online festival will include free public performances on Facebook Live, an “In Conversation” series with featured artists, open masterclasses, and special events.

Featured Jazz Faculty and Artists include Grammy Award-Winning John Daversa, Tonight Show trumpeter Kye Palmer, Marshall Hawkins, Tom Hynes, Francisco Torres, Barb Catlin, Bob Boss, Rick Shaw, Rose Colella and many other esteemed guests.

For more information on the festival, visit jazzinthepines.com. Students may register for the workshop at idyllwildarts.org/summer/summeronline

We look forward to Jazz In The Pines Festival and the Summer Jazz Intensive returning to campus next year. In the meantime, we hope you will join us online for Jazz In The Pines 2020.

Warmest regards,

Pamela Jordan

Collision on Highway 74

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

There was one collision on Highway 74, according to California Highway Patrol Public Information Of-ficer Matt Napier.

On June 14 at 2:45 a.m. Rodrigo Cuellar, 27 of San Jacinto, was driving his red 2016 Dodge Journey west-bound on Highway 74 just west of Dry Creek at a stat-ed speed of 35 mph. Cuellar didn't realize he was rap-idly approaching a drain-age ditch while drifting off the right-hand side of the highway. He plummeted over the side of the highway and into the ditch colliding with several large rocks and boulders.

Cuellar, after failing a field sobriety test, was ar-rested for driving under the influence of a controlled substance but was unin-jured. His passenger, Rafa-el Cuellar, 29 of San Jacinto, was transported by AMR to Riverside County Region-al Medical Center with ma-jor injuries. The vehicle was towed by Idyllwild Garage.

Steele cut at Charles Schwab

By JACK CLARK
PRO GOLF CORRESPONDENT

In the first PGA Tour tournament after a three-month COVID-19-caused layoff, Brendan Steele had a rough go at the Charles Schwab Challenge.

He was cut after posting a 4-over-par 71-73 — 144 over the first two days. The Idyllwild native wasn't alone. Notable players including Phil Mickelson, Ricky Fowler, John Rahm and Matt Kuchar were also cut.

Brendan boomed drives averaging 320 yards but only 32% found fairways. He hit 58% of greens in regulation but his putter wasn't helping him vis-à-vis the rest of the field. Steele is not listed in the field of this week's tournament.

PUBLISHER EDITORIAL

PCWD GM attacks
Town Crier accuracy

By JACK CLARK
CO-PUBLISHER & GENERAL COUNSEL

Along with Town Crier (TC) Editor Melissa Diaz Hernandez, I attended the June 10 meeting of the board of Pine Cove Water District (PCWD), one of the seven local public agencies the Idyllwild Town Crier monitors to keep the public informed. A major subject—seemingly THE major subject—of discussion was an article written by Diaz Hernandez appearing in the June 4 issue.

In that piece, TC's editor had reported that, utilizing the California Public Records Act, she had requested documents relating to any bids the district had received for "Repairs to Heater and new duct work in shop" and for "Install new filter rack with upgraded filter" at PCWD. The district responded, "There are no documents responsive to your request." So, PCWD did not send that work out for bids. Instead, the work was simply given to Idyllwild Heating and Air Conditioning, which is owned by the brother of PCWD General Manager Jerry Holldbier. Diaz Hernandez pointed out this fraternal connection in the June 4 issue.

Now, California law does not require that a public district's maintenance and repair work amounting to less than $15,000 in parts and labor be sent out to bid, and Diaz Hernandez did not say it did. But nothing prevents a public district like PCWD from sending lesser jobs out for bidding or, at least, spreading its work around local businesses. Holldbier's brother's company is not the only heating and air conditioning company on the Hill. Mountain Mechanical on Upper Pine Crest also does such work.

In a previous story and mentioned again in the June 4 story, Diaz Hernandez reported that PCWD Director Vicki Jakubac had voted to approve an expenditure to SoCal Propane, of which her husband is a part-owner, instead of recusing herself from that vote.

California Government Code section 87100, the very first section in Chapter 7, which is entitled "Conflicts of Interests," provides: "No public official at any level of state or local government shall make, participate in making or in any way attempt to use his official position to influence a governmental decision in which he knows or has reason to know he has a financial interest." And section 87103 provides: "A public official has a financial interest in a decision within the meaning of Section 87100 if it is reasonably foreseeable that the decision will have a material financial effect, distinguishable from its effect on the public generally, on the official, [or] a member of his or her immediate family ..."

