Kathy Blair, Idyllwild's "Star Spangled Banner" voice

By David Jerome
Editor

"I always cry every time I sing it. I believe every word I sing. That's why I wear sunglasses."

Kathy Blair has been singing the "Star Spangled Banner" at Rotary Club's Idyllwild Fourth of July Parade since 2019.

She lives in Anza but has worked in Idyllwild for a long time. She has been working at the Red Kettle for about nine years now.

She also worked for about 15 years at Jo'An's. She ran their karaoke nights before she became bartender and manager. When Jerome Robinson sang there he used to ask Kathy to get up and sing duets with him.

Before that she worked at Senior Reuben's restaurant in Idyllwild and Anza, buying Reuben's Anza location and running her own restaurant there, Kathy's Roundup.

She ran karaoke nights at the American Legion for about seven years, and for the last four years has been running Karaoke at the Rustic, on the first Thursday of every month, and New Year's Eve. "We had a great experience, we fill the theater, I buy feather boas and hats, we have a lot of fun."

Kathy tells us she came from a musical family. Her father used to sing in college musicals. "I sang in a choir but I was very shy. I've since gotten over that."

She began singing the National Anthem at parades in Anza, starting with the "Team Penning" rodeo event. "That was kind of my start doing the national anthem on my horse, I had to train my horse to stand still so I could sing." (Team Penning tasks a team of riders with sorting out three cows with matching numbers from a herd of 30 and getting them in a pen. This takes about a minute.)

For about 20 years she did this on and off, also announcing the Gymkhana competition, and parade entries. This required a bit of ad-libbing and a deep memory of local groups and past parades, "flying by the seat of the pants," since some entrants skipped filling out the information about their group on the entry form.

In 2022 Kathy stepped outside her comfort zone and auditioned successfully to sing the anthem at the Banning Stagecoach Days. "On 9/11, 2022, one of my most moving moments." Just last week she sang at the Dirty Fest BMX event at Vail Lake, and they have asked her to make it a tradition.

Kathy began singing at the Idyllwild Fourth of July Parade when a friend, Bonnie Reynolds, noticed no one was singing the national anthem at the parade, and gave a tape of Blair's rendition to the Rotary Club. They asked her to sing that year, and have been inviting her back ever since.

It is still an emotional experience for her to sing the national anthem. "I always cry every time I sing it. I believe every word I sing. That's why I wear sunglasses." She considers it a great honor to be asked to sing the anthem and says her "goal is to make this country proud."

IWD household income survey for sewer plant grant still needs responses, numbers could go either way

By David Jerome
Editor

Funding for the rehabilitation of their wastewater treatment plant was the largest issue being considered by IWD directors at their June 17 meeting. The plant, in operation since 1970, has passed its expected life and shows its age.

Director Steve Olson praised CEO Hosny Shouman's financial statement and, Olson and director Mitch Davis both praised GM Rojas' low water loss figure, 5% on production of 8,726,871 gallons.

Director Jessica Priefer asked about one disbursement, $27,903 to Babcock laboratories for "April Samples." The largest single payment outside payroll, Shouman explained this was for the newly-mandated PFAS testing, adding that he "almost cries" when he has to write a check like that.

GM Rojas reported on three parts of the project to rehabilitate the wastewater treatment plant. First, the agreement between IWD and engineering firm Dudek to complete the plans has been accepted and signed by both parties. He said he would have a "kickoff" meeting with Dudek in the coming weeks.

Former director Peter Szabadi was present at the meeting and brought up issues he asked about at the April meeting. In particular, he asked if legal council had reviewed the agreement, particularly as the cost of the design work includes many "Assumptions," for example that IWD will be able to provide "as built" plans for the existing plant, and that the geological survey will not need to be redone. Rojas answered that the agreement had since been reviewed by council, and amendments made.

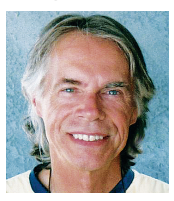

The second WWTP matter was the creation of a debt management policy. Rojas reported that the state Water Board has requested that IWD adopt such a policy before they consider the district's application for a loan. California law requires local governments, including special districts, to have such a policy before issuing debt.

Legal council recommended the firm CSG advisors to conduct Municipal Advisory services for the board and prepare such a policy, and the board packet included the service agreement and engagement letter between IWD and CSG. The engagement letter specifies that the work will be done by one "principal" at a rate of $350 per hour, with CSG's total fee will not exceed $10,000.

Shouman and board president Charles Schelly added that the district does not presently have a debt management policy because it has no debts, instead building up reserves, to a target balance of $3 million, that are tapped for infrastructure projects.

The finished policy is slightly over two pages long. It permits long term debt to finance acquisition of land or easements, planning, pre-design, and construction of

A Real Miracle Happened

Dear editor:

Let's go back to May 1st. That is when Cammi, a waitress at the Red Kettle, got hit by a drunk driver while driving on Florida Ave back to Idyllwild. He was pulling out from a gas station, and made a left turn right into her.

Cammi was badly hurt. Her ankles and feet were broken, and she was pregnant. Both vehicles were totaled. The baby, miraculously, was unhurt. What an incredible miracle!!!

On June 18, Cammi's mom and the Red Kettle held a baby shower for her. It was the most wonderful ever. Before the shower a fundraiser was held — what a success.

At the baby shower, people brought so many gifts for the baby and the food was delicious. Everybody had a good time. Cammi was in tears and so grateful. This is Idyllwild for you!!!

The baby's arrival is imminent. We wish Cammie and the baby all the best. Our Heavenly Father has protected you and loves you both. So do we.

You are in our prayers

Life Tribute: Denise "Dennie" Ohrazda

Denise "Dennie" Suzanne Ohrazda (born Denise DeCelles), a devoted mother, sister, friend, and compassionate mental health counselor, passed away peacefully on June 14, 2026, after a brave fight against colon cancer. Up until her final days, Dennie fiercely held onto her joy, frequently reminding those around her that she was still loving life.

Born in 1952 during a Kansas City blizzard, Dennie was the eldest of eight children born to Patrick and Suzanne DeCelles. As the oldest sibling, she became a secondary mother, fiercely loving her brothers and sisters through a challenging childhood.