Yet — at least according to PCWD President Robert Hewitt — PCWD's attorney, Brad Neufeld, opined that Jakubac's vote constituted no conflict of interest? Neufeld once was an instructor at a class attended by both Holldbier and my co-publisher that addressed the very topic of conflicts of interest. Attorney Neufeld must be aware of the above two Government Code sections. It is further notable that Jakubac says in the future she will not be voting on any matters involving her husband's company.

Also, in the June 4 article, Diaz Hernandez reported that she had sought receipts for expenses under an $18,000 PCWD allocation for "transportation and travel," since she had noticed Fern Valley Water District allocates only $1,500 under such a category. At the meeting, Holldbier explained that PCWD includes diesel fuel for its heavy equipment under "transportation and travel." Since Fern Valley lists its corresponding fuel under "operating expenses," is anybody surprised that Diaz Hernandez would inquire about this obvious disparity in allocated transportation and travel amounts between the two water districts? Yet Holldbier criticized Diaz Hernandez's article as if inquiring into this under the California Public Records Act were something only an unworthy newspaper would do.

At the June 10 PCWD meeting, Holldbier attacked the Town Crier, saying he wanted and expected, but apparently does not feel he is getting "accuracy" in the TC's news coverage of PCWD.

Yet, neither Holldbier nor anyone else has yet pointed out a single instance of factual inaccuracy in Diaz Hernandez's June 4 piece. I'll say it again: Neither Holldbier nor anyone else has yet pointed out a single instance of factual inaccuracy in Diaz Hernandez's June 4 piece.

It seems the Town Crier editor is being excoriated by PCWD for legally and appropriately making press inquiries.

PCWD certainly does not like to see it printed in the Town Crier that PCWD sent work to GM Holldbier's brother, that a PCWD director voted to approve an expenditure to her husband's company, and that the Town Crier editor investigated the 12-fold disparity between the budget monies two local water districts had allocated for transportation and travel.

Well, since PCWD doesn't like to see that in print, why did they do it? Why simply award jobs to Holldbier's brother? Why accept Jakubac's vote regarding her husband's company without someone speaking up? Why list your heavy equipment diesel fuel under "transportation and travel" instead of "operating expenses" and then climb all over Diaz Hernandez when she inquired into the oddly disparate transportation and travel allocations between the two districts? That is what PCWD did, and Diaz Hernandez pointed

It seems the Town Crier editor is being excoriated by PCWD for legally and appropriately making press inquiries.

Idyllwild, I am proud of you

EDITOR:

Yes, the killing of George Floyd is terrible beyond words as well as the other three policemen standing there without stopping it.

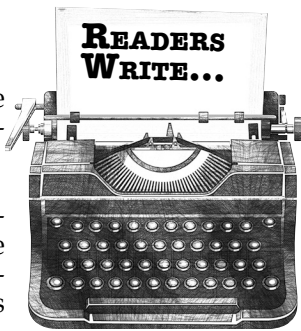

They all should be punished to the limit. On Monday, June 1, we had a group of local protesters show their support for George Floyd. They were chanting "Black Lives Matter" as they were winding around a few streets in Idyllwild.

They were peaceful. However, we must not forget "All Lives Matter."

I was looking around me and a good number of locals were watching.

Shop owners were in their shops to protect them. They were very concerned. A large group around the park and across were watching intensely. I felt that they would protect Idyllwild if necessary. It made me feel very safe and proud.

There were police cars cruising for law and order. Idyllwild has been through a lot the last two years. Let us be kind and loving to each other.

Abatement enforcement on unimproved lots ... non-existent

EDITOR:

Having lived on Cedar Glen for 10 years, we have always been worried about the unimproved lot next door to us never having had any abatement done.

Recently, I sent an email to Idyllwild Fire Protection District (IFPD) Chief Mark LaMont and the past president of the IFPD board Jerry Buchanan asking for both contact information on the property owners of that lot along with requesting that they take action regarding abatement enforcement as this lot would cause our entire neighborhood go up in flames if one single spark found its way to any part of it.

When IFPD does their abatement drive-by of properties in our neighborhood, it is just that — a drive-by much like a peacock spreading its feathers for affect rather than actually doing abatement enforcement.

We have observed the truck driving by. The guys might get out and maybe walk the front of the property but that's it. As a resident sending an email of concern to the chief and the board president, I have not even the courtesy of a response. Nothing!

This lack of follow-through and response to our property owners in the IFPD area of responsibility is unacceptable, incompetent and blatantly an example of a lack of leadership.

Idyllwild, meet P.E.O.

By ANTOINETTE BERTHELOTTE
CONTRIBUTED

Anyone coming into town sees the wonderful "Welcome to Idyllwild" sign. It proudly boasts insignias of numerous organizations, but one makes many scratch their head. The circle with the golden star says P.E.O., but what the heck is that?

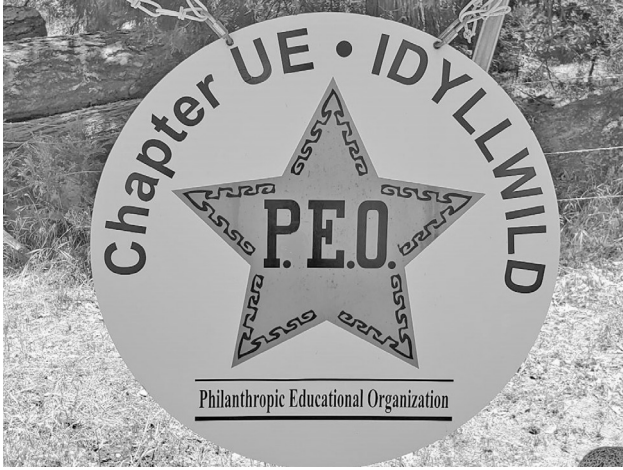

It is a group of special women who follow the mission statement of the first P.E.O. chapter, created by seven young college women in 1869 in Iowa. Chapter UE in Idyllwild is just one of over 6,000 chapters of the international chapter of the P.E.O. sisterhood, a nonprofit Philanthropic Educational Organization.

Who benefits from these programs and how does it work? P.E.O. celebrates the advancement and the education of women by providing scholarships, grants, awards, loans and acting as stewards to Cottey College, an accredited women's college. They motivate and assist women to achieve their highest aspirations. In other words, "Women helping women reach for the stars."

Many Idyllwild recipients now have degrees and jobs due to a sisterhood of local women who believed in them.

Fundraising, such as the annual nut sales that Idyllwild's Chapter UE used to do, depended on the generosity of their customers to help fund the educational programs. This, and gifts to the chapter also enable them to help locals with needs that are not necessarily education-related, but might be due to illness, job-loss, etc., including P.E.O.-UE's ability to help during the Cranston

Fire and the current COVID-19 pandemic.

Many of those benefitting from these programs are women whose goals and dreams were interrupted by marriage, children, or illness and who are ready to complete their journey. Sometimes, the only thing holding them back is just a small gift to help pay for childcare or living expenses. Chapter UE, and other chapters around the world, accomplish this by giving locally and by donating to P.E.O. state and international philanthropies.

Using this time-tested process, P.E.O.s around the world have provided over $366 million to women to make their dreams come true. Each chapter selects and submits local candidates for one or more of the programs based on their needs and goals.

Members of this organization are dedicated to the mission statement and to being true sisters in spirit. Their amazing power shows how local chapters can make a global impact.

that out to the public.

Here's a big hint to all of our public agencies: If you won't like it in print for the public to see, don't do it.

Well, PCWD did do it, and the TC owed a duty to the public to report all of that.

In a closing remark at the PCWD meeting, Holldbier emphatically stated he believes this community sorely misses former Town Crier News Editor JP Crumrine. To me, it appeared clear that Holldbier was drawing a contrast between JP Crumrine, whom he admires, and Melissa Diaz Hernandez, whom he clearly does not. Was Holldbier really suggesting that he believes JP would not have reported the work sent to Holldbier's brother's business as Melissa did, would not have reported Jakubac's vote authorizing expenditure to her husband's company as Melissa did, would not have investigated a "transportation and travel" allocation that was 12 times that of a neighboring water district as Melissa did? Is that what Holldbier was suggesting? If so, that would discredit JP's reporting acumen, which I doubt JP would appreciate.

MATTER OF FACT

By MELISSA DIAZ HERNANDEZ
EDITOR

The Town Crier regrets the error in the June 4 story about the Pine Cove Water District "Family finance matters at PCWD." It is the California Fair Political Practices Commission not the California Federal Political Practices Commission.