She married John Fred Ohrazda on July 9, 1971. In the years that followed, they raised their children with care, later continuing their journeys independently. She channeled her profound life experiences into healing, earning a Bachelor of Arts from Governors State University in 1991 and a Master of Science in Education from Indiana University in 1998.

As a licensed mental health counselor, she dedicated her professional career to school districts and community clinics, providing support to children and families in times of crisis. She also volunteered as a grief counselor with the American Red Cross, including traveling to support survivors in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina.

In 2014, Dennie retired to Idyllwild, California. There, surrounded by tall pines and rocky peaks, she embedded herself in the community, volunteering her time for nature walks with the Friends of the San Jacinto Mountain County Parks and serving on the boards of the Idyllwild Garden Club and Idyllwild Nature Center. Fiercely protective of both her neighbors and her hill, she delivered meals to those in need and volunteered with the local Community Emergency Response Team, dedicating her time to mountain disaster readiness. She was also a gifted author, expressing her unique spirit through her stories and poetry.

Among her favorite moments were those spent enveloped in the warmth of her Idyllwild family going on hikes, playing cribbage, and watching the Dodgers. Surrounded by the vibrant art she loved, she would lose herself in the rhythm of live music. Those sweet afternoons filled with laughter, shared stories, and the clinking of glasses captured her boundless gratitude and passion for life.

Above all, Dennie's greatest joy was the family she built. She poured her heart entirely into raising her children, teaching them by example what true respect, kindness, and wholeness looked like.

Dennie is reunited in peace with her parents and loved ones who went before her. Her profound capacity for love lives on through her surviving family: Her Children: Rachel Rabideau (Gregg); Tony Ohrazda (Tara); Michelle Ohrazda (Marco);Jessy Hubert; Steven Ohrazda; and Frannie Oehler (Greyson). Her Grandchildren: Andria Medina; Remy and Cera Rabideau. Her Siblings: Teresa, Stephen, Matthew, David, Mary Ellen, Genny, and Ted, along with a deeply loved extended network of cousins, nieces, and nephews.

Dennie reminds us to build a life overflowing with kindness, gratitude, and wonder. She loved every minute of her ride, and when the time came, she slipped away with the same quiet grace that defined her life.

A Celebration of Life will be held July 9, 2026 from 4 to 7 p.m. at Middleridge Winery, 54301 N. Circle Dr. Idyllwild, CA 92549. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, a cause close to Dennie's heart.

Medina questions if Bianco overstepped line in campaign for Governor

By JP Crumrine
Correspondent

Riverside County Supervisor José Medina (1st District) has formally requested an investigation of whether County Sheriff Chad Bianco used public resources inappropriately in political activities as part of his campaign for Governor.

In a March 26 letter to County District Attorney Michael Hestrin, Medina wrote that he is ". . . concerned that there may have been instances where official duties, public resources, and taxpayer-funded assets were used in ways that could support or promote a campaign for higher office."

Medina provided five examples of where he thinks Bianco may have overstepped his public role while in the midst of campaign activities.

For example, Bianco may have used official events for political messaging. Medina was referring to the use of statements or comments promoting or alluding to his gubernatorial campaign while conducting public press conferences, community safety events, or official appearances as County Sheriff.

Secondly, Medina mentioned the possible use of on-duty sheriff's department staff, deputies, or communications personnel during and at campaign-related activities. He also expressed concern about the potential use of county-issued vehicles, facilities, and audiovisual equipment, or other publicly funded resources during campaign or campaign events for campaign-related purposes.

Medina also questioned whether Bianco may have used sheriff's office social media accounts, press releases, newsletters, or email systems for campaign messaging or political promotion rather than official public information.

The final potential violation addressed the blurring of official and campaign roles. If Bianco appeared at campaign or political events in his Sheriff's uniform or in official capacity and displayed his sheriff badge would that have potentially created confusion between official duties and political activity.

This is not the first time that someone has challenged Bianco for using his Sheriff's position during overt campaign activities. In September 2025, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Stephen Cloobeck filed a lawsuit, which was eventually withdrawn.

He argued that Bianco violated California Government Code Section 3206 when he wore his uniform during political activities such as campaigning or fundraising. This code section states "No officer or employee of a local agency shall participate in political activities of any kind while in uniform."

Medina, a former State Assembly member, was elected as supervisor in 2024. This is not his first clash with Bianco. In July 2025, he proposed that the Board establish an Ad Hoc committee to assess the merits of creating more permanent oversight of the County's Sheriff's Department. Since there was a lack of second to move the motion forward, the Board did not vote on the proposal and no further action was taken.

Medina did not provide any specific dates or events where these possible violations occurred. He simply asked Hestrin to conduct a thorough and impartial investigation.

"While I understand that public officials retain the right to engage in political activity in their personal capacity, the use of public resources for such purposes is strictly regulated under California law and ethical guidelines," Medina acknowledged in his letter's conclusion.

Legislature approves budget, negotiations with Newsom next

By JP Crumrine
Correspondent

Earlier this month, the California Assembly and Senate adopted a State budget for Fiscal Year 2026-27. It was only hours before the Constitutional mandate to pass a balanced budget by June 15.

Their plan was not identical to Gov. Gavin Newsom's proposed budget submitted in May. Now, the legislators and Administration must negotiate and come to agreement on a budget that both branches accept before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

The legislative budget totals $356 billion. But it does not include many of Newsom's proposals, especially for healthcare, school and homelessness.

"The two-party agreement represents the California State Senate's commitment to fight for services essential to the Golden State, including health care, childcare, and the long-term fiscal health of our state," said Senate President pro Tempore Monique Limón in a press release. "The Legislature looks to stop drastic cuts to safety net programs that millions of Californians rely on to make ends meet."

However, both sides did agree on ways to reduce the budget's long-term structural deficit. By FY 2029-30, it is estimated to be less than $10 billion.

The proposed FY 26-27 total budget is $7.4 billion greater than the current fiscal year spending. Both are slightly more than Gov. Newsom's May revision. General Fund spending amounts to $253 billion of the total and is about $6.4 billion more than Newsom's May recommendation.

For both FY 26-27 and 27-28, the Governor's and the Legislature's budgets are expected to be balanced. Reserve funds – both Rainy Day and Proposition 98 (educational)—are expected to increase substantially from their projected balance on June 30.

Many of the differences between the two budgets are in the healthcare sector. For example, the Governor proposed to reinstate the Medi-Cal asset limit to consider resources, including property and other assets when determining Medi-Cal eligibility for seniors and disabled adults to $2,000 for an individual or $3,000 for a couple, effective no sooner than January 1, 2027. This could create a savings of nearly $275 million in FY 26-27 and more in the future. The Legislative plan makes no immediate change to the asset test.

The Legislators also delayed the proposed cuts to Medi-Cal dental subsidies and lower premiums for low-income enrollees of Covered California.

It also excludes an automatic premium increase for Medi-Cal enrollees with "unsatisfactory immigration status"(UIS) next year. The agreement gives the next Governor authority to decide whether UIS premiums increase from $30 to $50 next year, rather than locking in the increase now.

Examples of other healthcare differences include the adoption of the "Be Home Soon California" framework proposal, which is an all-of-government, "whatever-it-takes" approach to transition seniors and people with disabilities from skilled nursing facilities and hospitals back home or to the community with family and caregivers.

It also Includes $30 million to support rate increases for private duty nursing and up to $190 million for distressed hospitals

The Legislative plan also continues full funding for In-Home Supportive Services, the Governor's proposal would have cut $367.7 million from this program, which protects seniors and people with disabilities who rely on in-home care.

Riverside Assemblymember Jeff Gonzalez (R 36) is a strong supporter of the IHSS efforts. He knows the importance of these services to families across California.

"We should not be balancing California's budget on the backs of people with disabilities," said Gonzalez in a June 8 press release. "These cuts aren't just line items. They take away the services that let seniors and people with disabilities, like my son, live in their own homes safely and with dignity."

For schools, the Legislature added about $2.7 billion to Newsom's recommendation. There is also more funding proposed for special education, community schools and technical education.

Final decisions affecting Cal Fire were still unresolved with the initial proposal but the Legislature is trying to find ways to use more Greenhouse Gas Reduction Funds for these efforts.

Revenue increases are also included in the Legislative proposal. These items include the following: a federally compliant Managed Care Organization tax; a sales tax on pre-written software products (such as Slack and Microsoft Suites), and a permanent cap on business tax credits. These changes should yield an additional $5 billion annually.

While opposed to Newsom's budgets, Republicans were not strongly supportive of the Legislature's budget proposal either.

"Assembly Republicans oppose the plan, saying it taxes everyday business software like accounting and payroll for the first time, raises health insurance premiums for families through a new tax on health plans, fails to fully fund Proposition 36, and closes another state prison," they said in a press release prior to the Assembly's adoption of its FY 26-27 budget

Also on the legislature's agenda is passage of proposals for the November 2026 election. One would be a housing bond and the other is a constitutional change to the process for creating and building the rainy day fund.

Grand Jury advises independent oversight of Sheriff's Department

By JP Crumrine
Correspondent

The Riverside County Grand Jury has issued a report recommending independent oversight of the County's Sheriff's Department. The large number of in-custody deaths, the ongoing and unresolved State review of these, and the inadequacy of the existing Sheriff's Advisory Committee led to the Grand Jury's recommendations.

From 2011 through 2018, the number of in-custody deaths in Riverside County jails or individuals in the custody of the Sheriff's Department were less than 20 each year, except for 2015. In 2019, these deaths began to increase. in 2021 and 2022, more than 30 individuals died while in jail or in the process of arrest. They declined in 2023 and 2024.

But in March 2023, the California Department of Justice initiated its own independent review. So far, no results have been issued and another 29 people have died while in the custody of the County Sheriff's Department.

The persistence of deaths under these circumstances, as well as concern over the adequacy of any internal investigations and the absence of any independent reviews explaining the cause, including the role and performance of the own Sheriff's Advisory Committee, were the concerns triggering the Grand Jury's investigation.

To the Grand Jury members, the lack of a structured independent entity responsible for oversight of these events has possibly led to a systemic failure, not a limited number of individual accidents.

"The absence of independent oversight is not merely a policy gap; it presents measurable governance risk. Repeated in-custody deaths and allegations of systemic deficiencies expose the County to potential civil liability under federal and state law…"

After extensive review and interviews with many Sheriff's Department personnel, the Grand Jury has identified seven findings resulting in nine recommendations.

The principal concerns were the lack of an independent civilian oversight entity with a clearly defined authority to investigate these events. The current system has no structural independence and reporting responsibility. Another was discovering that the SAC has not fulfilled any of these steps.

Consequently, the crucial recommendation to the Board of Supervisors and the Sheriff was establishment of an independent civilian oversight body pursuant to AB 1185, which would have subpoena authority and independent staffing and budget. This body would have authority to review critical incidents and in-custody deaths, mandatory public reporting, and defined appointment protections.

In addition, the Grand Jury recommended that the Sheriff's Advisory Committee be dissolved. It should be replaced with a formally authorized civilian oversight body meeting the National Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement's best-practice standards within twelve months as of July 1, 2026.

In their review of its performance, the Grand Jury discovered that the SAC has failed to produce minutes of its meeting or written findings, formal recommendations, or documentation of deliberative processes. Further, when interviewing its members, "[they] were unable to articulate any significant, formal accomplishments." Further, it members were unsure about its activities and accomplishments, according to the Grand Jury.

Without independent review and oversight, the Grand Jury argued that more deaths and other issues may occur. These potentially systemic deficiencies would continue leading to greater public distrust and continuing or growing litigation.

In 2024, the County a settled a $7.5 million lawsuit relating to the in-custody death of Christopher Zumwalt in 2020.

The State already has a law, Assembly Bill 1185, which was enacted in 2020, that authorizes the establishment of civilian oversight bodies with subpoena power over sheriff's departments and to authority to appoint inspectors general to provide independent review of law enforcement operations, including county jail facilities. AB 1185 does not mandate a specific model of oversight; rather, it empowers counties to design structures appropriate to their operational needs while preserving constitutional separation between elected sheriffs and county governance authority

Other nearby Southern California counties have already established oversight entities for their residents. This includes Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego.

Other recommendations include creating or retaining an independent correction health and custodial operation expert. Once the independent Committee is established it should investigate and report on all of the previous in-custody deaths with 18 months.