PLEASE NOTE: The Town Crier is NOT an official "nonprofit organization." (For practical reasons involving the likelihood of local factional efforts to dominate a nonprofit's board so as to gain editorial control of the paper, it could not be.) Therefore, your Membership contributions are NOT tax deductible. Members have no ownership or voting interest in the Town Crier. And we know our Members appreciate that we cannot allow the fact of their Memberships to influence or control the paper's ongoing editorial policies and decisions.

If you previously had an uncompleted subscription before we went "free on the Hill," or if you have an off-Hill subscription now, you may contact Becky for credit against or an extension of your new Membership. But she currently is extending Memberships for subscription holders without being asked.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS:

- Subscriptions to both printed and online issues of the Town Crier.
- Nice-looking "Idyllwild Town Crier Member" car-window decals, which we very much hope you will display so as to encourage others to join us.
- Recognition of your Membership in the Town Crier, unless you request anonymity.
- Occasional offers, special to our Members, from local businesses.
- Invitations to what we hope will be the annual Town Crier Membership Party.

Send completed form to Idyllwild Town Crier, P.O. Box 157, Idyllwild, CA 92549.

Checks may be made payable to "Idyllwild Town Crier." | You may contact Halie at 951-659-2145 or halie@towncrier.com.

Our Hill community

By JACK CLARK
CO-PUBLISHER

We are in our 75th year covering the Hill and are fewer than three months away from the third anniversary of our Membership model here at the Town Crier. The list of Active Members published in this week's paper shows that our Members keep renewing and new Members keep joining them.

On-Hill Members receive their Town Criers in their mailboxes every week and more Members have theirs sent to off-Hill mailing addresses.

The Town Crier is the sole monitor of the seven

We are in our 75th year covering the Hill and are fewer than three months away from the third anniversary of our Membership model here at the Town Crier.

local public agencies on our Hill that are funded by your taxes and that make decisions and recommendations as to how to spend more. All of you Members, readers and advertisers are keeping a real newspaper serving our Hill community, not only monitoring these local agencies, but supplying useful information regarding business offerings, service organizations, schools, churches, police and fire activities, health issues, road conditions, local personalities, arts and entertainment — and more.

We are a diverse group, we Hill people. We're old and young, working and retired, liberal and conservative, sedentary and energetic. Together, we make our mutually cooperative and supportive Hill community. And in the face of difficult circumstances caused by fires, road washouts and a pandemic — "We're still here."

Spotlight: Audrey Carver

By JENNY KIRCHNER
REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER

Audrey Carver, 21 of Idyllwild, has been quite the artist for most of her life, which makes sense considering how much talent this small town produces.

Carver was born in Flagstaff, Arizona, and moved with her family to Idyllwild before the age of two. She spent her pre-kindergarten time with Kathy Lewis at Lil Critters Child Care before attending Idyllwild School. Carver spent all nine years at Idyllwild School, promoting out as a "Hillbilly."

Carver became interested in visual art at a very young age and her passion has only grown as she's turned into a young adult. While some artists have specific reasons for why they do their art, Carver had a more interesting answer when I asked what it was about art that she loved so much.

"I can't remember ever wanting or choosing to do art, I just did it," Carver said. "I think art is so important for so many different reasons, but it's such a part of me. I don't feel like I actively choose to do it, I just do it."

Due to her passion for visual arts, Carver chose to attend the Idyllwild Arts Academy as a visual arts major graduating as the class valedictorian in 2017.

Wanting to expand and learn more about different parts of the world, Carver applied and was accepted into Tufts University in Boston, Massachusetts.

Carver didn't waste any time getting out and exploring the world. She went from Idyllwild to Ecuador. "Going to Ecuador was a gap-year program offered through Tufts," Carver said. "They organized the trip. After being in Idyllwild for 18 years, I wanted to try something completely different."

During her time in Ecuador she lived with a host family. "I spoke no Spanish, so I learned Spanish," admitted Carver. "I worked at a culinary school teaching English while also learning how to cook. It was beautiful and it was such a wonderful experience."

As Carver was learning to cook, she learned about Ecuador's delicacy – guinea pig.

"Their national delicacy is a guinea pig," Carver said. "The first time I saw that I was kind of traumatized because I'm a vegetarian, but they don't taste terrible."

Now in her sophomore year at Tufts, Carver enrolled in an interdisciplinary program that allows students to create their own major.