The Grand Jury also recommended a computer dashboard with basic information such as in-custody deaths, use of force incidents, suicide attempts and other medical emergencies and staffing levels.

And the Grand Jury wants the County to develop and publish a five-year strategic plan.

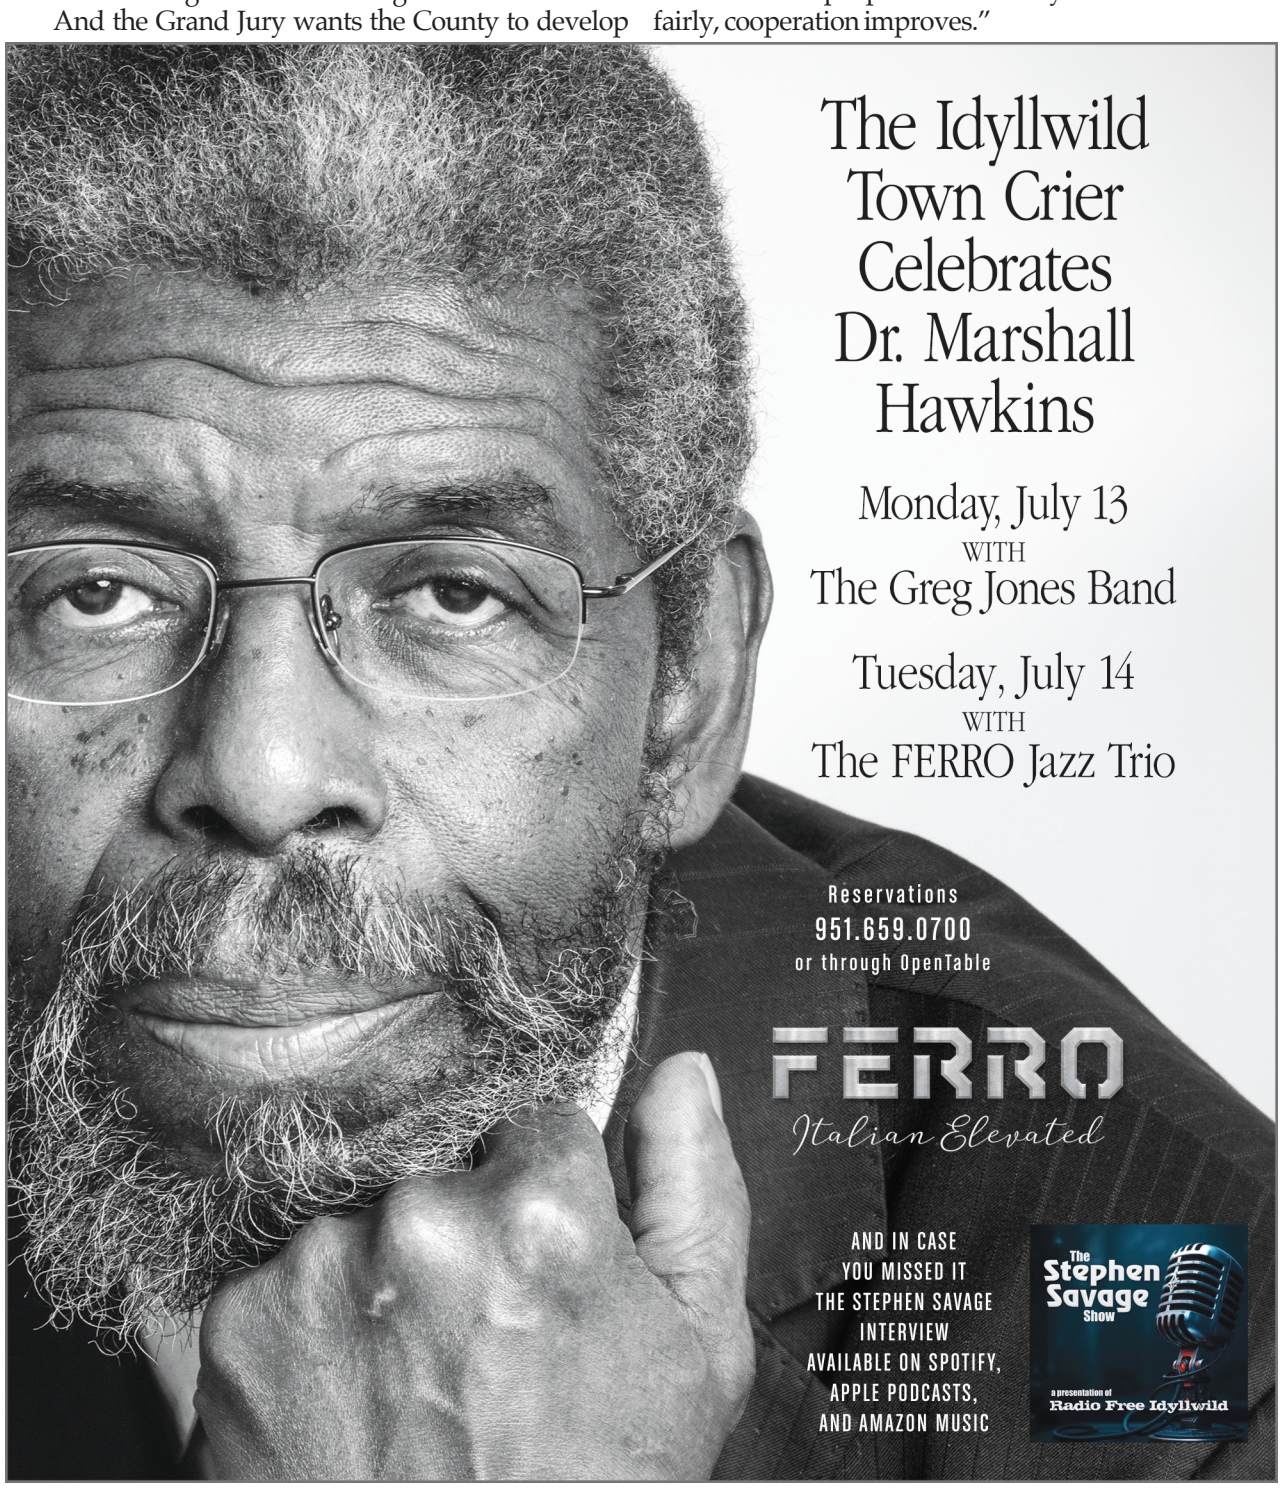

However, adopting all of these recommendations will cost more money. The Grand Jury estimates that the start-up costs could be $500,000 to $1.2 million just for the civilian oversight body. Once established, its annual costs could be between $1.5 to $6.5 million based on the current costs of these committees in other counties.

In total, the startup costs could range from $1.1 million to nearly $3 million and the ongoing costs would be in the range of $3.2 million to $8.5 million.

In concluding its report, the Grand Jury stated, "… Despite years of public concern, repeated findings from prior Grand Jury reports, and ongoing scrutiny related to in-custody deaths and internal investigative practices, the county has not implemented the structural reforms necessary to ensure safe, accountable, and constitutionally compliant jail operations.

"The absence of independent civilian oversight remains a critical gap. . . Internal processes alone have proven insufficient to ensure transparency or accountability.

"Oversight of the RCSO is not about assuming wrongdoing. When done well, this strengthens the agency. Independent oversight shows transparency, which builds credibility especially after controversial incidents. When people believe the system reviews itself fairly, cooperation improves."

Mountain residents eligible for SCE rebates for power packs, generators

By David Jerome

Power packs provide a home with basic resilience in the face of power outages, planned and otherwise. Although installing whole-house off-grid capability is costly, a small battery unit makes outages much easier to endure. As residents of a high fire danger area, locals in Idyllwild and surrounding communities are eligible for rebates from SCE of up to $200 on the purchase of power packs. You can browse the options at marketplace.sce.com.

Even the smallest units, priced under $200, will provide over 200 watt hours, allowing you to run your internet modem, keep phones and laptops charged, and run a few (low wattage) lights during short outages. You can also get solar panels to recharge the power pack daily during longer outages.

In the over-$400 price range, units provide over 1,000 watt hours. If you want to be able to run a refrigerator you will need a power output of 1,000 to 1,500 watts: typical home refrigerators only draw 100 to 150 watts, but starting the compressor draws a surge of usually over 1,000 watts.

Refrigerators and power outages

The Center for Disease Control, on their website, says that Refrigerators will stay cold for about 4 hours if the doors are kept shut. Freezers may stay cold for 48 hours if full, but only 24 if half empty. The CDC advises an appliance thermometer to monitor temperatures, recommending the refrigerator be kept below 40 °F.

The CDC's warns about the dangers of spoiled food: Never taste food to know if it is safe to eat. When in doubt, throw it out. Throw out perishable food in your refrigerator (meat, fish, cut fruits and vegetables, eggs, milk, and leftovers) after 4 hours without power or without a cold source like ice. Throw out any food with an unusual smell, color, or texture. Throw out food that has thawed or is above 40°.

Although there does not seem to be conclusive experimental proof, it is generally agreed that keeping ice blocks or gel packs in a half-empty freezer and bottles or pitchers of water in a refrigerator not only helps keep the contents cool longer when the power goes out, but also reduces energy consumption. The water will take energy to cool initially, but then help keep temperatures constant even if the door is opened. In general, a full fridge will stay cool better than an empty one, especially if the door is opened and warm air is allowed in.

One part of the equation that might not enter into a simple calculation is the initial surge of power required to start the compressor; that first part of the cycle accounts for much of the energy consumption. With more thermal mass, the compressor will kick on less frequently.

capital improvements and facilities and equipment. It authorizes short term debt for operational cash flow and short-lived capital projects.

The policy stipulates that proceeds of any debt obligation will be used only for the purpose authorized. Debt will only be issued with the board's authorization and when the board has identified sufficient funds to pay the obligation of principal and interest. No debt shall be issued with a term longer than the expected life of what it is financing. The policy allows issuing bonds as well as loans and lines of credit.

The estimated cost of the WWTP project has increased over the last few years to $10 million. GM Rojas has said that the design work with Dudek will seek ways to bring this cost down. The initial 30% plans called for full redundancy, essentially two side-by-side treatment streams, allowing either one to taken off line for service. The work may also be arranged so that it is done in stages.

Rojas has also said that using prefabricated units may bring the cost down over casting everything in concrete on site, and that Dudek is exploring this.

The third WWTP project item was an update on the progress of the Median Household Income survey being conducted to support the district's application for grant funding. IWD still needs 63 sewer customers to fill the survey out. The threshold for grant consideration is $79,298, and the median of completed surveys is $72,000. Rojas reported that if not enough surveys are returned, the state may require them to use the highest income survey, presently $685,000, as a default value for the missing surveys. This, he said, would put the median at $80,000, "just over the cap."

Coming in below the cap does not guarantee full grant funding, but puts the project on a list of eligible candidates which will still be evaluated on the basis of need.

These surveys are short and easy to fill out, the information is anonymized before being shared with IWD, and is used by a third party firm only to prepare the study which will be submitted to the state. If you are an IWD sewer customer and have not filled out a survey, you may contact IWD's office to get a paper or electronic form.

Schelly, Rojas, and Shouman all say that, depending on the survey, it is still possible that grants will pay for part or all of the rehabilitation. The district has already passed a resolution that allows them to use any grant money to pay back reserves for money spent in the early part of the project. If they are forced to take a loan from the State Revolving Fund this could be forgiven if the grant application is approved.

FVWD Board adopts FY 26-27 budget

By JP Crumrine
Correspondent

In a quick and efficient meeting, the Fern Valley Water District Board of Directors approved a budget for Fiscal Year 2026-27. During the June 18 session, the Board also approved three resolutions in support of the budget.

District spending for FY 26-27 will total $1.7 million, about $140,000 less than authorized this year.

Actual spending for FY 25-26 is estimated to be $1.55 million. Operating costs were about $100,000 less than budgeted and the capital spending was about $200,000 less.

Revenues for next year are estimated to be $1.9 million, which is about $100,000 less than the actual revenue for the current year, which was $150,000 greater than expected due to property tax revenue received from the County.

At the end of FY 26-27, the District estimates that its reserves will be $1.94 million, which is $215,000 greater than the current reserves.

The Budget was unanimously approved 4-0 (Director Christine Pyo was absent) after a motion from Director Jon Brown.