Associates meeting features Marianne Kent-Stoll

By TOM KLUZAK

The Associates of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation, aka The Associates, held its monthly meeting via Zoom video conference on Monday, June 8. Marianne Kent-Stoll, vice president of educational programs at Idyllwild Arts Academy (IAA), was the featured speaker as part of the ongoing Spotlight on Leadership series.

Kent-Stoll spoke about the school's response to the coronavirus pandemic and plans for the future. IAA decided to close a week before Riverside County schools and then worked through the difficult logistics of getting students to their home countries and states in a time of restricted travel.

They succeeded and then instituted online learning and a virtual graduation.

Since then, the faculty and administration have been working overtime to respond to these unprecedented times. Web-based learning, made popular by Sal Kahn, founder of the Kahn Academy, has thus far had limited application in arts education. However, IAA aspires to be at the forefront of this newly necessitated hybrid approach to education in music, dance, creative writing, fashion design, theatre, film and digital media, visual arts and "InterArts" that make up the major concentrations of study available at the school, in addition, of course, to the typical high school curriculum.

The challenges of operating a boarding high school with students from over 30 countries are legion in normal

Carver

"I'm an Art and Human Ecology Major, focusing on environmental science, anthropology and visual art," Carver explained.

As COVID-19 brought education to a standstill, Carver came back to Idyllwild in March and is staying with her family until she can go back to school. Being back in Idyllwild after being away has given Carver a new outlook on the tiny town she grew up in.

"I honestly didn't realize how special Idyllwild was until I left. Being with the same 24 kids all through school, by the time I graduated, I was angry and wanting to get away," Carver explained. "Then I realized Idyllwild is a place where everybody loves you. I know all my teachers, friends and neighbors. Knowing everyone will take care of you is a beautiful thing and I realized how important it is to have 3,000 people who love you and will be there for you."

Living in Ecuador and Boston has been a challenge, but a good experience for Carver.

"It was really hard to be in a big city," admitted Carver. "I think I've adjusted to not having the same kind of community, but I love Boston and I really loved Ecuador. I think I've learned I'll be able to find my feet wherever I go."

Carver has also found an interest in journalism and writes a column for The Tufts Daily, which is an independent student newspaper on campus.

"I honestly feel like it's similar to art because it's communicating to the world," said Carver. "I have a column where I interview the campus bus drivers and police, just about their lives. Some have these crazy and interesting stories. I do some illustration for a culinary magazine also because I'm in a cooking club. Writing the column has made me more compassionate and aware of how we shape and move in society."

As Carver continues to explore the world and all it has to offer, her future looks bright.

"Currently there is a plan in place to study in Spain, and I plan to finish my degree," Carver said. "I'm still learning what is out there and just exploring it all."

She offered some words of advice for young people that have grown up in Idyllwild, "For people graduating from Idyllwild I'd like to say, don't take for granted where you're coming from. Don't be afraid to go far, but don't be afraid to come back either. I can see myself coming back to Idyllwild someday."

HOROSCOPES

June 2020 — Week 3

ARIES

March 21 – April 19
A plan you've kept on hold for a long time finally could be greenlighted. But in typical Aries form, you'll need to be sure that everything is in place before you hit the "start" button.

TAURUS

April 20 – May 20
Others might urge you to act more quickly on your ideas. But you'd be wise to follow your Bovine instincts and get more facts to bolster your position when you finally present it.

GEMINI

May 21 – June 21
You might be tempted to accept the well-meaning offer of a friend to act as an intermediary in a dispute. But you know best what it's about, and you can handle the challenge. Good luck.

CANCER

June 22 – July 22
Entertainment can play an important role this week. Enjoy some well-earned diversion with people you care about. Something especially wonderful might come from this well-spent time.

LEO

July 23 – August 22
Catnaps and playtime are in order for Leos and Leonas who need to take some time off from their hectic schedules to restore their energies and rebuild their mental muscles. Have fun.

VIRGO

August 23 – September 22
Virgos will need to keep an open mind this week about choices that seem improbable. A closer study might well reveal possibilities that might have been overlooked. Stay with it.

LIBRA

September 23 – October 22
A disappointing outcome of a well-intentioned effort should be seen as a lesson in how to do it right the next time. Note all your changes and have your new plan set up by week's end.

SCORPIO

October 23 – November 21
Creative projects might have to go on standby as you tackle other matters making demands on your time and energy. Things should ease by the middle of next week.