The supporting resolutions established the appropriations limit, fixed the assessment charges and reaffirmed the District's investment policy for reserve funds. All applied to FY 26-27.

The interest rate at the States's Local Agency Investment Fund has been dropping in recent months. Currently it is 3.98 percent and was over 4.3 percent in January.

General Manager Vic Jimenez said that he would investigate possible higher interest rate alternatives to present to the Directors in coming months.

During his General Manager's Report, Jimenez said that stream flow in the local creeks was declining, but still good. While May's water production was slightly less than April's, groundwater was still the source for 13.7 percent of the District's water, the same as May 2025, and nearly double the April 2026 percentage.

While he expects stream flow to end early this summer, they will recover with the first rainstorms, he added.

The office expansion is continuing. Painting and installing trim and flooring have started this month and the plumbing is completed, he reported.

In his Director's comments, Dan DeVoy said, "I appreciate the progress on the office and am glad it's almost there."

CAL FIRE abatement inspections in progress in mountain communities

By David Jerome
Editor

Idyllwild residents are accustomed to annual abatement inspections conducted by IFPD, but property owners in neighboring communities under CAL FIRE jurisdiction are receiving increased attention from that agency this year.

At Mountain Area Safety Taskforce meetings during the last year, CAL FIRE representatives have alerted residents that the inspections would be restarting after a hiatus of some years. The Town Crier reached out for an update on the status of these inspections and received this response from CAL FIRE Battalion Chief Ryan Lubben:

CAL FIRE/Riverside Unit (RRU) has been conducting year-round Defensible Space Inspections throughout Riverside County over the past year. These inspections are carried out by our dedicated Defensible Space Inspectors, with support from local engine companies conducting inspections within their respective response areas.

Currently, Riverside County has nearly 35,000 properties that require defensible space inspections. These properties are located within Very High and High Fire Hazard Severity Zones, where inspections are mandated, and in some Moderate Fire Hazard Severity Zones.

Within the San Jacinto Mountain communities, inspections have been completed in Twin Pines, Alpine Village, Pinyon Crest, and Pinyon Pines. Inspection efforts are actively continuing throughout Pine Cove, Mountain Center, Poppet Flats, Garner Valley, Anza, the surrounding Anza communities, and Aguanga. To date, approximately 1,500 inspections have been conducted within these areas.

Historically, approximately one in ten properties inspected does not initially meet defensible space requirements. When deficiencies are identified, property owners are provided with an inspection notice outlining the observed violations and corrective actions necessary to achieve compliance.

Property owners whose parcels do not meet defensible space requirements are given up to three inspection opportunities to achieve compliance. A 30-day correction period is provided between inspections to allow sufficient time for corrective actions. If a property remains non-compliant after the third inspection, the case may be referred to the CAL FIRE Prevention Bureau for potential enforcement action, including citations. Our primary objective, however, is not enforcement, but rather achieving compliance and improving the overall wildfire resilience and safety of our communities.

For unimproved parcels (properties without structures), vegetation management and hazard reduction activities are administered by the Riverside County Office of the Fire Marshal Hazard Reduction Program. This program works directly with property owners to address hazardous vegetation and weed abatement requirements in accordance with Riverside County Ordinance 787.

Defensible space inspection information, along with valuable home hardening and wildfire preparedness resources, can be accessed through the links and QR codes provided below.

A Wildly Elevated Retail Scene

By Sam Markus
Correspondent

For a mountain town perched nearly 6,000 feet above sea level, Idyllwild has developed a surprisingly contemporary retail scene.

Spend an afternoon wandering North Circle or Village Center Drive and you'll find an eclectic mix of businesses that feels more akin to a creative urban neighborhood than a remote mountain community. Independent bookstores sit alongside thoughtfully curated vintage shops, specialty coffee destinations, design-forward home décor stores, toy shops, artisan makers, and everything in between. The result is a retail landscape that feels distinctly modern while remaining uniquely Idyllwild.

It wasn't always this way.

For decades, Idyllwild's commercial core resembled many mountain towns across the West: a collection of longtime businesses serving locals, tourists, and second-home owners. The town possessed plenty of charm, but much of its retail identity reflected a more traditional mountain-town formula.

Then something shifted.

Part of the transformation can be traced to a new generation of business owners arriving with fresh ideas and different backgrounds. One early catalyst was Wild Idy. Originally launched as a collective in 2016, it introduced a more contemporary approach to retail, merchandising, and creative entrepreneurship. In the years that followed, several figures connected to that community went on to launch businesses of their own, helping establish a new visual and entrepreneurial language for the town. Dick's Dogs, Alpaca Coffee & Tea, and Ephemera Vintage all eventually emerged from that scene.

Just as importantly, younger entrepreneurs began injecting new DNA into Idyllwild's retail scene. Suddenly the town wasn't just selling mountain souvenirs—it was expressing personalities. Shop owners brought influences from cities, creative industries, vintage culture, design, music, food, and art. The result was a vibrant landscape that felt less like a traditional mountain town and more like a collection of highly individual visions, all somehow coexisting beneath the pines.

The COVID pandemic was also a major catalyst for the town's retail transformation. While much of the world slowed down, mountain communities experienced an unexpected surge of interest. Visitors from Los Angeles, Orange County, San Diego, and the desert sought open spaces, fresh air, and a temporary escape from urban restrictions. Idyllwild found itself busier than ever. The timing proved significant.

As tourism increased, a growing number of entrepreneurs recognized an opportunity. New businesses began opening, storefronts changed hands, and established owners reimagined what was possible. Within just a few years, the town's commercial district underwent a remarkable evolution.

Today, what makes Idyllwild special isn't any single shop. It's the collective effect of dozens of independently owned businesses, each reflecting the personality and vision of the people behind them. The result is a retail ecosystem that feels both curated and organic—a place where creative risk-taking is not only welcomed but often celebrated.

Perhaps that's the secret ingredient. Idyllwild has long attracted artists, musicians, writers, makers, and dreamers. Increasingly, those same creative impulses are finding expression through storefronts as much as studios.

The result is a mountain town that continues to surprise visitors. They may come for the pines, the trails, and the granite peaks, but many leave talking about the shops.

August will bring South Bound Premier, a Credence Clearwater Revival tribute on the 6th , and the Bomars opening. On the 13th Dahleen's Big Band Staff will present their tribute to the Modernaires, the vocal group that performed with the Glenn Miller Orchestra, and they will play their own opening set. On August 20 the 1st Marine Division Concert Band will visit from Camp Pendleton, without an opening act. On the 27th the Blue Breeze Band, an audience favorite from past years, will bring their Motown review. The opening act is still to be determined.

The series will close on September 3 with another big band, the Dixie and Swing Collective, with no opening band.

This will be the Series 27th year, and the concerts have had the Butterfield Amphitheater for their home since 2019.

Opening Games of ICC Adult Softball: KIC Construction Start Strong

By Johnny Wilson
ICC Director of Sports Programs

The weather was perfect for the opening games of the co-ed ICC Adult Softball league at Top Field of Idyllwild School last week.

Ridership continues to increase on Forest Folk free shuttle, Coulter still seeks successor

By David Jerome
Editor

Reba Coulter reports that ridership continues to increase on the Forest Folk Free Shuttle, saying that May's numbers were 80% above last year's. Coulter adds that 19 PCT hikers took advantage of the service.

The shuttle began service in 2013, and has been running to Hemet and the desert cities every week, but added increased local service to Monday through Friday starting in March.

Last year, two new Ford Transit vans were paid for with grants from Riverside County Measure A and 5310 grants. The Forest Folk shuttle is now in its fourth three-year grant funding cycle.

The service is targeted at seniors, and medical trips are a priority, but as long as seats are available all are welcome. There is no charge for the service, although donations are accepted and the shuttle may be reserved for a price for special events.

With the two vans filling up, riders are advised to always call ahead the night before to reserve a space.

Coulter and the board of Forest Folk are still looking for a successor who will carry on her work, someone dedicated to the community, with business acumen and the ability to write and administer grants. Coulter is now 85 and is looking forward to retirement in West Virginia.

To learn more about Forest Folk, volunteer, donate, or sign up for shuttle service, visit the website forestfolk.org, or call (951) 426-9688. Forest Folk is a 501(c)(3).

Idyllwild Arts Foundation to continue flag give-away at July Fourth Parade

By David Jerome

The Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation tell us they will continue their annual American Flag giveaway as part of Idyllwild's 4th of July Parade. "It is a beautiful sight to see 500 flags waving as we march along the parade route. The flags are our gift to the community, locals and visitors."

The Associates will be marching alongside the Idyllwild Arts Academy in the parade, which is organized by Idyllwild Rotary Club. While marching, members of the contingent will give 500 American flags to the children of all ages along the parade route. This has been a five-year tradition.

Those interested in joining in are invited to march with their Red Parade Truck, carry a banner, and hand out flags. More details are on their website: www.associatesofiaf.org, and their Facebook page.

Board member Michael Slocum adds that "Speaking from experience, it is a fun time to view the parade from the inside out." Those that wish to join in the fun will congregate in the formation area, not set yet, along one of the streets leading into Fern Valley Corners. Those who cannot walk but want to join in may reach out to Patrick Moloney and see what spaces are in the parade truck at: pmoloney9@yahoo.com

Founded in 1968, the Associates are a 501 (c)(3) supporting education in the arts, particularly the Idyllwild Arts Academy and Summer Program, and cultural activities for the community of Idyllwild.

Casa Querida: sisters return home to open conscious lifestyle shop

Press Release

After more than two decades of living across different corners of the globe, sisters Monica and Christine Martin are finally back in the same "house"—and they are inviting the community to celebrate with them.

The sisters have officially opened Casa Querida ("Beloved House"), a warm, conscious lifestyle shop located at 54425 N Circle Dr, Unit 8. Designed by the duo, the shop is a reflection of their Cuban, Colombian, and Mexican connections. It beautifully blends Monica's artisan goods brand, @querida.collective, with Christine's holistic interior design studio, @thegoodabode.

"As sisters, we've shared everything: toys, clothes, a deep-rooted love for travel, coffee, and the hunt for the perfect thrifted find," they shared. "But for over 20 years, the one thing we didn't share was a zip code."

Casa Querida marks their ultimate "coming home." This inviting space brings home a shared love of travel, craft, story, and community through a curated blend of new and vintage treasures sourced both locally and globally. Built on a foundation of honoring artisans and sustainability, every special, fair-trade piece is chosen to add history and a soulful sense of belonging to your home.

To mark this special milestone, Casa Querida is hosting a Grand Housewarming celebration this Saturday, June 27, 2026, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Neighbors and visitors alike are invited to stop by to explore the shop and enjoy a lively evening of Latin American food and music, cocktails, folkloric dance performance (4 p.m.), and salsa dance lessons (5:30 p.m.) Follow event updates, new collections and more on Instagram @casaquerida.idy.

Horoscopes

June 2026 — Week 4

March 21 – April 19
Get your facts together and become familiar with them before you have to face up to a certain meeting. The better prepared you are, the easier it will be to make an important impression.

April 20 – May 20
New information might warrant changing your mind about a recently made decision. Never mind the temporary confusion it might cause. Acting on the truth is always preferable.

May 21 – June 21
Creating a loving atmosphere for those you care for could pay off in many ways. Expect to hear some unexpected but very welcome news that can make a big difference in your life.

June 22 – July 22
Stepping away from an old and seemingly insoluble problem might be helpful. Use the time to take a new look at the situation and perhaps work out a new method of dealing with it.

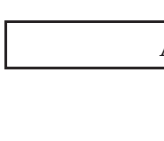

July 23 – August 22
You're still in a favorable goal-setting mode. However, you might need to be a little more realistic about some of your aims. It's best to reach for what's currently doable. The rest will follow.

August 23 – September 22
Coming up with a new way of handling a tedious job-regulated chore could lead to more than just a congratulatory memo once the word reaches the "right people." Good luck!

September 23 – October 22
This is a good week to balance your responsibilities to your work-a-day world with your obligations to the people who are in your private life. Expect news that could lead to a change in plans.

October 23 – November 21
What you might call determination, someone else might regard as stubbornness. Look for ways to reach a compromise that won't require a major shift of views on your part.

November 22 – December 21
You're still in a vulnerable mode vis-a-vis "offers" that sound too good to be true. So, continue to be skeptical about anything that can't be backed up with provable facts.