SAGITTARIUS

November 22 – December 21
Your honest approach to an unsettling experience draws admiration from others. Use their positive feedback to build support for your program to introduce needed changes.

CAPRICORN

December 22 – January 19
A workplace goal that suddenly seems out of reach is no problem for the sure-footed Goat, who moves steadily forward despite any obstacles placed in his or her way.

AQUARIUS

January 20 – February 18
A job-related situation could provide an opportunity you hadn't considered before. Look it over carefully and see where and how you can tailor it to fit your needs.

PISCES

February 19 – March 20
Showing strength as well as sympathy helps you deal with a difficult personal matter. It also helps you set an example for others when it's their turn to get involved in the situation.

CREATURE CORNER

By JANICE MURASKO

Last week in "Days of Our Nine Lives," ARF cats talked how the ARF humans are being very safe during this difficult time.

Zeus: Hey! Just for the heck of it, let's do a roll call to make certain everyone is here. Please step forward when I call your name: Bear, Lulu, Whiskers, Sadie and Pepper. Everyone is here.

Bear: Yes, we are all still here, and no dogs.

Lulu: No ARF dogs, but there were found dogs that ARF handled and returned to their homes.

Whiskers: That's good news. How did they get them home? Were they microchipped? Did they have IDs on their collars?

Lulu: No, and that made it very difficult. Thank goodness for social media. One of the dogs had to stay with a foster overnight until the guardian finally saw the dog on Facebook. It's too bad all dogs aren't microchipped. ARF does this for only $20!

Whiskers: On another note, did you hear that we now have kittens and a LOT of them?

Zeus: How many this time?

Whiskers: There are eight of them and they'll be ready for their forever homes on July 1.

Sadie: I peeked at them and saw they are pretty darned cute.

Pepper: And playful!

Zeus: What does it cost a human to adopt a kitten?

Pepper: ARF charges $100 and it includes a lot.

Zeus: That's right! Spay or neuter, all vaccinations and testing for feline leukemia are covered.

Pepper: If one of these kittens was taken to a veterinarian's office, it would cost so much more. ARF barely covers its own costs with adoptions.

Lulu: So, any human who is interested should contact ARF right away, then come to meet these adorable kittens as they will go FAST!

Be sure to keep up with the animal antics of "Days of Our Nine Lives" each week. Please stop in to say hello to the entire adoptable cast at the ARF House, 26890 Highway 243 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturdays and from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Sundays, or by appointment Monday-Friday by calling 951-659-1122.

TOWN CRIER ARCHIVES

County augmentation funds, the Idyllwild Fire Protection District Board of Commissioners voted to increase the special district assessment fee from $20 to $30 for the 1990-91 fiscal year.

15 years ago - 2005
Idyllwild Arts Academy faculty member Todd Carpenter was fundraising for student scholarships. Riding his bike from Idyllwild to Waukesha, Wisconsin, his plan was to make stops in Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin asking for donations in each city. Before he left Idyllwild he had already raised $2,500.

A Lake Hemet Campground opened a water park for the first time. An estimated 1,500 people sunbathed, swam and enjoyed the new water-park structures.

The Idyllwild Arts Summer Program was getting ready for another chapter in its history of engagement with Native American arts by hosting the Native American Arts Festival.

Associates

times but the pandemic has multiplied them many times over.

Kent-Stoll mentioned some of the changes that are taking place to accommodate students who are returning to the campus at the end of August. Many students, however, won't make it back until next year due to travel restrictions and overworked embassies in many countries. For those students who will be here, the cafeteria is being redesigned to allow social distancing, and a plan to place students within "families" is being designed.

How do students maintain social distancing while dancing, making music together or acting? The Associates were left with an understanding and appreciation of the work that the school has done to ensure the continuation of excellent arts education in these difficult times.

The Associates' business meeting followed Kent-Stoll's presentation.

For those not familiar with the organization, the charity was founded 52 years ago to support students at the academy and has donated more than $2.1 million in scholarships and other support.

In addition, the members have recently donated to help some of the members of the Idyllwild community suffering because of the pandemic. Membership is open to anyone with a desire to support the school and students who enrich our town in so many ways.

All are looking forward to the day when we can attend the many professional-quality concerts and shows. In the meantime, many of the previous ones can be viewed on YouTube and Vimeo.