December 22 – January 19
Thrift is still dominant this week. What you don't spend on what you don't need will be available for you to draw on should a possible (albeit temporary) money crunch hit.

January 20 – February 18
Staying close to home early in the week allows for some introspection about your social life. Sort out your feelings before rejoining your fun-time fellows on the weekend.

February 19 – March 20
It can be a bit daunting, as well as exciting, to find yourself finally taking action on a long-delayed move for a change. It helps to stay with it when others rally to support you.

A little history: Parades in Idyllwild

By David Jerome
Editor

Idyllwild's Fourth of July Parade is a high point of our annual festivities, but in the community's early decades, other parades got more attention.

Memorial Day included parades organized by the American Legion Post in solemn commemoration of the service members of our armed forces.

The summer rodeos in the 1940s featured parades. Festivals like Hillbilly Jubilee and Gold Strike included parades, which often fell near or on Independence Day.

Halloween was also celebrated with a parade even in the 1940s. A "Beauty Parade" on July 3, 1948 was scheduled for bearded men in '49er garb at the Sportland Plunge in the center of town.

From 1957 to 1976 the Bear Flag Festival Parade (at first called the Idyllwild Bear Festival) was the biggest summer parade.

By 1976 Town Crier editor Luther Weare argued that the festival should be allowed to "die a natural death." In 1979 we read that the Festival had not been held since then, but Chamber President Jim McEwen (Disclosure: my stepfather) was looking for a Bear Flag Festival Chairman to revive the festival. Gary Squier volunteered, but resigned weeks before the planned date, and the Chamber dropped the idea.

In 1966 Town Hall, under the Chamber of Commerce, began to organize a children's Fourth of July Parade along the present route, with an emphasis on costumes and red, white, and blue. This marks the beginning of an organized, annual Independence Day event in Idyllwild, with 2026 year marking the 60th anniversary of the parade.

By 1981 children were still the focus, but fire departments (Idyllwild and Pine Cove), Smokey the Bear, and the Marine Drum and Bugle Corps from Twentynine Palms provided notes of gravitas. The Town Crier quoted the Town hall Recreation Director that year as saying that there would be over 40 entries and about 50 horses. The Grand Marshal was Avery Schreiber, "well-known television comedian who lives in Idyllwild." Schrieber was a substantial man with a mop of curly black hair and a bushy moustache. He was featured in a memorable ad campaign for Doritos.

In 1990 the Rotarians provided a Dixie Land Band on wheels that was able to make the route twice, making up for the lack of a marching band that year. Marshall Hawkins also arranged for a mini–Jazz Festival on Village Center Lane.

In 1997 Rotary officially took over the "reins" from the Chamber-run Town Hall recreation program. With the help of American Legion Post 800, the parade emphasized the patriotic, included veterans of recent major wars, and was led by the colors of the armed forces. There was still room for kids, mermaids, classic cars, the Mountain Community Patrol car and graffiti removal trailer, all manner of patriotism and merry-making, and plenty of flags in the parade and among the crowd that gathered along the route.

Dead in the Pines brought a colorful crowd to the Rustic Theater Festival June 20 and 21.

Creature Corner

Last week in Days of Our Nine Lives, the ARF cats met two new cats, Diamond and Louie.

Pepper: Have I got wonderful, wonderful news!
Sequoia: Okay Pepper. Spill the beans.
Pepper: Milo the dog was adopted!
Star: Isn't that great news? Now I continue to wait, but I'm certain there is some family out there for me.
Louie: Star, aren't you in a really nice foster home?
Star: I truly am, but I'd like a home to call my own.
Diamond: I get it, but I must say we are all in a pretty nice place while we wait.
Star: Without doubt.
Honey: I hope cat lovers stop by this weekend. In addition to me, we have Sequoia, Louie, Diamond, three adorable kittens, a pregnant cat, and a new cat who is still settling. We won't publicize him for another week.
Pepper: Lots of great cats who are all spayed/neutered, current on vaccinations, and microchipped.
Star: That's a deal!
Louie: I heard some of the ARF volunteers talking about the July 4 parade.
Sequoia: Will ARF have a float, again?
Diamond: It will, plus it will have some of its Doggy Drone pilots joining the parade entry.
Sequoia: And I hear that they will be flying drones down the route, at a low level of course.
Honey: And the 2026 Pets of the Year will be on the float!
Pepper: Now that sounds like fun!

Ceramicist David Salk to bring collection to First Friday salon

Local ceramicist David Salk will be presenting unseen works from his personal collection at a special exhibit during the next installment of Idyllwild's First Fridays, at Dawn Finlayson's Bliss Hair Salon & Color Studio in the Forest Haven complex.

Finlayson says she is honored to be able to host this event. "These are not pieces pulled from a gallery inventory. These are works David chose to keep for himself. And on July 3rd, he is bringing them down from the mountain and sharing them with us."

Salk's experience in a 1966 ceramics class with San Ildefonso potter Maria Montoya Martinez at ISOMATA connected him to Native American traditions in a way that opened a new way forward for him. Many of his pieces are inspired by Southwest Indian basketry. He has owned galleries, Feats of Clay, in Idyllwild and Palm Springs.

"…You will have the rare opportunity to see his celebrated clay baskets alongside his other stunning ceramic creations — pieces that span the full beauty and range of what this man can do with clay. David will be present in person all evening. Every piece is available for purchase directly from the artist."

Seven businesses in Forest Haven will take part in July's First Friday event: Hunky Dory Record Shop, Bliss Hair Salon & Color Studio, Wildland Organics, Artifacts Unique Finds, Stitch and Stone, Casa Querida Gifts, and Ravens Nest. Live music will be provided by Pentagrams and Daisies, cocktails crafted by Mike Ferro.

David Salk at Bliss Hair Salon, Idyllwild's First Fridays, Friday July 3, from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Forest Haven 54425 North Circle Dr.

About 70 campers and locals gathered on Saturday, June 20 to hear Jon and Sabina of Dryad sing their songs of nature and humanity in the Idyllwild Regional Park, under the black oaks at the edge of the meadow. They tell us Rivco Parks have invited them back in fall for another concert, date to be determined. To see and hear more visit www.dryadflutes.com (https://www.dryadflutes.com/).
